

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

DESPATCHES, of which the following are copies have been received from Captain Peel, C.B., of Her Majesty's Ship Shannon, commanding the Naval Brigade in India, dated Camp before Lucknow, November 11, 1857.

Camp before Lucknow,

Sir, November 11, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to forward for the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, the copy of my letter to his Excellency Sir Michael Seymour, with its enclosures, reporting the proceedings of Her Majesty's Ship "Shannon's" Naval Brigade.

I have, &c.

(Signed) WILLIAM PEEL,
 Captain, R.N.

To the Secretary of the Admiralty.

Between Cawnpore, and Lucknow
November 9, 1857.

PROCEEDINGS OF NAVAL BRIGADE.

SIR,

ON the 20th ultimo Lieutenant Vaughan joined me at Allahabad, with a reinforcement of 126 officers and men, which raised the total strength of the "Shannon's" Brigade at Allahabad to 516. This reinforcement was composed for the most part of merchant seamen raised at Calcutta, and the fine appearance of the men, their good behaviour, and excellent discipline displayed the ability and zeal of Lieutenant James W. Vaughan. I beg to recommend this excellent officer to your favourable notice. I think, also, that it showed the fine spirit of the Merchant Service, as these men entered on board the Shannon without any conditions, and against £6 per month wages offered by the shipping.

On the 23d ultimo, in obedience to a telegram from the Chief of the Staff, I sent a party of 100 seamen, consisting of Lieutenant Nowell Salmon's Company of small arm men, and a field piece party, the whole under the command of Lieutenant Vaughan, to proceed with four siege train 24-pounders to Cawnpore. That party is now with the column before Lucknow.

On the 27th ultimo, a further detachment of 170 men, under the command of Lieutenant Thos. J. Young, the gunnery officer of the "Shannon," consisting of Lieutenant Edward Hay's company of small arm men, a field piece party, and the Marines under Captain Thos. C. Gray, with a siege train of four 24-pounders and two 8-inch howitzers, and a large amount of ammunition, under convoy of troops, was sent on the same service; and on the following day, by order of the Commander-in-chief, I was sent to accompany it. Lieutenant-Colonel Powell, with the head-quarters of the 53rd regiment, soon afterwards joined us on the march; and the battle that ensued at Kudjwa, the defeat of the enemy and the death of the gallant Colonel Powell, are reported in the accompanying copy of my despatch to the Chief of the Staff. I have since been informed that the Commander of the rebel army was also among the slain.

Since that battle was fought, with the exception of one day's rest for the footsore men, who had marched 72 miles in three days, besides fighting a severe engagement, we have made daily marches, and are now on our way to join the column before Lucknow.

At Cawnpore I was obliged to leave Lieutenant Hay with 50 men, to serve as artillerymen for that important position.

The remainder of my brigade, consisting of nearly 240 officers and men, are at Allahabad under the command of Lieutenant Wm. C. F. Wilson, assisted by Lieutenants Hy. R. Wratislaw, and Lind ap Hazeley (Swedish Navy). They are doing duty at the garrison.

I am much gratified with the conduct of all the Brigade, and there is no departure whatever from the ordinary rules and custom of the service.

I have, &c.

WILLIAM PEEL,

Captain, R.N.

Rear-Admiral

Assistant Surgeon, in Medical Charge,
Naval Brigade.

Camp, Futtehpore,

SIR,

November 3, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to lay before his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the details of the battle of Kudjwa, with the circumstances that preceded it.

Detachments amounting to 700 men under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Powell of Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, in charge of siege-train guns, and a large convoy, were proceeding from Allahabad to Cawnpore, and had arrived on 31st ult., after a march of 12 miles, at the camping ground of Thurra. The same afternoon intelligence was received from Futtehpore that the Sepoy mutineers of the Dinapore Regiments, with three guns, had passed the Jumna with the intention of either attacking Futtehpore, or crossing over into Oude. The camp was immediately struck, and we arrived at the camping ground of Futtehpore at midnight.

Colonel Powell then made arrangements for marching at daylight upon the enemy who were reported to be about 24 miles distant at Kudjwa, beyond the village of Binkee. The column of attack consisted of 162 men of Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, under Major Clark, 68 of Royal Engineers under Captain Clarke, 70 of a depôt detachment under Lieutenant Fanning of Her Majesty's 64th Regiment, and 103 of the Naval Brigade under Captain Peel. It marched at daylight, and was joined from the garrison of Futtehpore by a company of 93rd Highlanders, 100 in number, under Captain Cornwall, and two 9-pounder guns under Lieutenant Anderson, Bengal Artillery.

After marching for 16 miles, the column halted for refreshment, and then resumed the march at a rapid pace, passing through the village of Binkee at about 1-30 P. M., where the intelligence was confirmed that the enemy was at hand.

The troops pressed on without interruption ; the Highlanders advancing in skirmishing order, supported by the Royal Engineers, and followed by the 53rd Regiment in column, and then by the Naval Brigade ; the depôt detachment was with the baggage. We advanced along the road which led straight for the village of Kudjwa, and saw that the enemy's right occupied a long line of high embankment on our left of the road, which embankment, screened by a grove, continued towards the village, and that their left was higher up on the other side, with their guns posted in the centre on the road, two of them in advance, and one on a bridge near the village.

A round shot, coming down the road, opened the battle at about 2·20 P.M., and the column was ordered to edge to the right, and advance on the guns through the corn-fields—the skirmishers of the 53rd and the Royal Engineers pushing up on both sides of the road. The enemy's artillery was well served, and did great execution, and the flank fire of musketry was very severe. The gallant Colonel Powell himself, on the left of the road, pressed on the attack, and had just secured two guns of the enemy, when he fell dead with a bullet through his forehead.

In the meantime the Naval Brigade had advanced on the right of the 53rd, and carried the enemy's position in their front. It was then that the death of Colonel Powell was reported to me, and I was requested to assume the command. The great force of the enemy, the long line of their defences, and the exhaustion of both officers and men after such long marches, rendered our position truly critical. The front of the battle had become changed to the line of the road, and the enemy with all their force behind their embankments, threatened to intercept our rear. I left Lieutenant Hay, R.N., supported by the two 9-pounder guns, to hold the position which our party had gallantly carried, and which secured our flank; and collecting as many fresh troops as were available, assisted principally by Lieutenant Lennox, R.E. (Captain Clarke being unfortunately severely wounded), and by Ensign Truel of the 53rd, we rushed across the road, and passing round the upper end of the embankments divided the enemy's force, and drove them successively from all their positions. The enemy then retired in confusion, leaving us masters of their camp, and with two of their guns and a tumbril in our possession.

The late hour of the evening (it was half-past four when the enemy fired their last shot,) and the excessive fatigue of the troops prevented any pursuit. We therefore spoiled their camp, and leaving it with cheers, formed on the road by the bridge near the village, and sent out parties to collect our dead and wounded.

With the body of the Colonel on the limber of the gun he had so gallantly captured, we then returned, and encamped near the village of Binkee.

Our loss in the action was very severe, amounting to 95 killed and wounded.

The behaviour of the troops and of the Naval Brigade was admirable, and all vied with each other, and showed equal courage in the field. The marching of the 53rd, and the accurate firing of the Highlanders deserved special recommendation.

I received the greatest assistance from Captain Cox, Her Majesty's 75th Regt., whom I would wish to bring to the favourable notice of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, and the arrangements of the Field Hospital under Dr. Grant, Her Majesty's 53rd, and those of the Quartermaster's department under Captain Marshall, were everything I could wish.

The total number of the enemy was reported to be about 4000 men, 2000 of whom were Sepoys, who fought in their uniform. Their loss was estimated at above 200 killed.

I have, &c.

WILLIAM PEEL, Captain R.N.
Commanding.

I have the pleasure to inform his Excellency that the remaining gun of the enemy, with three tumbrils, were brought in this evening by the police, having been abandoned by the rebels in their flight about 8 miles beyond Kudjwa, and that the Sepoys have dispersed in all directions pursued by the villagers.

India Board, January 4, 1858.

THE following despatches have been received from India.

No. 1.

Captain Boileau to Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon.

SIR, Azimghur, September 20, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Colonel Gordon, commanding the district, that, having been reinforced by the arrival of the Shere regiment of the Goorkha force from Jaunpore, at 6 P.M., yesterday, I determined to attack the largest body of insurgents in our neighbourhood at once.

2. At half-past one o'clock, A.M., I accordingly moved out against them, and reached their position at the village of Mundree, 10 miles from this, a little after sunrise.

3. I found them strongly posted, the village covering their centre, and extensive fields of sugarcane (now at its greatest height) protecting both their flanks, with a grove of mangoe trees in rear.

4. They had received no notice of my approach, and I am told that many parties had quitted their camp in search of plunder; the number left amounting to not less than 1000 men with three (3) guns.

5. When within a quarter of a mile of their position, the Goorkhas broke into 5 columns, and advanced with great rapidity and spirit to the attack, rushing straight to the guns, receiving their fire, and capturing them in less than 10 minutes after the first shot was fired.

6. The insurgents retreated at once, and were pursued for nearly 3 miles, losing men at every step. They finally dispersed in the sugar cane. The country is covered with fields of this plant, and afforded an admirable shelter to the enemy, whose loss on this account was much less than it would otherwise have been. We were also unable to make use of our guns against them, as, owing to the rapidity of the advance, they were unable to keep with the troops.

7. I would estimate the loss of the rebels at from one hundred and fifty (150) to two hundred (200) killed; and many wounded must have crept into the sugar cane.

Our loss is two (2) killed and twenty-six (26) wounded: I annex a return. Lieutenants Dunbar and Hay, and Assistant-Surgeon Wright, were present in the field, and Messrs. Wynyard, of the Civil Service, and Venables, Deputy-Magistrate, volunteered their services, and accompanied the troops throughout, the latter gentleman killing 3 of the enemy with his own hand.

I have the honour, &c.,

BOILEAU, Captain,

In Military Charge, Goorkha Detachment Azimghur.

Forwarded to Major-General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, for submission to his Excellency, the Commander-in-Chief, by his obedient servant,

P. GORDON, Lieutenant-Colonel,
Commanding at Benares.

Assistant-Surgeon Wright to Captain Boileau, Commanding at Azimghur.

SIR, Azimghur, September 21, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to forward, for your information, a memorandum of the casualties which occurred in the action yesterday.

The unusual number of severe cases is in consequence of the large proportion of gunshot wounds, 23 out of the 26 wounds having been from gunshot, and most of them from grape.

It is not unlikely that several slight wounds may be under the treatment of the Baidis attached to the force.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

Captain C. W. Bannister, Commanding at Neemuch, to the Adjutant-General of the Army, Bombay.

Camp, Neemuch,

SIR,

October, 24, 1857.

I have the honor to report that, on the morning of the 23rd instant, Captain Simpson, commanding at Neemuch, marched out with a force, strength as per margin,† to attack some rebels reported to be at a village, or walled town, called Jeerun, about ten miles distant from Neemuch. It had been ascertained that these rebels had come from Mundisore, and had threatened to make an attack upon Neemuch.

Two advanced guards from the 2nd Cavalry, under Captain Tucker and Lieutenant Blair respectively, were sent on the previous night by different roads, the main column following at half-past five a.m.

The advanced guard, under Captain Tucker, fell

* I did not see a dead man, but I am told there were two killed as above.

† 2nd Cavalry, 6 officers and 255 rank and file ; Her Majesty's 83rd regiment, 1 captain, 1 lieutenant, Bengal Native Infantry (attached), 50 rank and file ; 12th regiment Native Infantry, 1 captain, 1 lieutenant, 21st Native Infantry (attached), 100 rank and file ; 2 9-pounder guns and one mortar under Lieutenant Barnes Bengal Horse Artillery ; the whole force commanded by Captain Simpson commanding at Neemuch.

in with a large party of the rebels near Jeerun, at daylight; and Captain Tucker, leaving a reserve under Lieutenant LeGeyt in a concealed situation, advanced with a few men towards the enemy, who it appears were about 100 in number, and charged right through them. In this charge, I regret to say that Captain Tucker lost his life; and Captain Lawrie 21st Regiment Native Infantry, who accompanied him, and who appears to have behaved nobly, was very severely wounded. It is due to Captain Lawrie to say that he endeavoured at the first to dissuade Captain Tucker from charging rashly with his small body of men into so large a force, but, seeing that Captain Tucker was determined to charge, he added his voluntary services to support Captain Tucker and give greater effect to the charge. Captain Lawrie was wounded severely in the breast with a lance, and was much cut about with the swords of the enemy. His horse was shot under him. One trooper was killed in this charge. The rebels appear to have retired to a position out of the reach of cavalry before Lieutenant LeGeyt, who had but a handful of men in reserve, could approach them. Captain Tucker's body was taken away by the enemy, but was afterwards recovered by the men of his own troop. His head, which was severed from the trunk, was never recovered. Our main body arrived in front of the walls of Jeerun at about half-past seven a.m. The enemy were assembled 200 yards in front of the walls on the brow of a hill, when our column first saw them. They remained till our 9-pounders moved forward and fired a few rounds; they then retired slowly, taking up a stronger position behind some huts. At about this time I was sent with a squadron to the other side of the town to cut off stragglers, and consequently did not see the action; but, on returning, after the action, I was informed that our infantry had, at first, failed to dislodge the enemy from their position; that, in their advance for this purpose, Captain Read commanding Her Majesty's 83rd detachment had been killed, and Captain Soppitt, commanding 12th detachment Native Infantry, had been dangerously wounded; that both Infantry detachments, seeing their commanders fall, made a momentary retreat; that the enemy, emboldened, rushed upon them and took one mortar and were nearly on the guns, when Captain Simpson, with Lieutenant Blair, Lieutenant LeGeyt and Riding-Master Steers, charged with a squadron upon the enemy, retook the mortar, and dispersed the rebels, who fled to the fort.

In this charge Captain Simpson was very severely wounded in the head, Lieutenant Blair was wounded severely with a sword, and Lieutenant LeGeyt slightly by a bullet.

The day was now fast coming to a close, and we heard some reports that another column of the enemy was advancing on Neemuch from another direction.

Captain Simpson being unable to perform his duty, the command devolved upon me.

I omitted to state, which is an important point, that a great part of the ammunition of the mortar was never recovered, but fell into the hands of the enemy. For this reason, as well as on account of the great natural strength of the place, which would have rendered it impossible, with the small force at my command, and no breaching guns, to take the town, also on account of the fagged state of the men, the want of officers to command the detachments, and the necessity of returning to protect Neemuch, I ordered a retreat, which we effected before night closed in.

The following is the List of Casualties.

2ND REGIMENT LIGHT CAVALRY.

1 captain killed.
 1 captain severely wounded.
 1 lieutenant severely wounded.
 1 lieutenant slightly wounded.
 1 trooper killed.
 2 troopers wounded.
 2 horses killed, 4 missing.
 27 wounded.

HER MAJESTY'S 83RD REGIMENT.

1 captain killed.
 3 privates wounded.

12TH REGIMENT NATIVE INFANTRY.

STAFF.

1 captain severely wounded.

I have, &c.,

C. W. BANNISTER, Captain,
 Commanding at Neemuch.

P.S.—The Force are very much indebted to Serjeant-Major Toole, 2nd Light Cavalry, and Serjeant Taylor, Bengal Army, for the recovery of the mortar, which they dragged away under a heavy fire, immediately after the first charge of the cavalry. The enemy were not completely routed till the cavalry had charged several times.

SIR, Camp, Neemuch, October 25, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to forward Surgeon Pelly's return of the killed and wounded in the action before 1858.

Jeerun, on the 23rd instant. It does not entirely agree with the list which I made out on the evening of the 23rd, and which was forwarded by express early in the morning of the 24th to Brigadier Macau ; but, at that time, it was very difficult to obtain correct information, the surgeon being occupied in attending to the wounded.

Since the despatch of the communication to which I have alluded, the town of Jeerun has been evacuated by the rebels, and is now occupied by some troops sent there for that purpose by Captain Loyd, the political agent in whose district Jeerun lies.

I omitted to mention in my despatch that, in retiring from Jeerun, we halted and bivouacked within sight of the town, and only at about 1200 yards distance, in order to make the enemy believe that we intended a second advance. This very probably caused the enemy to evacuate the town during the night.

I have, &c.

Commanding at Neemuch.

November 18, 1857.*

ON the 16th, the Commander-in-Chief advanced across the canal straight on Secunder Bagh, which was carried after a very severe struggle, the enemy suffering enormously. These positions having been occupied, the Sahmack was attacked with heavy artillery for three hours; it was carried at dusk, after one of the severest fights ever witnessed. Early on the 17th, communications were opened to the left rear of the barracks, towards the canal. A cannonade having been kept up all the morning on the Mess House, that very strong position was carried by assault at 3 P.M. The troops pushed rapidly on, after carrying the Mess House, and were able to seize the Mothee Mahal before dark. Sir James Outram and Sir Henry Havelock then came out to meet the Commander-in-Chief.

The Commander-in-Chief's wound is very slight, and does not interfere with his duty.

By order,

W. MANSFIELD, Chief of the Staff.

A list of killed and wounded will be sent.

Telegraph Message.

The Commander-in-Chief to the Governor-General at Calcutta.

Camp, Lucknow, 20th. November, 6 p.m.

THE garrison of Lucknow has been removed, and I am now engaged in conveying the women and wounded to the rear. I propose to move the whole force to an open position outside the town, without further loss of life.

FROM THE LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 15, 1858.

Downing-Street, January 14, 1858.

THE Queen has been pleased to appoint the Reverend Stephen Jordan Rigaud, D.D., to be ordained and consecrated Bishop of Antigua, in the room of the Right Reverend Daniel Gateward Davis, deceased.

By virtue of an Act, passed in the twenty-fourth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to repeal so much of two Acts made in the tenth and fifteenth years of the reign of His present Majesty, as authorizes the Speaker of the House of Commons to issue his warrant to the Clerk of the Crown for making out writs for the election of Members to serve in Parliament, in the manner therein mentioned, and for substituting other provisions for the like purposes :"

I do hereby give notice, that the death of William Hackblock, Esq., late a Member serving in this present Parliament for the borough of Reigate, hath been certified to me in writing, under the hands of two Members serving in this present Parliament, and that I shall issue my warrant to the Clerk of the Crown to make out a new writ for the electing of a Member to serve in this present Parliament for the said borough of Reigate, at the end of fourteen days after the sertion of this notice in the London Gazette.

Given under my hand this twelfth day
January, 1858.

JOHN EVELYN DENISON, Speaker

Board of Trade, Whitehall
January 15, 1858.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Plantation have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Lisbon, reporting that the yellow fever having ceased, that Port has been declared free from contagion.

War-Office, 15th January, 1858.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to signify Her intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross on the under-mentioned Officers and Men of Her Majesty's Army, who have been recommended to Her Majesty for that Decoration, in accordance with the rules laid down in Her Majesty's Warrant of the 29th of January, 1856, on account of Acts of Bravery performed by them in India, as recorded against their several names; viz.:

78th Regiment.

Lieutenant Joseph P. H. Crowe (now Captain, 10th Regiment).—For being the first to enter the redoubt at Bourzekee Chowkee, the entrenched village in front of the Buserut-gunge, on the 12th of August. (Telegram from the late Major-General Sir Henry Havelock to the Commander-in-Chief in India, dated, Cawnpore, 18th August,

10th Regiment.

Lieutenant Henry Marshman Havelock (now Captain, 18th Regiment.)—"In the combat at Cawnpore, Lieutenant Havelock was my Aide-de-camp. The 64th Regiment had been much under artillery fire, from which it had severely suffered. The whole of the infantry were lying down in line, when, perceiving that the enemy had brought out the last reserved gun, a 24-pounder, and were rallying round it. I called up the regiment to rise and advance. Without any other word from me, Lieutenant Havelock placed himself on his horse, in front of the centre of the 64th, opposite the muzzle of the gun. Major Stirling, commanding the regiment, was in front, dismounted, but the Lieutenant continued to move steadily on in front of the regiment at a foot pace, on his horse. The gun discharged shot until the troops were within a short distance, when they fired grape. In went the corps, led by the Lieutenant, who still steered steadily on the gun's muzzle until it was mastered by a rush of the 64th." (Extract of a telegram from the late Major-General Sir Henry Havelock to the Commander-in-Chief in India, dated Cawnpore, August 18th, 1857.)

9th Lancers.

Privates Thomas Hancock and John Purcell.—"The guns, I am happy to say, were saved, but a waggon of Major Scott's battery was blown up. I must not fail to mention the excellent conduct of a Sowar of the 4th Irregular Cavalry, and two men of the 9th Lancers, Privates Thomas Hancock and John Purcell, who, when my horse was shot down, remained by me throughout. One of these men and the Sowar offered me their horses, and I was dragged out by the Sowar's horse. Private Hancock was severely wounded, and Private Purcell's horse was killed under him. Sowar's name is Roopur Khan." (Extract from letter from Brigadier J. H. Grant, C.B., Commanding Cavalry Brigade of the Field Force the Deputy Assistant-Adjutant-General of Division. Dated Camp, Delhi, June 22, 1857.)

FROM THE SUPPLEMENT
LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 15,

India Board, January 12, 1857.

THE following dispatches have been received at the East India House.

No. 1.

The Governor-General of India in Council to the Court of Directors of the East India Company.

Military Department,

December 11, 1857 (No. 324).

WE have the honor to forward for your information a narrative of the defence of the Residency of Lucknow, from the first threatened attack upon it on the 29th of June, until the 25th of September, 1857, which we have recorded in General Order No. 1543, of the 8th instant ; and in recognition of the heroism of the defenders of the Residency, we have, in a subsequent Order of the same date, No. 1544, which also accompanies, awarded honors and rewards to the officers and men of the two services, and to the civilians respectively.

Since writing the foregoing, the Commander-in-chief's despatches have come to hand, which have been published in a notification of this date—General Order No. 1,546 ; copies thereof are likewise transmitted herewith.

No. 2.

General Orders by the Governor-General of India in Council.

Fort William, December 8, 1857. (No. 1,543.)

THE Governor-General in Council has received from Brigadier Inglis, of Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment, lately commanding the garrison in Lucknow, the subjoined report of the defence of the Residency in that city, from the first-threatened attack upon it on the 29th of June, to the arrival of the force under Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., and the lamented Major-General Sir H. Havelock, K.C.B., on the 25th of September.

The divisional order of Major-General Sir James Outram upon the report accompanies it.

The Governor-General in Council believes that never has a tale been told which will so stir the hearts of Englishmen and Englishwomen as the simple, earnest narrative of Brigadier Inglis.

It rightfully commences with a soldier's testimony, touchingly borne, to the chivalrous character and high deserts of Sir Henry Lawrence, the sad details of whose death are now made known.

There does not stand recorded in the annals of war an achievement more truly heroic than the defence of the Residency at Lucknow described in the narrative which follows.

That defence has not only called forth all the energy and daring which belong to Englishmen in the hour of active conflict; but it has exhibited, continuously, and in the highest degree, that noble and sustained courage which, against enormous odds and fearful disadvantages—against hope deferred, and through unceasing toil and wear of body and mind—still holds on day after day, and triumphs.

The heavy guns of the assailants, posted, almost in security, within fifty yards of the entrenchments, so near, indeed, that the solicitations, and threats, and taunts, which the rebels addressed to the native defenders of the garrison, were easily heard by those true-hearted men; the fire of the enemy's musketry, so searching that it penetrated the innermost retreat of the women and children, and of the wounded; their desperate attempts, repeatedly made, to force an entry after blowing in the defences; the perpetual mining of the works; the weary night-watching for the expected signal of relief; and the steady waste of precious lives until the number of English gunners was reduced below that of the guns to be worked;—all these constitute features in a history which the fellow-countrymen of the heroes of Lucknow will read with swelling hearts, and which will endure for ever as a lesson to those who shall hope, by treachery, numbers, or boldness in their treason, to overcome the indomitable spirit of Englishmen.

A complete list of the brave men who have fallen has not yet reached the Governor-General.

in Council; but the names mentioned in Brigadier Inglis's report are, in themselves, a long and sad one.

Among those who have nobly perished in this protracted struggle, Sir Henry Lawrence will occupy the first place in the thoughts of his fellow-countrymen. The Governor-General in Council has already given expression to the deep sorrow with which he mourns the loss of that distinguished man. But the name of Sir Henry Lawrence can never rise up without calling forth a tribute of honor and admiration from all who knew him.

The Governor-General in Council has also to deplore the loss of Major Banks, an officer high in the confidence of the Government of India, and who, with the full approval of the Governor-General in Council, had succeeded to the charge of Chief Commissioner upon Sir Henry Lawrence's death; of Lieutenant-Colonel Case, Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment, who was mortally wounded while leading on his men at Chinhut on the 29th of June; of Captain Radcliffe, whose conspicuous bravery attracted the attention of Sir Henry Lawrence on that occasion; of Captain Francis, who was also especially noticed by Sir Henry Lawrence for his gallant conduct while in command of the Muchhee Bhowun; of Captain Fulton, of the Engineers, whose indefatigable exertions are thankfully recorded by Brigadier Inglis; of Major Anderson, the Chief Engineer, who, contending against deadly sickness, did not cease to give his valuable aid to his Commander; of Captain Simons, Artillery, mortally wounded at Chinhut; of Lieutenants Shepherd and Arthur, 7th Light Cavalry, killed at their posts; of Captain McCabe, Her Majesty's 32nd, who fell while leading his fourth sortie; of Captain Mansfield, of the same corps, who fell a victim to cholera.

The Governor-General in Council laments also to find in this melancholy record the names of Mr. Lucas, a traveller in India, and of Mr. Boyson. These two gentlemen, acting as volunteers, received charge of one of the most dangerous outposts, and held it at the cost of their lives.

The good services of Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment throughout this struggle have been remarkable.

To the watchful courage and sound judgment of its Commander, Brigadier Inglis, the British Government owes a heavy debt of gratitude; and Major Lowe, Captain Bassano, Lieutenants Edmonstoune, Foster, Harmar, Lawrence, Clery, Cook, Browne, and Charlton, and Quartermaster Stribling, of this corps, and Captain O'Brien, of Her Majesty's 84th Regiment, are praised by their superior as having severally distinguished themselves. Of the 7th Light Cavalry, Colonel Master, to whom was entrusted the command of a most exposed post, Captain Boileau, and Lieutenant Warner, are entitled to the thanks of the Governor-General in Council.

The Governor-General in Council recognises, with pleasure, the distinction accorded to Major Apthorp, Captains Kemble and Sanders, Lieutenants Barwell, and Keir, of the 41st Native Infantry, as well as to Captain Germon and Lieutenant Aitken, of the 13th Native Infantry, the latter of whom commanded an important position in the defences with signal courage and success; to Captain Anderson, of the 25th, and to Lieutenant Graydon, of the 44th Native Infantry.

His Lordship in Council desires to acknowledge the excellent service of Captain Dinning and Lieutenant Sewell of the 71st Native Infantry; and of Lieutenant Langmore, of the same regiment, who held continuously a post open to attack, and entirely without shelter for himself or for his men, by night or by day; as well as of Lieutenant Worsley, of the same corps; of Lieutenant Tulloch, 58th Native Infantry; of Lieutenant Hay, 48th Native Infantry, who was placed under the Engineers, to assist in the arduous duties of that department; and of Ensign Ward, of the same regiment, who, when the officers of Artillery were mostly disabled, worked the mortars with good effect; also of Lieutenant Graham, of the 11th Native Infantry; and of Lieutenant Meham, of the 4th Oude Irregulars.

Of the native officers and men of the 13th, 48th, and 71st regiments of Native Infantry, who have been amongst the defenders of the Residency, it is difficult to speak too highly; their courageous constancy, under the severest trials, is worthy of all honour.

The medical officers of the garrison are well entitled to the cordial thanks of the Government of India. The attention, skill, and energy, evinced by Superintending Surgeon Scott; Assistant Surgeon Boyd, Her Majesty's 32nd Foot; Assistant Surgeon Bird, of the Artillery; Surgeon Campbell, 7th Light Cavalry; Surgeon Brydon, 71st Native Infantry; Surgeon Ogilvie, Sanitary Commissioner; Assistant Surgeon Fayer; Assistant Surgeon Partridge, 2nd Oude Irregulars; Assistant Surgeons Greenhow and Darby, and of Mr. Apothecary Thompson, are spoken of in high terms by Brigadier Inglis.

To Dr. Brydon especially the Governor-General in Council would address his hearty congratulations. This officer, after passing through the Cabul campaign of 1841-42, was included in the illustrious garrison who maintained their position in Jellalabad. He may now, as one of the heroes of Lucknow, claim to have witnessed, and taken part in, an achievement even more conspicuous as an example of the invincible energy and endurance of British soldiers.

The labors of the officers of Engineers—Lieutenants Anderson, Hutchinson, and Innes; and the Artillery—Lieutenant Thomas (Madras), Lieutenants Macfarlane and Bonham, receive, they deserve, honorable mention, which the Governor-General in Council is glad to confirm by cordial approval.

The services rendered by Mr. McRae, civil engineer, Mr. Schilling, Principal of the Martinière and by Mr. Cameron, a gentleman who visited Oude for commercial purposes, merit the especial thanks of the Government of India.

The Governor-General in Council has read with great satisfaction the testimony borne by Brigadier Inglis to the sedulous attention given to the spiritual comfort of his comrades by the Reverend Mr. Polhampton and the Reverend Mr. Harris. The first unhappily, has not survived his labors.

The officers of the Staff have rendered excellent service. That of Lieutenant James, Sub-Assistant Commissary-General, calls for the especial thanks of the Government of India. This officer, although severely wounded at Chinhut, resolutely continued to give valuable aid to the Brigadier; and it is mainly owing to his forethought and care that the supplies of the garrison have sufficed through the hardships of the siege.

Captain Wilson, 13th Native Infantry, Deputy-Assistant Adjutant-General, has evinced courage, activity, and sound judgment in a very high degree.

Lieutenant Hardinge, officiating as Deputy Quartermaster-General, as well as commanding the Sikh Cavalry of the garrison, has proved himself worthy to bear his soldier's name.

Lieutenant Barwell, 71st Native Infantry, Fort Adjutant, is honorably mentioned; and Lieutenant Birch, of the 71st Native Infantry, who acted as Aide-de-camp to Brigadier Inglis throughout the siege, has discharged his duties in a manner which has called forth emphatic praise from his commander.

The officers of the Civil Service have not been behind their military brethren in courage and zeal. The assistance rendered by Mr. Couper to Brigadier Inglis, as previously to Sir Henry Lawrence, has been most valuable.

Messrs. Thornhill and Capper were wounded during the siege; and Mr. Martin, Deputy Commissioner, and Captain Carnegie, Assistant Commissioner, have earned the special thanks of Brigadier Inglis.

To all these brave men, and to their brother officers and comrades of every rank and degree, European and Native, who have shared the same dangers and toils, with the same heroic spirit, the Governor-General in Council tenders his warmest thanks.

The officers and men of Her Majesty's regiments must receive their full measure of acknowledgment from a higher authority than that of the Governor-General in Council; but it will be the pleasing duty of his Lordship in Council to express to Her Majesty's Government, and to the Honorable Court of Directors of the East India Company, in the strongest terms, the recommendation of them to that favour for which Major-General Sir James Outram so justly pleads.

Meanwhile, it is a gratification to the Governor-General in Council to direct, in a General Order of this day, that the rewards and honors therein specified shall be at once awarded to the officers and men of the two services, and to the civilians respectively.

This notice must not be closed without mention of those noble women who, little fitted to take in such scenes, have assumed so cheerfully, discharged so earnestly, their task of charity ministering to sickness and pain. It is likely to themselves the notoriety of praise publicly given may be distasteful; yet the Governor-General Council cannot forego the pleasure of doing justice to the names of Birch, Polehampton, Barbor, and Gall, and of offering to those whose acts have adorned them, his tribute of respectful admiration and gratitude.

The history of the defence of the Residency at Lucknow does not end with the narrative of Brigadier Inglis. But no full reports of the course of events at Lucknow, subsequently to the junction of Sir Henry Havelock's force with the defenders or of the final and effectual relief by the advance of the Commander-in-chief, have yet been received. It is known, however, that the success which has carried joy to so many aching hearts, has been clouded by the death, within the last few days, of one of the first soldiers of India, Major-General Sir Henry Havelock.

The Governor-General in Council deeply deploras the loss of this able leader and truly brave man, who has been taken from the service of his country at a time when he can least be spared, though not before he had won for himself lasting renown, and had received at the hands of his Sovereign the gracious and prompt recognition of his merits.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secretary to the Government of India,
Military Department.

No. 3.

Brigadier Inglis, Commanding Garrison of Lucknow, to the Secretary to the Government, Military Department, Calcutta.

Sir, Lucknow. September 26, 1857,

IN consequence of the very deeply to be lamented death of Brigadier-General Sir H. M. Lawrence, K.C.B., late in command of the Oude field force, the duty of narrating the military events which have occurred at Lucknow since the 29th of June last, has devolved upon myself.

On the evening of that day, several reports reached Sir Henry Lawrence that the rebel army, in no very considerable force, would march from Chinhut (a small village about eight miles distant on the road to Fyzabad) on Lucknow, on the following morning; and the late Brigadier-General, therefore, determined to make a strong reconnaissance in that direction, with the view, if possible, of meeting the force at a disadvantage, either at its entrance into the suburbs of the city, or at the bridge across the Gokral, which is a small stream intersecting the Fyzabad road, about half way between Lucknow and Chinhut.

The force destined for this service, and which was composed as follows, moved out at 6 A.M. on the morning of the 30th of June:—

ARTILLERY—4 guns of No. — Horse Light Field Battery.

4 ditto of No. 2 Oude Field Battery.

2 ditto of No. 3 ditto ditto.

An 8-inch howitzer.

CAVALRY—Troop of Volunteer Cavalry.

120 troopers of detachments belonging to 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Regiments of Oude Irregular Cavalry.

INFANTRY—300 Her Majesty's 32nd.
 150 13th Native Infantry.
 60 48th Native Infantry.
 20 71st Native Infantry (Sikhs).

The troops, misled by the reports of wayfarers—who stated that there were few or no men between Lucknow and Chinhut—proceeded somewhat further than had been originally intended, and suddenly fell in with the enemy, who had up to that time eluded the vigilance of the advanced guard by concealing themselves behind a long line of trees, in overwhelming numbers. The European force, and the howitzer with the Native Infantry, held the foe in check for some time, and, had the six guns of the Oude Artillery been faithful, and the Sikh Cavalry shown a better front, the day would have been won, in spite of an immense disparity in numbers. But the Oude artillerymen and drivers were traitors. They overturned the guns into ditches, cut the traces of their horses, and abandoned them, regardless of the remonstrances and exertions of their own officers, and of those of Sir Henry Lawrence's staff, headed by the Brigadier-General in person, who himself drew his sword upon these rebels. Every effort to induce them to stand having proved ineffectual, the force, exposed to a vastly superior fire of artillery, and completely outflanked on both sides by an overpowering body of Infantry and Cavalry, which actually got into our rear, was compelled to retire, with the loss of three pieces of artillery, which fell into the hands of the enemy, in consequence of the rank treachery of the Oude gunners, and with a very grievous list of killed and wounded. The heat was dreadful; the gun ammunition was expended; and the almost total want of Cavalry to protect our rear made our retreat most disastrous.

All the officers behaved well, and the exertions of the small body of Volunteer Cavalry—only in the number—under Captain Radcliff, 7th

 Cavalry, were most praiseworthy. Sir Lawrence subsequently conveyed his thanks self, who had, at his request, accompanied him this occasion (Colonel Case being in com-had not a more deserving officer. The devolved on Captain Steevens, who also death-wound shortly afterwards. They then fell to Captain Mansfield, who ha-of cholera. A list* of the casualties on this occasion accompanies the despatch.

It remains to report the siege operations.

It will be in the recollection of his Lords Council that it was the original intention of Henry Lawrence to occupy not only the Resid but also the fort called Muchhee Bhowun—a dilapidated edifice, which had been hastily repaired for the occasion, though the defences were even at the last moment very far from complete, and moreover commanded by many houses in the town. The situation of the Muchhee Bhowun with respect to the Residency has already been described to the Government of India.

The untoward event of the 30th of June so diminished the whole available force, that we were not a sufficient number of men remaining to occupy both positions. The Brigadier-General, therefore, on the evening of the 1st of July, signalled to the garrison of the Muchhee Bhowun to evacuate, and blow up, that fortress in the course of the night. The orders were ably carried out, and at 12 p.m. the force marched into the Residency with the guns and treasure, without the loss of a man; and shortly afterwards, the explosion of 240 barrels of gunpowder, and 6,000,000 ball cartridges, which were lying in the magazine, announced to Sir Henry Lawrence and his officers—who were anxiously waiting the report—the complete destruction of that post and all that it contained. If it had not been for this wise and strategic measure, no member of the Lucknow garrison, in all probability, would have survived to tell the tale; for, as has already been stated, the Muchhee Bhowun was commanded from other parts of the town, and was, moreover, indifferently provided with heavy artillery ammunition, while the difficulty, suffering, and loss which the Residency garrison, even with the reinforcement thus obtained from the Muchhee Bhowun, has undergone in holding the position, is sufficient to show that, if the original intention of holding both posts had been adhered to, both would have inevitably fallen.

It is now my very painful duty to relate the calamity which befel us at the commencement of the siege. On the 1st of July an 8-inch shell burst in the room in the Residency in which Sir H. Lawrence was sitting. The missile burst between him and Mr. Couper, close to both; but without injury to either. The whole of his Staff implored Sir Henry to take up other quarters, as the Residency had then become the special target for the round shot and shell of the enemy. This, however, he jestingly declined to do, observing that another shell would certainly never be pitched into that small room. But Providence had ordained otherwise, for, on the very next day, he was mortally wounded by the fragment of another shell which burst in the same room, exactly at the same spot. Captain Wilson, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, received a contusion at the same time.

The late lamented Sir H. Lawrence, knowing that his last hour was rapidly approaching, directed me to assume command of the troops, and appointed Major Banks to succeed him in the office of Chief Commissioner. He lingered in great agony till the morning of the 4th of July, when he expired, and the Government was thereby deprived, if I may venture to say so, of the services of a distinguished statesman and a most gallant soldier. Few men have ever possessed to the same extent the power which he enjoyed of winning the hearts of all those with whom he came in contact, and thus ensuring the warmest and most zealous devotion for himself and for the Government which he served. The successful defence of the position has been, under Providence, solely attributable to the foresight which he evinced in the timely commencement of the necessary operations, and the great skill and untiring personal activity which he exhibited in carrying them into effect. All ranks possessed such confidence in his judgment and his fertility of resource, that the news of his fall was received throughout the garrison with feelings of consternation only second to the grief which was inspired in the hearts of all by the loss of a public benefactor and a warm personal friend. Feeling, as keenly and as gratefully as I do, the obligations that the whole of us are under to this great and good man, I trust the Government of India will pardon me for having attempted, however imperfectly, to portray them. In him every good and deserving soldier lost a friend and a Chief capable of discriminating, and ever on the alert to reward, merit, no matter how humble the sphere in which it was exhibited.

The garrison had scarcely recovered the shock which it had sustained in the loss of its revered and beloved General, when it had to mourn the death of that able and respected officer, Major Banks, the Officiating Chief Commissioner, who received a bullet through his head while examining a critical outpost on the 21st of July, and died without a groan.

The description of our position, and the state of our defences when the siege began, are so fully set forth in the accompanying Memorandum* furnished by the Garrison Engineer, that I shall content myself with bringing to the notice of his Lordship in Council the fact that, when the blockade was commenced, only two of our batteries were completed, part of the defences were yet in an unfinished condition, and the buildings in the immediate vicinity, which gave cover to the enemy, were only very partially cleared away. Indeed, our heaviest losses have been caused by the fire from the enemy's sharpshooters stationed in the adjoining mosques, and houses of the native nobility, the necessity of destroying which had been repeatedly drawn to the attention of Sir Henry by the Staff of Engineers. But his invariable reply was—"Spare the holy places, and private property too, as far as possible;" and we have consequently suffered severely from our very tenderness to the religious prejudices, and respect to the rights, of our rebellious citizens and soldiery. As soon as the enemy had thoroughly completed the investment of the Residency, they occupied these houses, some of which were within easy pistol-shot of our barricades, in immense force, and rapidly made loopholes on those sides which bore on our post, from which they kept up a terrific and incessant fire day and night, which caused many daily casualties, as there could not have been less than 8,000 men firing at one time into our position. Moreover, there was no place in the whole of our works that could be considered safe, for several of the sick and wounded who were lying in the Banqueting Hall, which had been turned into a hospital, were killed in the very centre of the building, and the widow of Lieutenant Dorin, and other women and children, were shot dead in rooms into which it had not been previously deemed possible that a bullet could penetrate. Neither were the enemy idle in erecting batteries. They soon had from twenty to twenty-five guns in position, some of them of very large calibre. These were planted all round our post at small distances, some being actually within fifty yards of our defences, but in places where our own heavy guns could not reply to them; while the perseverance and ingenuity of the enemy in erecting barricades in front of, and around, their guns, in a very short time rendered all attempts to silence them by musketry entirely unavailing. Neither could they be effectually silenced by shells, by reason of their extreme proximity to our position, and because, moreover, the enemy had recourse to digging very narrow trenches about eight feet in depth in rear of each gun, in which the men lay while our shells were flying, and which so effectually concealed them, even while working the gun, that our baffled sharpshooters could only see their hands while in the act of loading.

The enemy contented themselves with keeping up this incessant fire of cannon and musketry until the 20th of July, on which day, at 10 A.M., they assembled in very great force all around our position, and exploded a heavy mine inside our outer line of defences at the water-gate. The mine, however, which was close to the Redan, and apparently sprung with the intention of destroying that battery, did no harm. But, as soon as the smoke had cleared away, the enemy boldly advanced under cover of a tremendous fire of cannon and musketry, with the object of storming the Redan. But they were received with such a heavy fire, that, after a short struggle, they fell back with much loss. A strong column advanced at the same time to attack Innes's post, and came on to within ten yards of the palisades, affording to Lieutenant Loughnan, 13th Native Infantry, who commanded the position, and his brave garrison, composed of gentlemen of the uncovenanted service, a few of Her Majesty's 32nd Foot and of the 13th Native Infantry, an opportunity of distinguishing themselves, which they were not slow to avail themselves of; and the enemy were driven back with great slaughter. The insurgents made minor attacks at almost every outpost, but were invariably defeated, and at 2 P.M. they ceased their attempts to storm the place, although their musketry fire and cannonading continued to harass us unceasingly, as usual. Matters proceeded in this manner until the 10th of August, when the enemy made another assault, having previously sprung a mine close to the Brigade Mess, which entirely destroyed our defences for the space of twenty feet, and blew in a great portion of the outside wall of the house occupied by Mr. Schilling's garrison. On the dust clearing away, a breach appeared, through which a regiment could have advanced in perfect order, and a few of the enemy came on with the utmost determination, but were met with such a withering flank fire of musketry from the officers and men holding the top of the Brigade Mess, that they beat a speedy retreat, leaving the more adventurous of their numbers lying on the crest of the breach. While this operation was going on, another large body advanced on the Cawnpore Battery, and succeeded in locating themselves for a few minutes in the ditch. They were, however, dislodged by hand grenades. At Captain Anderson's post, they also came boldly forward with scaling ladders, which they planted against the wall; but here, as elsewhere, they were met with the most indomitable resolution, and, the leaders being slain, the rest fled, leaving the ladders, and retreated to their batteries and loop-holed defences, from whence they kept up, for the rest of the day, an unusually heavy cannonade and musketry fire. On the 18th of August, the enemy sprung another mine in front of the Sikh lines, with very fatal effect. Captain Orr (Unattached), Lieutenants Mecham and Soppitt, who commanded the small body of drummers composing the garrison, were blown into the air, but providentially returned to the earth, with no further injury than a severe shaking. The garrison, however, were not so fortunate; no less than eleven men were buried alive under the ruins, from whence it was impossible to extricate them, owing to the tremendous fire kept up by the enemy, from houses situated not ten yards in front of the breach. The explosion was followed by a general assault of a less determined nature than the two former efforts, and the enemy were consequently repulsed without much difficulty. But they succeeded, under cover of the breach, in establishing themselves in one of the houses in our position, from which they were driven in the evening by the bayonets of Her Majesty's 32nd and 84th Foot. On the 5th of September, the enemy made their last serious assault. Having exploded a large mine, a few feet short of the bastion of the 18-pounder gun, in Major Apthorp's post, they advanced with large heavy scaling ladders, which they planted against the wall, and mounted, thereby gaining for an instant the embrasure of a gun. They were, however, speedily driven back, with loss, by hand-grenades and musketry. A few minutes subsequently they sprung another mine close to the Brigade Mess, and advanced boldly; but soon the corpses strewed in the garden in front of the post bore testimony to the fatal accuracy of the rifle and musketry fire of the gallant members of that garrison, and the enemy fled ignominiously, leaving their leader—a fine-looking old native officer—among the slain. At other posts they made similar attacks, but with less resolution, and every where with the same want of success. Their loss upon this day must have been very heavy, as they came on with much determination, and at night they were seen bearing large numbers of their killed and wounded over the bridges in the direction of cantonments. The above is a faint attempt at a description of the four great struggles which have occurred during this protracted season of exertion, exposure, and suffering. His Lordship in Council will perceive that the enemy invariably commenced his attacks by the explosion of a mine—a species of offensive warfare for the exercise of which our position, was, unfortunately, peculiarly situated; and, had it not been for the most untiring vigilance on our part, in watching and blowing up their mines before they were completed, the assaults would probably have been much more numerous, and might, perhaps, have ended in the capture of the place. But, by countermining in all directions, we succeeded in detecting and destroying no less than four of the enemy's subterraneous advances towards important positions, two of which operations were eminently successful, as on one occasion not less than eighty of them were blown into the air; and twenty suffered a similar fate on the second explosion. The labour, however, which devolved upon us in making these counter-mines, in the absence of a body of skilled miners, was very heavy. The Governor-General in Council will feel that it would be impossible to crowd, within the limits of a dispatch, even the principal events, much more the individual acts of gallantry which have marked this protracted struggle. But I can conscientiously declare my conviction, that few troops have ever undergone greater hardships, exposed, as they have been, to a never-ceasing musketry fire and cannonade. They have also experienced the alternate vicissitudes of extreme wet and of intense heat, and that, too, with very insufficient shelter from either, and in many places without any shelter at all. In addition to having had to repel real attacks; they have been exposed night and day to the hardly less harassing false alarms which the enemy have been constantly raising. The insurgents have frequently fired very heavily, sounded the advance, and shouted for several hours together, though not a man could be seen, with the view, of course, of harassing our small and exhausted force, in which object they succeeded; for no part has been strong enough to allow of a portion only of the garrison being prepared, in the event of a false attack being turned into a real one. All, therefore, had to stand to their arms, and to remain at their posts until the demonstration had ceased; and such attacks were of almost nightly occurrence. The whole of the officers and men have been on duty, night and day, during the eighty-seven days which the siege had lasted up to the arrival of Sir J. Outram, G.C.B. In addition to this incessant military duty, the force has been nightly employed in repairing defences, in moving guns, in burying dead animals, in conveying ammunition and commissariat stores from one place to another, and in other fatigue duties too numerous and too trivial to enumerate here. I feel, however, that any words of mine will fail to convey any adequate idea of what our fatigue and labours have been—labours in which all ranks and all classes, civilians, officers, and soldiers, have all borne an equally noble part. All have together descended into the mine, all have together handled the shovel for the interment of the putrid bullock, and all, accoutred with musket and bayonet, have relieved each other on sentry, without regard to the distinctions of rank, civil or military. Notwithstanding all these hardships, the garrison has made no less than five sorties, in which they spiked two of the enemy's heaviest guns, and blew up several of the houses from which they had kept up their most harassing fire. Owing to the extreme paucity of our numbers, each man was taught to feel that on his own individual efforts alone depended in no small measure the safety of the entire position. This consciousness incited every officer, soldier, and man, to defend the post assigned to him with such desperate tenacity, and to fight for the lives which Providence had entrusted to his care with such dauntless determination, that the enemy, despite their constant attacks, their heavy mines, their overwhelming numbers, and their incessant fire, could never succeed in gaining one single inch of ground within the bounds of this straggling position, which was so feebly fortified that, had they once obtained a footing in any of the outposts, the whole place must inevitably have fallen.

If further proof be wanting of the desperate nature of the struggle which we have, under God's blessing, so long and so successfully waged, I would point to the roofless and ruined houses, to the crumbled walls, to the exploded mines, to the open breaches, to the shattered and disabled guns and defences, and, lastly, to the long and melancholy list of the brave and devoted officers and men who have fallen. These silent witnesses bear sad and solemn testimony to the way in which this feeble position has been defended. During the early part of these vicissitudes, we were left without any information whatever regarding the posture of affairs outside. An occasional spy did, indeed, come in, with the object of inducing our sepoys and servants to desert; but the intelligence derived from such sources was, of course, entirely untrustworthy. We sent out messengers daily, calling for aid and asking for information, none of whom ever returned, until the twenty-sixth day of the siege, when a pensioner, named Ungud, came back with a letter from General Havelock's camp, informing us that they were advancing with a force sufficient to bear down all opposition, and would be with us in five or six days. A messenger was immediately dispatched, requesting that, on the evening of their arrival on the outskirts of the city, two rockets might be sent up, in order that we might take the necessary measures for assisting them while forcing their way in. The sixth day, however, expired, and they came not; but, for many evenings after, officers and men watched for the ascension of the expected rockets, with hopes such as make the heart sick. We knew not then, nor did we learn until the 29th of August—or thirty-five days later—that the relieving force, after having fought most nobly to effect our deliverance, had been obliged to fall back for reinforcements: and this was the last communication we received until two days before the arrival of Sir James Outram on the 25th of September.

Besides heavy visitations of cholera and small-pox, we have also had to contend against a sickness which has almost universally pervaded the garrison. Commencing with a very painful eruption, it has merged into a low fever, combined with diarrhœa; and although few or no men have actually died from its effects, it leaves behind a weakness and lassitude which, in the absence of all material sustenance, save coarse beef and still coarser flour, none have been able entirely to get over. The mortality among the women and children, and especially among the latter, from these diseases and from other causes, has been perhaps the most painful characteristic of the siege. The want of native servants has also been a source of much privation. Owing to the suddenness with which we were besieged, many of these people, who might, perhaps, have otherwise proved faithful to their employers, but who were outside the defences at the time, were altogether excluded. Very many more deserted; and several families were consequently left without the services of a single domestic. Several ladies have had to tend their children, and even to wash their own clothes, as well as to cook their scanty meals, entirely unaided. Combined with the absence of servants, the want of proper accommodation has probably been the cause of much of the disease with which we have been afflicted. I cannot refrain from bringing to the prominent notice of his Lordship in Council the patient endurance and Christian resignation which have been evinced by the women of this garrison. They have animated us by their example. Many, alas! have been made widows, and their children fatherless, in this cruel struggle. But all such seem resigned to the will of Providence, and many, among whom may be mentioned the honored names of Birch, of Polehampton, of Barbor, and of Gall, have after the example of Miss Nightingale, constituted themselves the tender and solicitous nurses of the wounded and dying soldiers in the hospital.

It only remains for me to bring to the favorable notice of his Lordship in Council the names of those officers who have most distinguished themselves, and afforded me the most valuable assistance in these operations. Many of the best and bravest of these now rest from their labours. Among them are Lieutenant-Colonel Case and Captain Radcliffe, whose services have already been narrated; Captain Francis, 13th Native Infantry—who was killed by a round shot—had particularly attracted the attention of Sir H. Lawrence for his conduct while in command of the Muchhee Bhowun. Captain Fulton of the Engineers, who also was struck by a round shot, had, up to the time of his early and lamented death, afforded me the most invaluable aid—he was, indeed, indefatigable. Major Anderson, the Chief Engineer, though, from the commencement of the siege, incapable of physical exertion from the effects of the disease under which he eventually sank, merited my warm acknowledgments for his able counsel. Captain Simons, Commandant of Artillery, distinguished himself at Chinhut, where he received the two wounds which ended in his death. Lieutenants Shepherd and Arthur, 7th Light Cavalry, who were killed at their posts; Captain Hughes, 57th Native Infantry, who was mortally wounded at the capture of a house which formed one of the enemy's outposts; Captain McCabe, of the 32nd Foot, who was killed at the head of his men while leading his fourth sortie, as well as Captain Mansfield, of the same corps, who died of cholera—were all officers who had distinguished themselves highly. Mr. Lucas, too, a gentleman volunteer, and Mr. Boyson of the Uncovenanted Service—who fell when on the look out at one of the most perilous outposts—had earned themselves reputations for coolness and gallantry.

The officers who commanded outposts—Lieutenant-Colonel Master, 7th Light Cavalry; Major Apthorp, 41st Native Infantry; Captain Sanders, 41st Native Infantry; Captain Boileau, 7th Light Cavalry; Captain Germon, 13th Native Infantry; Lieutenaut Aitken, and Lieutenant Loughnan, of the same corps; Captain Anderson, 25th Native Infantry; Lieutenant Graydon, 44th Native Infantry; Lieutenant Langmore, 71st Native Infantry; and Mr. Schilling, Principal of the Martinière College—have all conducted ably the duties of their onerous position. No further proof of this is necessary than the fact which I have before mentioned, that, throughout the whole duration of the siege, the enemy were not only unable to take, but they could not even succeed in gaining, one inch of the posts commanded by these gallant gentlemen. Colonel Master commanded the critical and important post of the Brigade Mess, on either side of which was an open breach, only flanked by his handful of riflemen and musketeers. Lieutenant Aitken, with the whole of the 13th Native Infantry which remained to us, with the exception of their Sikhs, commanded the Bayley Guard—perhaps the most important position in the whole of the defences; and Lieutenant Langmore, with the remnant of his regiment (the 71st) held a very exposed position between the Hospital and the Water-Gate. This gallant and deserving young soldier and his men were entirely without shelter from the weather, both by night and by day.

My thanks are also due to Lieutenants Anderson, Hutchinson, and Innes, of the Engineers, as well as to Lieutenant Tulloch, 58th Native Infantry, and Lieutenant Hay, 48th Native Infantry, who were placed under them to aid in the arduous duties devolving upon that department. Lieutenant Thomas, Madras Artillery, who commanded that arm of the service for some weeks, and Lieutenants Macfarlane and Bonham, rendered me the most effectual assistance. I was, however, deprived of the services of the two latter, who were wounded, Lieutenant Bonham no less than three times, early in the siege. Captain Evans, 17th B. Native Infantry, who, owing to the scarcity of Artillery officers, was put in charge of some guns, was ever to be found at his post.

Major Lowe, Commanding Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment; Captain Bassano, Lieutenants Lawrence, Edmonstone, Foster, Harmar, Cook, Clery, Browne, and Charlton, of that corps, have all nobly performed their duty. Every one of these officers, with the exception of Lieutenants Lawrence and Clery, has received one or more wounds of more or less severity. Quartermaster Stribling, of the same corps, also conducted himself to my satisfaction.

Captain O'Brien, Her Majesty's 84th Foot, Captain Kemble, 41st Native Infantry, Captain Edgell, 53rd Native Infantry, Captain Dinning, Lieutenant Sewell, and Lieutenant Worsley, of the 71st Native Infantry, Lieutenant Warner, 7th Light Cavalry, Ensign Ward, 48th Native Infantry (who when most of our Artillery officers were killed or disabled, worked the mortars with excellent effect), Lieutenant Graham, 11th Native Infantry, Lieutenant Mecham, 4th Oude Locals, and Lieutenant Keir, 41st Native Infantry, have all done good and willing service throughout the siege, and I trust they will receive the favourable notice of his Lordship in Council.

I beg particularly to call the attention of the Government of India to the untiring industry, the extreme devotion, and the great skill which have been evinced by Surgeon Scott (Superintending Surgeon), and Assistant Surgeon Boyd of Her Majesty's 32nd Foot; Assistant-Surgeon Bird, of the Artillery; Surgeon Campbell, 7th Light Cavalry; Surgeon Brydon, 71st Native Infantry; Surgeon Ogilvie, Sanitary Commissioner; Assistant-Surgeon Fayer, Civil Surgeon; Assistant-Surgeon Partridge, 2nd Oude Irregular Cavalry; Assistant-Surgeon Greenhow; Assistant-Surgeon Darby; and by Mr. Apothecary Thompson—in the discharge of their onerous and most important duties.

Messrs. Thornhill and Capper, of the Civil service, have been both wounded, and the way in which they, as well as Mr. Martin, the Deputy Commissioner of Lucknow, conducted themselves, entitles them to a place in this dispatch. Captain Carnegie, the Special Assistant Commissioner, whose invaluable services previous to the commencement of the siege I have frequently heard warmly dilated upon, both by Sir H. Lawrence and by Major Banks, and whose exertions will probably be more amply brought to notice by the Civil authorities on some future occasion, has conducted the office of Provost Marshal to my satisfaction. The Reverend Mr. Harris and the Reverend Mr. Polehampton, Assistant Chaplains, vied with each other in their untiring care and attention to the suffering men. The latter gentleman was wounded in the hospital, and subsequently unhappily died of cholera. Mr. McCrae, of the Civil Engineers, did excellent service at the guns, until he was severely wounded. Mr. Cameron, also, a gentleman who had come to Oude to inquire into the resources of the country, acquired the whole mystery of mortar practice, and was of the most signal service until incapacitated by sickness. Mr. Marshall, of the Road Department, and other members of the uncovenanted service, whose names will, on a subsequent occasion, be laid before the Government of India, conducted themselves bravely and steadily. Indeed, the entire body of these gentlemen have borne themselves well, and have evinced great coolness under fire.

I have now only to bring to the notice of the Governor-General in Council the conduct of the several officers who composed my Staff:—Lieutenant James, Sub-Assistant Commissary-General, was severely wounded by a shot through the knee at Chinhut; notwithstanding which he refused to go upon the sick list, and carried on his most trying duties throughout the entire siege. It is not too much to say that the garrison owe their lives to the exertions and firmness of this officer.

Before the struggle commenced, he was ever in the saddle, getting in supplies; and his untiring vigilance in their distribution, after our difficulties had begun, prevented a waste which otherwise, long before the expiration of the eighty-seven days, might have annihilated the force by the slow process of starvation.

Captain Wilson, 13th Native Infantry, Officiating Deputy-Assistant Adjutant-General, was ever to be found where shot was flying thickest; and I am at a loss to decide whether his services were most invaluable owing to the untiring physical endurance and bravery which he displayed, or to his ever ready and pertinent counsel and advice in moments of difficulty and danger.

Lieutenant Hardinge—an officer whose achievements and antecedents are well-known to the Government of India—has earned fresh laurels by his conduct throughout the siege. He was officiating as Deputy-Assistant Quartermaster-General, and also commanded the Sikh portion of the cavalry of the garrison. In both capacities his services have been invaluable, especially in the latter; for it was owing alone to his tact, vigilance, and bravery, that the Sikh horsemen were induced to persevere in holding a very unprotected post under a heavy fire.

Lieutenant Barwell, 71st Native Infantry, the Fort Adjutant and Officiating Major of Brigade, has proved himself to be an efficient officer.

Lieutenant Birch, of the 71st Native Infantry, has been my Aide-de-camp throughout the siege. I firmly believe there never was a better Aide-de-camp. He has been indefatigable, and ever ready to lead a sortie, or to convey an order to a threatened outpost under the heaviest fire. On one of these occasions he received a slight wound on the head. I beg to bring the services of this most promising and intelligent young officer to the favorable consideration of his Lordship in Council.

I am also much indebted to Mr. Couper, Civil service, for the assistance he has on many occasions afforded me by his judicious advice. I have, moreover, ever found him most ready and willing in the performance of the military duties assigned to him, however exposed the post, or arduous the undertaking. He commenced his career in Her Majesty's Service, and, consequently, had had some previous experience of military matters. If the road to Cawnpore had been made clear by the advent of our troops, it was my intention to have deputed this officer to Calcutta, to detail in person the occurrences which have taken place, for the information of the Government of India. I still hope that, when our communications shall be once more unopposed, he may be summoned to Calcutta for this purpose.

Lastly, I have the pleasure of bringing the splendid behaviour of the soldiers, viz., the men of Her Majesty's 32nd Foot, the small detachment of Her Majesty's 84th Foot, the European and Native Artillery, the 13th, 48th, and 71st Regiments Native Infantry, and the Sikhs of the respective corps, to the notice of the Government of India. The losses sustained by Her Majesty's 32nd, which is now barely 300 strong, by Her Majesty's 84th, and by the European Artillery, show at least that they knew how to die in the cause of their countrymen. Their conduct under the fire, the exposure, and the privations which they have had to undergo, has been throughout most admirable and praiseworthy.

As another instance of the desperate character of our defence, and the difficulties we have had to contend with, I may mention that the number of our artillerymen was so reduced that, on the occasion of an attack, the gunners, aided as they were by men of Her Majesty's 32nd Foot, and by volunteers of all classes, had to run from one battery to another wherever the fire of the enemy was hottest, there not being nearly enough men to serve half the number of guns at the same time. In short, at last, the number of European gunners was only twenty-four, while we had, including mortars, no less than thirty guns in position.

With respect to the native troops, I am of opinion that their loyalty has never been surpassed. They were indifferently fed, and worse housed. They were exposed, especially the 18th Regiment, under the gallant Lieutenant Aitken, to a most galling fire of round shot and musketry, which materially decreased their numbers. They were so near the enemy that conversation could be carried on between them; and every effort, persuasion, promise, and threat was alternately resorted to, in vain, to seduce them from their allegiance to the handful of Europeans who, in all probability, would have been sacrificed by their desertion. All the troops behaved nobly, and the names of those men of the native force who have particularly distinguished themselves have been laid before Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., who has promised to promote them. Those of the European force will be transmitted in due course for the orders of his Royal Highness the General Commanding-in-chief.

In conclusion, I beg leave to express, on the part of myself and the members of this garrison, our deep and grateful sense of the conduct of Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., of Brigadier-General Havelock, C. B., and of the troops under those officers who so devotedly came to our relief at so heavy a sacrifice of life. We are also repaid for much suffering and privation by the sympathy which our brave deliverers say our perilous and unfortunate position has excited for us in the hearts of our countrymen, throughout the length and breadth of Her Majesty's dominions.

I have, &c.

T. INGLIS, Colonel, Her Majesty's 32nd, Brigadier.

DIVISION ORDERS BY MAJOR-GENERAL
SIR JAMES OUTRAM, G. C. B.

Head Quarters, Lucknow, October 5, 1857.

THE incessant and arduous duties which have devolved on Brigadier Inglis and his staff since the arrival of the relieving force had hitherto prevented him from furnishing to the Major-General commanding the usual official documents relative to the siege of the garrison.

In the absence of these, the Major-General could not with propriety have indulged in any public declaration of the admiration with which he regards the heroism displayed by Brigadier Inglis and the glorious garrison he has so ably commanded during the last three months, and he has been reluctantly obliged to defer, therefore, so long the expression of the sentiments he was desirous to offer.

But the Major-General, having at length received Brigadier Inglis's reports, is relieved from the necessity of further silence, and he hastens to tender to the Brigadier, and to every individual member of the garrison, the assurance of his confidence that their services will be regarded by the Government under which they are immediately serving, by the British nation, and by Her gracious Majesty, with equal admiration to that with which he is himself impressed.

The Major-General believes that the annals of warfare contain no brighter page than that which will record the bravery, fortitude, vigilance, and patient endurance of hardships, privations, and fatigue, displayed by the garrison of Lucknow; and he is very conscious that his unskilled pen must needs fail adequately to convey to the Governor-General of India, and his Excellency the Commander-in-chief, the profound sense of the merits of that garrison, which has been forced on his mind by a careful consideration of the almost incredible difficulties with which they have had to contend.

The term "illustrious" was well and happily applied, by a former Governor-General of India, to the garrison of Jellalabad; but some far more laudatory epithet, if such the English language contains, is due, the Major-General considers, to the brave men whom Brigadier Inglis has commanded, with undeviating success and untarnished honor, through the late memorable siege; for, while the devoted band of heroes who so nobly maintained the honor of their country's arms under Sir R. Sale, were seldom exposed to actual attack, the Lucknow garrison, of inferior strength, have, in addition to a series of fierce assaults, gallantly and successfully repulsed, been for three months exposed to a nearly incessant fire from strong and commanding positions, held by an enemy of overwhelming force, possessing powerful artillery, having at their command the whole resources of what was but recently a kingdom, and animated by an insane and blood-thirsty fanaticism.

It is a source of heartfelt satisfaction to the Major-General to be able, to a certain extent, to confer on the native portion of the garrison an instalment of those rewards which their gallant and grateful Commander has sought for them, and which he is very certain the Governor-General will bestow in full; and though the Major-General, as regards the European portion of the garrison, cannot do more than give his most earnest and hearty support to the recommendations of the Brigadier, he feels assured that the Governor-General of India will fully and publicly manifest his appreciation of their distinguished services, and that our beloved Sovereign will herself deign to convey to them some gracious expression of royal approbation of their conduct.

Brigadier Inglis has borne generous testimony to the bravery, vigilance, devotedness, and good conduct of all ranks; and to all ranks, as the local representative of the British Indian Government, the Major-General tenders his warmest acknowledgments. He would fain offer his special congratulations and thanks to the European and Eurasian portion of the garrison whom Brigadier Inglis has particularly noticed; but, by doing so, he would forestall the Governor-General in the exercise of what the Major-General is assured will be one of the most pleasing acts of his official life.

*General Order by the Governor-General of India

(No. 1,544, of 1857.)

WITH reference to the preceding General Order by the Governor-General in Council, No. 1,543, of this day's date, and in recognition of the heroism of the defenders of the Residency at Lucknow, the Governor-General in Council hereby orders that—

1. Every officer and seldier, European and Native, who has formed part of the garrison of the Residency, between the 29th of June and the 25th of September last, shall receive six months' batta.

2. Every civilian in the covenanted service of the East India Company who has taken part in the defence of the Residency, within the above-named dates, shall receive six months' batta, at a rate calculated according to the military rank with which his standing corresponds.

3. Every uncovenanted civil officer or volunteer who has taken a like part, shall receive six months' batta, at a rate to be fixed according to the functions and position which may have been assigned to him.

4. Every native commissioned and non-commissioned officer and soldier who has formed part of the garrison, shall receive the Order of Merit, with the increase of pay attached thereto, and shall be permitted to count three years of additional service.

5. The soldiers of the 13th, 48th, and 71st Regiments Native Infantry, who have been part of the garrison, shall be formed into a regiment of the line, to be called the Regiment of Lucknow, the further constitution of which, as regards officers and men, will be notified hereafter.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secretary to the Government of India,
Military Department.

*General Order by the Governor-General of India
in Council.*

Fort William, December 10, 1857 (No. 1,546).

THE Governor-General in Council directs that the accompanying dispatches from his Excellency, the Commander-in-chief, which reached the Government of India last night, be at once published in General Orders.

These dispatches declare the signal defeat of the rebels in the city of Lucknow, and the complete successful rescue of the women and children, sick and wounded, together with their heroic defence from the long-beleaguered Residency.

Of the military operations described in them the Governor-General in Council will not presume speak. They are explained fully and clearly, and every sentence bears proof of their having been guided by a master-hand, and of that unbounded mutual confidence between the soldiers and the commander which, as it is the growth of past dangers and triumphs shared in common, so is it the assurance of victories yet to come.

Most heartily does the Governor-General in Council congratulate the Commander-in-chief and his brave companions in arms upon the first-fruits of their brilliant achievement. To have been the instruments through which, by God's blessing, the inmates of the Lucknow Residency have, in the face of extraordinary difficulties, and in the presence of a numerous enemy, been snatched from danger and placed in security, will be a life-long source of pride and satisfaction to every man who has had part in the work.

To General Sir Colin Campbell, G.C.B., a fearless, skilled, and sound-judging leader in every anxious enterprise, his country owes a new debt of gratitude. In the name of the Government of India, the Governor-General in Council desires to record his deep obligations to his Excellency.

The Governor-General in Council offers his most cordial thanks to Major-General Mansfield, C.B., of the Staff, to whose ability and experience the Commander-in-chief expresses himself so deeply indebted.

indebted for the most valuable assistance throughout these operations.

To Brigadier-General Hope Grant, C.B., who immediately commanded the division employed, his Lordship in Council tenders his warm acknowledgments for the very admirable manner in which he performed the arduous duties of his command. This well-tried officer had already greatly distinguished himself in the operations before Delhi, and has received the public thanks of Government.

The Governor-General in Council recognises with great satisfaction the conspicuously gallant conduct of Brigadier the Hon. Adrian Hope, 93rd Highlanders, who is repeatedly brought to notice in these dispatches.

To Captain Peel, C.B., of the Royal Navy, whose exemplary coolness and energetic courage are so prominently mentioned by the Commander-in-chief, the most sincere thanks of the Government are offered. To no officer are they more eminently due.

The officers commanding brigades and regiments have merited the acknowledgments of the Governor-General in Council, and he has much satisfaction in thus tendering his thanks to Brigadier Crawford, Royal Artillery, commanding the Artillery; to Brigadier Little, 9th Lancers, commanding the Cavalry; to Brigadier Greathed, Her Majesty's 8th Regiment, who having, in a series of important successes, led a column of troops from Delhi, after the capture of that city, to Cawnpore, has now further distinguished himself in the relief of Lucknow; to Brigadier Russell, 84th Foot, who was severely wounded while commanding the 3rd Infantry Brigade; to Lieutenant Lennox, Royal Engineers, Acting Chief Engineer; to Lieutenant Vaughan, Royal Artillery, who served with the Naval Brigade; to Major Turner, commanding the Bengal Artillery, in whose praise the Commander-in-chief has so warmly expressed himself; to Captain Travers, commanding the Royal Artillery; to Captains Remington and Blunt, commanding troops of Bengal Horse Artillery; and Captain Maxwell, Artillery, attached to the Naval Brigade; to Captains Middleton, Royal Artillery, and Bourchier, Bengal Artillery, who so ably commanded field batteries; and to Captain Longden, Royal Artillery, commanding the mortar battery.

The Governor-General in Council cordially concurs with the Commander-in-chief in the eulogy bestowed by his Excellency on the Royal Artillery and on that of Bengal and Madras, who emulated one another, and were alike distinguished in rendering the most conspicuous and important services in these memorable operations.

His Lordship in Council offers his thanks to Lieutenants Walker, Bengal Artillery, Ford and Brown, Royal Artillery, who commanded batteries; to Lieutenant Bridge, who ably commanded the guns of the Madras Horse Artillery; to Lieutenant Scott, Madras Engineers, in command of the Sappers and Miners.

The thanks of Government are also due to Major Ouvry, commanding 9th Lancers; to Major Robertson, commanding Military Train; to Lieutenant-Colonels Wells, commanding 23rd Fusiliers; Gordon, 93rd Highlanders, in temporary command of Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment; Hale, commanding Her Majesty's 82nd Regiment; Leith Hay, commanding 93rd Highlanders; Hamilton, commanding 78th Highlanders, and who led the 1st Battalion of Detachments; and to Major Barnston, Her Majesty's 90th Foot, commanding 2nd Battalion of Detachments, whose services, together with those of the other officers commanding corps named above, are repeatedly brought to the fa-avorable notice of Government, and who, it is observed with great regret, was dangerously wounded.

The Governor-General in Council has to regret the loss of Captain Hardy, who commanded the heavy field battery of the Royal Artillery.

His Lordship in Council acknowledges the merits of Lieutenants Watson, Probyn, Younghusband, and Gough, commanding detachments of Punjaub Cavalry and Hodson's Horse; of Captain Green, commanding 2nd Punjaub Infantry; of Lieutenant Willoughby, 4th Punjaub Infantry; of Lieutenant Ryves, who commanded the same corps towards the conclusion of the operations; of Major Milman, 5th Fusiliers; and Lieutenant-Colonel McIntyre, 78th Highlanders, who commanded detachments conspicuously; of Lieutenant-Colonel Ewart, 93rd Highlanders, who commanded at the Barracks; of Captains Dawson, 93rd Highlanders; Rolleston, 84th Foot; and Hopkins, 53rd Regiment; and of Lieutenants Fisher and Powlett, 2nd Punjaub Infantry—all of whom bravely and effectively commanded separate detachments or posts.

To Captain Norman, Assistant Adjutant-General of the Army, the Commander-in-chief has recorded his warm acknowledgments, and the Governor-General in Council cordially concurs in recognising the highly distinguished services rendered, not for the first time, by this officer.

The Governor-General in Council offers his thanks to Colonel Berkeley, Her Majesty's 32nd Foot; to Major Alison, Military Secretary to the Commander-in-chief (very severely wounded); to Captain Sir David Baird, Bart., Aide-de-camp; and to Lieutenant Hope Johnstone, Aide-de-camp to the Chief of the Staff.

His Lordship in Council has also to thank Lieutenant Algood, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General; Captains Maycock and Cary, of the same Department; Captain Rudman, of the Adjutant General's Department, Her Majesty's forces; Captain Hatch, Deputy Judge Advocate-General; Captains Alison and Forster, Aides-de-camp to the Commander-in-chief; Captain Metcalfe and Lieutenant Murray, on his Excellency's personal staff; Captain Cox, 75th Foot, Brigade Major; Lieutenant Roberts, Bengal Artillery, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General; Captain Hamilton, 9th Lancers, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General; Captain the Honorable H. A. Anson, Her Majesty's 84th, Aide-de-camp; and Lieutenants Salmond, 7th Light Cavalry, Acting Aide-de-camp to Brigadier-General Grant; Captain Hammon, Bengal Artillery, Brigade Major of Artillery (was severely wounded); Captain H. Le G. Bruce, Brevet-Major Barry, and Lieutenant Bunny, staff officers of the Royal and Bengal Artillery; Lieutenant Watson, Bengal Engineers, Brigade-Major of Engineers; Captain Sarel, 17th Lancers, Brigade-Major of Cavalry; and Captains Bannatyne, 5th Foot, and Lightfoot, 84th Foot, Brigade-Major of Infantry; as well as Lieutenant P. Stewart, Bengal Engineers, Superintendent of the Electric Telegraph, whom the Commander-in-chief mentions with much praise.

The acknowledgments of Government are a due to Captain Dickens, Commissariat Department and to Lieutenant Tod Brown, Ordnance Commissariat, who have rendered distinguished services and given much satisfaction to the Commander-in-chief in the discharge of their duties.

Of the services of Surgeon J. C. Brown, attached to the Bengal Artillery, since become Superintending Surgeon, his Excellency speaks in high terms and it gives satisfaction to the Governor-General in Council to acknowledge this officer's merit.

His Lordship in Council has to record w much regret the death of Colonel Biddulph, 45th Bengal Native Infantry, to whose conduct the Commander-in-chief bears testimony.

It is with much gratification that the Governor-General in Council recognises the distinguished bravery of Subadar Gokul Sing, 4th Punjaub Rifles, at the storming of Secunderbagh. The services of this gallant native officer will be duly rewarded.

The Commander-in-chief speaks in high terms of the daring conduct of Lord Seymour, who, as a volunteer, joined the Commander-in-chief, and was present throughout the operations before Lucknow. The thanks of the Governor-General in Council are due to Lord Seymour for the good service which he has freely rendered.

His Excellency mentions, with just appreciation, the valuable aid which he received from Mr. Cavenagh, of the Uncovenanted Civil Service; and the Governor-General in Council offers his special thanks to Mr. Cavenagh, whose conduct will be borne in mind by Government.

To the brave and indomitable troops of all arms, who took part in the glorious operations described by the Commander-in-chief, and to their comrades of the Naval Brigade, unsurpassed in gallantry and devotion to their duty, the Governor-General in Council cordially offers the tribute of his warmest acknowledgments. Under their honored leader they have achieved signal success, and it will be the first care of the Governor-General in Council to bring to the favorable notice of the Government, and of the Court of Directors, the important services and high deserts of General Sir Colin Campbell, G.C.B., and of the officers and men who have borne part in the last operations at Lucknow.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secretary to the Government of India,
in the Military Department.

No. 7.

The Commander-in-chief in India to the Governor-General.

Head-Quarters, Shah Nujeef,

My Lord, Lucknow, November 18, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to apprise your Lordship that I left Cawnpore on the 9th of November, and joined the troops under the command of Brigadier-General Hope Grant, C.B., the same day, at Camp Bantara, about six miles from Alumbagh.

There being a few detachments on the road, I deemed it expedient to wait till the 12th before commencing my advance.

On that day I marched early for Alumbagh with the troops named in the margin.*

The advance guard was attacked by two guns and a body of about 2,000 Infantry. After a smart skirmish, the guns were taken; Lieutenant Gough, commanding Hodson's Irregular Horse, having distinguished himself very much in a brilliant charge by which this object was effected.

The camp was pitched on that evening at Alumbagh. This place I found to be annoyed, to a certain extent, by guns placed in different positions in the neighbourhood.

I caused the post to be cleared of lumber and cattle, and placed all my tents in it.

I made my arrangements for marching, without baggage, when I should reach the Park of Dilkoosha, and the men were directed to have three days' food in their havresacks. I changed the garrison at Alumbagh, taking fresh men from it, and leaving Her Majesty's 75th Regiment there, which had been so much harassed by its late exertions.

* Naval Brigade, 8 heavy guns; Bengal Horse Artillery, 10 guns; Bengal Horse Field Battery, 6 guns; heavy field battery, Royal Artillery; detachments of Bengal and Punjaub Sappers and Miners; Her Majesty's 9th Lancers; detachments of 1st, 2nd, and 5th Punjaub Cavalry, and Hodson's Horse; Her Majesty's 8th, 53rd, 75th, and 93rd Regiments of Infantry; 2nd and 4th Punjaub Infantry. Probable total: 700 Cavalry, 2,700 Infantry.

On the 14th, I expected a further reinforcement of 600 or 700 men, composed as per margin,* who joined my rearguard, after my march had commenced in the morning of that day.

As I approached the Park of Dilkoosha, the leading troops were met by a long line of musketry fire.

The advance guard was quickly reinforced by a field battery and more infantry, composed of companies of Her Majesty's 5th, 64th, and 78th Foot, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Hamilton, Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders, supported by the 8th Foot. After a running fight of about two hours, in which our loss was very inconsiderable, the enemy was driven down the hill to the Martinière, across the garden and park of the Martinière, and far beyond the canal.

His loss was trifling, owing to the suddenness of the retreat.

The Dilkoosha and Martinière were both occupied; Brigadier Hope's Brigade being then brought up and arranged in position in the wood of the Martinière at the end opposite the canal, being flanked to the left by Captain Bouchier's field battery, and two of Captain Peel's heavy guns.

Shortly after these arrangements had been made, the enemy threw out a good many people, and attacked our position in front.

* Detachment joined on and up to the 14th: 2 guns of Madras Horse Artillery; Reserve Royal Artillery; Royal Engineers; Military Train; Head-Quarters of Her Majesty's 23rd Royal Welsh Fusiliers; detachment of Her Majesty's 82nd Infantry.

He was quickly driven off, some of our troops crossing the canal in pursuit.

On this occasion, the 53rd, 93rd, and a body of the 4th Punjab Sikhs, distinguished themselves.

Two very promising young officers lost their lives—Lieutenant Mayne, Bengal Horse Artillery, Quartermaster-General's Department, and Captain Wheatcroft, Carabineers, doing duty with Her Majesty's 9th Lancers.

All the troops behaved very well.

With the exception of my tents, all my heavy baggage, including provisions for fourteen days for my own force and that in Lucknow, accompanied me on my march across country to Dilkoosha, covered by a strong rearguard under Lieutenant-Colonel Ewart, of Her Majesty's 93rd Highlanders. This officer distinguished himself very much in this difficult command; his Artillery, under Captain Blunt, Bengal Horse Artillery, assisted by the Royal Artillery, under Colonel Crawford, Royal Artillery, having been in action for the greater part of the day.

The rear guard did not close up to the column until late next day, the enemy having hung on it until dark on the 14th.

Every description of baggage having been left at Dilkoosha, which was occupied by Her Majesty's 8th Regiment, I advanced direct on Secunderbagh, early on the 16th.

This place is a high-walled inclosure of strong masonry, of 120 yards square, and was carefully loop-holed all round. It was held very strongly by the enemy. Opposite to it was a village at a distance of 100 yards, which was also loop-holed, and filled with men.

On the head of the column advancing up the lane to the left of the Secunderbagh, fire was opened on us. The Infantry of the advance guard was quickly thrown in skirmishing order to line a bank to the right.

The guns were pushed rapidly onwards, viz., Captain Blunt's troop, Bengal Horse Artillery, and Captain Travers's Royal Artillery, Heavy Field Battery.

The troops passed at a gallop through a cross-fire from the village and Secunderbagh, and opened fire within easy musketry-range, in a most daring manner.

As soon as they could be pushed up a stiff bank, two 18-pounder guns, under Captain Travers, were also brought to bear on the building.

Whilst this was being effected, the leading brigade of Infantry, under Brigadier the Honorable Adrian Hope, coming rapidly into action, caused the loop-holed village to be abandoned; the whole fire of the brigade being then directed on the Secunderbagh.

After a time, a large body of the enemy, who were holding ground to the left of our advance, were driven by parties of the 53rd and 93rd, two of Captain Blunt's guns aiding the movement.

The Highlanders pursued their advantage, and seized the barracks, and immediately converted it into a military post, the 53rd stretching in a long line of skirmishers in the open plain, and driving the enemy before them.

The attack on the Secunderbagh had now been proceeding for about an hour and a half, when it was determined to take the place by storm, through a small opening which had been made. This was done in the most brilliant manner by the remainder of the Highlanders, and the 53rd, and the 4th Punjaub Infantry, supported by a battalion of detachments under Major Barnston.

There never was a bolder feat of arms; and the loss inflicted on the enemy, after the entrance of the Secunderbogh was effected more than 2,000 of the enemy carried out.

The officers who led these regiments were tenant-Colonel Leith Hay, Highlanders; Lieutenant-Colonel Majesty's 93rd Highlanders; Captain Majesty's 53rd Foot; Lieutenant Infantry (since dead); and Majesty's 90th Foot.

Captain Peel's Royal Naval went to the front, and advanced Nujjeef, together with the field-mortars, the village to the left by Brigadier Hope and Lieutenant

The Shah Nujjeef is a dome garden, of which the most had been enemy. The wall of the inclosure was loopholed with great care. It had been covered by a regular parapet. From this, and from the garden, an unceasing fire of musketry was maintained from the commencement of the attack.

This position was defended, with great gallantry, against a heavy cannonade of the enemy. It was then stormed, in the boldest manner, by the Highlanders under Brigadier Hope, and a battalion of detachments under Captain Peel, who was, I regret to say, severely wounded. Captain Peel leading up his heavy guns with extraordinary gallantry, within a few yards of the enemy's fire, to batter the massive stone walls of the garden, the fire of the Highlanders effected the capture of the Royal Naval Brigade from great loss; but the gallantry was almost unexampled in war. Captain Peel lay very much as if he had been laying alongside an enemy's frigate.

On the next day, communications were opened to the left rear of the barracks to the canal, after overcoming considerable difficulty. Captain Peel kept up a steady cannonade on the building called the Mess-House. This building, of considerable size, was defended by a ditch, about 12 feet broad and scarped with masonry, and beyond that a loop-holed mud wall. I determined to use the guns as much as possible in taking it.

About 3 P.M., when it was considered that men might be sent to storm it without much risk, it was taken by a Company of the 90th Foot, under Captain Wolseley, and a picquet of Her Majesty's 53rd under Captain Hopkins, supported by Major Barnston's Battalion of detachments, under Captain Guise, Her Majesty's 90th Foot, and some of the Punjab Infantry under Lieutenant Powlett. The Mess-House was carried immediately with a rush.

The troops then pressed forward with great vigor, and lined the wall separating the Mess House from the Motee Mahal, which consists of a wide inclosure and many buildings. The enemy here made a last stand, which was overcome after an hour, openings having been broken in the wall, through which the troops poured, with a body of Sappers, and accomplished our communications with the Residency.

I had the inexpressible satisfaction, shortly afterwards, of greeting Sir James Outram and Sir Henry Havelock, who came out to meet me before the action was at an end.

The relief of the besieged garrison had been accomplished.

The troops, including all ranks of officers and men, had worked strenuously and persevered boldly, in following up the advantages gained in the various attacks. Every man in the force had exerted himself to the utmost, and now met with his reward.

It should not be forgotten that these exertions did not date merely from the day that I joined the camp; the various bodies of which the relieving force was composed, having made the longest forced marches, from various directions, to enable the Government of India to save the garrison of Lucknow. Some from Agra, some from Allahabad, all had alike undergone the same fatigues in pressing forward for the attainment of this great object. Of their conduct in the field of battle, the facts narrated in this despatch are sufficient evidence, which I will not weaken by any eulogy of mine.

I desire now to direct the attention of your Lordship to the merits of the officers who have served under my orders on this occasion.

I cannot convey to your Lordship, in adequate terms, my deep sense of the obligations I am under to Major-General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, for the very able and cordial assistance he has afforded me and the service during these operations, and how admirably the very many and important duties belonging to his situation have been performed, for which his high talents and experience of service in this country so peculiarly fit him.

I have also to express my very particular acknowledgments to Brigadier-General Hope Grant, C.B., who was in immediate command of the Division by which this service was effected. His activity in carrying out the details has been admirable, and his vigilance in superintending the outpost duties has been unsurpassed.

My thanks are peculiarly due to Brigadier the Honorable Adrian Hope, who commanded the advance of the force; as also to Captain Peel, C.B., of the Royal Navy, who has distinguished himself in a most marked manner.

I desire to bring to the favorable notice of your Lordship the officers commanding Brigades and

Regiments, and those who have been in the performance of staff duties, or who have been marked out by Brigadiers :

Brigadier Crawford, Royal Artillery, commanding the Artillery; Brigadier Little, commanding the Cavalry; Brigadier Greathed, commanding 3rd Infantry Brigade; Brigadier Russell, commanding 5th Infantry Brigade (severely wounded);

Lieutenant Lennox, Royal Engineers, Acting Chief Engineer;

Lieutenant Vaughan, Royal Navy, and Captain Maxwell, Bengal Artillery, attached to the Naval Brigade;

Major Turner, commanding the Bengal Artillery (to this officer my most particular acknowledgments are due—he has few equals as an artillery officer);

Captain Travers, commanding Royal Artillery;

Captains Remington and Blunt, commanding troops of Bengal Horse Artillery;

Captains Middleton, Royal Artillery, and Bourchier, Bengal Artillery, commanding Horse Field Batteries; and Captain Longden, Royal Artillery, commanding the Mortar Battery.

It is impossible to draw a distinction between any of these officers. They all distinguished themselves under very arduous circumstances; and it was highly agreeable to me to be present on this first occasion when the Bengal and Royal Artillery were brought into action together under my own eyes. I wish also to mention Lieutenant Walker, Bengal Artillery, in command of a demi-field-battery; Lieutenants Ford and Brown, who successively took up the command of the heavy field-battery of Royal Artillery under Captain Hardy, on the death of that lamented officer; and Lieutenant Bridge, who commanded two guns of the Madras Horse Artillery with great ability.

I have further to bring to your Lordship's notice Lieutenant Scott, Madras Engineers, who commanded the Sappers and Miners.

I would also bring to favorable notice the following officers in command of corps or detachments:—

Major Ouvry, Her Majesty's 9th Lancers; Major Robertson, Military Train; Captain Hinde, Her Majesty's 8th Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Wells, 23rd Fusiliers; Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, 93rd Highlanders, in temporary command Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Hale, Her Majesty's 82nd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Leith Hay, 93rd Highlanders; Lieutenant-Colonel Hamilton, 78th Highlanders, commanding 1st Battalion of Detachments; Major Barnston, Her Majesty's 90th Regiment, commanding 2nd Battalion of Detachments (dangerously wounded); and Captain Guise, Her Majesty's 90th Regiment, who succeeded Major Barnston in his command:—

Lieutenants Watson, Probyn, Younghusband, and Gough, respectively commanding Detachments of the 1st, 2nd, and 5th Punjaub Cavalry and Hodson's Horse; Captain Green, commanding 2nd Punjaub Infantry; Lieutenant Willoughby, who succeeded to the command of the 4th Punjaub Infantry, on his three seniors in the corps being severely wounded; Lieutenant Ryves, who commanded the 4th Punjaub Infantry, from the evening of the 16th; Major Milman, 5th Fusiliers; and Lieutenant-Colonel M'Intyre, 78th Highlanders, in command of detachments employed in the advance on Dilkoosha and the Martinière; Lieutenant-Colonel Ewart, 93rd Highlanders, who commanded at the barracks; Captains Dawson, 93rd Highlanders; Rolleston, Her Majesty's 84th Regiment; and Hopkins, 53rd Regiment; and Lieutenants Fisher and Powlett, 2nd Punjaub Infantry, who commanded separate detachments or posts, and whose services have, for the most part, been noted in the body of the despatch.

It remains for me to express my high sense of the services performed by the Assistant Adjutant-General of the army, Captain Norman, who, on this, as on every other occasion, highly distinguished himself.

I have further to express my warm thanks to all the officers serving on the general and personal Staff of myself and Major-General Mansfield, as named below; but especially to Colonel Berkeley, Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment, who attended the Chief of the Staff in the field, and who displayed remarkable activity and intelligence; to Major Alison, Military Secretary (who unfortunately lost an arm); to Captain Sir David Baird, Bart., my first Aide-de-camp, and to Lieutenant Hope Johnstone, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General to the Chief of the Staff.

The remaining officers of this Staff were Lieutenant G. Algood, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General; Captains Maycock and Carey, Officiating Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General; Captain Rudman, Acting Assistant Adjutant-General Her Majesty's Forces; Captain Hatch, Deputy Judge-Advocate General; Captains Alison and Forster, my Aides-de-camp; Captain Metcalfe, interpreter; and Lieutenant Murray, Aide-de-camp to the Chief of the Staff.

Mr. Cavenagh, of the Uncovenanted Civil Service, who came out from Lucknow, in disguise, to afford me information, at the imminent risk of his life, has won my most especial thanks, and I recommend him most cordially to the notice of your Lordship.

Lord Seymour was present throughout these operations, and displayed a daring gallantry at a most critical moment.

I concur most fully in the commendations that have been bestowed by General Grant and officers commanding brigades on their respective Staffs, as named below; but I would especially draw attention to the services of Captain Cox, Her Majesty's 75th Regiment, Brigade-Major of the 4th Brigade; and Lieutenant Roberts, Bengal Artillery, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General; Captain W. Hamilton, Her Majesty's 9th Lancers, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General; Captain the Honorable H. A. Anson, Her Majesty's 84th Regiment, Aide-de-camp; and Lieutenant Salmond, 7th Light Cavalry, Acting Aide-de-camp to Brigadier-General Grant :—

Captain H. Hammond, Bengal Artillery, Brigade-Major of Artillery (severely wounded); Captain H. Le G. Bruce, Bengal Artillery, who succeeded Captain Hammond; Brevet-Major W. Barry, and Lieutenant A. Bunny, Staff-officers of Royal and Bengal Artillery respectively; Lieutenant G. E. Watson, Bengal Engineers, Brigade-Major of Engineers; Captain H. A. Sarel, 17th Lancers, Brigade-Major of Cavalry; and Captains Bannatyne (Her Majesty's 8th Foot) and Lightfoot (84th Foot), Brigade-Majors of the 3rd and 5th Brigades; also, Lieutenant P. Stewart, Bengal Engineers, Superintendent of the Electric Telegraph, who accompanied the force, and made himself particularly useful throughout.

I must not omit to name, in the most marked manner, Subadar Gokul Sing, 4th Punjaub Rifles, who, in conjunction with the British officers, led the 4th Punjaub Rifles, at the storming of Secunderbagh, in the most daring manner.

Captain A. D. Dickens, Deputy Assistant Commissary-General, and Lieutenant W. Tod Brown, Deputy Commissary of Ordnance, have both distinguished themselves exceedingly, in carrying on the intricate duties of their departments, with very scanty establishments, to meet the great demands upon them.

Brigadier-General Grant has made favorable mention of Surgeon J. C. Brown, M.D., Bengal Horse Artillery, whose great exertions have been deserving of all praise. He has since become Superintending Surgeon of the force.

The number of officers mentioned in this despatch may appear large; but the force employed was composed of many detachments, and the particular service was calculated to draw forth the individual qualities of the officers engaged.

Annexed is a return of casualties; and a list of officers, non-commissioned officers, and soldiers who have been brought to my notice, as having particularly distinguished themselves, will be separately forwarded.

I have, &c.,
C. CAMPBELL, General,
Commander-in-chief.

Assistant Adjutant-General of the Army.

No. 10.

The Commander-in-chief to the Governor-General.

Head Quarters, Camp, Alumbagh,

My Lord,

November 25, 1857.

In continuation of my report of the 18th, I have the honor to apprise your Lordship that the left rear of my position was finally secured on the night of the 17th instant, by the building called Banks's House having been seized by a party of the 2nd Punjaub Infantry (Sikhs) specially employed for that purpose.

Brigadier Russell and Lieutenant-Colonel Hale distinguished themselves much in completing the chain of posts on the 17th and 18th in that direction; the enemy having been very vigilant on that point, and kept up an unceasing fire on all the buildings occupied by Brigadier Russell, and on the barrack occupied by 300 of the Highlanders, under Lieutenant-Colonel Ewart.

Brigadier Russell having been unfortunately severely wounded on the afternoon of the 18th instant, I placed the lamented Colonel Biddulph in command of his line of posts. He was killed almost immediately afterwards, when making his dispositions for the attack of the hospital.

Captain Bouchier, of the Bengal Artillery, distinguished himself by the intelligent and able support he afforded Lieutenant-Colonel Hale, Her Majesty's 82nd Foot, on that officer succeeding Colonel Biddulph.

These very difficult and tedious operations, conducted as they were under a most galling fire, in cramped suburbs, reflect much credit on all the officers and men concerned, and secured the position.

The same afternoon, the enemy made a smart attack on the picquets covering the centre of the line.

I supported them with a company of Her Majesty's 23rd, and another of Her Majesty's 53rd Foot, not having any more Infantry at my disposal.

Captain Remington's troop of Horse Artillery was brought up, and dashed right into the jungle with the leading skirmishers, and opened fire with extraordinary rapidity and precision.

Captain Remington distinguished himself very much.

I superintended this affair myself, and I have particular pleasure in drawing your Lordship's attention to the conduct of this troop on this occasion, as an instance of the never-failing readiness and quickness of the Horse Artillery of the Bengal service.

During the next three days, I continued to hold the whole of the country from the Dilkoosha to the gates of the Residency, the left flank having been secured in the manner above mentioned, with a view to extricating the garrison, without exposing it to the chance of even a stray musket-shot.

From the first, all the arrangements have been conducted towards this end. The whole of the force under my immediate command being one outlying picquet, every man remained on duty, and was constantly subject to annoyance from the enemy's fire; but such was the vigilance and intelligence of the force, and so heartily did all ranks co-operate to support me, that I was enabled to conduct this affair to a happy issue, exactly in the manner originally proposed.

Upon the 20th, fire was opened on the Kaiserbagh, which gradually increased in importance, till it assumed the character of regular breaching and bombardment.

The Kaiserbagh was breached in three places by Captain Peel, Royal Navy, and I have been told that the enemy suffered much loss within its precincts. Having thus led the enemy to believe that immediate assault was contemplated, orders were issued for the retreat of the garrison through the lines of our picquets at midnight on the 22nd.

The ladies and families, the wounded, the treasure, the guns it was thought worth while to keep, the ordnance stores, the grain still possessed by the Commissariat of the garrison, and the State prisoners, had all been previously removed.

Sir James Outram had received orders to burst the guns which it was thought undesirable to take away; and he was finally directed silently to evacuate the Residency of Lucknow at the hour indicated.

The dispositions to cover their retreat, and to resist the enemy, should he pursue, were ably carried out by Brigadier the Honorable Adrian Hope; but, I am happy to say, the enemy was completely deceived, and he did not attempt to follow. On the contrary, he began firing on our old positions, many hours after we had left them. The movement of retreat was admirably executed, and was a perfect lesson in such combinations.

Each exterior line came gradually retiring

through its supports, till, at length, nothing remained but the last line of Infantry and guns, with which I was myself to crush the enemy, if he had dared to follow up the picquets.

The only line of retreat lay through a long and tortuous laue, and all these precautions were absolutely necessary to ensure the safety of the force.

The extreme posts on the left, under Lieutenant-Colonel Hale, Her Majesty's 82nd; Lieutenant-Colonel Wells, Her Majesty's 23rd Foot; and Lieutenant-Colonel Ewart, Her Majesty's 93rd Highlanders, made their way by a road which had been explored for them, after I considered that the time had arrived, with due regard to the security of the whole, that their posts should be evacuated.

It was my endeavour that nothing should be left to chance; and the conduct of the officers in exactly carrying out their instructions was beyond all praise.

During all these operations, from the 16th instant, the remnant of Brigadier Greathed's brigade closed in the rear, and now again formed the rear-guard as we retired to Dilkoosha.

Dilkoosha was reached at 4 A.M. on the 23rd instant, by the whole force.

I must not forget to mention the exertions of the Cavalry, during all the operations which have been described.

The exertions of Brigadier Little, and of Major Ouvry, respectively, of the Cavalry Brigade, and the 9th Lancers, were unceasing in keeping up our long line of communications, and preserving our extreme rear beyond the Dilkoosha, which was constantly threatened.

On the 22nd, the enemy attacked at Dilkoosha; but was speedily driven off under Brigadier Little's orders.

The officers commanding the Irregular Cavalry, Lieutenants Watson, Younghusband, Probyn, and Gough, as well as all the officers of the 9th Lancers, were never out of the saddle during all this time, and well maintained the character they have won throughout the war.

I moved with General Grant's division to Alum-bagh, on the afternoon of the 24th, leaving Sir James Outram's division in position at Dilkoosha, to prevent molestation of the immense convoy of the women and wounded, which it was necessary to transport with us. Sir James Outram closed up this day without annoyance from the enemy.

I have, &c.

General Orders by the Commander-in-chief.

*Head-Quarters, Shah Nujeef, Lucknow,
November 21, 1857.*

ALTHOUGH the Commander-in-chief has not yet had time to peruse the detailed report of Brigadier Inglis, respecting the defence made by the slender garrison under his command, his Excellency desires to lose no time in recording his opinion of the magnificent defence made by the remnant of a British Regiment, Her Majesty's 32nd, a company of British Artillery, and a few hundred sepoy, whose very presence was a subject of distrust, against all the force of Oude, until the arrival of the reinforcement under Major-Generals Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., and Sir H. Havelock, K.C.B.

2. The persevering constancy of this small garrison, under the watchful command of the Brigadier, has, under Providence, been the means of adding to the prestige of the British army, and of preserving the honour and lives of our countrywomen.

There can be no greater reward than such a reflection; and the Commander-in-chief heartily congratulates Brigadier Inglis, and his devoted garrison, on that reflection belonging to them.

3. The position occupied by the garrison was an open entrenchment; the numbers were not sufficient to man the defences; and the supply of artillerymen for the guns was most inadequate. In spite of these difficult circumstances, the Brigadier and his garrison held on; and it will be a great pleasure to the Commander-in-chief to bring to the notice of the Government of India the names of all the officers and soldiers who have distinguished themselves during the great trial to which they have been exposed.

4. The Commander-in-chief congratulates Sir James Outram and Sir Henry Havelock on having been the first to aid Brigadier Inglis.

The Governor-General in Council has already expressed his opinion on the splendid feat of arms by which that aid was accomplished.

*Head-Quarters, Shah Nujsef,
November 22, 1857.*

WHEN the Commander-in-chief issued his order of yesterday with regard to the old garrison of Lucknow His Excellency was unaware of the important part taken in aid of the soldiers by the civil functionaries who happened to be at the Residency when it was shut in by the enemy.

2. His Excellency congratulates them very heartily on the honor they have won in conjunction with their military comrades. This is only another instance that in danger and difficulty all Englishmen behave alike, whatever their profession.

*Head Quarters, La Martinière, Lucknow,
November 23, 1857.*

THE Commander-in-chief has reason to be thankful to the force he conducted for the relief of the garrison of Lucknow.

2. Hastily assembled, fatigued by forced marches, but animated by a common feeling of determination to accomplish the duty before them, all ranks of this force have compensated for their small number, in the execution of a most difficult duty, by unceasing exertions.

3. From the morning of the 16th till last night, the whole force has been one outlying picket, never out of fire, and covering an immense extent of ground, to permit the garrison to retire scatheless and in safety, covered by the whole of the relieving force.

4. That ground was won by fighting as hard as it ever fell to the lot of the Commander-in-chief to witness, it being necessary to bring up the same men over and over again to fresh attacks; and it is with the greatest gratification that his Excellency declares he never saw men behave better.

5. The storming of the Secunderbagh and the Shah Nujjeef has never been surpassed in daring, and the success of it was most brilliant and complete.

6. The movement of retreat of last night, by which the final rescue of the garrison was effected, was a model of discipline and exactness. The consequence was, that the enemy was completely deceived, and the force retired by a narrow, tor-trous lane, the only line of retreat open, in the face of 50,000 enemies, without molestation.

7. The Commander-in-chief offers his sincere thanks to Major-General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., for the happy manner in which he planned and carried out his arrangements for the evacuation of the Residency of Locknow.

By order of his Excellency the Commander-in-chief.

(Extract.)

THE accompanying communication from Lieutenant W. T. Hughes, commanding 1st Punjab Cavalry, reports the gallantry of the sowars under his command, and the defeat of the insurgents at Bulleh, in the Kurnaul district.

No. 15.

Lieutenant W. T. Hughes, Commanding 1st Punjab Cavalry, to the Adjutant-General of the Army, Head-Quarters, Camp before Delhi.

Camp, Bulleh,

SIR,

July 16, 1857.

FOR the information of the Provincial Commander-in-chief, I have the honor to report that, on the evening of the 13th instant I received from M. Le Bas, Collector of Kurnaul, a requisition, without date, for the assistance of troops in the collection of revenue from the village of Bulleh, in the Kurnaul district, a copy whereof is annexed.

2. In compliance with the instructions contained in your letter of the 11th instant, I, at 1 A.M., on the 14th, marched from Kurnaul upon the village of Bulleh, a distance of twenty-nine miles, taking with me a detachment, numbering 244 sabres, of the regiment under my command.

3. On arrival at Bulleh, I found the place walled-in, and the gateways barricaded on all sides. The town itself, substantially built of pukka bricks, stands on an eminence, and is, or was, surrounded by suburbs, inclosed by a low wall and ditch. The entrance to each street leading into the town from the suburbs was also strongly barricaded; but of this circumstance I was not aware until I attempted an entrance.

4. Halting my detachment near the principal entrance, behind the barricades of which were some hundreds of matchlock-men, I rode forward, and explained that I had come to demand the Government revenue. The announcement was received with yells, and a volley from the matchlocks, which wounded three horses, and killed a trumpeter. I was informed by the Jemadar of Police who was with me, that a gateway, some two hundred yards to my left, although barricaded, was less strongly defended; and, knowing that the place, if to be taken at all by us, must be at once carried by a rush, I wheeled up my men, and dashed at the last-named gateway, sending a troop to the opposite side of the town, to attempt to force an entrance from that direction.

5. My men, dismounting, tore down the barricade, and we swept through the suburbs, under a brisk fire, to one of the entrances to the town, but the pieces of timber with which this had been barricaded, were too heavy for us to move quickly, so, wheeling about, we cut our way back again.

6. In the performance of this service, I lost 1 sowar, and 1 horse killed, 2 native officers wounded severely (one, Jemadar Azim Khan, since dead), and 9 sowars and 12 horses (including my own charger) wounded.

7. Nothing could exceed the gallantry with which the sowars tore down the barricade and attacked its defenders; and I have since had the satisfaction of hearing, from the villagers themselves, that 20 of the insurgents were killed, and 22 wounded, in our charge through the suburbs.

8. I shall take an early opportunity of bringing to the notice of the Provincial Commander-in-chief, the names of those men who, by their daring, distinguished themselves on this occasion.

9 I directed my camp to be pitched in the most open ground I could find near the village, and sent to Kurnaul for some guns, one belonging to the Puttiala Rajah, and the other to the Nawab of Kurnaul. I also requested M. Le Bas to send me any Infantry he could.

10. About midnight, a Bunniah from Bulleh brought me 1,150 rupees on account of the revenue, and undertook to bring in the remainder before noon of the 15th. During the night, reinforcements from all the neighbouring villages were poured into Bulleh, and, on the morning of the 15th, the insurgents could not have numbered less than 2,000 men, armed principally with matchlocks.

11. About 8 A.M. on the 15th the insurgents moved out of the village to attack us. They occupied the jungle (intersected by deep ditches) in my front, and the banks of the canal, which runs along my left flank. I gradually retired, hoping to draw my opponents into the open, but they stuck to the jungles and the canal, from which they could do no harm. My men had been about half-an-hour in the saddle when the guns I had sent for arrived, under the command of Lieutenant Martineau, 10th Native Infantry, accompanied by some fifty men of the Puttiala Rajah's Infantry. The guns I immediately pushed to the front, and with them attacked the principal entrance of the town, whilst I at the same time sent a troop, under Lieutenant H. L. Millett, my Adjutant, to cut off the retreat of those who had extended themselves along the canal on my left flank. This service was well performed. The troops dashed across the canal, near the town, and then charged the insurgents, whose retreat they had thus cut off. The latter were obliged to take to the open country, and they were pursued, for at least four miles, with great slaughter.

12. After a short cannonade, the town was carried by the Infantry and a party of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry. The pukka-built houses I could not easily fire, but the suburbs, containing large quantities of stacked forage, were completely destroyed. Large stores of grain, ghee, &c., which were found in the town itself, were confiscated to Government, and made over to the Tehseeldar of Gurroundah. Four of the Lumburdars, and some other influential men of the place, who are prisoners in my camp, have begged to be allowed to redeem the confiscated property, and I have agreed to their doing so, on payment of 1,000 rupees over and above the balance of revenue due. I fully expect this money to be paid in the course of to-day.

13. The destruction of this place—the most important town in the neighbourhood—has had a very salutary effect; so much so, that two adjacent villages (against which M. Le Bas had requested me to proceed) this morning brought in their revenue, as also did the Lumburdar of Dhurramghur, in the Panesput District.

14. The loss of the insurgents cannot be estimated at less than 130 or 140, and of these, I should say, some 70 or 80 were cut up by the troop under Lieutenant Millett. I cannot speak too highly of the conduct of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry, on both occasions, when engaged. The Artillery also did good service, and my thanks are particularly due to Lieutenant H. L. Millett, 1st Punjaub Cavalry; Lieutenant Martineau, 10th Native Infantry; and Dr. J. E. Tuson, 1st Punjaub Cavalry, for the great assistance they rendered me. Dr. Tuson's services were very valuable to me, both for his great attention to the wounded, and for the aid he rendered me in directing operations in the field.

15. I beg to inclose a numerical statement of the troops under my command, together with a return of killed and wounded. Amongst the former I regret the loss of Jemadar Azim Khan, a daring soldier, and an excellent officer.

I have, &c.

The Governor-General of India in Council to the Court of Directors of the East India Company.

*Military Department,

WE have the honor to transmit herewith a printed copy of the several despatches and returns relating to the operations carried on during the siege operations of Delhi, received by us at irregular intervals, accompanied by a General Order, No. 1,529, of the 4th instant, in which we have recorded our approbation and thanks to the officers in command, and to those who have specially distinguished themselves, and to the troops by whom they were supported in the frequent engagements in which they were opposed to the enemy.

Major-General Wilson's despatches, reporting the final capture of Delhi and our General Order on the occasion, No. 1,383,* of the 6th November, 1857, accompanied our Secretary's list of packet, No. 105 of 1857, and our general letter No. 397 of 1857, paragraph 24.

No. 20.

General Order by the Governor-General of India in Council. (No. 1,529.)

Fort William, December 4, 1857.

THE Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that the despatches and returns relating to the operations carried on during the siege of Delhi, and received by the Government at irregular intervals, should be made public.

These despatches contain the reports of the officers commanding in the first actions with the mutineers at Ghazeeoodeen Nuggur, where the gallant conduct of Her Majesty's 60th Regiment, of the Carabiniers, and of the Bengal Artillery, was conspicuous, and at Budlee ka Serai; as well as the accounts of other contests in which the British troops have been engaged, always successfully, with the enemy; each occasion furnishing examples of the undaunted courage, determination, and endurance by which the last crowning success was subsequently achieved.

The Governor-General in Council has already recorded his gratitude to Major-General Wilson, and the officers and men engaged in the final operations against the city. His Lordship in Council now offers his thanks to those who specially distinguished themselves in the preceding operations, and to the noble army by which they were supported.

The warm acknowledgments of the Governor-

* See "Gazette," December 15, 1857.

General in Council are due to Brigadier Hope Grant, C.B., and to Brigadier Showers, for their excellent services; and his Lordship in Council desires to express his high approbation of the zeal and good judgment displayed by Lieutenant-Colonel Couston, of the Carabiniers, and Lieutenant-Colonel Yule, of the 9th Lancers, in the frequent engagements in which they have been opposed to the enemy.

Lieutenant-Colonel Yule has unhappily fallen, and the Queen's army has to deplore the loss of a brave and skilful officer.

The thanks of the Government of India are due to Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, commanding Her Majesty's 8th Regiment; to Lieutenant-Colonel Deacon, commanding Her Majesty's 61st Regiment; and to Lieutenant-Colonel Herbert, commanding Her Majesty's 75th Regiment; as also to Colonel Welchman, who was at the head of the 1st Bengal European Fusiliers, and was severely wounded; and to Lieutenant-Colonel T. Seaton, C.B., of the 35th Regiment Native Infantry, to whose command a column was entrusted.

The example which has been set, throughout these operations, by the courageous and indefatigable exertions of Major Reid, commanding the Sirmoor Battalion, is warmly acknowledged by the Governor-General in Council.

Major Coke, of the Punjaub Irregular force, has added to his high and well-earned reputation as one of the foremost frontier soldiers of India; and Lieutenant Hodson's good service, at the head of the Irregular Horse, merits much praise.

The thanks of the Government are eminently due to Lieutenant-Colonel Baird Smith and the Corps of Engineers under his direction. Their labors have been unremitting, and have deserved success.

The readiness and coolness, as well as the gallantry, evinced by Major Tombs, of the Bengal Artillery, on various occasions recorded in these papers, and the signal daring of Lieutenant Hills, who, alone and unsupported, charged a body of the enemy's cavalry and saved his battery, command the admiration of the Governor-General in Council.

Major Scott and Captain Remington, of the Artillery, have well earned the acknowledgment of their services which the Governor-General in Council now tenders to them.

His Lordship in Council desires to record his appreciation of the services of Lieutenant-Colonel Murray Mackenzie, of the Artillery, and of Major Jacob, of the 1st Bengal European Fusiliers, who died of the wounds received by them in these operations.

The general officers who have held command of the army before Delhi, have brought to notice the ready assistance, at all times afforded to them, by that very distinguished officer, Brigadier-General Chamberlain, who, after the death of the lamented Colonel Chester on the field of Budlee ka Serai, was appointed to the office of Adjutant-General; by Captain Norman, whose services have been unremitting and most valuable, and by the officers of the Adjutant-General's Department; by Colonel Becher and the officers attached to the Quartermaster-General's Department; by Colonel Congreve, C.B., Acting Adjutant-General of Her Majesty's forces; by Lieutenant-Colonel the Hon. R. Curzon, Acting Quartermaster-General of Her Majesty's forces; by Lieutenant-Colonel Thomson, Deputy Commissary-General, and the branch of the service under his orders; by Lieutenant-Colonel Young, Judge Advocate-General, and his department; and by the officers of the head-quarters, as well as of their own personal staff. To these officers, the Governor-General in Council again expresses his hearty thanks for the good services which they have rendered, and which it will be his grateful duty to bring to the notice of the Court of Directors and of Her Majesty's Government.

During a portion of the time over which the siege operations extended, dating from the first arrival of the army under the walls of Delhi, the command was held by Major-General Sir Henry Barnard, K.C.B. But this gallant officer was not permitted to witness the final success of the undertaking confided to him, and of which his own brilliant victory at Budlee ka Serai was the worthy commencement. Struck down by sickness, he died at his post, giving his last energies to the discharge of his trust; and the Governor-General in Council cannot close this notice of the campaign of Delhi without offering a tribute of sincere respect to the courage, constancy, and devotion to duty which marked the command of Sir Henry Barnard.

WHILE inclosing, for the information of the Commander-in-chief, the reports of the late attack made by the enemy on the force under my command, I would wish to bring to his notice the assistance I have received in every way from the services of Lieutenant Hodson, 1st Bengal European Fusiliers. Since the arrival of his regiment at Umballah up to the present date, his untiring energy and perpetual anxiety to assist me in any way in which his services might be found useful, have distinguished him throughout, and are now my reasons for bringing this officer thus specially to the notice of the Commander-in-chief.

SIR, Camp before Delhi, June 18, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Commander-in-chief, that, on ascertaining yesterday that the enemy was erecting a battery and taking up a position about the village of Puharipoor, from which it was considered important to dislodge them, I ordered a small force to proceed to the spot in two columns, to march at 4:30 P.M.—the first column, under Major Tombs, of the Horse Artillery, and the second under Major Reid, commanding the Sirmoor Battalion—and form a junction at Trevellyan and Kissengunge, drive the enemy out of his position, and destroy the battery.

This service was performed with the usual gallantry and daring of our troops, which cannot be better brought to your notice than by forwarding the reports of the officers in command. I fully concur in the merit of the officers recommended to your notice.

I beg also to make most special mention of Major Tombs and Major Reid—the former conspicuous for his usual cool courage and judgment, (and who, I regret to say, was slightly wounded, and had two horses shot under him), and the latter for that forward gallantry and knowledge of his work that in both these officers inspire the confidence of their men, and lead our troops to such brilliant success.

SIR, Camp before Delhi, June 18, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Major-General Sir H. Barnard, K.C.B., commanding the Field Force, that the troops as per margin,* with the command of which he did me the honor to entrust me, left camp at 4.30 P.M., and moved through the Subzee Mundy until they arrived at the road leading across the canal in the direction of the Eedgah. The column moved up this road, and had not advanced more than a couple of hundred yards, when the enemy opened fire upon it from some walled gardens on the left of the road. Leaving parties of riflemen under these walls, with orders to keep down the fire of the enemy, I advanced with the main body, until we arrived at the suburb of Puharipore. Here I detached the four Horse Artillery guns, with one company Fusiliers and the Guide Cavalry in support, with orders to take the road leading round the village, until they came in sight of the Eedgah, against which they were to open fire. I, myself, with one company Her Majesty's 60th Rifles, and three companies Fusiliers, went through the village, driving the enemy, Cavalry and Infantry, before us. On reaching the other side of the suburbs, the enemy appeared in considerable force on this side of the Eedgah, and at the angle of it nearest the city. Here a hot musketry fire was sustained for some time, until I sent orders for two of the Horse Artillery guns to be brought from the outside of the suburb to our support. On these guns opening fire, the enemy appeared to loosen their hold of the position. Seeing this, I ordered the advance, which was made with a rush, and the position was ours. We captured a 9-pounder gun and its limber here in position; and, the object of the attack having been effected, I, agreeably to orders received, brought the column back into camp at about 7 P.M. The loss on our side, I am happy to say, was small; but I regret that it includes a gallant young officer, Captain Brown, of the 1st Fusiliers, badly wounded. Every officer and man behaved as gallantly as men could do. To Major Jacob, 1st Fusiliers; Captain Williams, Her Majesty's 60th Rifles; Lieutenant Wilson, in charge of the four Horse Artillery guns; Lieutenant Parkins, of the Engineers, who led the column; and to Lieutenant Frith, Adjutant 1st Brigade Horse Artillery, who kindly accompanied me and rendered me the utmost service; also to Lieutenant Phillipps, attached to Her Majesty's 60th Rifles, who obligingly carried two or three messages for me—my best thanks are due, and I beg to recommend them to the favourable notice of the Major-General. The Guide Cavalry, under their native officer, Khanan Khan, Ressaldar, executed all orders given to them.

Accompanying are casualty returns of the force employed.

Main Picquet, Hindoo Rao's House,

SIR,

June 18, 1857.

IN obedience to instructions contained in a confidential letter from the Major-General commanding the Forces, I have the honor to report, for his information, that I proceeded yesterday at 4.15 P.M., with the troops noted in the margin,* to attack the position taken up by the enemy at Kissengunge, simultaneously with the advance of the column under command of Major Tombs, Artillery. The two columns met on the road near the Canal Bridge, when they struck off at right angles; Major Tombs's column taking the right, and mine the left, of a large garden which had a high brick wall round it. I proceeded to the end of the wall, and then entered a Serai to the right. After battering down the gates of two different serais, I succeeded in entering Kissengunge, which I found full of mutineers. Many rushed madly on; but were at once shot down by our troops. I counted thirty-one bodies in one place near one of the batteries, and nine were counted close to the battery erected on the right of a building in the centre of Kissengunge. The enemy must have lost between fifty and sixty killed, and a very great number wounded. I completely destroyed the batteries, which were not quite finished; burnt the village, the timber used in constructing batteries, the magazine (which had evidently been made by sappers) and the gates of the serai, three in number. My loss very trifling—three wounded in the four companies 60th Rifles, only one man killed in my own regiment, and two wounded.

* 4 Companies 60th Rifles, and Sirmoor Battalion.

This report would have been forwarded earlier, but my time is fully occupied at this picquet.

Major-General T. Reed, Provincial Commander-in-chief, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

SIR, Camp before Delhi, July 14, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to acquaint you, for the information of the Governor-General in Council, that, on the morning of the 9th instant, the right of our position was attacked by the mutineers in great force, with nine guns and Cavalry in support.

2. The usual reinforcements having been dispatched to the pickets on the flanks (at Hindoo Rao's house), the troops, which, in the mean time, had been held in readiness, were turned out on the irruption of some mutineer Horse on our right rear, estimated at from 150 to 200 in number, which had driven in a small picket of the 9th Irregular Cavalry posted on that flank. The uniform of the mutineers being precisely similar to that of the 9th Irregular Cavalry, great confusion was created by the circumstance, and led to the idea afterwards that the portion of that corps in camp had mutinied. A party of these sowars, having penetrated to some guns preparing to move out of camp, called upon the native gunners to join them; but they instead, true to their allegiance, called out to Major Olpherts' troop, which was unlimbered, to fire through them at the insurgents.

3. A party of Foot Artillery now advanced, led by Captain Fagan, who had been writing in his tent close by, and had only time to relinquish his pen for a tulwar, and, supported by a company of 1st Fusiliers, drove one portion of the sowars out of camp, having killed some fifteen of them; and, the guns at the mound battery on our right, being brought round to bear, opened on them. In the mean time, the remainder of the sowars, on being discovered, were driven out at the rear by a squadron of 9th Lancers, Captain Hodson's Guide Cavalry, and a party of the 2nd Punjaub Cavalry, under Lieutenant Nicholson, under the direction of Brigadier Grant, C.B.

4. It having been reported to me that the gardens and inclosures on our right were full of the enemy, I directed a column, composed as per margin,* to be formed to drive them out, and soon after, having received a message from Brigadier-General Chamberlain, who was detached to the rear, that all was quiet in that quarter, and requesting permission to bring a force to the right for the purpose of performing the above service, I directed the column referred to, to be placed under his orders, by which the Brigadier-General was enabled to leave Her Majesty's 75th Regiment in reserve in camp.

5. At the same time I directed Major Reid, of the Sirmoor Battalion, in charge of the picquets on our right front (Hindoo Rao's house), to advance on the approach of Brigadier-General Chamberlain.

6. The result of this combined movement was that the mutineers were driven with great loss, under the cover of the grape and musketry, from the walls of Delhi.

* Available men of the wings of Her Majesty's 8th and 61st Regiments; 4th Sikh Infantry; Major Scott's Battery.

7. This success was not achieved without serious loss (I am sorry to say), as will appear by the accompanying Return, while, from all reliable sources, that of the enemy must have been at least triple in amount.

8. It is with the highest gratification I have the honor of forwarding the inclosed report of the heroic conduct of two officers,—Major Tombs and Second Lieutenant Hills, of the 2nd troop 1st Brigade Horse Artillery. It is unnecessary for me to make any further comment on Lieutenant-Colonel Mackenzie's report than to observe that the conduct of these officers has always been conspicuous for distinguished gallantry, for the display of which, owing to his standing in the service, Major Tombs has had more opportunities; and that, in recommending them to the most favorable consideration of the Governor-General in Council, I consider them to be worthy of the highest distinction that can be awarded to valour and heroism.

9. I take this opportunity of recording the meritorious and efficient services afforded to me upon this occasion, and on every former one to my lamented predecessor in the command of this force, not only by my own personal and divisional staff, but also by the officers of the head-quarters staff of the army, who, with my concurrence, placed themselves at the disposal of Major-General Sir H. Barnard, and I feel assured I am acting in accordance with his intentions and wishes, in bringing to the favorable notice of his Lordship in Council the valuable services of Brigadier-General Chamberlain, Acting Adjutant-General; Captain Norman, Assistant Adjutant-General of the army, who, from the death of Colonel Chester, until the arrival of Brigadier-General Chamberlain on the 24th ultimo, acted as Adjutant-General; Colonel Congreve, C. B., Acting Adjutant-General, Her Majesty's Forces; Lieutenant-Colonel Honorable R. W. P. Curzon, Acting Quartermaster-General, Her Majesty's Forces; Lieutenant-Colonel Young, Judge Advocate-General; and Captain Garstin, Officiating Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General. Colonel Becher, I regret to say, has been prevented by the severe wound received on the 19th ultimo, from accompanying myself or Sir H. Barnard into the field; but his exertions in the performance of his official duties have been unceasing.

I have, &c.

Head-Quarters of Artillery,

Sir, Camp before Delhi, July 10, 1857.

I HAVE much pleasure in forwarding, for submission to the Commander of the forces, the accompanying copy of a Report, No. 83, of this day's date, I have received from Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel Mackenzie, commanding 1st Brigade Horse Artillery, of the gallant conduct of Major Tombs, and Second Lieutenant Hills, of the 2nd troop of his brigade, when surprised by the enemy's Cavalry yesterday morning; and to state that I shall feel gratified by any mark of approbation or reward the Commander of the forces may deem fit to award or recommend them for.

I have &c.

A. WILSON.

*Lieutenant-Colonel M. Mackenzie, commanding 1st Brigade Horse Artillery, to Brigadier A.

Sir, Camp near Delhi, July 10, 1857.

IT is with great pleasure I submit, for the information of the Brigadier Commandant, the following account of the very gallant conduct of Second Lieutenant James Hills, of the 2nd Troop 1st Brigade Horse Artillery, and the noble behaviour of his commanding officer, Major H. Tombs, in twice coming to his Subaltern's rescue, and, on each occasion, killing his man.

Yesterday, the 9th instant, Second Lieutenant J. Hills was on picket-duty, with two guns, at the mound to the right of the camp. About 11 o'clock A.M. there was a rumour that the enemy's Cavalry were coming down on this post. Lieutenant Hills proceeded to take up the position assigned in case of alarm; but, before he reached the spot, he saw the enemy close upon his guns before they had time to form up. To enable him to do this, Lieutenant Hills boldly charged, single-handed, the head of the enemy's column, cut down the first man, struck the second, and was then ridden down, horse and all. On getting up, and searching for his sword, three more men came at him (two mounted): the first man he wounded with his pistol; he caught the lance of the second in his left hand, and wounded him with his sword; the first man then came on again, and was cut down; the third man (on foot) then came up, and wrenched the sword from the hand of Lieutenant Hills (who fell in the struggle), and the enemy was about to cut him down, when Major Tombs (who had gone up to visit his two guns) saw what was going on, rushed in and shot the man, and saved Lieutenant Hills.

By this time the enemy's Cavalry had passed by, and Major Tombs and Lieutenant Hills went to look after the wounded men, when Lieutenant Hills observed one of the enemy passing with his (Lieutenant Hills') pistol. They walked towards him. The man began flourishing his sword, and dancing about. He first cut at Lieutenant Hills, who parried the blow, and he then turned on Major Tombs, who received the blow in the same manner. His second attack on Lieutenant Hills was, I regret to say, more successful, as he was cut down with a bad sword-cut on the head, and would have been, no doubt, killed, had not Major Tombs rushed in and put his sword through the man. I feel convinced that such gallant conduct on the part of these two officers has only to be brought properly forward to meet with an appropriate reward.

Major Tombs was saved from a severe sword-cut on the head by the wadded head-dress he wore.

I have to apologise for the writing of this letter, as it is written from a sick bed.

M. MACKENZIE, Lieutenant-Colonel.

No. 44.

Brigadier-General A. Wilson, Commanding Field Force, to the Acting Adjutant-General of the Army.

SIR, Camp before Delhi, August 12, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to transmit a return of the casualties (killed and wounded) of the field force under my command, which occurred during the attack on our outposts by the mutineers on the 18th, 20th, and 23rd of last month, and to attach the reports of the officers commanding the columns which I directed to be formed to dislodge the mutineers from the position taken up by them in front of the Subzee Mundy and main picquets.

On the 18th this service was gallantly and efficiently performed by the troops under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Jones, of Her Majesty's 60th Rifles. From the numerous inclosures and broken ground occupied by the insurgents, they were enabled to offer a continued and determined resistance; but which, from the disposition of the troops under his command, made by Lieutenant-Colonel Jones, was successfully overcome, and the mutineers driven with severe loss into the town.

The column under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Seaton, C.B., of the 35th Regiment Native

Infantry, employed on the 20th, had for its object the dislodgement of the mutineers from nearly the same position they occupied on the 18th instant.

The attack made on the 20th having commenced about 9 A.M., and been maintained for several hours, a movement towards their flank and rear became necessary to relieve the posts attacked, and which the advance of the column under Lieutenant-Colonel Seaton, C.B. completely effected.

On the morning of the 23rd, the mutineers having moved out in force from the Cashmere Gate of the city, and attacked the centre and left front of our position, when perceiving, as they moved to our right, that by a flank movement from our left the insurgents would be compelled to retire, and possibly with the loss of some of their guns, I directed Brigadier Showers to take command of the troops marginally noted in his report, and engage the mutineers from the points and in the manner detailed by him.

Brigadier Showers ably performed the service entrusted to him, and the result was as anticipated—the speedy retirement of the insurgents into the city.

Each of these columns of attack against the mutineers was most ably led, and my orders fully carried out by the officers commanding them; and I beg to record my thanks to Brigadier Showers, Lieutenant-Colonels Jones and Seaton individually, and to the officers and men collectively, who acted under them, for the zeal and gallantry displayed by all on each occasion.

I have, &c.

A. WILSON.

Lieutenant-Colonel T. Seaton, Commanding Detachment, to Major R. S. Ewart, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, Field Force.

Sir, Camp Delhi, July 21, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Brigadier-General commanding the Field Force, that, having assumed command yesterday afternoon of the party named in the margin,* I proceeded to carry out the instructions given to me in person by the Brigadier-General. I moved off at half-past 3, and on reaching the Trunk Road leading through the Subzee Mundy, I threw the Infantry of the Guides into the mass of garden to the south of the road, and supported them by a party from the 1st European Bengal Fusiliers. I directed Lieutenant W. S. R. Hodson to sweep through the gardens in skirmishing order, feeling on to the banks of the canal, to drive before him any enemy he might find, and to halt when he came in a line with the picquet in the Serai.

Whilst this operation was going on, I moved the column slowly down the road, halting at intervals. I rode on to the Serai to make observations on the Subzee Mundy village, and inquiries as to any enemy it might contain.

The skirmishers shortly emerged from the gardens, not having met with any of the enemy, or traces of any earth-works or entrenchments of any kind. I then took the column into the Subzee Mundy village, and found it utterly deserted.

There now only remained for me to search the upper part of the gardens between the canal and the new escape-cut; therefore, sending the guns, with a suitable guard, up the road to the point from whence I started, I proceeded with the column up to the banks of the canal to within a short distance of the Pool Chudder Aqueduct. Then directing the column into a cross road leading towards camp, and instructing the senior officer to march slowly along, I formed a rear-guard of the Guides (those with Lieutenant Hodson), rode up to the aqueduct, and examined that small corner of ground. Finding neither traces of any enemy nor of entrenchments, we rejoined the column.

* Her Majesty's 75th, 150; 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, 400; Guides, 200; total, 750. Horse Artillery guns. Party of Sappers and Miners.

In the meantime, a small body of the enemy had come out of Trevylian Gunge, and followed our retiring steps, firing at a considerable distance, but gradually creeping up.

As we came to an open space in the midst of the mass of gardens, they got to within 100 yards of us, and some of them exposed themselves on the garden walls, as if about to make a rush on the rear-guard; but the Guides, admirably posted by that excellent officer, Lieutenant Hodson, gave them a volley with a cheer, which drove them off precipitately; and I returned to camp without further molestation. The casualties were only 2 men slightly wounded.

Sir, Camp before Delhi, July 31, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Brigadier-General commanding the Field Force, that about 1 P.M., on the 18th instant, I received orders to take command of a moveable column consisting of the troops named in the margin,* and to proceed to the Subzee Mundy and ground in front of it, and drive the enemy back, who were there in position. On arriving at the pukka road leading to the Subzee Mundy, I ordered the Sikhs into the wood on the right of the road, and to advance in skirmishing order, their left resting on the road and their right on the canal, the remainder of the column advancing along the road, the head of it being in line with the skirmishers in cover. On arriving at the Subzee Mundy, I ordered Her Majesty's 75th Regiment to enter the village and to advance through it and clear it, which duty they performed; but were detained some time at a serai before they could drive the enemy from it; but eventually they succeeded. During this time the remainder of the column was on the road on the Subzee Mundy, with the exception of two guns, supported by Cavalry and Infantry, which I advanced. On Her Majesty's 75th moving on, I advanced the whole of the column to the gate leading up to Hindoo Rao's house, and then took the road to the right and crossed the canal, placing two guns in position on the first road leading to the city, and advancing the other two to a road parallel to the first. On arriving there, the enemy were stationed behind the crest of a hill to our right, when I opened fire on them with round shot, and the Infantry with musketry. Before being able to get the second two guns up, I was obliged to clear that part of the Subzee Mundy of the enemy. Having driven the enemy from the ground I was ordered to clear, I remained in position until I received orders to retire, which I did, by alternate half-batteries, each supported by Cavalry and Infantry, and keeping up a heavy fire of Artillery and Infantry as the enemy attempted to show themselves, which entirely prevented their advancing. On arriving at the gateway leading to Hindoo Rao's house, I left two guns and a troop of Cavalry with Major Reid, who was in position there with his regiment of Goorkhas. I then retired the remainder of the force into camp.

I have, &c.

Brigadier St. G. D. Showers, Commanding 1st Infantry Brigade, to Major R. S. Ewart, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, Delhi Field Force.

SIR, Camp before Delhi, August 3, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Brigadier-General Wilson, commanding the Field Force, that, in conformity with his instructions, I took command of the troops noted in the margin,* at about 10 o'clock A.M. of the 23rd ultimo, destined to attack the enemy's force in front of the Cashmere Gate. In order to conceal the movement of my force from the view of the enemy, I moved off some distance to the left, so as to cross the ridge without being seen from the fort and town.

2. Before moving with the column, I sent instructions to Lieutenant-Colonel R. Drought, the Field Officer of the day, to collect all the Metcalfe-House picquets at the stables, and then to advance at once to his front, and, after clearing the grounds of the enemy's skirmishers, to endeavour to take their guns in flank, and to capture them.

3. Allowing a lapse of twenty minutes, so as to enable the picquets to get well to the front, I advanced the main column; a division of guns under Captain E. K. Money leading. On crossing the bridge in advance of the mound picquet, the detachments of Her Majesty's 8th Foot, under Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, and of the 61st Foot, under Lieutenant-Colonel Deacon, were directed to move to the right and deploy, the 1st European Bengal Fusiliers and Coke's Rifles being held in reserve.

4. On this being effected, the guns moved forward on the road in a line with the Infantry on the right. We now soon came up with the enemy, who had their guns in position on the road. These were immediately opened upon us; upon which our own guns unlimbered and fired. The Infantry on the right, in the meantime, continued their advance, and the enemy, fearing to be outflanked, retired, after having fired but two rounds.

* Six guns, under Major F. Turner; Her Majesty's 8th Foot, 130 rank and file; Her Majesty's 61st Foot, 78 rank and file; 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, 200 rank and file; Coke's Punjaub Corps, 360 rank and file; Metcalfe-House Picket, 280 rank and file.

5. I then advanced with the guns at a gallop, and again came up with those of the enemy. They were now not more than 120 yards from us. It was here that the Metcalfe-House picquets, after having driven back the enemy into an orange garden with a walled inclosure, rushed forward into the road.

6. As the enemy were firing from the inclosure, I directed three companies of the 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, under Lieutenant-Colonel T. Seaton, to move to the left, and drive the enemy from the orange garden. These were supported by Major Coke with his Punjaub Rifles; and, while our guns continued firing, the Metcalfe-House pickets, composed of Her Majesty's 75th Regiment, that had formed up on the road, were thrown rapidly forward, in the hope of coming at once upon the enemy's guns. Their progress was, however, intercepted by the wall of a range of out-offices. A short delay took place in moving round this; and, when the men came again to the front, the enemy with their guns had disappeared.

7. I was now in position opposite Ludlow Castle, beyond which I was directed not to advance; and, the enemy having escaped with their guns and retired, I returned to camp with the force, having been engaged with the enemy about two hours.

8. I have to record my satisfaction with the conduct of the troops engaged, and to offer my thanks to the officers commanding the different corps and detachments for the manner they conducted their men during this short and rapid skirmish. To Major F. Turner, commanding the Artillery; to Lieutenant-Colonels Greathed and Deacon, commanding Her Majesty's 8th and 61st regiments; to Major G. O. Jacob, commanding

1st European Bengal Fusiliers; Major J. Coke, commanding 1st Punjaub Rifles; and to Lieutenant-Colonel R. Drought, commanding the Metcalfe-House Pickets; to Lieutenant-Colonel T. Seaton also, I must record my thanks, who, with his usual zeal and gallantry, accompanied the brigade to which he is attached.

9. My thanks are also due to my Major of Brigade, Captain C. F. Simpson, and my Orderly Officer, Lieutenant F. C. Innes, of the late 60th Native Infantry, who accompanied me during the operations.

10. I beg to forward a return of the killed and wounded.

Camp before Delhi,

SIR,

August 21, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Major-General Gowan, C.B., commanding the forces in the Upper Provinces, that, finding the Metcalfe picket much annoyed by a large party of the insurgents, who, supported by several guns, had established themselves in Ludlow Castle and the gardens in front of the Cashmere gate, I resolved to make an attempt this morning to surprise them and to capture their guns. I am happy to say the surprise was complete. The column of attack, joined by a portion of the Metcalfe picquet, under the able lead of Brigadier Showers, commanding the 1st brigade, moved down unperceived just before dawn to within a short distance of the insurgents' picquet, when a rush was made, and four of their guns immediately captured.

I forward herewith Brigadier Showers' report, with a return of the killed and wounded. The latter, I regret to say, is rather heavy.

My thanks are greatly due to Brigadier Showers, Major Coke, commanding the left attack, and to Major Jacob, commanding the right attack, and I beg to recommend them for favorable notice. The two former officers, I much regret, were severely wounded—Major Coke while in the act of capturing a gun with his own hand; but I trust I shall not be long deprived of their services.

I have, &c.

SIR, Camp before Delhi, August 12, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Brigadier-General Wilson, commanding the field force, that, in compliance with the instruction received, I moved with a column noted in the margin * at half-past 3 A.M. this morning. I directed the Metcalfe-House Stables Picquet to move forward and sweep the gardens in advance of their position as far as the Koodsee Bagh, and to capture any guns of the rebels which they might find in that direction; the right attack, under Major Jacob, advancing simultaneously towards Ludlow Castle, with similar instructions as to any advance they might find there. I myself took position on the road leading towards Ludlow Castle with the

100 men Her Majesty's 75th Regiment, of the Metcalfe-House Picket, as skirmishers; 100 men 2nd European Bengal Fusiliers, in support; 250 men 1st Punjaub Rifles, in support.

Right Attack, under Major Jacob :

150 men 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, as skirmishers; 200 men in support in line, the Guide Cavalry moving in the rear.

Centre attack :

2 Horse Artillery guns; 1 squadron Her Majesty's 9th Lancers.

Reserve :

Horse Artillery guns, supported by a squadron of Her Majesty's 9th Lancers, with a force in reserve, as noted in the margin.

The arrangements having been made, the different detachments advanced, as ordered, with the greatest steadiness, and in profound silence, towards the enemy's position, which they actually reached without the alarm being given, until at length a sentry challenged, which was the signal for rapid attack, commenced by a volley of musketry on both sides, succeeded immediately by a charge with the bayonet on our part, from which the rebels recoiled and fled in confusion, leaving in our possession four field guns as noted in the margin,* ammunition, horses, &c.

After capturing the guns, I directed the detachments of the Kumaon Battalion in reserve, under the command of Lieutenant G. C. Thomson (51st Native Infantry) to move into the orange garden on the left, and sweep down as far as the building called Koodsee Bagh, on the banks of the river. This was energetically done. It was here that I expected to find other guns of the rebels in position; but in this I was disappointed. The party retired.

I beg to bring to the particular notice of the Brigadier-General the steadiness, silence, and order with which the 1st European Bengal Fusiliers advanced to the attack on the enemy's guns, which was well conceived and gallantly executed by Major Jacob and the officers and men of the regiment under his command; and Captain S. Greville, of that regiment, commanded the skirmishers who made the first attack on the guns.

The Horse Artillery (2 guns) and squadron of Her Majesty's 9th Lancers which accompanied me along the road, had no opportunity of coming into actual contact with the rebels; but were at times under a heavy fire, and displayed the greatest steadiness.

My thanks are due to Major Coke, commanding the left attack ; to Major G. O. Jacob, commanding the right attack ; to Captain F. F. Remington, commanding the Artillery ; to Captain O. H. St. G. Anson, commanding the squadron Her Majesty's 9th Lancers ; to Captain W. Harris, commanding detachment 2nd European Bengal Fusiliers ; and to Captain R. Freer (Her Majesty's 27th Regiment), commanding the Metcalfe House stables pickets ; and to Captain A. C. Robertson, Her Majesty's 8th Regiment ; Brevet Captain Chambers, second in command, 4th Sikh Infantry, and to Lieutenant G. C. Thomson, 51st Native Infantry, Kumaon battalion, commanding respectively the detachments composing the reserve ; also to Captain C. A. Sanford, 3rd Regiment Light Cavalry, commanding the Guide Cavalry.

My thanks are also due to Captain C. F. Simpson, my Major of Brigade, and Lieutenant F. C. Innes, 60th Regiment Native Infantry, my orderly officer, for the energetic assistance rendered me throughout these operations.

I regret to state that, as will be seen from the accompanying casualty list, our loss has not been slight : but I have reason to believe that about 250 of the rebels (several of whom were artillerymen) were left dead on the field in the neighbourhood of Ludlow Castle.

After having held the ground for some time, to allow of the captured guns, &c., being removed, I was compelled by a severe wound to retire from the scene of action, leaving the retirement of the troops to be conducted by Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, Her Majesty's 8th Regiment.

I have, &c.

ST. G. D. SHOWERS, Brigadier.

Field Force Staff Office,

SIR, Camp before Delhi, August 27, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for transmission to Major-General Gowan, C.B., commanding in the Upper Provinces, and through him to Government, the accompanying report of the operations of a detachment of Irregular Cavalry I sent out, under the command of Lieutenant Hodson, on the 14th instant, to watch a party of the enemy who had moved out from Delhi on the Rhotuck road, and to afford support, if necessary, either to Soneput, or our ally, the Jheend Rajah.

Lieutenant Hodson most fully carried out my instructions to my entire satisfaction; and his report will show that the whole of his detachment, both officers and men, behaved throughout in the most gallant and effectual manner.

It must have been most gratifying to Lieutenant Hodson to find his new regiment so steady and staunch in their first engagement with the enemy.

I particularly request that Major-General Gowan will bring to the notice of Government the ready and loyal conduct on this occasion of the Jheend Rajah, and the good service performed by his troops. I have already, through Colonel Dunsford, commanding the Rajah's troops, expressed my acknowledgments to the Rajah for the ready assistance he afforded on this occasion, and from the commencement of our operations before Delhi; and also my satisfaction at the favorable report made by Lieutenant Hodson of the gallantry of his men.

I have, &c.

A. WILSON, Major-General.

No. 63

Lieutenant W. S. R. Hodson, Commanding Irregular Horse, to the Assis'ant Adjutant-General, Delhi Field Force.

Sir, Camp, Delhi, August 25, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to report the proceedings of the Cavalry Detachment* which left camp under my command on the night of the 14th and 15th instant, under verbal instructions from Major-General Wilson, commanding the field force.

2. My instructions were to watch a party of the enemy who had moved out from Delhi by the Nujgurh road, with the avowed purpose of threatening our communications with Soneput and the Grand Trunk Road, or of marching to attack Hansi and the Rajah of Jheend, to ascertain their precise object and direction, and to afford support to either Soneput or the Jheend Rajah as might be necessary. I was also to examine the state of the roads and country, with a view to the probable necessity of a larger force taking the field.

3. On reaching Boanuh by way of Azadpoor and the canal bank, I ascertained that the enemy had passed the 14th at Samplah, and were said to be moving towards Rhotuck. I therefore pushed on

* European officers, 6; Guide Cavalry, 103 sabres; Hodson's Irregular Horse, 233 sabres; Jheend Horse, 26 sabres; total, 361 sabres.

Khurkowdeh, on the road from Boanuh to that rn, reaching it about noon on the 15th.

4. Having been informed that a number of Irregular Cavalry men—whose homes were in the lage—had arrived the day before from Delhi at urkowdeh, I took measures for securing the veral entrances to it, and attempting their capture, iding a small party of the Guide Corps to sur-se and arrest the leading man, named Besharut i, a Rissaldar of the 1st Irregular Cavalry. Both jects were accomplished, only two sowars having d time to effect their escape before the village s surrounded. I then entered the village with a rty of dismounted sowars. From information eived from the villagers, I was able to seize veral of the mutineer sowars before they had e to arm. A large party, however, took refuge the upper story of a house belonging to one of Lumberdars of the village, and defended them-ves desperately. They were eventually over-wered and destroyed, but not without considerable ficulty, and several casualties on our side, Lieu-iant H. Gough and seven men being wounded.
ubsequently caused those of the captured, who re proved on inquiry to have been in the service Government and to have joined the rebels, to executed.

5. During the afternoon of the 15th, the enemy ke up from Samplah and marched to Rhotuck, ere they gave out that they were going to remain two or three days. I marched after them on morning of the 16th, towards Rhotuck by Susneh, Hamionpore, and Bhaloot. On reaching aur—five miles short of Rhotuck—I ascertained it the rebels had suddenly marched early in the orning towards Medinha, on hearing of our movents. I therefore halted for the day, the rain ng very heavy.

6. On the morning of the 17th, we moved on Rhotuck. On approaching the town, and riding on to reconnoitre with a small party, I found a large body of armed men drawn up at the Old Fort, in front of the place, accompanied by a few sowars. They immediately opened fire on us, and, as we withdrew to bring up the detachment, followed us up the road, firing and yelling in derision.

The instant the head of the column arrived, they were charged, dispersed, and driven into the town, leaving thirteen of their number dead. They subsequently turned out to be Rangurs, Kusiasies, and other turbulent inhabitants of the town, headed by Babur Khan, the chief of the Rangurs.

7. After riding round Rhotuck and reconnoitring the surrounding country and the approaches to it, I encamped in the open space in rear of the cutcherry buildings at the junction of the road by which we had marched from Bhaur with the main road to Delhi. Some of the zemindars and Hindoos of Rhotuck came out to me immediately afterwards, and, through their instrumentality, the detachment was amply provided with all necessary supplies. No further attempt was made to annoy us.

8. At about 7 o'clock the next morning, I received information that Babur Khan had gone during the night to the camp of the rebels on the Hansi road, and brought back 300 Rangur horsemen belonging to different Irregular Cavalry regiments, to assist him in an attack upon us. Three or four minutes afterwards, a large body of horsemen dashed up the roads from the town at speed, followed by a mass of foot men, armed with swords and matchlocks, certainly not less than 900 or 1000 in number. At the moment of the attack, a party of twenty-five Jheend horsemen, who had come from Gohana, on hearing from me of our approach, were crossing the road towards our camp, and found themselves suddenly charged by, and intermixed with, the enemy's horse.

They defended themselves with their carbines, and thus checked the attacking party, two of their number being wounded. The whole of the horses of the detachment having been kept saddled, no time was lost in turning out, and the instant the twenty leading men were on their horses, the enemy was charged and driven back in confusion towards the town, their flight being covered by the matchlock-men, who had occupied some buildings and compounds between the cutcherry and the town. Directly the whole of the detachment was ready and formed up, I sent what little baggage and followers we had to the rear under a sufficient escort, and prepared for a further attack. I formed the main body on the road in three lines, the Guides in front, sending a troop out to the right front under Lieutenant Wise, and one to the left under Lieutenant McDowell, ready to take the enemy in flank, should they again charge up the roads (of which there are three leading from the town to our position). These movements were covered by skirmishers, and by the excellent fire of the Jheend Horsemen armed with matchlocks, whom I desired to dismount and drive back by their fire any party of the enemy who might come from under shelter of the buildings. This service they performed exceedingly well and most cheerfully.

9. Finding that our ammunition was nearly exhausted after some time had elapsed, and that there appeared little chance of the enemy coming from their cover to attack us again, I determined to draw them out into the open country behind our position, and endeavour to bring on a fight there. Every thing turned out as I had anticipated. My men withdrew slowly and deliberately by alternate troops

Their horsemen were principally on their right, and a party, galloping up the main road, threatened our left flank. I continued to retire until we got into open and comparatively dry ground, and then turned and charged the mass who had come to within from 150 to 200 yards of us.

The Guides, who were nearest to them, were upon them in an instant, closely followed by, and soon intermixed with, my own men.

The enemy stood for a few seconds, turned, and then were driven back, in utter confusion, to the very walls of the town, it being with some difficulty that the officers could prevent their men entering the town with the fugitives. Fifty of the enemy (all horsemen) were killed on the ground, and many must have been wounded.

10. Nothing could be better than the conduct of all concerned. The Guide Cavalry behaved with their usual dashing gallantry; and their example was well emulated by the men of my new regiment, now for the first time engaged with an enemy. They not only remained under fire unflinchingly, but retired before the enemy steadily and deliberately, and, when ordered, turned and charged home boldly. It would have been hopeless to expect this, but for the magnificent leading and admirable management of the officers in command of the several troops—Captain Ward and Lieutenants Mc Dowell, Wise, C. J. Gough, and

H. Gough. The difficulty of their task will be appreciated when it is remembered that, with the exception of the Guides, none of the party had been drilled or formed, or knew anything of field-movements.

11. After their defeat, as I subsequently ascertained, the Rangur Horsemen evacuated the place the same evening, carrying away their wounded with them. The whole of the Rangurs and Kussaies of the town also fled, during the night, for refuge to the neighbouring villages. As soon as I had re-assembled the detachment on our original ground, and ascertained personally that no parties of the enemy remained outside Rhotuck, I moved round by our right to the northern side of the town on to the Gohana road, and encamped at Dusseea, the first village sufficiently large to furnish us with supplies. I was in direct communication with Jheend, twenty-two coss distant, and with Gohana, where a body of the Rajah's troops are stationed, and by way of Khylore, my communication with camp, by way of Khurkowdeh, and with Soneput, was perfectly secure. I was also prepared to move off to the right towards Hansi, to General Cortlandt, should he attack the rebel force moving in that direction. This force had moved off from Medinha to Mehum on our reaching Rhotuck, and thence to Moondahab, and on the 18th evacuated the Rhotuck district and marched to Barsee, five coss from Hansi, in considerably diminished numbers.

12. On the 19th, I halted at Dusseea, receiving, at daybreak, a valuable reinforcement in the shape of eighty well-equipped horsemen from Jheend, with the promise of Infantry, and a gun if I required them. They had already been sent off by the Rajah, with his usual ever-ready zeal, and would have been available in a few hours. On the evening of the 19th, I received the Major-

General's orders to return towards camp, and marched the next day to Khurkowdeh, and on the 21st, by a circuitous route, to Soneput.

13. I cannot close this without testifying to the excellent conduct of the Jheend Horsemen throughout the whole of our proceedings. Nothing could have been better than their behaviour, from first to last, both in keeping up our communications, in enduring fatigue and bad weather, and in gallantry in action. This is not the first time I have had experience of the good service they have rendered. At the action of Badlee Serai, on the 8th of June, they particularly distinguished themselves, and they did no less well on the present occasion. I trust the Major-General will be pleased to convey his acknowledgments of their conduct to the Rajah.

14. A list of casualties is inclosed.

SIR, Fort Agra, October 8, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report to you, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that on the 24th August, at the requisition of the Lieutenant-Governor, North West Provinces,
I detached a party of men, as per margin,* under

* 2nd Company 5th Battalion Artillery:—1 lieutenant,
2 serjeants, 1 corporal, 5 bombardiers, 1 bugler, 16 gunners,
1 saddler serjeant, 12 European drivers, 2 havildars, 15 native drivers, 1 havildar of gun lascars, 3 privates—total 61;
3rd European Regiment, 2 captains, 4 subaltern officers, 11 serjeants, 13 corporals, 3 drummers, 121 privates—total 154; Militia, 2 serjeants, 20 troopers—total 22; 2 9-pounder guns, 1 24-pounder howitzer.

the command of Major Montgomery, Brigade Major of Agra and Muttra District, for the purpose which is explained in the accompanying memorandum. I have the honour to enclose Major Montgomery's despatch of a gallant affair executed by his detachment against a large party of mutineers and rebels near Allygurh, which I hope will meet with favourable notice from his Excellency.

After occupying Allygurh for nine days, Major Montgomery's force fell back on Hattra, leaving at the former place a strong detachment of Jât horse and foot, under the command of Raja Thacoor Gobind Sing. The district hence to Allygurh has, by the means of this detachment, been kept in tranquillity, and much revenue collected. Till within a few days the Raja at Allygurh was able to hold his own, but unfortunately allowed himself to be surprised, and fell back on Hattra. At this juncture, the mutinous army from Delhi reached Muttra. It became necessary to watch their movements on the left bank of the river, and a strong position was taken up at Saidabad, waiting for the approach of the flying column said to be marching from Delhi in pursuit.

I proposed to the Chief Commissioner to strengthen my detachment in order to co-operate with this column, but this the Chief Commissioner deemed hazardous, as we were not strong enough to meet the reported numbers of the enemy, viz., 6000 men and 18 guns.

I beg to report that, in addition to watching the mutineers at Muttra, it was necessary to turn our attention to Dholepore, where the mutineers in great force threatened an attack on Agra, so that more could not have been done with the handful of troops at my disposal.

Yesterday evening the detachment under Major Montgomery was recalled by desire of the Chief Commissioner, he having reason to believe that the mutineers from Dholepore were making demonstrations in this direction.

I have, &c.,
W. COTTON, Lieut.-Colonel, Commanding at Agra.

No. 71.

*Major Montgomery to Lieutenant-Colonel Cotton.
 Camp Hattrass,*

SIR,

September 1, 1857.

FOR your information I have the honour to state that the detachment under my command (as per margin)* arrived at Hattrass on the evening of the 21st ultimo; and, on the day following, intelligence was received that the Allygurh insurgents, numbering 5000 to 6000, under Ghose Mahomed Khan, Naib Soobah of the King of Delhi, had assumed the offensive, and were marching to attack our position; further, that their advanced guard had been pushed forward to Mudrok, about twelve miles from Hattrass. But as the information, though most important, could not be depended upon, Mr. J. O'B. Tandy volunteered, accompanied by Mr. C. Daniell, C.S., and Lieutenant De Kantzow, to ride on in the direction the enemy were said to have taken up their position, for the purpose of obtaining reliable and certain information of the movements and position of the insurgents as far as possible.

In the meantime, I made the necessary arrange-

* 2nd Company 5th Battalion Artillery:—1 lieutenant, 3 serjeants, 1 corporal, 5 bombardiers, 1 bugler, 16 gunners, 1 saddler serjeant, 12 European drivers, 2 havildars, 15 native drivers, 1 havildar of gun lascars, 3 privates—total 61; 2 9-pounder guns and 1 24-pounder howitzer; 3rd European Regiment, 2 captains, 4 subaltern officers, 11 serjeants, 13 corporals, 3 drummers, 121 privates—total 154; Militia, 2 serjeants, 20 troopers—total 22.

At midnight Mr. Tandy and party returned, bringing intelligence that the advanced guard of the insurgents had fallen back, leaving a party of horse (supposed to be the mutineers of the 15th Irregulars) at Mudrok, and had taken up their position, determined to fight, in a garden with high embankments, belonging to Maun Sing, close to and connected with similar enclosures, near to and on the outskirts of the city of Allygurh.

From the information I received, I determined at once, in concurrence with the Commissioner A. Cocks, Esq, on special duty, to attack their position at all hazards; and, on Sunday, the 23rd ultimo, commenced our march towards Allygurh, lightly equipped, and prepared against any contingency, and arrived at Sasnee about the close of the evening, having been detained by heavy rain on the line of march, and halted for the night: an old indigo factory close to the road, with adjoining buildings, and the Government carts placed at my disposal, afforded tolerable shelter for both men and officers; and, by the assistance of the civil authorities, large fires were lighted throughout the camp, by which the men dried their clothes. Every precaution was taken for the protection of the camp, and the night passed off without anything occurring worthy of notice beyond the capture of a youth near one of the guns, who was confined, and subsequently flogged, it having been ascertained that he had come from Allygurh.

At daybreak, we resumed our march towards Allygurh in good heart, and elated with the prospect of meeting and chastising, with retributive vengeance, rebels and mutineers unequalled for their cruel fiendish malignity and cowardly atrocities to our helpless (in most instances) countrymen and their families, though so vastly superior in numbers ; but still, fighting in a good cause, and with the fullest reliance on the Almighty's aid, of the result, on closing with the enemy, there was but one feeling which animated and pervaded the minds of most composing the detachment.

I must here mention that, on starting from Sasnee, Mr. Cocks placed at my disposal seventy Jât horse and matchlock men, belonging to Thacoor Gobind Sing, the former being under the command of Captain J. J. Murray, of the late Gwalior Contingent, and the latter of Mr. Daniell, C. S., and who, as will afterwards appear, were of great service.

On nearing Mudrok, about seven miles from Allygurh, we observed a party of cavalry quietly retiring fully a mile a-head of our advance guard, which consisted of a company of the 3rd Europeans, on elephants, preceded by the Militia Cavalry and Jât Horse ; the enemy's cavalry had evidently no wish to interfere with our advance, and continued to retire till, nearing their position, they sided off to the left, and were joined by others.

The detachment continued to advance to within a quarter of a mile of Maun Sing's garden ; and, on ascertaining the exact position of the enemy, measures were promptly taken for the protection of the carriage, &c., consisting of a numerous train of waggons, 130 head of cattle, 16 elephants, and many camels, with ammunition and stores, which, surrounded as we were on nearly all sides by overwhelming numbers of the enemy, caused me no little anxiety.

The carriage, &c., having been collected on the smallest possible space by Captain Fanshawe, I placed at his disposal, for their protection, the Jât matchlock men and a few sowars, under Mr. Daniell, who performed that important duty most efficiently and satisfactorily.

Having secured the baggage, &c., my greatest care and anxiety, I commenced the action by attacking, with the Militia Cavalry, under Lieutenant De Kantzow, and the Jât Horse, a large body of cavalry, chiefly irregulars, who threatened our left and rear.

This duty was most gallantly and promptly performed, and our left and rear having thus been cleared of the enemy's cavalry, who were driven back to the rear of their main body, I brought the guns into position, under cover of skirmishers, and opened fire, which was sharply replied to by the enemy from behind the garden walls, against which I found the artillery of little avail. Information was now brought to me by Mr. P. Saunders, who considerately and kindly placed his services at my disposal, that the enemy were in great force on the right of the garden. I immediately directed Captain Murray to move round to the right with the Jât Horse, and cut off the enemy, on the general assault, and carrying of their position with the infantry; at the same time ordering Lieutenant Griffin to move up two of his guns in the same direction.

This movement took some little time, evidently occupying the attention of the enemy, and enabled me to make arrangements for the assault.

Leaving a sufficient number of men under Captain Strover to protect the gun on the left, and all being ready, I gave the word "Forward," and went to the front accompanied by Lieutenant Clarke, and followed by No. 8 Company of the 3rd European Regiment, under Lieutenant Blake. On reaching the garden wall, a large party of fanatical Mussulmans, headed by Moulvees, rushed forward, sword in hand, from the right corner, and there ensued a most desperate hand to hand encounter, which terminated in their total destruction, and where we met our chief loss, which might, in a great measure, have been avoided, had Captain Bacon's company, attached to the two guns on the right, fired upon them as they debouched from the garden immediately on their front. Fortunately, at this moment, Lieutenant Griffin, at Captain Murray's request, moved up his two guns, and getting well to the right, opened fire with terrible effect on their reserve, killing great numbers and completely dispersing the remainder. Captain Murray, at the same time, taking advantage of an opening in the wall, dashed forward with part of the Jât horse, entered the garden, and cut up the Ghazees who remained in it, among whom was the Chief Moulvee, Abdool Zuleel, who was cut down in a hand to hand encounter with that officer.

The field was now our own, after two hours' fighting, the enemy having been completely routed and dispersed in all directions, leaving at least three hundred dead ; thus terminating in a decided victory, against great odds, and with comparatively small loss on our side, considering the strength of their position and the number of Ghazees, who fought with the desperation and contempt of life of Musselman fanatics.

On the termination of the action, Mr. Cocks, who throughout the day was by my side, strongly urged following up our success, on political grounds, by an immediate advance on Allygurh ; but, having to thread a defile of walled enclosures (most of which were occupied) a greater part of which running under and close to the city with an enormous population ; with our grape and canister nearly expended ; without scarcely the possibility of getting at the enemy ; with our detachment, in the first instance scarcely equal to the undertaking, much reduced by the killed and wounded ; with reports of aid for the insurgents being daily expected from Delhi ; with no possibility of obtaining assistance from any quarter nearer than Agra, from whence a man could scarcely be spared ; with our wounded to attend to ; and all being well considered and explained to Mr. Cocks, I, with his fullest concurrence, decided on returning to our head quarters at Hattrass, taking with us our killed and wounded, with the determination of occupying Allygurh on completing our ammunition, and which we did on the 27th, without the slightest opposition.

The force opposed to us, commanded by Ghose Mahomed Khan, Naib Sooba, on the part of Waleedad Khan, appointed Sooba by the King of Delhi, was chiefly composed of Musulmans, among whom were many Ghazees, numbering from five to six thousand, with one hundred and fifty Irregular Cavalry and two hundred Mahomedan horse, aided by levies of Zemindaree horse and foot, chiefly Mewaties, amounting to 6 and 700 men, the whole headed by Moulvee Abdool Zuleel, a very influential religious instructor, and leader of the Ghazees, being assisted by several other Moulvees, three of whom, including Abdool Zuleel, were killed, and a fourth wounded.

I attribute the success of the action to the cordial co-operation and assistance I received from the civil authorities and officers and men under my command, and my best thanks are due to Captain Strover, second in command (who, in quarters and in the field, has rendered me every assistance) : to the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the 3rd Europeans, which, though a young regiment, and under greatly trying circumstances, behaved with the valour and spirit of British soldiers;

To Lieutenant Griffin, non-commissioned officers and men of the artillery, for the promptitude with which my orders were carried out, and to whose energetic exertions I attribute, in a great measure, the success of the day ;

Lieutenant De Kantzow and the militia cavalry.

who (with the Jât horse under Captain Murray*) rendered most important service by attacking, and dispersing, a large body of irregular cavalry at the commencement of the action : of the conduct of the militia, both in the field and in quarters, I cannot speak too highly :

To Assistant-Surgeon Mackillar, for his judicious medical arrangements, and his assiduous and humane attention to the wounded ;

To Lieutenant Blake, 3rd European Regiment, and Lieutenant Clarke, of the late Gwalior Contingent, who behaved with conspicuous bravery, the latter being severely wounded ;

Ensign O'Donel, 67th Native Infantry, who, during the march and in the field, assisted me very greatly ;

Mr. Volunteer Hennessey, who greatly distinguished himself, shooting five men with his rifle and one with a revolver ; and, as he was also present in the action of the 5th July, and is the son of an old and deserving officer, I respectfully solicit that the services of the youth may specially be brought to the notice of Government, with a view to his obtaining military employment.

I beg to bring prominently forward the praiseworthy conduct of Rev. Mr. Kellner, who gratuitously accompanied the detachment, and for whose humane and unremitting attention to the wounded, during the action and under fire, too much praise cannot possibly be bestowed.

I am also greatly indebted to Mr. Cocks, for his cordial co-operation and assistance on all occasions, particularly on the day of the action, and for the very accurate information he obtained, when the most conflicting and contradictory accounts were spread abroad, evidently with the view of discouraging and throwing difficulties in the way of our advance; also to Mr. Paterson Saunders and Messrs. Lane and Colvin, of the Civil Service, whose services I cannot speak too highly of, in conveying orders throughout the heat of the action;

* This officer signally distinguished himself in a single-handed encounter with a Ghazee, who, I am happy to say, was shot down, though not till Captain Murray received a severe contusion in the arm.

To Captain Fanshawe, in charge of the carriage, &c., for his admirable management in providing ample carriage for the detachment, and energetic exertions in the postal department, as also for the very accurate information he has at all times procured;

To Mr. Daniell, Civil Service, to whom was assigned the responsible duty of protecting the baggage, with the Jât matchlock men.

I deeply lament the loss of J. O'B. Tandy, Esq., and Ensign Marsh, 16th Grenadiers, both of whom were volunteers; the former fell whilst attempting quite alone to enter the walled enclosures. This gentleman's daring and gallantry could not be surpassed, and, possessing, as he did, every qualification that could adorn a soldier and a gentleman, his loss has been a matter of the deepest regret to the whole of the party. Ensign Marsh, the son of an old cavalry officer, behaved most gallantly, and, at last, overpowered by odds, fell, cut to pieces by the fanatic Ghazees.

A list of the killed and wounded I have the honor herewith to enclose.

I have, &c.,

In Medical Charge of Detachment.

Hattrass, August 25, 1857.

No. 73.

Agra Fort, August 19th, 1857.

(Memorandum.)

With the concurrence of Lieutenant-Colonel Cotton, commanding at Agra, a detachment of European soldiers, artillery, and mounted militia will proceed to Hattrass, in the Allygurh district, leaving Agra at 4 P.M., 20th instant.

2. Captain Nixon is directed to place the elephants, lent by the Bhurtpore State, with their establishment, at the disposal of the officer commanding the detachment. It is the particular wish of the Government that every possible care may be taken of these animals, which belong to a foreign State, and that the servants in charge of them may be uniformly treated with kindness and consideration. It will, no doubt, be practicable to assign to one of the militia the special duty of carrying out the wishes of Government in this respect.

3. Dr. Clarke is directed to arrange for as many waggons and carts of the Government bullock train and private companies as practicable being collected and crossed over the river, to be in readiness for the party on their arrival.

The requisite cattle will be hired for this purpose at the public charge, and maintained for service whenever required, with a sufficient number for relays on the road.

4. Dr. Clarke will further take immediate measures for establishing a postal communication between Agra and Hattrass, for despatch twice a day, and for transmission of the expresses when necessary.

5. He should also put himself in communication with Lalla Jotee Persaud, for the purpose of his arranging for the re-establishment of horse vans on this line of road, for the convenience of travellers and supplies.

6. The object of this movement is to give protection to the important town of Hattrass, which has hitherto escaped being plundered ; to establish authority in this portion of the Allygurh district ; to give confidence to the loyal Thalookdars, whose possessions are in the neighbourhood of Hattrass ; and to frustrate the attempts of certain rebels to usurp the authority of the British Government in other portions of the Allygurh district.

7. Mr. Cocks is appointed Commissioner, with full powers of the Revenue Board, Superintendent of Police, and Sessions' Judge in the district of Allygurh; he will also exercise the powers of Special Commissioner, under Act XIV. and XVI. of 1857; and, under Act XVIII of 1857, he is further authorized to issue a Commission for the trial of mutineers and deserters, whenever this procedure may be preferred to the trial of such offenders before him, as Sessions' Judge.

8. Pending arrangements for the deputation of a magistrate and collector, Messrs. C. J. Daniell and E. Colvin are vested with the powers of joint magistrate and deputy-collector within the same limits, and in subordination to Mr. A. Cocks, by whose advice and orders they will be guided.

9. Mr. Cocks is empowered to invest Mr. P. Saunders and Mr. J. O' B. Tandy with the powers of joint magistrate in such localities during such periods, and under such restrictions as he may deem fit. The Government is desirous that the loyal Thalookdars, especially those through whose influence this portion of the country has been maintained in comparative quietness and security, should receive the full support and approbation of the Government; they should be encouraged to give the assistance of their tenants and armed retainers to lawful authority, and to enlist for the service of Government amongst them, a number of light horsemen, who, after inspection and approval by the Commissioner, will be formally enrolled and employed on such duties as he may direct: he will submit his recommendation of the pay to officers and men of such levies for the approval of Government.

The Thesildar of Hattrass will be maintained in his position and authority, and will proceed, under the directions of the Commissioner, to realize the balance of revenue due to Government, and to arrange for the remittance of the same to Agra, reserving a sufficient sum to meet requisite expenses at Hattrass.

12. Copies of these orders will be communicated to the Commissioner of Meerut for his information.

By order of the Honourable the Lieutenant-Governor, North Western Provinces,

C. B. THORNHILL,
 Officiating Secretary to Government,
 North Western Provinces.

Havelock, of Lucknow, K.C.B.), and to the heirs male of his body lawfully begotten, with remainder, in default of such issue, to the heirs male lawfully begotten of the body of his father, the said Major-General Henry Havelock.

Whitehall, January 18, 1858.

The Queen has been pleased to ordain and declare that Hannah Shepherd Havelock, the widow of the late Major-General Henry Havelock, Knight Commander of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, shall have, hold, and enjoy the same style, title, place, and precedence to which she would have been entitled had her said husband survived and been created a Baronet, and for which creation Her Majesty had given instructions, as notified in the London Gazette of the 27th of November last :

And also to command that the said royal order and declaration be registered in Her Majesty's College of Arms.

Foreign-Office, December 1, 1857.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to appoint the Honourable William George Stafford Jerningham to be Her Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires and Consul-General in the Republic of Peru.

Foreign-Office, January 11, 1858.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to appoint Francis Lousada, Esq., to be Her Majesty's Consul at Boston.

Foreign-Office, January 18, 1858.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. Antonio Pisani as Consul at Malta for the Free Hanseatic City of Lubeck.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
January 18, 1858.*

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires at Lisbon, reporting that the Board of Health at that place having declared the port of Lisbon to be "suspected," no passengers on board vessels touching there, will be permitted to land at Madeira, without having performed a quarantine of observation of five days; and as this quarantine cannot be observed in the port of Funchal, it is requisite that passengers desiring to be admitted to that port should quit the vessel in which they arrive at Lisbon, and after having performed the requisite quarantine, should proceed thence in another vessel to their destination. If, however, any death, or the outbreak of any disease requiring a fresh quarantine of observation should occur on the voyage from Lisbon to Madeira, no passenger will be permitted to land at that island.

Camp, Lahore Gate, Delhi,

SIR,

November 20, 1857.

UNDER instructions from Major-General N. Penny, C.B., Commanding the Field Force, Delhi, I have the honour to forward, for the information of His Royal Highness the General Commanding-in-Chief, a Nominal Return of Men, killed and wounded, since the 11th of May, 1857, of the regiment under my command.

2. In consequence of the Adjutant of the Corps, with the Regimental Office and Record, having accompanied eight (8) companies of the 75th, that forms part of the Moveable Column, under Brigadier Grant, proceeding towards Lucknow, this return shows but a small portion of the killed in action, which cannot be obtained correctly at present.

3. A Supplementary Return will, however, be prepared and forwarded with the least possible delay.

TREASURY WARRANT.

Whereas by an Act of Parliament, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of Postage" power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, by Warrant under their hands to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage, payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant.

And whereas further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act of Parliament, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post-office."

And whereas certain powers are also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act of Parliament, passed in the eighteenth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the laws relating to the stamp duties on newspapers, and to provide for the transmission by post of printed periodical publications."

And whereas a Treaty hath been lately entered into between Her Majesty and the King of Sardinia, for regulating the communications by post between their respective dominions; and it is expedient for the better carrying out of the same, that certain regulations should be made in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said hereinafter recited Acts and every of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this Warrant under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners (by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided) order, direct, and declare as follows :

1. On every letter not exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to Sardinia, or posted in Sardinia, addressed to the United Kingdom, and transmitted by the post viâ France, between any part of the United Kingdom and any place in Sardinia, there shall be charged and taken an uniform rate of postage of sixpence, if such postage be paid either in money or by postage stamps at the time of the letter being posted

2. On every letter not exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between a port in Sardinia and Malta, conveyed by French packet-boat, there shall be charged and taken an uniform rate of postage of four pence, if such postage be paid either in money or by postage stamps at the time of the letter being posted ; and if not, an uniform rate of postage of sixpence.

3. On every letter not exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between Sardinia and the East Indies, Australia, Hong Kong, and China, viâ Malta, without passing through the United Kingdom, there shall be charged and taken an uniform rate of postage of four pence, if such postage be paid either in money or by postage stamps, at the time of the letter being posted ; and if not, an uniform rate of postage of sixpence, and in addition thereto, in either of such cases, there shall be charged and taken an uniform British sea rate of postage of four pence.

4. On every letter not exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post viâ France, between Sardinia or any foreign country, viâ Sardinia, and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom, there shall be charged and taken an uniform rate of British postage of one penny, for the conveyance of every such letter between Sardinia and any part of the United Kingdom.

5. All such respective letters so transmitted respectively as aforesaid, if exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, shall be subject to the several further, and additional, and progressive rates of postage hereinafter mentioned ; that is to say :

On every letter so transmitted, if exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid two rates of postage.

And on every letter so transmitted, if exceeding one half of an ounce, and not exceeding three quarters of an ounce in weight, three rates of postage.

And on every letter so transmitted, if exceeding three quarters of an ounce, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, four rates of postage.

And for every additional quarter of an ounce in weight of any letter so transmitted respectively as aforesaid, above the weight of one ounce, there shall be charged, taken, and paid one additional rate of postage, and every fractional part of such additional quarter of an ounce shall be charged as an additional quarter of an ounce in weight, and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight.

6. On every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post viâ France, between Sardinia or any foreign country viâ Sardinia, and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom, there shall be charged and taken over and above the uniform rate of British postage mentioned in the 4th clause of this Warrant, for the conveyance between Sardinia and any part of the United Kingdom, such a further or additional rate of British postage, for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and the colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage on letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and transmitted direct between such port and any such colony or foreign country: Provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause, of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

7. All such respective letters so transmitted as hereinbefore, in the sixth clause of this Warrant, mentioned, if exceeding half an ounce in weight shall be subject to the several further and additional and progressive rates of postage hereinafter mentioned, (that is to say) :

On every such letter, if exceeding half an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, two rates of postage.

And on every such letter, if exceeding one ounce and not exceeding two ounces in weight, four rates of postage.

And on every such letter, if exceeding two ounces and not exceeding three ounces in weight, six rates of postage.

And for every additional ounce in weight, of any such letter above the weight of three ounces, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, two additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional ounce shall be charged as an additional ounce in weight, and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause, shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding half an ounce in weight.

8. If any letter not exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post under the first clause of this Warrant, shall be posted without any postage being paid thereon, either in money or by postage stamps, or with a postage paid thereon, less than the amount chargeable under such clause, every such letter shall be charged with a uniform rate of sixpence, and in addition thereto with a further fixed rate of sixpence. And if any letter exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to Sardinia, or posted in Sardinia, addressed to the United Kingdom, shall be posted without any postage paid thereon, either in money or by postage stamps, or with a postage paid thereon, less in amount than the sum of sixpence, every such last-mentioned letter shall be charged with the full postage to which it shall be liable under the provisions of this Warrant (without giving credit for any postage that may have been paid thereon), and in addition thereto, with a further fixed rate of postage, of sixpence; and if any letter exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to Sardinia or posted in Sardinia, addressed to the United Kingdom, shall be posted with a postage paid thereon, either in money or by postage stamps, less in amount than the sum chargeable under this Warrant, but equal in amount to the sum of sixpence, every such last-mentioned letter shall be charged with the amount of the difference between the postage so prepaid, and the full postage to which it shall be liable under the provisions of this Warrant, and in addition thereto, with a further fixed rate of postage of sixpence.

9. Registered letters may be transmitted by the post under the authority of this Warrant upon the payment of such additional charge, or rates of postage, or otherwise, as the Postmaster-General may from time to time direct or appoint. Provided that all rates of postage and additional charges or rates, from time to time payable thereupon, shall be prepaid, and that no payment shall be made thereupon on the delivery of any such registered letters.

10. Nothing herein contained shall be construed in anywise to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions and privileges granted by the said recited Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, or to annul, prejudice, or affect, any of the privileges which seamen and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's service, and seamen and soldiers employed in the service of the East India Company, are now by law entitled to, of sending and receiving by the post, letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

11. All packets consisting of printed newspapers, whether British, colonial, or foreign, and all packets consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, colonial, or foreign, and all packets consisting of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, or the colonial or Sardinian legislatures, posted in any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the first column of the Schedule A to this Warrant annexed, addressed to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the second column of the said Schedule A. to this Warrant annexed, may be transmitted by the post from any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said first column of the said Schedule A. to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said second column of the said Schedule A. And that all such respective packets shall be transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to the several regulations, orders, directions and conditions hereinafter mentioned and contained relating thereto. And that the single rate of postage for the transmission of such packets shall be that which is mentioned and set forth against such respective countries and places in the said Schedule

A. And that all such respective packets so transmitted and chargeable with postage under this clause shall be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage hereinafter mentioned ; that is to say :

On every such packet, if not exceeding two ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken and paid for the transmission thereof respectively as aforesaid, the uniform single rate of postage, which is mentioned and set forth against the said places respectively in the said Schedule A.

And on every such packet exceeding two ounces in weight there shall be charged, taken, and paid, progressive and additional rates of postage as follows ; that is to say :

On every such packet, if exceeding two ounces in weight, and not exceeding four ounces in weight, two rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding four ounces, and not exceeding one half of a pound in weight, four rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one-half of a pound, and not exceeding one pound in weight, eight rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound, and not exceeding one pound and the half of another pound in weight, twelve rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and the half of another pound, and not exceeding two pounds in weight, sixteen rates of postage.

And for every additional half of a pound in weight of any such packet above the weight of two pounds, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, four additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional half of a pound in weight, shall be charged as an additional half of a pound in weight. And each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause, shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such packet would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding two ounces in weight.

12. All packets consisting of British newspapers, and all packets consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, colonial, or foreign, and all packets consisting of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, or the Colonial or Sardinian Legislatures, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the first column of the Schedule B. to this Warrant annexed may be transmitted by the post from the United Kingdom to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said first column of the said Schedule B. And that all such respective packets shall be transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to, the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter mentioned and contained relating thereto. And that the single rate of postage for the transmission of such packets respectively shall be that which is mentioned and set forth respectively against such respective countries and places in the said Schedule B. And that all such respective packets transmitted under this clause shall be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage hereinafter mentioned; that is to say :

On every such packet, if not exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, for the transmission thereof respectively as aforesaid, the uniform single rates of postage which are respectively mentioned and set forth against the said respective places in the said Schedule B.

And on every such packet exceeding four ounces in weight there shall be charged, taken, and paid, progressive and additional rates of postage as follows ; that is to say :

On every such packet, if exceeding four ounces in weight, and not exceeding one-half of a pound in weight, two rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one-half of a pound, and not exceeding one pound in weight, four rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound, and not exceeding one pound and the half of another pound in weight, six rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and the half of another pound, and not exceeding two pounds in weight, eight rates of postage.

And for every additional half of a pound in weight of any such packet above the weight of two pounds, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, two additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional half of a pound in weight, shall be charged as an additional half of a pound in weight, and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such packet would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding four ounces in weight.

13. Every packet which shall be transmitted by the post under the 11th and 12th clauses of this Warrant, shall be so transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter contained ; that is to say :

Every British newspaper which shall be posted in the United Kingdom under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be printed and published at intervals not exceeding thirty-one days between any two consecutive numbers or parts of such publication, and the same shall be registered by the proprietor or printer thereof, at the General Post Office, in London, and shall be posted within fifteen days from the date of its publication, and the title and date of the newspaper shall be printed at the top of every page thereof.

No packet posted in the United Kingdom under the 11th and 12th clauses of this Warrant, addressed to Austria, exceeding the weight of one pound, shall be forwarded by the post under the provisions aforesaid.

No packet transmitted by the post under the 11th and 12th clauses of this Warrant, which in length, or breadth, or width, shall exceed the dimensions of two feet, shall be forwarded by the post under the provisions aforesaid.

The terms "books, publications, or works of literature or art," in this Warrant used, shall for the purposes of this Warrant, mean and comprise all such articles as in their general character are either literary, or consist of printed, engraved, or lithographed matter (although not strictly literary), including printed books, printed publications or compilations, almanacks, printed or lithographed letters, and such artistic productions as prints, printed maps (whether on paper, or canvas, or cloth), and photographs when not on glass, or in frames containing glass, together with any binding, mounting, or covering of, or upon, or belonging to any such article or production, or any portion thereof, and including also any cases or rollers of prints or maps, book markers (whether of paper or otherwise), pencils, pens, or other thing usually appertaining to any such article or production, or necessary for its safe transmission, which shall be sent in the same packet, with any such article or production to which they or it shall belong. Provided, nevertheless, that nothing herein contained shall extend to authorize the sending by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, of any patterns, or books of patterns, or papers of patterns, of any article or thing whatsoever, unless such patterns consist merely of paper.

Every packet transmitted by the post under the 11th and 12th clauses of this Warrant, shall be sent open at the ends or sides, and either without a cover, or in a cover or envelope open at the ends or sides, and there shall be no written letter, either closed or open, nor any written communication in the nature of a letter, either closed or open (whether such letter or communication be addressed to, or intended for the person to whom the packet shall be directed, or any other person), nor any enclosure sealed, or otherwise closed against inspection, nor any other enclosure not authorized by this Warrant sent in, or with any such packet, nor shall there be any writing, or marks of any description upon any such packet, or on the cover or envelope thereof, except the name and address of the person to whom the same is sent; but the name or title of any newspaper, and the name and address of the publisher, news-vendor, or agent, by whom the same is sent, may be printed on the cover thereof.

Every packet transmitted by the post, under the 11th and 12th clauses of this Warrant, and posted in the United Kingdom, shall be put into the Post Office at such hours in the day, and under all such regulations as the Postmaster-General may appoint.

Upon every packet transmitted by the post, under the 11th and 12th clauses of this Warrant, which shall be posted in the United Kingdom, the postage thereof shall be paid at the time of the same being posted, either in money, or by being duly stamped with the proper postage stamp or stamps affixed thereto, which stamp or stamps shall in every case be affixed, or appear on the outside of every such packet, near the address or direction, and shall be of the value or amount of the postage duty payable thereon, under or by virtue of this Warrant. And upon every such packet which shall be posted in any of the British colonies, or in any foreign country, the postage thereof, with any transit rate payable thereon, shall be paid at the time of the same being posted.

14 If any packet transmitted by the post, under the 11th and 12th clauses of this Warrant, be sent by the post otherwise than in conformity with the conditions and regulations established by or under the authority of this Warrant, the same shall and may be detained and opened, and at the option of the Postmaster-General, shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof, or be given up to the person to whom the same shall be addressed, or be forwarded to the place of its destination, and any such packet on being so returned, given up, or forwarded, shall be chargeable with any rates of postage the Postmaster-General may think fit, not exceeding the rates that would be chargeable on such packet as an unpaid letter.

15. The respective letters and packets transmitted by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be subject to the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage respectively contained in a certain Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, under the hands of two of the said Commissioners, bearing date the 19th day of February, 1855, relating to re-directed rates of postage upon letters and packets which shall be re-directed and again forwarded by the post.

16. The rates of postage chargeable on letters, printed newspapers, books, publications, or works of literature or art, and other printed papers transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be in lieu of any rates of British postage now chargeable by law thereon.

17. The several terms and expressions used in this Warrant, shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects, as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

18. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury, may by Warrant under their hands, or the hands of any two of them, at any time hereafter, alter, repeal, or revoke any of the rates of postage hereby fixed or altered, or any of the orders, directions, regulations, and conditions hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other rates, orders, directions, regulations, and conditions in lieu thereof, and from time to time appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of February, 1858.

TREASURY WARRANT.

Whereas by an Act of Parliament passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury from time to time by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

And whereas by an Act passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post Office," further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and power is also given to the Postmaster-General (amongst other things) to collect and receive the foreign and colonial postage charged or chargeable on any letters sent by the post, and also with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to require the postage, British, colonial, or foreign, of any letters sent by the post to be prepaid either in money or in stamps as he might think fit on the same being put into the Post Office, and also with such consent to abolish or restrict the prepayment in money of postage on letters sent by the post, either altogether or on certain letters, and to require the prepayment thereof to be in stamps, and also to refuse to receive or send by the post any letters tendered contrary to any regulations thereby made; and power is also given to the Postmaster-General and any officer of the Post Office, to detain any letters which should be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations therein mentioned, and to open such letters, and either to return them to the senders thereof or to forward them to the places of their destination charged in either case with such rates of postage as the Postmaster-General with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, should from time to time direct.

And whereas the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have by divers Warrants under their hands, fixed, made, and established certain rates of British postage payable on the transmission by the post of certain colonial letters therein respectively mentioned, and it is expedient to make regulations for the prepayment of the several rates of postage payable thereon in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said hereinbefore recited Acts, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do by this present Warrant under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners, by the authority of the statute in that case made and provided, order and direct as follows; that is to say:

1. On every letter posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to any of Her Majesty's colonies in Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand, any of Her Majesty's colonies in the West Indies (the islands of Barbadoes, Trinidad, and Turk's Island excepted) or to Malta, Gibraltar, or Hong Kong, and on every letter posted in any of the said colonies respectively, addressed to the United Kingdom, the postage thereof shall be paid at the time of the same being posted.

2. If any letter shall be posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to any of the colonies hereinbefore mentioned having thereon or affixed thereto a postage stamp or stamps, the value of which shall be less in amount than the single rate of postage to which such letter, if not exceeding half an ounce in weight, would be liable under the regulations in force relating thereto, or if any letter shall be posted in any of the colonies hereinbefore mentioned, addressed to the United Kingdom without any postage having been paid thereon, or with a postage paid thereon less in amount than the single rate of postage chargeable thereon, every such letter shall be detained and opened, and shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof.

3. If any letter shall be posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to any of the colonies hereinbefore mentioned, having thereon or affixed thereto a postage stamp or stamps the value of which shall be less in amount than the rate of postage to which such letter would be liable under or by virtue of the regulations in force relating thereto, but equal in amount to the single rate of postage chargeable on any such letter, if not exceeding half an ounce in weight, every such letter shall be forwarded, charged with the amount of the difference between the value of such stamp or stamps so being thereon or affixed thereto, and the postage to which it would have been liable if the postage had been paid when posted, together with the further and additional rate of postage of sixpence; and if any letter shall be posted in any of the before-mentioned colonies addressed to the United Kingdom, and the postage paid thereon shall be less in amount than the rate of postage to which such packet would be liable, under and by virtue of the regulations in force relating thereto, but equal in amount to the single rate of postage chargeable on any such letter if not exceeding half an ounce in weight ; every such last-mentioned letter shall be forwarded charged with the amount of the difference between the postage paid thereon and the postage to which it would have been liable if the postage had been paid when posted, together with the further and additional rate of postage of sixpence.

4. The terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

5. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may, by Warrant under their hands, duly made at any time hereafter, alter, repeal, or revoke any of the orders, directions, or regulations hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other orders, directions, or regulations in lieu thereof.

6. This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of February, 1858.

No. 1

GENERAL ORDER BY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, December 24th, 1857.

No. 1649 of 1857.

THE Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the accompanying despatches lately received from the head-quarters of the army.

These papers contain accounts of the safe conveyance of the women and children, sick and wounded of the garrison of Lucknow across the Ganges: of the resistance by Major-General Windham to a well-organized and desperate attack on his position at Cawnpore by a large body of rebels; and of the subsequent defeat and utter rout of the insurgents by the troops under the immediate direction of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

Throughout these operations all branches of the service vied with each other in enhancing the glorious name which the contests of the last few months have secured for the British Army in India.

As regards the operations of the 6th, the masterly guidance of the Commander-in-Chief has been scarcely less conspicuous at Cawnpore than it was at Lucknow: each disposition and movement of his forces, fitting into one complete and effective scheme, proof against all disturbance by the chances of the day of battle. General Sir Colin Campbell has added largely to the heavy claim which he holds upon the gratitude and confidence of the Government, and of the soldiers whom he leads to victory. In two hours the camp of the rebels was reached and taken, and their rout complete; seventeen guns, and a large amount of stores and ammunition falling into the hands of the British Force.

His Lordship in Council desires to record his appreciation of the admirable manner in which Brigadier-General Hope Grant, C.B., has executed the duties of his division, and particularly of his exertions in pursuit of the enemy on the 6th, and his operations on the 8th and 9th of December, on which occasion he took fifteen of the enemy's guns without the loss of one man.

On this, as on every occasion in which danger was to be faced and difficulty overcome, Captain Peel, R.N., commanding the Naval Brigade, was foremost in intrepidity and resource.

Lieutenant Vaughan and the other officers and men of H. M. S. Shannon are worthy of their brave commander; and it is a pleasure to the Governor-General in Council to declare his warm admiration of their conduct.

The Governor-General in Council very cordially concurs in the praise so justly bestowed by the Commander-in-Chief on the general officers commanding divisions, on Major-General Mansfield, chief of the staff, and on all the officers of the general staff in all its branches and the personal staff, and officers commanding brigades and regiments, troops, and batteries. In the commendation given by his Excellency to officers of every arm of the service, the Governor-General in Council most heartily joins.

To all officers, non-commissioned officers, and men, engaged in the defence of Cawnpore, or in the attack on the enemy's position, the Governor-General in Council offers his cordial thanks for their gallantry and good service to the State.

It will be his pleasing duty to take the first opportunity of bringing their merits to the favourable notice of Her Majesty's Government, and of the Honorable Court of Directors.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secretary to the Government of India,
in the Military Department.

No. 2.

The Commander-in-Chief to the Governor-General.

Head Quarters, Camp, Cawnpore,
MY LORD,
December 2nd, 1857.

IN accordance with the instructions of your Lordship, arrangements were finally made with Sir James Outram, that his division, made up to four thousand (4000) strong of all arms, should ~~remain~~ in position before Lucknow.

This position includes the Post of Alumbagh, his standing camp, of which the front is fifteen hundred (1500) yards in the rear of that post, and the bridge of Bunnee, which is held by four hundred (400) Madras sepoy, and two (2) guns.

On the 27th I marched with Brigadier-General Grant's division, all the ladies and families who had been rescued from Lucknow, and the wounded of both forces, making in all about two thousand (2000) people, whom it was necessary to carry, and encamped the evening of that day a little beyond Bunnee Bridge.

The long train did not reach completely and file into camp until after midnight.

When we arrived at Bunnee, we were surprised to hear very heavy firing in the direction of Cawnpore. No news had reached me from that place for several days; but it appeared necessary, whatever the inconvenience, to press forward as quickly as possible.

The march accordingly re-commenced at 9 A.M. the next morning, and shortly afterwards I received two or three notes in succession,—first, announcing that Cawnpore had been attacked; secondly, that General Windham was hard pressed; and thirdly, that he had been obliged to fall back from outside the city into his entrenchment.

The force was accordingly pressed forward, convoy and all, and was encamped within three miles of the Ganges, about three hours after dark, the rear guard coming in with the end of the train some twenty-four hours afterwards.

I preceded the column of march by two or three hours, and reached the entrenchment at dusk, where I learnt the true state of affairs.

The retreat of the previous day had been effected with the loss of a certain amount of camp equipage, and shortly after my arrival, it was reported to me that Brigadier Carthew had retreated from a very important outpost.

All this appeared disastrous enough, and the next day the city was found to be in possession of the enemy at all points.

It had now become necessary to proceed with the utmost caution to secure the bridge.

All the heavy guns attached to General Grant's division, under Captain Peel, R.N., and Captain Travers, R.A., were placed in position on the left bank of the Ganges, and directed to open fire and keep down the fire of the enemy on the bridge.

This was done very effectually, while Brigadier Hope's brigade, with some field artillery and cavalry, was ordered to cross the bridge, and take position near the old dragoon lines.

A cross fire was at the same time kept up from the entrenchment, to cover the march of the troops.

When darkness began to draw on, the artillery parks, the wounded and the families were ordered to file over the bridge; and it was not till 6 o'clock P.M., the day of the 30th, that the last cart had cleared the bridge.

The passage of the force, with its incumbrances, over the Ganges, had occupied thirty hours.

The camp now stretches from the Dragoon lines, in a half circle round the position occupied by the late General Sir Hugh Wheeler, the Foot Artillery lines being occupied by the wounded and the families.

A desultory fire has been kept up by the enemy on the entrenchment and the front of the camp since this position was taken up, and I am obliged to submit to the hostile occupation of Cawnpore until the actual despatch of all my incumbrances towards Allahabad has been effected.

However disagreeable this may be, and although it may tend to give confidence to the enemy, it is precisely one of those cases in which no risk must be run.

I trust, when the time has arrived for me to act with due regard to these considerations, to see the speedy evacuation of his present position by the enemy.

In the mean time, the position taken up by Brigadier-General Grant's Division, under my immediate orders, has restored the communications with Futtehpore and Allahabad, as had been anticipated. The detachments moving along the road from these two places have been ordered to continue their march accordingly.

Major-General Windham's despatch, relating to the operations conducted under his command, is inclosed.

In forwarding that document, I have only to remark, that the complaint made by him in the second paragraph, of not receiving instructions from me, is explained by the fact of the letters he sent, announcing the approach of the Gwalior Force, not having come to hand.

The first notice I had of his embarrassment was the distant sound of cannonade as above described.

All the previous reports had declared that there was but little chance of the Gwalior Contingent approaching Cawnpore.

I have, &c.,
C. CAMPBELL, General,
Commander-in-Chief.

P.S. Annexed is a return of casualties from the 29th ultimo to this date.

No. 3.

Major-General C. A. Windham to the Commander-in-Chief.

SIR, Cawnpore, November 30, 1857.

IN giving an account of the proceedings of the force under my command before Cawnpore during the operations of the 26th, 27th, 28th, and 29th instant, I trust your Excellency will excuse the hasty manner in which it is necessarily drawn up, owing to the constant demands upon me at the present moment.

Having received, through Captain H. Bruce, of the 5th Punjaub Cavalry, information of the movements of the Gwalior Contingent, but having received none whatever from your Excellency for several days from Lucknow, in answer to my letters to the Chief of the Staff, I was obliged to act for myself.

I therefore resolved to encamp my force on the canal, ready to strike at any portion of the advancing enemy that came within my reach, keeping at the same time my communications safe with Cawnpore.

Finding that the Contingent were determined to advance, I resolved to meet their first Division on the Pandoo Nuddee. My force consisted of about 1,200 bayonets and 8 guns and 100 mounted Sowars. Having sent my camp equipage and baggage to the rear, I advanced to the attack in the following order:—

Four companies of the Rifle Brigade, under Colonel R. Walpole, followed by four companies of the 88th Connaught Rangers, under Lieutenant-Colonel E. H. Maxwell, and four light 6-pounder Madras guns, under Lieutenant Chamier; the whole under the command of Brigadier Carthew, of the Madras Native Infantry.

Following this force was the 34th Regiment, under Lieutenant-Colonel R. Kelly, with four 9-pounder guns ; the 82nd Regiment in reserve, with spare ammunition, &c.

I had given directions, in the event of the enemy being found directly in our front, and if the ground permitted, that Brigadier Carthew should occupy the ground to the left of the road, and that Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, with the 34th, divided into wings, and supported by his Artillery, should take the right. It so happened, however, that this order, on our coming into action, became exactly inverted by my directions in consequence of a sudden turn of the road. No confusion, however, was caused. The advance was made with a complete line of skirmishers along the whole front, with supports on either side and a reserve in the centre.

The enemy, strongly posted on the other side of the dry bed of the Pandoo Nuddee, opened a heavy fire of artillery from siege and field guns ; but such was the eagerness and courage of the troops, and so well were they led by their officers, that we carried the position with a rush, the men cheering as they went ; and the village, more than half a mile in its rear, was rapidly cleared. The mutineers hastily took to flight, leaving in our possession two 8-inch iron howitzers and one 6-pounder gun.

In this fight my loss was not severe ; but I regret very much that a very promising young officer, Captain H. H. Day, 88th Regiment, was killed.

Observing, from a height on the other side of the village, that the enemy's main body was at hand, and that the one just defeated was their leading division, I at once decided on retiring to protect Cawnpore, my entrenchments, and the bridge over the Ganges. We accordingly fell back, followed, however, by the enemy up to the bridge over the canal.

On the morning of the 27th, the enemy commenced their attack, with an overwhelming force of heavy artillery. My position was in front of the city. I was threatened on all sides, and very seriously attacked on my front and right flank. The heavy fighting in front, at the point of junction of the Calpee and Delhi Roads, fell more especially upon the Rifle Brigade, ably commanded by Colonel Walpole, who was supported by the 88th Regiment and four guns (two 9-pounders, two 24-pounder howitzers) under Captain D. S. Greene, Royal Artillery, and two 24-pounder guns, manned by seamen of the Shannon, under Lieutenant Hay, R.N., who was twice wounded. Lieutenant Colonel John Adye, Royal Artillery, also afforded me marked assistance with these guns.

In spite of the heavy bombardment of the enemy, my troops resisted the attack for five hours, and still held the ground, until, on my proceeding personally to make sure of the safety of the fort, I found, from the number of men bayoneted by the 88th Regiment, that the mutineers had fully penetrated the town; and having been told that they were then attacking the fort, I directed Major-General Dupuis, R.A. (who as my Second-in-command, I had left with the main body), to fall back the whole force into the fort, with all our stores and guns, shortly before dark.

Owing to the flight of the camp followers at the commencement of the action, notwithstanding the long time we held the ground, I regret to state, that in making this retrograde movement, I was unable to carry off all my camp equipage and some of the baggage. Had not an error occurred in the conveyance of an order issued by me, I am of opinion that I could have held my ground at all events until dark.

I must not omit, in this stage of the proceedings, to report that the flank attack was well met, and resisted, for a considerable time, by the 34th Regiment under Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, and the Madras Battery under Lieutenant Chamier, together with that part of the 82nd Regiment which was detached in this direction under Lieutenant-Colonel D. Watson.

In retiring within the entrenchments, I followed the general instructions issued to me by your Excellency, conveyed through the Chief of the Staff, namely, to preserve the safety of the bridge over the Ganges, and my communications with your force, so severely engaged in the important operation of the relief of Lucknow, as far as possible. I strictly adhered to the defensive.

After falling back to the fort, I assembled the superior Officers on the evening of the 27th, and proposed a night attack, should I be able to receive reliable information as to where the enemy had assembled his artillery.

As, however, I could obtain none (or, at all events, none that was satisfactory), I decided—

Firstly.—That on the following day Colonel Walpole, Rifle Brigade, should have the defence of the advanced portion of the town on the left side of the canal, standing with your back to the Ganges. The details of the force upon this point were as follow :—

5 companies Rifle Brigade, under Lieutenant-Colonel C. Woodford.

2 companies of the 82nd Regiment, under Lieutenant-Colonel Watson.

4 guns (two 9-pounders, and two 24-pounder howitzers), under Captain Greene, R.A.

(Two of these guns were manned by Madras gunners, and two by Seikhs.)

Secondly.—That Brigadier N. Wilson, with the 64th Regiment, was to hold the fort and establish a strong picquet at the Baptist Chapel on the extreme right.

Thirdly.—That Brigadier Carthew, with the 34th Regiment, under Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, and four Madras guns, should hold the Bithoor road in advance of the Baptist Chapel, receiving support from the picquet there, if wanted.

Fourthly.—That, with the 88th Regiment under Lieutenant-Colonel Maxwell, I should defend the portion of the town nearest the Ganges on the left of the canal, and support Colonel Walpole if required.

The fighting on the 28th was very severe. On the left advance, Colonel Walpole, with the Rifles, supported by Captain Greene's battery, and part of the 82nd Regiment, achieved a complete victory over the enemy, and captured two 18-pounder guns.

The glory of this well-contested fight belongs entirely to the above-named companies, and artillery.

It was owing to the gallantry of the men and officers, under the able leading of Colonel Walpole, and of my lamented relation, Lieutenant-Colonel Woodford, of the Rifle Brigade (who, I deeply regret to say, was killed,) and of Lieutenant-Colonel Watson, 82nd, and of Captain Greene, R. A., that this hard contested fight was won and brought to so profitable an end. I had nothing to do with it, beyond sending them supports, and, at the end, of bringing some up myself.

I repeat that the credit is entirely due to the above-mentioned officers and men.

Brigadier Wilson thought proper, prompted by zeal for the service, to lead his regiment against four guns placed in front of Brigadier Carthew. In this daring exploit, I regret to say, he lost his life, together with several valuable and able officers. Major T. Stirling, 64th Regiment, was killed in spiking one of the guns, as was also that fine gallant young man, Captain R. C. McCrea, 64th Regiment, who acted as Deputy-Assistant Quartermaster-General to the force here. Captain W. Morphey, 64th Regiment (the Brigade Major), also fell at the same time. Our numbers were not sufficient to enable us to carry off the guns.

Captain A. P. Bowlby, now the Senior Officer of the 64th Regiment, distinguished himself, as did also Captain H. F. Saunders, of the 70th Regiment, who was attached to the 64th, and is Senior to Captain Bowlby, whose conduct he describes as most devoted and gallant; as was also that of the men of the regiment.

Brigadier Carthew, of the Madras Native Infantry, had a most severe and strong contest with the enemy, from morning till night; but I regret to add, that he felt himself obliged to retire at dark.

During the night of the 28th instant, the enemy occupied the town, and on the morning of the 29th commenced bombarding my entrenchments with a few guns, and struck the Bridge of Boats several times.

The guns mounted in the fort were superior in number to those of the enemy, and were well-manned, throughout the day, by the officers, non-commissioned officers, and men of the Royal Artillery, seamen of the Shannon, Madras and Bengal gunners, and Seikhs.

The chief out-work was occupied by the Rifle Brigade, and in the course of the afternoon, by your Excellency's instructions, they were advanced, and gallantly drove the mutineers out of that portion of the city nearest to our works, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Fyers, who was supported by Colonel Walpole.

Throughout the short period I have had the temporary command of this division, I have received, both in the field and elsewhere, the most important assistance from Captain H. Bruce, 5th Punjab Cavalry. Without him I should have been at a great loss for reliable information, and although I am aware that your Excellency is not ignorant of his abilities, courage, and assiduity, I think it my duty to make this mention of his service to the country.

Pressed as I am by the operations now going forward, I am not able to specify the services of every individual who has assisted me, where all have behaved so well. I have no Staff of my own, except Captain Roger Swire, of the 17th Foot, my Aide-de-Camp, who has behaved with his usual zeal and courage.

I therefore hope I may be allowed to thank, through your Excellency, the under-mentioned officers, for the great services they have voluntarily rendered me during this trying time :—

Major-General J. E. Dupuis, C. B., Commanding Royal Artillery in India.	} Specially.
Lieutenant-Colonel John Adye, C. B., Assistant Adjutant-General, Royal Artillery
Lieutenant-Colonel H. D. Harness, Commanding Royal Engineers ..
Major Norman McLeod, Bengal Engineers
Lieutenant-Colonel John Simpson, 34th Regiment.

Senior-Surgeon R. C. Elliot, C. B., Royal Artillery.

Captain John Gordon, 82nd Regiment.

Captain Sarsfield Greene, Royal Artillery.

Captain Smyth, Bengal Artillery.

There are several other officers in addition, who I fortunately found detained here, en route to join your Excellency's force, and I beg to submit their names also, viz. :—

Captain R. G. Brackenbury, 61st Regiment.

Lieutenant Arthur Henley, 52nd Light Infantry.

Lieutenant Valentine Ryan, 64th Regiment.

Captain Ellis Cunliffe, 1st Bengal Fusiliers.

Lieutenant E. H. Budgen, 82nd Regiment (to whom I gave the command of the 100 mounted Sowars.)

Captain C. E. Mansfield, 33rd Regiment.

Lieutenant P. Scratchley, Royal Engineers.

Lieutenant W. C. Milne, 74th Bengal Native Infantry.

I beg to inform your Excellency that I have called for nominal returns of the killed and wounded, and I have also directed all officers commanding corps, regiments, and batteries, &c., to forward to me the names of any officers, non-commissioned officers, or soldiers, who may have especially distinguished themselves by gallantry in the field, which shall be forwarded to your Excellency without delay.

In conclusion, I hope I may be permitted to express my sincere thanks to all the regimental officers, non-commissioned officers, and men, for the zeal, gallantry, and courage with which they have carried out my orders during the four days of harassing actions which have successively taken place in the defence of this important strategic centre of present operations.

I beg to forward the enclosed despatch, which I have received from Major-General Dupuis, and I have called upon the various officers commanding corps, &c., to forward me the names of any officers they may wish to recommend, which I will send to your Excellency as soon as I receive them.

I have, &c.,

C. A. WINDHAM, Major-General.

No. 4.

Major-General Dupuis to Major-General C. A. Windham, C. B., Commanding the Cawnpore Division.

SIR, Cawnpore, November 30th, 1857.

WITHOUT entering into any detail of the operations carried on by the force under your command, on the 26th, 27th, 28th and 29th inst. which I consider unnecessary, as you were present the whole time, yet I feel it my duty to bring to your notice the excellent conduct of the officers, non-commissioned officers, and men, both of the Royal and Bengal Artillery, whom you placed under my command.

Lieutenant Oliver, R.A., who was in command of a hastily equipped battery of two 9-pounders and two 24-pounder howitzers, manned by a few Royal Artillery and Bengal Gunners, and some Seikhs, did his best to bring his guns into action on the first day's operations on the Pandoo River; yet, from his extreme inexperience, I thought it better to place my Aid-de-Camp, Captain Sarsfield Greene, R. A., in command, and I beg to bring to your notice the admirable manner in which he directed and fought the guns at the close of the day.

On the 27th he supported the Rifle Brigade, and the 88th Connaught Rangers, and as our force retired, he assisted to protect the retreat. Again, on the 28th, he supported Colonel Walpole, and the Rifle Brigade, on the advance on the left, and assisted materially in the capture of two 18-pounder guns. On the 29th he commanded four guns in the fort. Lieutenant Chamier, of the Madras Artillery, who commanded six light guns, performed his duties entirely to my satisfaction, particularly on the 28th, when he was attached to the force under Brigadier Carthew.

I beg also to bring to your consideration the conduct of Lieutenant-Colonel John Adye, my Assistant Adjutant-General, who volunteered on the night of the 27th, and brought from the centre of the town a 24-pounder gun, which had been left behind in the retreat, in consequence of its having been jammed in one of the narrow streets. (This officer was assisted by Captains Austen and Bradford, of the Bengal Artillery.) On the 29th he again volunteered and took command of the same gun, (manned by a few sailors and Madras gunners,) and placed it in position to protect the canal, where it proved of good service during the day. I beg also to testify to the willing exertions of Senior-Surgeon R. C. Elliot on all occasions.

I have, &c.,

J. E. DUPUIS, Major-General,
Commanding Royal Artillery in India.

No. 5.

*The Commander-in-Chief to the Governor-General,
Head Quarters Camp, Cawnpore,*

MY LORD, December 10th, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report to your Lordship, that late on the night of the 3rd instant, the convoy, which had given me so much anxiety, including the families and half the wounded, was finally despatched, and on the 4th and 5th the last arrangements were made for consigning the remainder of the wounded in places of safety, while a portion of the troops was withdrawn from the entrenchments to join the camp.

On the afternoon of the 5th, about 3 P. M., the enemy attacked our left picquets with artillery, and showed infantry round our left flank.

A desultory fire was also begun on our picquets in the General Gang; which is an old bazaar of very considerable extent along the canal, in front of the line occupied by the camp.

These advanced positions had been held, since our arrival, by Brigadier Greathed's brigade with great firmness, the Brigadier having displayed his usual judgment in their arrangement and support. On two or three occasions he had been supported by Captain Peel's heavy guns and Captain Bourchier's field battery, when the artillery of the enemy had annoyed him, and the general front of the camp.

After two hours of cannonading, the enemy retired on the afternoon in question.

Arrangements were then made for a general attack on him, the next day.

His left occupied the old cantonment, from which General Windham's post had been principally assailed. His centre was in the city of Cawnpore, and lined the houses and bazaars overhanging the canal, which separated it from Brigadier Greathed's position, the principal streets having been afterwards discovered to be barricaded.

His right stretched some way beyond the angle formed by the Grand Trunk Road and the Canal, two miles in rear of which the camp of the Gwalior Contingent was pitched, and so covered the Calpee road. This was the line of retreat of that body.

In short, the canal, along which were placed his centre and right, was the main feature of his position, and could only be passed in the latter direction by two bridges.

It appeared to me, if his right were vigorously attacked, that it would be driven from its position without assistance coming from other parts of his line, the wall of the town, which gave cover to our attacking columns on our right, being an effec-

Thus the possibility became apparent of attacking his division in detail.

From intelligence received, before and after the action, there seems to be little doubt that, in consequence of the arrival of four regiments from Oude, and the gathering of various mutinous corps which had suffered in previous actions, as well as the assemblage of all the Nana's followers, the strength of the enemy now amounted to about 25,000 men, with all the guns belonging to the contingent, some (36) thirty-six in number, together with a few guns belonging to the Nana.

Orders were given to General Windham, on the morning of the 6th, to open a heavy bombardment at 9 A. M. from the entrenchment in the old cantonment, and so induce the belief, in the enemy that the attack was coming from the General's position.

The camp was struck early, and all the baggage driven to the river side under a guard, to avoid the slightest risk of accident.

Brigadier Greathed, reinforced by the 64th Regiment,* was desired to hold the same ground opposite the centre of the enemy, which he had been occupying for some days past, as above mentioned, and at 11 A.M., the rest of the force, as per margin,†

* Brigadier Greathed's Brigade.—H. M.'s 8th Foot; H. M.'s 64th Foot; 2nd Punjaub Infantry.

† Artillery Brigade.—Two Troops Horse Artillery; three Light Field Batteries; Guns of the Naval Brigade; Heavy Field Battery Royal Artillery.

Cavalry Brigade.—H. M.'s 9th Lancers; Detachments 1st, 2nd and 5th Punjaub Cavalry, and Hodson's Horse.

4th Infantry Brigade.—H. M.'s 53rd Regiment; H. M.'s 42nd and 93rd Highlanders; 4th Punjaub Rifles.

5th Infantry Brigade.—H. M.'s 23rd Fusiliers; H. M.'s 32nd Regiment; H. M.'s 82nd Regiment.

was drawn up in contiguous columns in rear of some old cavalry lines, and effectually masked from the observation of the enemy.

The cannonade from the entrenchment having become slack at this time, the moment had arrived for the attack to commence.

The cavalry and horse artillery, having been sent to make a detour on the left and across the canal, by a bridge a mile and a half further up, and threaten the enemy's rear.

The infantry deployed in parallel lines fronting the canal.

Brigadier Hope's Brigade was in advance in one line, Brigadier Inglis's Brigade being in rear of Brigadier Hope.

At the same time Brigadier Walpole, assisted by Captain Smith's field battery, Royal Artillery, was directed to pass the bridge immediately to the left of Brigadier Greathed's position, and to drive the enemy from the brick-kilns, keeping the wall of the city for his guide.

The whole attack then proceeded, the enemy quickly responding from his proper right, to the fire of our heavy and field artillery.

Good use was made of these guns by Captain Peal, C.B., R.N., and the Artillery Officers under Major-General Dupuis, C.B., R.A., Brigadier Crawford, R.A., and Major Turner, B.A.

The Seikhs, of the 4th Punjaub Infantry, thrown into skirmishing order, supported by H. M.'s 53rd Foot, attacked the enemy in some old mounds and brick-kilns to our left, with great vigour.

The advance then continued with rapidity, along 6th Infantry Brigade.—2nd and 3rd Battalion Rifle Brigade; Detachment H. M.'s 38th Foot.

Engineer Brigade.—Royal Engineers and Detachments Bengal and Punjaub; Sappers and Miners attached to the various Brigades of Infantry.

the whole line, and I had the satisfaction of observing, in the distance, that Brigadier Walpole was making equal progress on the right.

The canal bridge was quickly passed, Captain Peel leading over it with a heavy gun, accompanied by a soldier of H. M.'s 53rd, named Hannaford.

The troops which had gathered together, resuming their line of formation with great rapidity on either side as soon as it was crossed, and continuing to drive the enemy at all points, his camp being reached and taken at 1 P.M., and his route being complete along the Calpee road.

I must here draw attention to the manner in which the heavy 24-pounder guns were impelled and managed by Captain Peel, and his gallant sailors.

Through the extraordinary energy and good-will with which the latter have worked, their guns have been constantly in advance throughout our late operations, from the relief of Lucknow, till now, as if they were light field pieces, and the service rendered by them in clearing our front has been incalculable. On this occasion there was the sight beheld of 24-pounder guns advancing with the first line of skirmishers.

Without losing any time, the pursuit with cavalry, infantry, and light artillery was pressed with the greatest eagerness to the fourteenth milestone on the Calpee road, and I have reason to believe that every gun and cart of ammunition, which had been in that part of the enemy's position, which had been attacked, now fell into our possession.

I had the satisfaction of accompanying the troops engaged in the pursuit, and of being able to bear witness to their strenuous endeavours to make the most of the success which had been achieved.

When I passed the camp and went forward on the Calpee road, Major-General Mansfield was desired by me to make arrangements for the attack of the position called the Subadar's Tank, which extended round the left rear of the enemy's position in the old cantonments. As this operation was a separate one, I beg to enclose, for your Lordship's consideration, the Major-General's own narrative.

The troops having returned from the pursuit at midnight on the 6th, and their baggage having reached them on the afternoon of the next day, Brigadier-General Grant was detached in pursuit on the 8th, with the cavalry, some light artillery, and a brigade of infantry, with orders to destroy public buildings belonging to the Nana Sahib at Bithoor, and to press on to Serai Ghât, twenty-five miles from hence, if he had good tidings of the retreating enemy. This duty was admirably performed by the Brigadier-General, and he caught the enemy when he was about to cross the river with his remaining guns.

The Brigadier-General attacked him with great vigor, and by the excellent disposition he made of his force, succeeded in taking every gun the enemy possessed, without losing a single man. I have the pleasure to enclose the Brigadier-Generals' report for your Lordship's perusal.

It now remains for me to bring to your Lordship's notice, the officers who have distinguished themselves during the series of operations which have occurred under my own eyes, since this field force left the neighbourhood of Lucknow.

I have a particular pleasure in again bringing to your Lordship's notice the zeal and great ability with which Major-General W. R. Mansfield, chief of the staff, has conducted the very important duties of his high position, and of my obligations to him for the most valuable assistance he has afforded me during the whole of the recent operations. I desire also to call your Lordship's attention to the able and distinguished manner in which he conducted the troops placed under his orders, after the enemy's centre had been divided, to the attack of their strong position at the Subadar's Tank, and to recommend to your Lordship's favourable consideration the names of the officers who assisted him.

I have to thank Brigadier-General Hope Grant, C.B., very particularly for the admirable manner in which he has conducted the duties of the force, and more particularly for his exertions on the 6th December, and the capital operations he performed on the 8th and 9th. The Brigadier-General speaks in the highest terms of his divisional and personal staff, viz., Captain W. Hamilton, Deputy-Assistant Adjutant-General; Lieutenant F. S. Roberts, Deputy-Assistant Quartermaster-General; Captain the Honourable A. H. Anson, Aide-de-Camp; Lieutenant C. W. Havelock, Extra Aide-de-Camp; and Captain H. M. Wilson, Deputy Judge Advocate General.

I have the greatest satisfaction in bringing to your Lordship's notice, Brigadiers Greathed, the Honourable A. Hope, Walpole, and Inglis. These officers have all exerted themselves to the utmost, and have fully justified my expectations. They desire to record their obligations to the officers commanding corps in their respective brigades, and to their brigade staff, as follows:—

Captain Hinde, Her Majesty's 8th Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Wells, Her Majesty's 23rd Fusiliers; Major Lowe, Commanding Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, Her Majesty's 38th Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Thorold, Her Majesty's 42nd Highlanders; Colonel Faber, Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment;

Major Bingham, Her Majesty's 64th Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Hale, Her Majesty's 82nd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Leith Hay, Her Majesty's 93rd Highlanders; Lieutenant-Colonel Horsford, 3rd Battalion Rifle Brigade; Lieutenant-Colonel Fyers, 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade; Captain Green, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Infantry; Lieutenant W. C. L. Ryves, Commanding 4th Punjaub Rifles; Captain J. M. Bannatyne, Brigade Major 3rd Brigade; Captain J. H. Cox, Brigade Major 4th Brigade; Captain Lightfoot, Brigade Major 5th Brigade; Lieutenant C. A. Barwell, Brigade Major 6th Brigade.

Owing to his knowledge of the ground, I requested Major-General Windham to remain in command of the entrenchment, the fire of which was a very important feature in the operations of the 6th December, although I felt and explained to General Windham, that it was a command hardly worthy of an officer of his rank. He gave me every satisfaction, and I have to thank him accordingly.

I must particularly notice the exertions of Captain H. W. Norman, Assistant Adjutant-General of the Army; of Captain Herbert Bruce, Deputy Quartermaster-General; and of Captain J. H. Smyth, Bengal Artillery, the latter of whom had been requested by me to take command of the artillery in the entrenchment, as a special duty.

Captain Smyth has rendered other great and valuable services since he left Calcutta, of which I have not had an opportunity before of recording my approval.

I desire also to bring to your Lordship's favourable notice, the officers on the General Staff or belonging to the Personal Staff of myself, or Major-General Mansfield, viz., Captain H. B. Garden, Assistant Quartermaster-General; Lieutenant G.

Allgood, and Captain T. A. Carey, Deputy-Assistants Quartermaster-General ; Captain G. C. Hatch, Deputy Judge Advocate General of the Army ; Captain Sir David Baird, Bart., my first Aide-de-Camp ; Captain J. Metcalfe, Interpreter ; Lieutenant W. O. Lennox, Royal Engineers ; Captain W. Rudman, Acting-Assistant Adjutant-General, Her Majesty's Forces ; Lieutenant Hope Johnstone, Deputy-Assistant Adjutant-General to the Chief of the Staff ; Lieutenant F. M. Alison, and Captain Forster, my Aides-de-Camp ; and Captain Mansfield and Lieutenant D. M. Murray, Aide-de-Camp and Extra Aide-de-Camp to the Chief of the Staff.

To the crew of Her Majesty's ship Shannon, and to the Royal and Bengal Artillery, my thanks are alike due ; but more particularly to Captain Peel, C.B., Royal Navy ; to Brigadier Crawford, Royal Artillery ; and to Major Turner, Bengal Horse Artillery. I cannot refrain from again drawing your Lordship's most marked attention to the very distinguished merits of the last-named (Major Turner).

As is always the case in the three services, the batteries and troops were manœuvred with remarkable dexterity.

Captain Peel has brought to my favourable notice Lieutenant Vaughan, Royal Navy, and I should much wish that this recommendation may be known at the Admiralty ; and Brigadier Crawford has expressed his obligations to his Brigade Major, Captain H. L. G. Bruce, Bengal Artillery, and has mentioned with marked distinction all the officers holding commands, viz., Captain Travers, Commanding Royal Artillery ; Captains Remington and Blunt, Commanding Troops of Bengal Horse Artillery ; Captains Middleton and Smith, Royal Artillery ; and Captain Bourchier, Bengal Artillery, Commanding Light Field Batteries ; Captain Longden, Royal Artillery, Commanding a heavy battery ; and Lieutenant Bridge, commanding two guns, Madras Horse Artillery.

Major-General Dupuis, C.B., Royal Artillery, commanding the artillery during the action, in consequence of his accidental presence in camp, and I beg to thank him for his exertions as well as those of his Staff, viz., Lieut-Colonel Adye, C.B., R. A., Assistant Adjutant General, and Captain Greene, R.A., Aide-de-Camp.

Colonel Harness, Royal Engineers, was also present in the same manner, and accompanied me throughout the action.

General Grant has also brought to my notice the distinguished conduct of Brigadier Little, commanding the cavalry, as also of Officers commanding corps in that Brigade and its Staff Officers, viz. :—

Major Ouvry, 9th Lancers ; Lieutenant Watson, 1st Punjaub Cavalry ; Lieutenant Probyn, 2nd Punjaub Cavalry ; Lieutenant Younghusband, 5th Punjaub Cavalry ; Lieutenant H. Gough, Hodson's Horse ; and Captain H. A. Sarel, Major of Brigade.

During the pursuit of the 6th, and the operation of the 9th, the cavalry maintained that high character for dash and perseverance, which have distinguished them since they took the field, in the numerous engagements of their long campaign.

I desire also to mention Major Payne, of the 53rd Regiment, whom I saw performing very valuable service during the first advance on the 6th instant.

I must not allow this opportunity to pass without bearing my testimony to the unwearied zeal and assiduity of the Superintending Surgeon, Doctor J. C. Brown, Bengal Artillery, which have never flagged for an instant, and have been of the greatest use to the force in the field from the time the troops first took the field before going to Delhi.

I beg to recommend him most particularly to your Lordship's favourable consideration.

Annexed are returns of killed and wounded, and of captured ordnance, as well as a sketch of the ground.

No. 6.

Major-General W. Mansfield, to the Commander-in-Chief.

Head Quarters Camp, Cawnpore.

Sir,

December 10th, 1857.

IN obedience to your Excellency's instructions, when I left your side after the capture of the enemy's camp, on the afternoon of the 6th December, I proceeded to make the arrangements for taking the position called the Subadar's Tank, in rear of the enemy's left, and about a mile and a half in a direct line from the entrenchment through the old cantonments.

Before advancing, measures were taken for the safe guard of the captured camp, Colonel Kelly, with a wing of 38th Foot, being placed in position for that purpose, in addition to the 23rd Regiment, which had already been left there by your Excellency.

These two regiments repelled an attack in the course of the afternoon, and took two guns from the enemy.

The 93rd Highlanders, who had been placed on the Grand Trunk Road, beyond the camp to the left, at the time that your Excellency gave the orders for pressing the pursuit of the enemy along the Calpee Road, were now, at 2 p.m., beginning to suffer from the enemy's guns, which were in position about one thousand yards in their front, in the enclosures between them and the Tank.

They were advanced a short distance with Captain Middleton's Field Battery, R.A., which answered the enemy's guns, until the Rifle Brigade under Brigadier Walpole, and the heavy field battery under Captain Longden, R.A., could be brought up.

In the course of half an hour this had taken place, and the heavy field battery pushed along the road intersecting the Grand Trunk Road about a mile to the left of the enemy's camp, and leading directly to the old cantonment.

The Rifles were extended in skirmishing order some (300) three hundred yards on each side of the road slightly in advance of the heavy guns, the Highlanders being kept in reserve.

These arrangements having been made, the advance took place, and the enemy began to give way immediately, successive positions being taken up and a rapid fire maintained by Captain Longden and Captain Middleton, of the R.A., the Rifles passing through the enclosures to the right, and the broken ground to the left of the road, with much spirit, under the able directions of Brigadier Walpole.

On the entrance of the village being reached, which may be distinguished as the soldier's burial-ground, although the enclosures were still held to a certain degree by the enemy, it appeared to me expedient to push the field battery through the village at a gallop, and take position in the plain, with the tank on the right, the infantry being desired to press forward as fast as they could.

This was done very well by Captain Middleton;

R.A., and he had the satisfaction of firing at the enemy's guns as they disappeared along the Bithoor-road, whilst the Rifles were still running up to his support.

The position was then fairly occupied. Brigadier Hope coming up with the reserve of Highlanders and taking charge of the picquets which were thrown out on the line of the enemy's retreat.

About 4 p.m., the position which had been taken was attacked by artillery, brought by the enemy from the old cantonment.

These guns might have been taken; but I refrained from giving the necessary order, being aware that it was contrary to your Excellency's wish to involve the troops among the inclosures and houses of the old cantonment; and that, if the slightest advance had been made in that quarter, it would have been necessary, at whatever loss, to make no stop till the entrenchment should have been reached.

When Captain Longden's and Captain Middleton's batteries had almost succeeded in silencing the enemy's fire, the position was attacked by some guns of the enemy from the broken ground of the plain on exactly the opposite side.

They could not be seen, except by their smoke.

They were, however, answered quickly, and all the men and field hospital, &c., having been put under tolerable cover, no harm was suffered by the troops in consequence of this attack.

At dusk I had the satisfaction of seeing large bodies of the enemy's infantry and cavalry move round to the west of the position about a mile distant, in full retreat.

It not being possible to communicate with your Excellency after sunset, the position taken up being almost isolated, and as reported to me, there being considerable numbers of the enemy still in occupation of the town and old cantonment, the picquets all round the position were slightly strengthened, and the troops bivouacked by their arms.

Everything having been quiet during the night, the Highlanders were withdrawn the next morning, and replaced by the 38th Foot under your Excellency's orders.

My thanks are eminently due to Brigadier Walpole, who commanded the advance, and Brigadier Hope, commanding the reserve ; to Captains Middleton and Longden, commanding the batteries of artillery, and to my Aide-de-camp, Captain Mansfield, who was of the greatest use to me till he was unfortunately severely wounded, after the guns had passed the village.

Captain Herbert Bruce, Deputy Quartermaster-General, whose merits are so highly considered by your Excellency, distinguished himself very much by his knowledge and appreciation of the ground, and was the cause of my being able to direct the troops with tolerable certainty.

The Brigadiers report very highly on the conduct of the officers commanding corps, viz. :—

Lieutenant-Colonel A. S. L. Hay, 93rd Highlanders.

Lieutenant-Colonel Horsford, 3rd Battalion Rifle Brigade.

Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel Fyers, 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade.

SIR, Camp, Serai Ghât, December 11, 1857.

AT mid-day on the 8th instant, having received his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief's orders, through you, to march to Bithoor, and if I thought it advisable, or heard of any of the rebels' guns being at Serai Ghât, a ferry about twenty-five miles above Cawnpore, on the Ganges, to proceed there, I started with the force named in the margin,* and from what I could learn on the road, I had reason to believe that a certain number of guns had been taken to this ghât. Towards evening I halted the force, and directed the men to have their dinners. I then proceeded on to Soorajpore,—a village on the road within three miles of Serai Ghât, where I halted the force until daylight. I then collected the baggage, and had it placed in a safe spot covered by a portion of artillery, cavalry, and infantry.

I moved the remainder within about two miles of the Ghât, when I proceeded to reconnoitre with a party of the 9th Lancers, and found on the banks of the river a force assembled, and horsemen and sepoys with baggage moving down towards the spot. I immediately ordered up the cavalry and guns; but the road under the banks of the river was of such a dangerous nature from the quick sands, that the heavy 9-pounders of Captain Middleton's Battery, drawn by tired horses, ran great risks of being altogether stopped, and it was only through the hard exertions and praiseworthy conduct of Captain Midd'eton, Lieutenant Millman, in command of the battery, and the men, that the guns were got through. An 18-pounder of the enemy was here discovered fixed in the quicksand. 2 guns of the field battery having got over this difficulty, and on to the dry bank of the river, soon got into position; and under a very severe fire from 13 of the rebels' guns, Lieutenant Millman brought his guns into play. Soon after, Captain Remington's troop galloped up, and took up a most admirable position covered by the bank of a ditch, opening on the enemy a flanking fire, which, together with the remainder of the field battery, now came up in half an hour's time, completely silenced the enemy's fire, and put them in full retreat.

A force of the rebels' cavalry upon this came up to try and take our guns; but the 9th Lancers, under Major Ouvry, the 5th Punjaub Horse, under Lieutenant Younghusband, and Hodson's Horse, under Lieutenant Gough, the whole commanded by Brigadier Little, advanced upon them, drove them away, and Lieutenant Younghusband, who was sent out in pursuit with his men, cut up some 80 or 90 stragglers, and took three standards.

The movement of our cavalry towards the rear of the enemy, no doubt, had the effect of hurrying their retreat from their guns; but the ground was

I beg to request you will lay the names of the undermentioned Officers before his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief:—Captain Middleton, who commanded the whole of the artillery, rendered the greatest services, both in the action and in the moving of the guns; Lieutenant Millman, who commanded the battery; Captain Remington, who worked his guns admirably, and who was most zealous in giving every assistance to Captain Middleton; Brigadier A. Little, to whom I was much indebted for his cavalry support to the guns, and for the way in which he brought his force to the front on the advance of the enemy;—

Major Ouvry, commanding the 9th Lancers, a most active and zealous Officer;—

Lieutenant Younghusband, commanding 5th Punjaub Cavalry, and Lieutenant Gough, commanding Hodson's Horse; to all of whom my thanks are due for the very able way in which they commanded their regiments;—

Lieutenant Malcolm, commanding the Royal Engineers, and Lieutenant Forbes, commanding the Bengal Engineers, who, with their men, executed the work entrusted to them with great ability and zeal;—

Brigadier the Honourable A. Hope, commanding the infantry brigade, was of the greatest possible assistance, and behaved with his usual well-known gallantry;—

Lieutenant-Colonel Thorold, commanding 42nd Highlanders; Colonel Faber, commanding 53rd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Leith Hay, commanding 93rd Highlanders; and Captain Ryves, commanding 4th Punjaub Infantry;—

My thanks are also due to these Officers for the able manner in which they commanded their regiments:—Captain McLeod, 42nd Highlanders, commanding the rear guard; Lieutenant Smith, commanding two 9-pounder guns, who performed ies entrusted to them to my satisfaction. Anderson, ex-commissariat officer, whose were very severe, and Captain Carey, Assistant Quartermaster-General, were tentative and zealous. Captain Sarel, Brigadier of Cavalry, Captain Cox, Brigade of Infantry, deserve my warmest approval. Captain the Honourable G. A. Anson, Aide-de-Camp, afforded me on this, as on other occasions, the greatest assistance. Captain Havelock, Extra Aide-de-Camp, was most useful. Brigadier the Honourable A. Hope was at the highest strains of Lieutenant A. G. 93rd Highlanders, his Acting Aide-de-Camp, Captain Bruce, head of the Intelligence Department, rendered me very great assistance in procuring information regarding the movements of the enemy.

Commanding 3rd Bengal European Regiment.

No. 13.

General H. C. Van Cortland, C.B., commanding Hurriannah Field Force, to Lieutenant-Colonel J. D. Macpherson, Military Secretary to Chief Commissioner.

SIR, Camp, Hansee, November 23, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to forward, for the information of the Chief Commissioner, copy of a report, by Captain Stafford, commanding a detachment of my force, regarding the action of the 16th instant, at Narnoul, under Lieutenant-Colonel Gerrard, with the Joudhpoor mutineers and other rebels.

The whole of the troops, and especially the cavalry, seem to have behaved remarkably well. The enemy were completely defeated, and the whole of their guns taken.

Captain Bloomfield was left unwell at Kanond, and the command of the 23rd Punjaub Infantry devolved on Lieutenant Hunt, in this engagement.

I have, &c.,

H. C. VAN CORTLAND,
Commanding Hurriannah Field Force.

No. 14.

Captain Stafford

SIR, Camp, Narnool, November 18, 1857.

FOR the information of Captain J. P. Caulfield commanding moveable column,* I have the honor to report the part which the force under my immediate command took in the engagement of the 16th instant, at Narnoul, with the Joudhpoor Legion and other rebels.

* Punjab Mounted Police. 70 sabres; Esakhel Horse, 90 sabres; Tawana, 90 sabres; Artillery, 4 six-pounders; 23rd Punjab Infantry, 500 bayonets; Puttecala Infantry, 620 bayonets.

2. When we had passed the village of Nusseer-poor, about a quarter of a mile from the enemy's position, the force, in obedience to Lieutenant-Colonel J. G. Gerrard's orders, advanced at deploying distance, 23rd Punjab Infantry on the right, guns in the centre, and Putteeala Infantry on the left, the cavalry being on the extreme left.

3. The force was soon directed to deploy, and the advance was ordered. After two of the enemy's guns were taken, the advance still continued in the same order, until we came to the dry bed of a river. Lieutenant G. G. Pearse, commanding cavalry of the Hurrianah force, was, I much regret to say, here wounded in two places, and the command devolved upon Lieutenant R. A. Hamilton. The guns being unable to cross the Nullah, they diverged to the right and took up a position near the Horse Artillery guns, whilst the 23rd Punjab Infantry and Putteeala Infantry, in company with the 1st Fusileers, crossed and advanced towards the enemy's camp, which was soon taken, two guns falling into our possession. By order of Captain Caulfield, the infantry under my command returned to where our guns were in position. Some time after this, and when the rebels had returned to their camp, and commenced firing round shot at us with one of the guns which had been previously taken, I was directed to re-occupy the camp with two companies of the 1st Fusiliers and two companies of the 23rd Punjab Infantry; some cavalry, with which Lieutenant Hamilton was, having been despatched to the left, to follow up the mutineers when routed. The camp was attacked in flank, and the gun which had been annoying us was gallantly charged and taken by the 1st Fusiliers, led by Lieutenant Warner. The guns were ordered to be removed, and the infantry was directed to remain in the enemy's camp. I was (sic) returned to where the remainder of my force was, and shortly afterwards the serai was taken possession of.

4. My very best thanks are due to all, but more especially to Lieutenants Pearce and Hamilton, commanding the cavalry; Lieutenant Hunt, commanding 23rd Punjab Infantry; and Lieutenant Halcott, commanding Artillery, and whose gunners, lately embodied, behaved remarkably well. My thanks are also due to Sub-Assistant-Surgeon P. A. Minas, in medical charge, for his attention to the wounded.

5. Lieutenant Hunt makes favorable mention of Lieutenant Chatterton, Officiating Adjutant 23rd Punjab Infantry; and Lieutenant Hamilton brings to notice the gallant conduct of Ressaldars Ubdoolla Khan, Esakhel Horse; Allum Khan, Towannah Horse; and Shere Mahomed Khan, Mounted Police. Ressaldar Allum Khan's conduct deserves special commendation; for when the enemy returned to their camp, he took up a position near a temple, and retained it until a reinforcement was brought up, when I saw him there myself. It was here that the Towannahs lost many horses. Lieutenant Halcott reports as follows on the conduct of Serjeant-Major J. H. Jackson, and I have much pleasure in bearing testimony to it:—"I much wish to call your attention to the assistance rendered me by Serjeant-Major J. H. Jackson throughout the day, assistance peculiarly valuable in consequence of my being myself an infantry officer."

6. I beg to enclose a return of killed and wounded.

(Major-General The Honourable Charles Grey, Private Secretary to His Royal Highness The Prince Consort was in attendance on His Royal Highness The Prince of Prussia.)

On arriving at the Chapel, the Drums and Trumpets filed off as before, and as THE BRIDE entered the Chapel, a March, from Handel's Oratorio of "Judas Maccabeus," was played by Her Majesty's Band.

THE BRIDE was conducted to Her Seat in the Chapel, on the left side of the Haut Pas leading to the Altar, near Her Majesty's Chair of State, and His Royal Highness The Prince Consort and His Majesty The King of the Belgians were conducted to their Seats on the Haut Pas, near THE BRIDE. The Bridesmaids stood behind Her Royal Highness, and The Lord Chamberlain and Vice-Chamberlain near Her Majesty.

When THE BRIDE had taken her place near the Altar, a Hymn (Chorale of 1599) was sung and the Service commenced.

His Grace The Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, The Lord Bishop of Oxford, Lord High Almoner, and The Lord Bishop of Chester, Clerk of the Closet, stood on the right hand of the Communion Table, within the rails of the Altar; on the left hand were The Lord Bishop of London, who assisted as Dean of the Chapels Royal, The Honourable and Very Reverend Gerald Valerian Wellesley, Dean of Windsor, Resident Chaplain to Her Majesty, and the Reverend Dr. Wesley, Sub-Dean of the Chapels Royal.

The Archbishop of Canterbury proceeded with the Service to the end of the First Blessing; the Choir then sang the 67th Psalm, the full Orchestra accompanying the "Gloria Patri"; the Archbishop continued the Service to the end of the Second Blessing. The Bishop of London then read the Exhortation, which was followed by Handel's Hallelujah Chorus from "The ELECTION of HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS PRINCE FREDERIC WILLIAM NICHOLAS CHARLES of PRUSSIA into the Most Noble Order of the Garter, and Investiture with the Ensigns thereof.

At the Court at Windsor Castle, January 28, 1858.

A CHAPTER of the Most Noble Order of the Garter having been summoned for this day, the following Knights Companions, in their mantles and collars, assembled in the Guard Chamber; viz.: His Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge, the Marquis of Exeter, the Duke of Richmond, the Duke of Buccleuch, the Marquis of Lansdowne, the Duke of Cleveland, the Marquis of Abercorn, the Marquis Camden, the Earl of Clarendon, Earl Fortescue, Viscount Palmerston, Earl Granville, and the Marquis of Westminster, attended by the Officers of the Order following, in their mantles, chains, and badges; viz.: the Lord Bishop of Winchester, Prelate; the Lord Bishop of Oxford, Chancellor; the Honourable and Reverend the Dean of Windsor, Register; Sir Charles George Young, Knight, Garter Principal King of Arms; and James Pultman, Esquire, Yeoman Usher of the Black Rod, officiating by especial permission in the absence of Sir Augustus William James Clifford, Baronet, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod. At three o'clock, the Knights Companions were severally called over by Garter in St. George's Hall, and proceeded into the Grand Reception Room. The Sovereign, His Royal Highness the Prince Consort, and His Royal Highness the Duke of Saxe Coburg and Gotha, having passed into the Throne Room, the Knights Companions, with the Officers of the Order, proceeded into the presence of the Sovereign.

the Sovereign being seated in her Chair of State, the Knights Companions took their respective seats at the table, the Prelate standing on the right hand of the Sovereign and the Chancellor on the left hand, the Register, Garter, and Black Rod standing at the bottom of the table.

The Chancellor then, by command of the Sovereign, signified Her Majesty's Royal will and pleasure that the Chapter should proceed to the Election of a lineal descendant of King George the First, in the person of His Royal Highness Prince FREDERIC WILLIAM NICHOLAS of PRUSSIA.

The Knights then proceeded to the Election, the Suffrages being collected by the Chancellor, were by him presented to Her Majesty, who commanded him to declare, and he accordingly declared that His Royal Highness Prince Frederic William Nicholas Charles of Prussia had been duly elected a Knight of the Most Excellent Order of the Garter.

Then by the Sovereign's command, His Royal Highness was conducted from St. George's Hall by Earl Granville and the Marquess of Westmoreland, the two junior Knights Companions, to the Chapter Room, preceded by Garter, bearing the Garter upon a velvet cushion, and by the Chamberlain Usher of the Black Rod.

The Prince kneeling on the right hand, near the Sovereign, Garter on his knee, presented the Garter, and Her Majesty, assisted by His Royal Highness the Prince Consort and His Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge, the two Senior Knights Companions present, buckled it on His Royal Highness's left leg, the Chancellor proposing the Admonition.

Garter next presented in like manner the Garter to the Duke and George, when Her Majesty, assisted as before, put the same over His Royal Highness's left shoulder, the Chancellor pronouncing the Admonition.

The Prince then kissed her Majesty's hand, and having received the congratulations of each of the Knights Companions, retired from the Chapter Room.

Garter then, by Her Majesty's command, called over the Knights Companions, who with the Officers of the Order, retired from the presence of the Sovereign with the usual reverences.

The Yeomen of the Guard were stationed in the Vestibule, and a Guard of Honour, of the Scots Fusilier Guards, was mounted in the Great Quadrangle of the Castle during the Chapter.

At the Court at Windsor Castle, January 28, 1858.

The Queen, as Sovereign of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, hath be en graciously pleased, by Letters Patent under Her Royal Sign Manual, and the Great Seal of the Order, bearing date this day, to dispense with all statutes and regulations usually observed in regard to Installation, and to grant unto His Royal Highness Prince FREDERIC WILLIAM NICHOLAS CHARLES of PRUSSIA, Knight of the said Most Noble Order, and duly invested with the Ensigns thereof, full power and authority to exercise all rights and privileges belonging to a Knight Companion of the said Most Noble Order of the Garter, in as full and ample a manner as if His Royal Highness had been formally installed any decree, rule, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

FROM THE
SECOND SUPPLEMENT
LONDON GAZETTE of FEBRUARY 2, 1858.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 3rd day of February, 1858.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the Session of Parliament held in the second and third years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act for regulating the Police Courts in the "Metropolis," it was, amongst other things, enacted, that it should be lawful for Her Majesty, with the advice of Her Privy Council, to alter the number of the Police Courts, and to order such changes to be made of the places in which they should be holden within the Metropolitan Police District as should be found expedient, and every such Court should henceforth be holden in the place in or to which it should be so ordered to be established or removed; and whereas also, by an Act passed in the session of Parliament held in the third and fourth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act for better defining the powers "of Justices within the Metropolitan Police District," it was, amongst other things enacted, that it should be lawful for Her Majesty, with the advice of Her Privy Council, from time to time to constitute, within the Metropolitan Police District, so many Police Court Divisions as to Her Majesty should seem fit, and to define the extent thereof, and from time to time to alter the number and extent of such Police Court Divisions, and to assign a division to each of the Police Courts already established, and to establish a Police Court for each of the other divisions, Her Majesty is therefore pleased, with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order and direct, and it is hereby ordered and directed, that the Police Court now established at Brook-green, in the hamlet of Hammersmith, and known by the name of "The Hammersmith Police Court," shall, from and after the fifteenth day of February instant, be removed therefrom to a certain building, situate in Vernon-street, adjoining the said hamlet, in the parish of Fulham, within the Metropolitan Police District, and shall be thenceforth there holden by the same name of "The Hammersmith Police Court," and for the same division assigned to the Hammersmith Police Court at Brook-green, by Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the tenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three :

Wm. L. Bathurst.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 3rd day of February, 1858.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve and ratify the schemes duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

For constituting a separate district for spiritual purposes out of the parish of Bishop's Hatfield with the chapelry of Totteridge annexed, in the county of Hertford, and in the diocese of Rochester, and assigning the right of patronage of the said district to Anne Florence, Dowager Countess Cowper, her heirs, and assigns, for ever.

For assigning a district chapelry to the consecrated church, called Christ Church, situate at Glanogwen, in the parish of Llanllechid, in the county of Carnarvon, and in the diocese of Bangor, to be named "The District Chapelry of Glanogwen."

For augmenting the income of the Archdeaconry of Westmoreland, in the diocese of Carlisle.

For providing a permanent residence for the Bishop of Llandaff.

For augmenting the income of the archdeaconry of Salop, in the diocese of Hereford.

For authorizing the sale of certain property formerly belonging to the prebend of Gaia Minor, in the cathedral church of Lichfield, and now vested in the said Commissioners.

For assigning the right of patronage of the new parish of Carnmenellis, in the county of Cornwall, and in the diocese of Exeter, and for augmenting the income of the perpetual curate of the said new parish.

For assigning a district chapelry to the consecrated church of Saint John, situate at Clayton, in the parish of Bradford, in the county of York, and in the diocese of Ripon, to be named "The District Chapelry of Saint John Clayton."

For assigning a district chapelry to the consecrated church of Holy Trinity, situate at Hadley, in the parish of Wellington, in the county of Salop, and in the diocese of Lichfield.

For assigning a district chapelry to the consecrated church of Saint Peter, situate at Quernmore, in the parish of Lancaster, in the county of

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 3rd day of February, 1858.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that the time for the discontinuance of burials in the undermentioned churchyards and burial-grounds be postponed as follows, viz.—

In the parish churchyard, and in the burial-grounds of the Independent and Baptist Chapels, AYLESBURY, from the first of January to the first of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in the two churchyards of St. Mary, and in the burial-grounds of Salem Chapel, the Roman Catholic Chapel, the Methodist New Connexion Chapel, and of the Independent Chapel, BARNSLEY, in the parish of Silkstone, from the first of January to the first of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in St. John's Churchyard, and in the English and Welch Baptist Burial-grounds, in the parish of St. John, BRECON, in St. David's Churchyard, and in Christ Church College Burial-ground, also in Brecon, from the first of January to the first of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in All Saints Churchyard, in Christ Churchyard, in Holy Trinity Churchyard, and in the burial-grounds of the Ebenezer and Mares Green Independent Chapels, and of the Wesleyan Chapel, all in WEST BROMWICH, from the first of January to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in the parish churchyard, CROYLAND, Lincolnshire, from the thirty-first of March to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in the churchyard of EGHAM, Surrey, from the first of January to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in the parish churchyard, and in the Baptist Chapel Burial-ground, HUSBAND'S BOSWORTH, from the first of February to the first of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in the parish churchyard of NEWPORT, Salop, from the first of January to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in the churchyard of St. Mary, and in the additional churchyard or parish burial-ground, in the Wesleyan and Independent Burial-grounds, and in the Roman Catholic Burial-ground of Windleshaw Abbey, all in the parochial district of ST. HELENS, in the parish of Prescot, from the first of February to the thirtieth of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in the churchyard of SARRATT, Herts, to the first of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight: in the parish churchyard, and in the Baptist and Plymouth Brethren Burial Grounds, SOUTH MOLTON, from the first of January to the first of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in the new parish burial-ground, and in Bechen Grove Chapel Burial-ground, in WATFORD, Herts, from the first of January to the first of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

And whereas, by an Order in Council of the twenty-fourth of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, burials were directed to be discontinued (with certain exceptions) in the churchyards of St. Bartholomew and St. Thomas, BIRMINGHAM, on and after the first of January last, and such Order was, on the twenty-eighth of November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, varied in respect of the churchyard of St. Bartholomew, and the time for discontinuing burial therein was postponed till the thirty-first of December last; and whereas, by another Order in Council of the twentieth of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, burials were directed to be discontinued on and after the said thirty-first of December in the churchyards or cemeteries of St. Philip, St. Martin, St. Paul, and St. Mary, Birmingham, except as was therein excepted, and it seems fit that the said Orders be varied; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that in the said churchyards of St. Bartholomew, St. Thomas, St. Philip, St. Martin, St. Paul, and St. Mary, BIRMINGHAM, interments be discontinued on the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, except in vaults or walled graves existing on the twentieth of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, in which each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal and separately entombed in an airtight manner, and that in the meantime one body only be buried in a grave, which shall not be less than five feet deep, or opened unless in soil free from remains to that depth.

And whereas, by an Order in Council of the second of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, an Order of the twenty-fourth of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, was varied, in respect of the discontinuance of burials in the General Cemetery in the old parish of BIRMINGHAM, and it seems fit that such first-mentioned Order be varied; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the words "not more than four bodies to be buried in any such grave," in lines twenty-three and twenty-four of the paragraph relating to such General Cemetery in the printed copy of the said Order of the second of December last, be omitted; and that the words "and every such grave to be filled in on the day of burial," in lines twenty-eight and twenty-nine of the said paragraph, be likewise omitted; and it is further ordered, that the words "such graves" be inserted in the said paragraph, in the place of the words so lastly directed to be omitted.

And whereas, by an Order in Council of the twenty-first of November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, burials were directed to be discontinued in the parish churchyard, GAINSBOROUGH, from and after the first of September then next, and it seems fit that the said Order be varied; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice aforesaid, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the use of the now existing vaults and brick graves, in the said churchyard, be allowed, provided that they are free from water; that they can be opened without disturbing soil that has been already buried in; that each coffin be embedded in a layer of powdered charcoal four inches thick, and be separately entombed in an airtight manner; and that the only bodies interred be those of the husbands and wives of persons already buried therein.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 3rd day of February, 1858.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that the representations made (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that no new burial-ground should be opened in any of the undermentioned parishes, without the previous approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and that interments in the same should be discontinued with the following modifications:—

NORTH MEOLS, SOUTHPORT.—Forthwith under all the churches and chapels in the parish of North Meols, and in the churchyards of Trinity and of Christ Church, Southport, and in the burial-grounds of the Roman Catholic and Independent Chapels, in Southport, except in graves which are free from water and from remains to the depth of five feet. No coffin to be buried within a foot of any other coffin, or less than four feet below the surface, unless in a vault or walled grave, in which each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal, and separately entombed in an air-tight manner. ABERDARE.—Forthwith in the Old Baptist or Camel, and in the Independent or Siloas Burial-grounds, in the town of Aberdare; in the Ebenezer, Baptist, and Unitarian Burial-grounds, in Mill-street, and in the Baptist Burial-grounds, at Hirwain Cwmbach, and at Aberamman, and Saron Burial-ground, at Aberamman, except in now existing vaults and walled graves which are free from water, in which each coffin shall be imbedded in charcoal, and separately entombed in an air-tight manner, and except in now existing family graves, which are free from water and remains to the depth of five feet at least; also that no grave be opened within three yards of the Baptist Chapel, at Hirwain, or of any dwelling; also that interment be discontinued in the parish churchyard, in the New Baptist Chapelyard, at Aberdare, in the Independent Burial-grounds at Hirwain, and at Robert's Town, except in family vaults and graves used with the above-named precautions, and except in graves never previously buried in; also that in the New Churchyards at Mill-street, and at Hirwain, the regulations for new burial-grounds be observed. SOWERBY, HALIFAX.—Forthwith beneath Saint Peter's Church, Sowerby, in the parish of Halifax, and in the churchyard, within three yards of all dwelling-houses; also in the Burial-grounds of the Wesleyan Chapel, New-green, and Independent Chapel, West-green, within three yards of all dwelling-houses; and that from and after the first day of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, burials be discontinued in Sowerby Churchyard, with the exception of family vaults and walled graves which were in existence on the first of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and which can be opened without disturbing soil that has been already buried in, and in which each coffin shall be separately entombed in an air-tight manner. WHITBY.—From and after the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, in the Burial-ground of Sleight's Chapel, in the parish of Whitby, with the exception of now existing vaults and brick graves which can be opened without disturbing

NOTICE.

Foreign-Office, February 3, 1858.

The Ambassador of His Majesty the Emperor of the French having notified to the Earl of Clarendon, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, that the Consul-General and other Consular Officers of His Imperial Majesty in the United Kingdom will no longer grant passports to other than subjects of His Imperial Majesty, notice is hereby given, that in order to facilitate the obtaining of passports by British subjects desiring to proceed to the Continent, the conditions of the Fifth Regulation under which such passports have hitherto been issued at the Foreign Office will be extended as hereinafter described.

According to that Regulation passports have hitherto been granted "to British-born subjects, or to Ionians, or to such foreigners as have become naturalized either by Act of Parliament or by a certificate of naturalization granted by the Secretary of State for the Home Department," who were either known to the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, or recommended to him by some person who was known to him, or upon the application of any banking firm established in London, or in any other part of the United Kingdom; but, henceforth, passports will also be granted on the recommendation of the Mayor or Chief Magistrate of any corporate town in the United Kingdom, and also on the recommendation of any Magistrate or Justice of Peace, such recommendation to be addressed, upon the cover, to "Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Passport Office, Downing-street, London," and forwarded by post from the country; and such recommendation should be made in the following form, signed and sealed by the person giving the recommendation.

(Date of place and day of the month.)

The Undersigned,

Mayor of _____

Chief Magistrate of _____ Magistrate for _____ Justice of Peace for _____ recommends A. B., (Christian and surname to be written at length) a British subject _____ for a naturalized British subject

Passport, to enable him _____ to proceed to _____ to travel on the Continent (accompanied, as the case may be, by his wife and children, with their tutor, named C. D., (Christian and surname to be written at length) a British subject a naturalized British subject and governess, a naturalized British subject and maid servant [or servants], and man servant [or servants], named E. F., a British subject [or subjects].

a naturalized British subject [or subjects].)

Signature

(Christian and surname to be written at length.)

(Seal.)

If any person so recommended be a naturalized British subject, his certificate of naturalization, with his signature subscribed to the oath printed on the third page of his certificate, must be forwarded with the application for his passport.

The passport so applied for will be transmitted by return of post, if possible, to the Mayor, Chief Magistrate, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, who may have given the recommendation, to be delivered by him to the party, and if the passport should be required for a naturalized British subject, his certificate will be returned with the passport; but the Mayor, Chief Magistrate, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, on whose application a passport is granted to a naturalized British subject, not being a servant included in his employer's passport, will require such naturalized British subject to sign the passport in his presence.

The charge on the issue of each passport, whatever number of persons may be named in it, is six shillings; and that sum must be forwarded with the application for the passport; and if the remittance be by Post Office order, such order is to be made payable to the "Chief Clerk of the Foreign Office," at the Post Office, Charing Cross.

If, however, a person recommended from the country for a passport prefers it, he may obtain his passport at the Foreign Office, on the day following the receipt of the application, and pay the charge on the passport being delivered to him; but in this case the words "Passport will be applied for at the Foreign Office," must be added to the letter of recommendation.

The form of application heretofore adopted by banking firms will continue to be used by them.

The general Regulations for Passports as now amended are as follows:

1. Applications for Foreign Office Passports must be made in writing; and addressed upon the cover to "Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Passport Office, Downing-street, London."

2. The charge on the issue of a passport, whatever number of persons may be named in it, is, six shillings, which sum includes five shillings stamp-duty.

3. Foreign Office Passports are granted only to British-born subjects, or to Ionians, or to such foreigners as have become naturalized either by Act of Parliament or by a certificate of naturalization granted by the Secretary of State for the Home Department. When the party is a "Naturalized British subject," he will be so designated in his passport; and if his certificate of naturalization be dated subsequently to the 24th of August, 1850, his passport will be marked as good for one year only; but this regulation will not preclude any person whom it affects from obtaining, at any future period, on his producing his old passport, a fresh passport for a further limited period of one year, without being required to pay a fresh charge.

4. Passports are issued between the hours of eleven and four, on the day following that on which the application for the passport has been received at the Foreign Office.

5. Passports are granted to persons who are either known to the Secretary of State, or recommended to him by some person who is known to him, or upon the application of any Banking Firm established in London, or in any other part of the United Kingdom; or upon the recommendation of the Mayor or Chief Magistrate of any corporate town in the United Kingdom; or of any Magistrate or Justice of the Peace.

6. Passports cannot be sent by the Foreign Office to a person already abroad; such person should apply to the nearest British Mission or Consulate.

7. Foreign Office Passports must be countersigned at the Mission in London, or at some Con-

United Kingdom, of the Government by which the bearer of the passport is issued.

Foreign Office Passport granted for one British-born subject or to an Ionian, "Naturalized British subject" whose cer-tification is dated previously to 1850, may be used for any subsequent journey countersigned afresh by the Ministers of the countries which the bearer intends to visit; but a passport granted for one "Naturalized British subject" whose certification is dated subsequently to the 24th of June 1850, can only be used for a subsequent journey undertaken within the period for which it has been originally granted.
 Foreign Office, February, 1858.

THE QUEEN'S LEVEES.

NEW REGULATIONS

TO BE OBSERVED WITH REGARD TO THE QUEEN'S LEVEES AT ST. JAMES'S PALACE, Issued by Her Majesty's Command, February 6, 1858.

The Noblemen and Gentlemen, who propose to attend Her Majesty's Levees, at St. James's ce, are requested to bring with them two cards, with their names clearly written on, one to be left with The Queen's Page in attendance in the Corridor, and the other to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, who will announce the name to the Queen.

PRESENTATIONS.

Any Nobleman or Gentleman who proposes to be presented to the Queen must leave at the Lord Chamberlain's Office, before twelve o'clock, two clear cards before the Levee, a card with his name written on, and with the name of the Nobleman or Gentleman by whom he is to be presented.

It is also necessary, in order to carry out the above regulation that no presentation can be made at a Levee excepting by a person actually attending that Levee, that a letter from the Nobleman or Gentleman who is to make the presentation, stating it to be his intention to be presented, should accompany the presentation card to be referred to, which will be submitted to the Queen for Her Majesty's approbation. It is Her Majesty's command, that no presentations shall be made at the Levees, except in accordance with the above regulations.

It is particularly requested, that in every case the names be very distinctly written upon the cards to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, in order that there may be no difficulty in announcing them to The Queen.

ADDRESSES.

Notice is hereby given, that all persons having names or addresses to present to Her Majesty at the Levees are to send a card having on it their names, a statement of the object of such applications or Addresses, and the names of th persons from whom they come, to the Lord Chamberlain's Office, before twelve o'clock on the day but one previous to each Levee; and that two other cards, having on them precisely what is written upon that sent to the Lord Chamberlain's Office, are to be taken to the Levee; one of the two cards to be delivered to the Page in the Corridor, and the other to the Lord Chamberlain, who will read its contents to Her Majesty; and, on these occasions, no other statement is to be addressed to Her Majesty.

A Deputation to present an Address is not to exceed four persons.

The state apartments will not be open for the reception of Company coming to Court, until half-past one o'clock.

Buckingham Palace, January 30, 1858.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, Common Council, and Officers of the City of London, waited upon their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess Frederick William of Prussia with the following Addresses, which were read by Russell Gurney, Esq., the Recorder, and which their Royal Highnesses were graciously pleased to receive :

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE FREDERICK WILLIAM of Prussia.

Sir,

WE, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, are desirous of offering to your Royal Highness our congratulations on the Marriage of your Royal Highness to the Princess Royal of England.

We rejoice that a Princess, who has won for herself the affectionate sympathy and esteem of the people of this country, should be united to one whose Princely birth, mental attainments, and firm attachment to our Protestant faith, afford the best security for conjugal felicity.

We earnestly pray that the Almighty may be pleased to bless the Union, and that the fondest wishes of your Royal Highness and our beloved Princess may be fully realized.

Signed by order of Court,

Henry Alworth Merewether.

To which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

" My Lord Mayor and Gentlemen,

" I am most grateful for the congratulations, good wishes, and affectionate feelings conveyed in address, on behalf of the Corporation of this metropolis.

I sincerely rejoice to find that an alliance, so my heart, meets with the cordial sympathy of the citizens of London, and it is to me a source of satisfaction to form, through this alliance, a closer connection with this enlightened country and her people."

Royal Highness the PRINCESS FREDERICKA
WILLIAM, Princess Royal of England.

Madam,

Your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, with your permission, offer to your Royal Highness the Princess the most sincere congratulations on your auspicious marriage with His Royal Highness the Prince of Prussia.

As it is our happiness to live, under a Queen, distinguished no less by her private than her Queenly virtues, we have looked forward with the most sanguine anticipations to the benefit of her parental care.

With delight and gratitude that we see in your Royal Highness our fondest anticipations realized.

Regret, indeed, the approaching departure of your Royal Highness from your native land, but we are comforted in the thought that, united to an illustrious Prince, in every way worthy of your attachment, the happiness of your Royal Highness will be complete, and that in your newly-adopted country you will receive the respectful homage of a free and enlightened people.

I beseech, Madam, graciously to accept these wishes for the happiness of your Royal Highness and your Princely Consort, and be assured that, as England's eldest daughter, your Royal Highness will be remembered by the citizens of London with pride, and your future course watched with the most affectionate solicitude.

- Signed by order of Court,
Henry Abworth Merewether.

To which address Her Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

" My Lord Mayor and Gentlemen,

" Your very kind Address calls for my warmest acknowledgments.

" I especially thank you for alluding to the heavy debt of gratitude I owe to my Royal Parents.

" To show myself at all times worthy of their past tender solicitude, and to emulate their example, will, through life, be the object of my ambition.

" It cannot but afford me the greatest satisfaction to find in the sentiments expressed by you an additional and important proof that an alliance, formed with a view to my happiness and in accordance with the choice of my heart, meets with the joyous approbation of my beloved native country, to which I shall ever remain faithfully and devotedly attached.

" Whilst I confidently follow my beloved husband to a distant country, where the esteem and love which he so deservedly enjoys will be a security for my kind and cordial reception, your assurance that you will sometimes think of me when departed will lessen the pangs of separation."

Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 3rd day of February, 1858.

No. 803.

Major-General A. Wilson, Commandant of Artillery, to the Secretary, Military Department, East India House.

*Head Quarters of Artillery,
Meerut, December 14, 1857.*

In obedience to instructions received from the of the Adjutant-General of the Army, Fort Miam, I have the honour to forward a nominal list of non-commissioned officers and soldiers of the Regiment under my command, who have been either killed or wounded, or have died since the commencement of the outbreak.

This list is, I regret to say, incomplete, as, owing to the interruption to dak communication, returns have been received from companies stationed in the margin,* stationed in General District and the Lower Provinces. The casualties which may have occurred in these companies there have not been included.

1st Company 1st Battalion, 1st Company 3rd Battalion, 1st Company 3rd Battalion, 1st Company 5th Battalion, 1st Company 5th Battalion, 4th Company 5th Battalion, 1st Company 6th Battalion.

3. Nor, for the same reason, have I been able to furnish you with a list of casualties in the 1st Troop 1st Brigade, and 2nd Troop 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery, and the 3rd Company 1st Battalion of Foot, later than the 1st October last, these troops and the Company have been detached from the Delhi Field Force on the fall of that place, and are now assisting in the operations at Lucknow.

I have, &c.,

A. WILSON, Major-General,
Commandant of Artillery.

List showing the different dates up to which the several Troops and Companies of the Bengal Artillery have forwarded their Nominal Rolls of Wounded Men, Wounded European Commissioned Officers of the Honourable Company's Army that have reported to this Department, from the 27th September, 1857, up to this date.

Lieutenant Frank Samwell, 6th N.I., received a severe wound in action with the rebels at Mahidpoor, near Mahidpoor, on the 12th November 1857. From latest reports received, the officer is recovering in health most favourably.

Lieutenant Hugh Watson, 33rd N.I., wounded on the morning of the 27th September, 1857, when in command of the advance guard of the Kampooveable Column, by a party of rebels and members of the 52nd Bengal N.I., lying in ambush in the jungle between the villages of Mahidpoor and Kuttensee; received a slight gun shot wound under the left eye, the cicatrix of which has contracted the lower eyelid, but without injury to sight, and at the same time a contusion of left shoulder, from a fall. He has not recovered the complete use of his arm.

Lieutenant Benjamin John Chauvel Prior, 33rd N.I., wounded in action on the 18th of September, 1857, on the occasion of a detachment of the Saugor Brigade attacking the village of Narriowlee, in which a number of rebels and mutineers had taken up a position; received a gun shot wound through both thighs. The wound severe in the right thigh, the bone having been injured. The wound in the left thigh slight.

Buckingham-Palace, February 9, 1858.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Earl of Derby, D.C.L., and a Deputation from the University of Oxford, waited upon Her Majesty to present the following Address, which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive on the Throne :

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of University of Oxford, humbly beg leave to reach your Throne with the expression of our most fervent congratulations on the Marriage of your Majesty's eldest Daughter, the Princess Royal of Great Britain and Ireland, with His Royal Highness the Prince Frederick William of Prussia.

This auspicious event, in which your Majesty's paternal affection, the dignity of your Royal Throne, and the interests of the British Nation are so deeply concerned, is hailed by us, in concert with all your Majesty's faithful people, with sentiments of thankful joy, and fervent prayers that it may be attended by the Divine blessing.

It is our earnest prayer that it may please the Almighty of all good to fulfil the hopes fondly cherished by your Majesty and by His Royal Highness the Prince Consort, for the happiness and prosperity of your beloved daughter and her husband, and for the welfare of the two nations, whose ancient alliance will be drawn closer by this happy union.

And we are encouraged to contemplate with greater confidence this happy prospect, by the assurance which we entertain of the high and noble qualities of the royal bridegroom, and by our knowledge of the inestimable privilege which your Royal Highness the Princess has enjoyed of being brought up in the principles and practice of the Christian religion, and of having continually before her eyes the bright example of domestic virtue, and of the conscientious discharge of the highest obligations and duties of royalty.

Given at our House of Convocation, under our Common Seal, this twenty-eighth day of January, in the year of our Lord 1858.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

“I thank you very sincerely for your loyal and affectionate Address, and for the additional proof which you have afforded me on this happy occasion of the dutiful attachment to my person and family constantly evinced by the University of Oxford.

“I fervently join in your prayer that it will please God to fulfil the confident hopes entertained for the lasting happiness of my beloved daughter and of the excellent Prince her husband, and I trust that their union will also promote the best interests of the two great nations whom it draws together by a new and closer bond.”

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the General Body of Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the Three Denominations, residing in and near the cities of London and Westminster, approach your Royal Presence to offer our respectful congratulations on the happy Marriage of the Princess Royal with Prince Frederick William of Prussia, expressing on this occasion our continued attachment to your Majesty's person and throne. We desire your Majesty to believe that we sincerely sympathize in those parental and domestic affections which this interesting event must have so powerfully awakened, and that we follow with earnest prayers, both public and private, for the richest of earthly and heavenly benefits, the young Prince and Princess to the country which is Her Royal Highness's adopted home, and to which we trust they are destined unitedly to become so great a blessing. May it be the daughter's happiness to emulate the virtues of her mother. We have the more satisfaction in offering to your Majesty our dutiful congratulations on this joyous occasion, because the event which has thus united the Royal Houses of Great Britain and Prussia protestant Dissenting Ministers of the Pres-an denomination, residing in and about the cities of London and Westminster, approach the Throne with sentiments of profound respect and devoted attachment, to offer to your Majesty our sincere and hearty congratulations on the auspicious event of the Marriage of your daughter, the Princess Royal, with His Royal Highness Prince Frederick William of Prussia. We earnestly trust that the union thus formed may be a long and happy one, fulfilling all the best hopes and wishes of your Majesty's heart, and that of your illustrious Consort.

May it also be attended with results favourable to the cause of freedom, humanity, and peace ; and be the means of more closely uniting the two kingdoms of England and Prussia in the bonds of reciprocal interest and mutual friendship.

With our fellow countrymen at large, we are grateful for the example set by your Majesty and your Majesty's Consort, of those domestic virtues and charities so important to the good order and welfare of society, and which adorn alike the palace and the cottage.

Long may the guardian care of Divine Providence preserve to us that example, to shed its benign influence on the minds of the people over whom, and in the hearts of whom, your Majesty happily reigns.

It is our fervent prayer to Him who is the Giver of all good, that the choicest of Heaven's blessings may rest upon your Majesty, your Majesty's illustrious Consort, and every member of your Royal House.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

Report of Defences of Residency.

Lucknow, October 5, 1857.

THE outbreak at Meerut and Delhi, and reports of general disaffection among the Sepoys, caused Sir Henry Lawrence to take immediate measures for the defence of the place. Some time previously he had selected the Muchee Bowun as a site for our magazine and stores, and judging it, from its very commanding position and the moral effect that the occupation of it would exercise over the city, he in the first instance proceeded to strengthen it. The works were commenced on the 17th May, and carried forward with unremitting energy by Lieutenant Innes, under the general direction of Major Anderson, Chief Engineer, until the commencement of the siege.

The defence of the Residency was also commenced, though at first it received a secondary share of attention. It was not till after the mutiny in cantonments (30th May), and the subsequent mutinies of corps in the district, that it became apparent that we should have probably to defend ourselves against a combined attack of mutineers and rebels from the country and city. The more clear this became, the more clearly the inadequacy of the Muchee Bowun as a fortified position became apparent. It was also seen that, if the mutineers came on in great force, we had not sufficient hands an both it and the Residency ; and having obtained, after full consideration, the defects of Muchee Bowun, both as regards defensive works and shelter of troops, and the large European community, Sir Henry Lawrence made his mind to abandon it, on the investment of the city by the enemy.

On this being decided (11th June), the defences of the Residency were proceeded with with vigor. Up to this, the Chief Engineer was doubtful as to the extent of the force he had to shelter within the limits of defences, or to man the works, but now he could form a definite plan, and he lost no time in forming a connected line of defensive works around the buildings he thought it necessary to occupy.

The Residency Compound was first protected by a line of parapet and ditch across it ; a strong work, since named " the Redan," was constructed at the corner of the Garden, which furnished a command over the iron bridge.

A battery (called " the Cawnpore") was constructed at the opposite point of our position enclosing the Cawnpore-road, and was then designed to serve as a barrier to the approach of mutineers to Cawnpore.

Two other batteries were partially constructed, one between Gubbins' and Ommanney's Compounds, the other between the slaughter-house and sheep-pen ; but neither were ready at the commencement of the siege, and want of labour prevented their being completed afterwards.

Heavy and light guns and mortars, more or less protected by parapets, were placed in various positions intermediate to the above-mentioned principal batteries. Those positions are marked in the annexed sketch, though of course various changes occurred during the siege ; a gun or mortar having been frequently required to silence an enemy's battery and withdrawn when the object was accomplished.

Mr. Gubbins, by means of labourers procured by his subordinates, carried on the defences of his own compound; and the general line round our position was continued from battery to battery, and house to house, by abbatis (in lanes), and by parapets and ditches, or stockades.

Outside our line of works also a great amount of labour was required. Masses of buildings extended to within a few feet of us in nearly every direction, and though some of them would act as traverses to us from the enemy's batteries, the majority were a most undoubted source of annoyance to us, and it was necessary to proceed with their removal as vigorously as our means permitted. Several mosques, which occupied positions commanding us, were left alone, much to our future injury; but I believe the reason that prevented their removal was a good one, namely, the danger of precipitating an outbreak before we were prepared for it. But, apart from this, the demolition of private buildings was far from complete. The affair of Chinhut brought the enemy upon us earlier, I believe, than was anticipated by any individual of our force and our command of labour having been limited, we had to close our gates with nothing in many places separating us from the besiegers but the width of the streets. The houses that remained became nests of rebels, and besides forming secure starting points for their mines, enabled them from under shelter to keep a deadly fire of musketry upon us day and night, and it is to it, and not to round shot, that we have to attribute the greater part of our casualties. The latter was mainly injurious in destroying the buildings occupied by our troops and camp followers; and, though the loss of life, considering the amount of battering they sustained, was much less than was to be expected, it was a constant source of danger and annoyance to the garrison, and the repair of damage entailed heavy labour on men who were weakened by exposure and want of rest.

The enemy proceeded to invest the place immediately on the return of our forces from Chinbut on the 30th June. The Muchee Bowun was still garrisoned by our troops, though the treasure and greater portion of the munitions and stores had been previously removed to the Residency, and it now became an object of primary importance to withdraw the garrison without loss. A telegraphic message was communicated to Lieutenant Innes, the Engineer Officer, to the effect that the powder in the magazine, about 200 barrels, was to be used in blowing up the fort, and that the garrison was to leave at midnight on the 1st July. This order was carried out with perfect success, and the garrison marched into our gates without the loss of a man.

The Garden Battery was one of the first established by the enemy. It played on the Guard House at the Cawnpore Battery, the Battery itself, Brigade Mess, Anderson's, and Judicial Commissioner's. The combined fire of heavy guns and musketry on the Cawnpore Battery became so deadly that our guns could not be served, and eventually it was thought necessary to withdraw them and to leave the position to be defended by musketry, and to repair the parapets as fast as they were damaged by the enemy's round shot.

At the beginning of the siege, the 8-inch howitzer which fell into the enemy's hands at Chinbut, was placed out of sight of our guns on the opposite bank of the river near the bridge of boats, and kept up a destructive fire on the Residency. It was by one of the shells from it that Sir Henry Lawrence was killed.

Batteries were also established by the enemy on the road leading from the iron bridge in front of Gubbins' House, the Brigade Mess, and Post Office, and at the Clock Tower, and all the buildings were more or less damaged by them. A portion of the Residency was battered down, and six men were buried in the ruins. Many of the buildings were reduced to such a state as to appear to be quite untenable, but the garrison continued to occupy nearly all; and though the defences of the posts have been very much weakened by the continued and heavy fire, not a single one has been abandoned; on the contrary, several buildings (Financial Commissioner's, Sago's, and Innes') have been occupied and strengthened since the commencement of the siege.

When the enemy found that neither by repeated attacks, nor the destruction of our buildings, he could force us from our posts, he had recourse to mining. This had been anticipated, but the chief engineer, acting under the suggestion of the late Captain Fulton, would not take the initiative, as he apprehended that our enemies would at once follow our example, and that the unlimited command of labour they possessed would give us a poor chance of competing with them.

The first mine exploded by the enemy was at the Redan [20th July]. It preceded a general attack, and both as regards direction and distance was a complete failure. This was followed by one at the angle of the Seikh Square, and is the only one from which any loss of life on our side has been sustained. The sound of the mining had not been heard owing to the proximity of the horses, and the guard were completely ed [27th July]. Seven drummers were on this occasion.

other mines, at the building occupied by rtinière boys and at Sago's, were also ex-[10th August], but beyond breaking the ne of walls, did no damage. The enemy ase showed any great alacrity in assaulting aches, and we soon formed retrenchments of them.

had, meanwhile, commenced countermining, a the 5th August foiled a mine of the s against the Guard House, at the Cawn-attery, and since then, up to the arrival of ieving force, we have been incessantly emin mining and countermining. We have ly worked into their galleries, and after frightened the miners away, have de-them, or, in some cases, we have blown in alleries by charging and firing our own.
hardly add that this was a service of

of our mines, for directly offensive objects, separate notice: the one at Sago's, to the s guard-room, which we blew down with a them of, it is supposed, between twenty rty men: the second, to Johannes' house, h we destroyed above eighty of the enemy.
xplosion was followed by a sortie to cover nolition of the remainder of the house and oining, which object was effectually accom-
, and relieved us from the destructive fire y of the enemy's best marksmen. I may n that several sorties were made on other ns, and with equal success.

had, on the arrival of the relieving force, galleries ready for countermining further ons of the enemy. Several of the enemy's galleries have since been discovered and destroyed.

I believe I have now noted every measure of importance with reference to the defence and attack of the place on an engineering point of view, and it remains for me to add the means at our disposal for carrying on work.

During the early part of the siege we had working parties of Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment. On one work during the night, I have had forty-two men. The soldiers, however, had their other duties to perform, they were exposed to rain, and were very often under arms, which prevented their having a proper amount of rest. They could therefore have little physical strength left to work in the trenches, and as the siege progressed, their numerical strength became so much reduced, that it was necessary to give up European working parties almost entirely, and to depend on the Sepoys. The latter came forward most willingly, and I cannot speak too highly of the way in which they worked. They have also been of material assistance in our mining operations, and a party of the 13th Native Infantry—thanks to the good management of Lieutenant Aitken—have constructed a battery for an 18-pounder, worked the gun, and dug a shaft and gallery at their own post.

There has been but one squad of European miners, eight men under Serjeant Day, all of whom have worked with the most unremitting zeal throughout.

As regards general superintendence, the late Major Anderson, Chief Engineer, designed the defences of the Muchee Bowun and Residency, and until shortly before his death, directed the construction of the various works and repairs.

Captain Fulton became the Senior Engineer

Officer on the demise of Major Anderson on the 11th August. He had constructed the greater portion of the defences, powder magazines, &c., and up to the day of his death displayed the most unremitting energy, in spite of bad health, in advancing our work. In particular he took a most active part in foiling the enemy's attempt to destroy our advanced post by mines, and the manner in which he conducted the blasting operations during our sorties, invariably excited the admiration of all who were present, officers and men.

In the performance of the above-mentioned, and engineering operations generally, he received the most able and untiring support from Lieutenants Hutchinson, Innes, and Tulloh, and the late Lieutenant Birch, and latterly, since Captain Fulton's death, I have received much assistance from Lieutenant Hay, Assistant Field Engineer. The active part I myself have taken in the superintendence of works, has been small, owing to my having suffered from continued ill health.

Finally, I beg to bring to the notice of the Brigadier the excellent service performed by the late Mr. Casey, head accountant to the Chief Engineer, who had been Serjeant-Major of Sappers, and who was recommended by Major Anderson for the rank of Assistant Field Engineer; of the late Mr. Supervisor Barrett; Mr. Beale, Overseer; and Serjeant Ryder, Assistant Overseer—all of whom have left families behind them.

J. C. ANDERSON, Lieutenant,
Garrison Engineer.

War-Office, February 1, 1858.

THE Queen has been pleased to issue a Commission under Her Royal sign manual, of which the following is a copy, to enquire into the subject of Ordnance Survey, and the scale or scales upon which the maps and plans of the United Kingdom should be drawn and published :

VICTORIA, by the grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, to Our right trusty and well-beloved John, Baron Wrottesley, President of Our Royal Society ; our right trusty and right well-beloved Counsellor, William, Earl of Rosse ;
our right trusty and well-beloved Councillor, Henry, Baron Brougham and Vaux ;
our right trusty and well-beloved Councillor, George James Turner, Knight, one of the Lords Justices of the Court of Appeal ;

Our right trusty and well-beloved Councillor, Duncan McNeill, Lord Justice General and President of the Court of Session in Scotland ;

Our trusty and well-beloved George Biddell Airy, Esquire, Our Astronomer Royal ;

Our right trusty and well-beloved Councillor, Edward Cardwell ;

Our trusty and well-beloved Duncan Alexander Cameron, Esquire, Colonel in Our Army, with the temporary rank of Major-General, Vice-President of the Council of Military Education, Companion of Our Most Honourable Order of the Bath ;

Our trusty and well-beloved Richard Griffith, Doctor of Laws, Chairman of the Board of Public Works in Ireland ;

Our trusty and well-beloved Isambard Kingdom Brunel, Fellow of Our Royal Society, and Civil Engineer ; and

Our trusty and well-beloved Charles Blacker Vignoles, Fellow of Our Royal Society, and Civil Engineer, Greeting :

Whereas We have thought it expedient, for divers good causes and considerations, that a Commission should forthwith issue for the purpose of enquiring into the subject of the Ordnance Survey, and the scale or scales upon which the maps and plans of the United Kingdom should be drawn and published :

Now know ye, that We, reposing great trust and confidence in your knowledge and ability, have authorised and appointed, and do, by these presents, authorise and appoint you, the said John, Baron Wrottesley ; William, Earl of Rosse ; Henry, Baron Brougham and Vaux ; Sir George James Turner ; Duncan McNeill ; George Biddell Airy ; Edward Cardwell ; Duncan Alexander Cameron ; Richard Griffith ; Isambard Kingdom Brunel ; and Charles Blacker Vignoles ; to be Our Commissioners for the purpose aforesaid: and it shall be the will and pleasure that you, Our said Commissioners, or any three or more of you, shall be called into and report upon—

The principal purposes which the National Survey should subserve ;

The progress which has been made in the survey, and the scales upon which the maps and plans have hitherto been drawn and published :

The change or changes in those scales, or in any of the details of the survey, which, according to your judgment, should be made :
 The estimated cost of completing the surveys of England and Wales, Scotland and Ireland, respectively, on the scales and in the manner which you recommend to be adopted.

In order for the better enabling you to form a sound opinion on the premises, We do hereby authorize and empower you, or any three or more of you, to call before you all such persons as you may think most competent by reason of their situation, age and experience, to afford you correct information on the subject of this enquiry.

And it is Our further will and pleasure that you, or any three or more of you, do report to Us, in your hands and seals, your several proceedings by virtue of this Our Commission, together with your opinions on the several matters mentioned for your consideration. And We will command that this Our Commission shall continue in full force and virtue, and that you, Our Commissioners, or any three or more of you may from time to time proceed in the execution thereof, although the same may not be continued from time to time by adjournment. And We do give our assistance in the due execution of this

Our Commission, We have made choice of Our trusty and well-beloved George Gabriel Stokes, Esquire, to be Secretary to this Our Commission, and to attend you, whose services and assistance We empower you to avail yourselves of from time to time as occasion may require.

Given at Our Court, at Windsor, the twenty-fourth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, in the twenty-first year of Our reign.

By Her Majesty's Command.

(Signed) PANMURE.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of FEBRUARY 16, 1858.

Buckingham-Palace, February 9, 1858.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, Common Council, and Officers of the City of London, waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was read by Russell Gurney, Esq., the Recorder, and which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive upon the Throne :

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, approach the Throne with the strongest feelings of attachment to your Majesty's person and Government, to offer our humble congratulations on the Marriage of the Princess Royal of England with His Royal Highness the Prince Frederick William of Prussia.

We participate in the joy which your Majesty must feel at an event so well calculated to increase the happiness of your illustrious daughter, and we gladly avail ourselves of the opportunity now afforded to us of manifesting to your Majesty the deep interest taken by the citizens of London, in all which concerns your Majesty's happiness or the glory of your Royal House.

While, however, offering to your Majesty our honest congratulations on this joyous occasion, we are deeply sensible of the loss we shall sustain by the approaching departure from our shores of Her whom we shall ever remember with pride as the Princess Royal of England, but we are cheered by the hope that in her newly adopted land her example and her influence will be productive of the happiest results.

That the blessing of Almighty God may rest upon the Marriage, and that He may be pleased to make it to your Majesty, and to all the members of your august Family, the source of long continued happiness is our ardent prayer.

Signed by Order of Court,

Henry Alworth Merewether.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

“I thank you very sincerely for your renewed assurances of attachment to my Person and Government on this happy occasion, and for your congratulations on the Marriage of my beloved Daughter with a Prince in all respects worthy of her affections.

It is most gratifying to me to receive the warm and heartfelt sympathy of my faithful people on an event so deeply interesting to me, and which so nearly concerns my own happiness and that of my Family.”

They were all very graciously received, and the Lord Mayor, the Mover and Secunder of the Address, had the honour of kissing Her Majesty's hand.

Buckingham Palace, February 9, 1858.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, Common Council, and Officers of the city of London waited upon His Royal Highness the Prince Consort with the following Address, which was read by Russell Gurney, Esquire, the Recorder, and which His Royal Highness was graciously pleased to receive:

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE CONSORT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the city of London, in Common Council assembled, desire to offer to your Royal Highness our heartfelt congratulations on the Marriage of the Princess Royal of England with His Royal Highness Prince Frederick William of Prussia.

common with all loyal subjects of Her Majesty, we rejoice at an event which affords the prospect of increased happiness to your illustrious character, and adds dignity to your Royal House.

We acknowledge with gratitude our obligations to your Royal Highness for the benefits which, as a parent, we have derived from your Royal Highness's example and influence; and we rejoice to think that the eldest daughter of England in a distant land, reflect those princely and domestic virtues which have shone around her so brightly in her native home.

That your Royal Highness may be long spared to witness the virtues of your descendants, the result of a parent's example and care, is the earnest wish of the citizens of London.

Signed by order of Court,
Henry Alworth Merewether.

which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious answer:

The Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the city of London, in Common Council assembled.

I feel deeply the kindness which has prompted the present Address.

It is most gratifying to me to have witnessed an interest so universally expressed by all classes of the people in this country in the happiness of my eldest daughter. And my warmest and most grateful acknowledgments are due to the citizens of London for the very kind and flattering manner in which they have now once more given proof of their loyal and affectionate devotion to Her Majesty and her family."

Clarence House, St. James, February 9, 1858.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, Common Council, and Officers of the city of London, waited upon Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Kent with the following Address, which was read by Russell Gurney, Esquire, the Recorder, and which Her Royal Highness was graciously pleased to receive :

To Her Royal Highness the DUCHESS of KENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

We, Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen. and Commons of the city of London. in Common Council assembled, desire to congratulate your Royal Highness on the Marriage of your granddaughter the Princess Royal of England with His Royal Highness the Prince Frederick William of Prussia.

The citizens of London retain a grateful recollection of the public and private virtues of His late Royal Highness the Duke of Kent, and they cannot but take a lively interest in all that concerns the happiness and prosperity of his royal descendants.

We rejoice therefore in the opportunity that is afforded us of testifying our respect for his memory, and of expressing to your Royal Highness our earnest hope that you may for very many years have the joy of witnessing in a second generation the virtues which distinguished your illustrious Consort.

Signed by order of Court,
Henry Alworth Merewether.

To which Address Her Royal Highness was ed to return the following most gracious wer :

My Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council,

I thank you for your kind congratulations on Marriage of my beloved grandchild to Prince erick William of Prussia, and I beg to assure that I am very sensible of your respectful embrance of my late lamented husband, and he lively interest you express in the happiness is descendants."

THE Secretary of State for War has this day received a Despatch, of which the following is a copy, addressed to his Lordship by Major-General C. T. Van Straubenzee, C.B., Commanding Her Majesty's Land Forces in China :

MY LORD, Canton, December 29, 1857.

I HAVE great satisfaction in reporting that Canton City was escaladed and captured this day at nine o'clock, with a more trifling loss than could have been expected. Great emulation was displayed by the whole Allied Force, amongst whom the greatest cordiality and good feeling exists.

We have to deplore the loss of Captain Bates, of the Royal Navy, also of Lieutenant Hackett, of the 59th Regiment. Lieutenant Bowen, of the same regiment, has been seriously wounded.

All is still in confusion, and the mail leaving ; I must therefore defer further details till the next opportunity.

I have, &c.,

Admiralty, February 15, 1858.

DESPATCHES, of which the following are copies, have been received by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty from Rear-Admiral Sir Michael Seymour.

OPERATIONS AT CANTON.

No. 357.

Her Majesty's Ship Coromandel, at Canton, SIR, December 28, 1857.

MY Letter, No. 343, of the 15th instant, conveyed the intelligence of the peaceable occupation of Honan Point by the forces of the Allied Powers, and that a letter had been sent in to Yeh, the Imperial High Commissioner, by the Ambassadors of the Allied Powers, stating the demands of the two Governments, and granting ten days for a consideration of the same, failing compliance with which, coercive measures would be commenced against the city of Canton.

2. The brigade of Royal Marines and Royal Marine Artillery were immediately afterwards brought up to the large storehouses on Honan, and comfortably quartered, as well as a portion of the Naval Brigade. The troops were left on board the transports "Lancashire Witch" and "Mooresfoot," at Whampoa, and the French Contingent remained on board their own ships, except a small party in conjoint occupation at Honan.

3. On the 18th, I received a communication from the Earl of Elgin and Baron Gros, stating that the reply of the High Commissioner had been received—that it was most unsatisfactory, and inviting the naval and military commanders-in-chief to a conference on board the "Audacieuse," to consider what further steps should be taken, in consequence of Yeh's determination to resist the very moderate demands of the two Governments.

4. The conference was held on the 21st instant, when it was determined that the Plenipotentiaries should address a letter to the Imperial High Commissioner, informing his Excellency that, in consequence of his non-compliance with the demands submitted for his consideration, the further settlement of the question had been transferred to the naval and military authorities, and that we should also address a letter to his Excellency stating the above fact, and that if, at the end of a further term of forty-eight hours, the city should be peacefully surrendered into our hands, life and property would be respected, but that, if the terms were not accepted, the city would be attacked.

5. All our efforts to avert the evils of war from the Chinese having failed, through the obstinate determination which has characterized the proceedings of the Imperial Commissioner from October 21, 1856, nothing remained for the Commanders of the Allied Forces but to address the Imperial Commissioner, and to carry into execution the painful alternative of attacking Canton, which was commenced at daylight this morning. The departure of the packet will prevent my giving any further reports. I am now on the point of joining the forces disembarking at Kuper's Island for the assault on the city walls.

6. I beg to enclose copies of two General Orders of the 26th instant, and of Memoranda issued by Major-General Van Straubenzee, containing the necessary arrangements for the attack, which I hope will put their lordships in full possession of our intended proceedings.

7. I have pleasure in reporting that the most perfect unanimity exists between the Commanders-in-Chief of the Allied Forces.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) M. SEYMOUR,

Rear-Admiral and Commander-in-Chief.

To the Secretary of the Admiralty, London.

GENERAL ORDER.

Before Canton, December, 1857.

The naval and military Commanders-in-Chief of the allied forces before Canton have agreed to the following order of operations against the city. First bombardment to commence at daylight on Monday morning the 28th of December.

The ships and vessels named in the note (under letter A) on the signal hereafter indicated being made, will open fire on the south-west angles of the city walls, with a view to breach them, and impede the communication of the Chinese troops along their parapets to the eastward.

The ships and vessels named in the note (under letter B), near the Dutch Folly, with a similar object, will breach the city walls opposite the Viceroy's residence; the mortars in the Dutch Folly, and the Niger and Avalanche, likewise shelling the city heights and Gough heights.

The ships and vessels named in the note (under letter C), between the Dutch Folly and the French Folly, will open fire on the south-east angles of the new and old city walls, and the walls forming the east side of the city.

(A) Actæon, Phlegethon, and gunboats.

(B) Mitraille, Fusée, Cruizer, Hornet; and a gunboat.

(C) Nimrod, Surprise, Dragonne, Marceau, and gunboats. After one P.M. the three first-named ships will alter their fire to the city and Gough's heights. The Marceau and gunboats will, after one P.M., alter their fire to the north-east city gate.

These three several attacks will commence simultaneously, when a white ensign shall be hoisted at the fore of the Actæon, and a yellow flag as a corresponding signal at the same time hoisted at the fore of the Phlegethon.

The Hornet and the Avalanche will repeat these signals at their fore so long as the flags shall remain flying on the beforementioned ships.

The bombardment is to be in very slow time, and continued day and night, not to exceed per each gun employed 60 rounds during the first 24 hours, except the ships under letter C, which will fire 100 rounds.

Immediately the bombardment opens the landing of the allied forces will take place at the creek in Kuper Passage, where the British and French flags will be planted) in the following order, commencing at daylight :—

1. Sappers and Miners, 59th Regiment, Royal Artillery, stores and ammunition.
2. The French Naval Brigade, stores, &c.
3. The Naval Brigade, under the orders of Commodore the Hon. C. G. I. B. Elliot.
4. The Naval Brigade from Canton.
5. Lieutenant-Colonel Lemon's battalion of Royal Marines, &c.
6. Colonel Holloway's Brigade of Royal Marines, &c.

(When last boat of No. 1 has passed No. 2 will commence and so on with the remainder.)

The disembarkation of the French forces will be superintended by Captain Reinaud, flag captain ; the British troops and Royal Marines by Major the Hon. H. Clifford.

The British Naval Brigade, by Captain W. K. Hall, C.B., flag-captain.

the following will be the disposition of the ed forces after landing :—

British Naval Brigade on the right.

Centre brigade, composed of Lieutenant-Colonel on's provisional battalion, 59th Regiment, al Artillery, and Sappers.

French brigade on the left.

Colonel Holloway's brigade in reserve, with al Marine Artillery.

After getting into position the Allied Forces remain in line of continuous columns of briuntil further orders for an advance, which be made to a position for the night, prepara-to active service on the following morning.

M. SEYMOUR, Rear-Admiral,

Commander-in-Chief of Her Britannic Majesty's Naval Forces.

M. SEYMOUR, Rear-Admiral and Commander-in-Chief.

To the Commodore. Captains, Commanders, and Commanding Officers, of Her Majesty's Ships and Vessels, Canton River.

MEMORANDA.

ON the 1st day the 59th Regiment is to be told off for the attack on Fort Lin, supported by a battalion of the French Brigade.

Fort Lin is afterwards to be occupied by Colonel Holloway's Brigade.

The following morning, the whole of the 59th Regiment and 38th Madras Native Infantry are to form the covering party to keep down the fire from the walls.

The ladders of the French, Centre, and Naval Brigades having been placed on the first night as near the ditch as practicable, the parties told off for them will, when ordered, advance, and form the storming party, the remainder being in support.

The French Brigade will escalate as near as possible to the north side of Blind Man's House, the British Naval Brigade 600 yards to the north and the Centre Brigade between the two.

After entering the place, the French Brigade will form on the open ground inside the wall, ing southwards, to take, close, and occupy Eastern Gate. This accomplished, the remainder of the Brigade will move northward to the wall.

The British Naval Brigade will form on the ramparts and advance northward along the ramparts, to the North-East Gate, which they will open to the Artillery, and continue to hold.

Lieutenant-Colonel Lemon will form his Battalion on the wall, and will follow and support the British Naval Brigade.

Colonel Graham, having formed the 59th Regiment, so soon as the walls are in our possession, will order it to advance in support of the British Brigade, unless he should see that the British Brigade requires support, in the attack on Eastern Gate, when it will be his duty to afford it. The 59th Battalion will leave one company on the ramparts to assist in mounting on the ramparts such mortars and field pieces, as may not be in position to man the walls. They will afterwards rejoin their respective brigades.

The whole force is to bear in mind that the principal object is to capture the heights within the city; no move is therefore to take place, after the capture of the two northern gates, Magazine and five-storied Pagoda, until special orders are given.

No soldier is, on any account, to be permitted to leave the ranks.

Colonel Holloway's Brigade, being in reserve, will superintend the forwarding of the reserve ammunition, and the protection of the wounded, and see that such artillery as may be in position is fully supported. He will occupy so much of the best position, vacated by the other brigades as may be deemed necessary, with a view to oppose any attack that may be made from the hills on our flank and rear.

The mot d'ordre or parole, throughout the operations will be "France and England." The guns on the walls and on the captured forts and gates will be turned on the city, except the northward ones, which will be directed on Gough's and the adjacent forts.

CAPTURE OF CANTON.

No. 358.

Head Quarters,

SIR,

December 29, 1857.

IT is with the highest feelings of satisfaction that I have the honour to report, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that the city of Canton was assaulted this morning by the naval and military forces under the command of Rear-Admiral Sir Rigault de Genouilly, Major-General Van Straubenzee, and myself, and was taken by escalade. Full particulars will be given by the next packet.

2. Our gratification at this quick success, with trifling loss, has been damped by a great calamity, in the death of Captain William Thornton Bate, of Her Majesty's ship Actæon, who was killed by a gingall ball, whilst reconnoitering a suitable spot for placing our scaling ladders.

3. This sad event has thrown a gloom over the whole force, Captain Bate being no less beloved for his many virtues, than respected and admired for his professional ability. By the death of Captain Bate, Her Majesty has lost a most able, zealous, and faithful servant.

4. We have the loss of one other officer to deplore, Lieutenant Hackett, of the 59th Regient, who, shortly after landing, was murdered by party of Chinese soldiers.

5. I have only heard of two officers wounded, Lieutenant Lord Gilford, of the Calcutta, severely, arm broken by a gingall ball ; and Mr. Thompson, Midshipman of the Sanspareil, severely wounded by a rocket. I am busily employed with my gallant colleagues in securing our position.

No. 1.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, Dec. 22, 1857 (No. 1625).

THE Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the accompanying despatches relating to the first relief of the garrison of Lucknow, which have lately reached Government.

These despatches contain an account of the proceedings of the force under the command of the late Major-General Sir H. Havelock, K.C.B., before he forced his way into the city, as well as of the various operations carried on under Major-General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., after a junction had been effected with the garrison of the Residency on the 25th of September until the arrival of the relieving force under His Excellency General Sir Colin Campbell.

They show how thoroughly this gallant band has sustained the reputation of British soldiers for courage, discipline, and determination, whether in the plain, in the hand to hand struggle of the street-fighting, or in the more wearying labours of the siege.

The Governor-General in Council has already had the satisfaction of acknowledging the obligations of the Government of India to Sir James Outram ; but his Lordship in Council cannot deny himself the pleasure of expressing again his appreciation of Sir James Outram's eminent services, and his respect for the generous and soldier-like feeling which prompted Sir James to abstain from assuming the position due to his superior rank, and to leave in the hands of Sir Henry Havelock the completion of the undertaking which the latter had successfully begun.

To Brigadier Inglis, the Governor-General in Council can give no higher praise than to say that, during the continuance of the siege, after Sir James Outram had assumed the chief command in the Residency, his ability, energy, and vigilance were worthy of the lasting reputation which his conduct of the defence has secured to him.

Sir James Outram has acknowledged the efficient co-operation which he had from Brigadiers Hamilton and Stisted. To these officers, as well as to Captain Bouverie and Captain Spurgin, serving on the Brigade Staff, the Governor-General in Council desires to offer his hearty thanks for the good service they have done.

His Lordship in Council conveys to Major Eyre, who had already established a claim on the gratitude of the Government; to Captain Maude, Royal Artillery; to Captain Olpherts, Bengal Artillery; to Lieutenant Thomas, Commissary of Ordnance; and to the officers and men of the combined force of Artillery, the assurance of the satisfaction with which he has received the evidence of their zeal and gallantry.

The labours that devolved upon the Engineer Department have been of a most important and difficult nature, and the Governor-General in Council begs to assure Captain Crommelin, commanding the Engineers; Lieutenant Hutchinson, second in command; Lieutenants Russell and Limond; the officers and men attached to, as well as those who volunteered to work with, the Department—his appreciation of the courage, skill, and energy with which they bore their very arduous part in the siege.

Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, commanding Her Majesty's 50th Light Infantry, deserves praise for the able manner in which he held an advanced post, exposed to the unceasing attacks of the enemy; and to Captain Brasyer, commanding the Regiment of Ferozepore; to Captain Lockhart, commanding Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders; to Captain Shute, commanding a detachment of Her Majesty's 64th, who have each maintained a difficult post with complete success; to Captain Willis, commanding Her Majesty's 84th; to Captain Galwey, commanding Madras Fusiliers ; and to Lieutenant Meara, commanding Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers, the Governor-General in Council tenders his hearty thanks.

His Lordship in Council acknowledges with pleasure the cheerful alacrity with which Captain Barrow, commanding Volunteer Cavalry, Captains Johnson and Hardinge, commanding Irregular Cavalry, have come forward to volunteer their services on every opportunity : the latter officer having also rendered good service as Deputy Quartermaster-General.

The thanks of Government are due to Captain Garden, Assistant Quartermaster-General ; to Captain Moorsom, Her Majesty's 52nd Regiment, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General, for the zeal they have exhibited in their various Departments ; as also to Captains Alexander, Orr, and Carnegie, for their able services at the head of the Intelligence Department ; and to Captain Macbean and Lieutenant James for the efficient manner in which, under their superintendence, the Commissariat arrangements have been carried out.

The Governor-General in Council has great satisfaction in acknowledging the excellent provision made for the care of the sick by the Medical Department, under Superintending Surgeon J. Scott ; and his Lordship in Council desires especially to tender his warm thanks to the Reverend Mr. Harris for the personal courage displayed by that gentleman in the discharge of his sacred duties, and for the unremitting assiduity with which he, throughout the siege, has sought to allay the sufferings and provide for the comfort of the sick and wounded.

The Governor-General in Council offers to Major North, Deputy Judge Advocate General ; to Captain Hudson, Her Majesty's 64th, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General; and to Lieutenant Hargood, Madras Fusiliers, serving on the staff of the late Sir Henry Havelock, the thanks they have merited by the efficient discharge of their respective duties.

The support rendered to the force, both in the field and throughout the very intricate and difficult engineering operations of the defence, by Colonel Napier, Military Secretary, and Chief of the Adjutant-General's Department, has been most valuable, and his Lordship in Council desires to assure Colonel Napier that his ability and exertions are fully appreciated by Government.

The Governor-General in Council has much satisfaction in acknowledging the services of Captain Dodgson, Assistant Adjutant-General; Captain Gordon; Deputy Judge Advocate General; Lieutenants Sitwell and Chamier, on the Personal Staff of, and Mr. Money, Private Secretary to, Sir James Outram; of Captain Dawson and Ensign Hewitt, Orderly Officers, and of Mr. G. Couper, of the Civil Service, who volunteered to perform the duties of Aide-de-Camp.

In addition to those whose names have been more prominently brought to notice, the Governor-General in Council desires to convey his hearty thanks to all officers, non-commissioned officers, and men, who have been engaged in the operations referred to in these despatches, for the valor they have displayed in the field, for the firmness with which they have maintained their position in the city, and for the cheerful, willing, and earnest manner in which they have discharged all the various duties and borne the privations imposed upon them, under circumstances of extraordinary difficulty and hardship.

It will be a gratification to the Governor-

General in Council to bring the eminent services of Major-General Sir James Outram's force, officers and men, to the favourable notice of Her Majesty's Government and of the Honorable Court of Directors, by the first opportunity. Meanwhile, the Governor-General in Council directs, by a separate order of this date, that the donation batta already granted to the garrison under Brigadier Inglis, shall be extended to Major-General Sir James Outram's force.

The Governor-General in Council cannot conclude this notice of the events connected with the relief of Lucknow without expressing his deep regret at the heavy loss which England has suffered by the fall of so many able officers and gallant men.

His Lordship in Council has already recorded his sense of the high worth of those true soldiers, Sir Henry Havelock and Brigadier-General Neill. Their names will be cherished with honour by their fellow-countrymen.

He now has to lament the untimely death of Colonel Campbell, Her Majesty's 90th Light Infantry, than whom the Queen's service possessed no more gallant or promising officer.

Major Haliburton, Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders ; Major Cooper, Artillery ; Major Simons, Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers ; Major Stenenson, Madras Fusiliers ; and many other brave men amongst their comrades, have died in the discharge of their duty ; and in memory of these, the Governor-General in Council desires to record his tribute of sorrow and gratitude.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secretary to the Government of India,
in the Military Department.

SIR,

December 5, 1857.

I have the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward, for submission to the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council, the report, by Major-General Sir J. Outram, K.C.B., dated 25th ultimo, of his operations subsequent to the 28th September last, and his Excellency would desire particularly to draw the attention of his lordship to the skill displayed in the arrangements made for the defence of the position occupied by Sir J. Outram's force at Lucknow, and to the gallantry and endurance of the troops engaged.

2. Sir Colin Campbell would most especially refer to the valuable services of the late Major-General Sir H. Havelock, whose death his Excellency, in common with the whole army, deeply deplores, and of that talented and valuable officer, Colonel R. Napier, of the Bengal Engineers, whose exertions were conspicuous and unceasing.

I have, &c.,

Assistant Adjutant-General of the Army.

SIR,

Residency, Lucknow, Sept. 30, 1857.

Major-General Sir James Outram, having, with characteristic generosity of feeling, declared that command of the force should remain in my hands, and that he would accompany it as Civil Commissioner only, until a junction could be effected with the gallant and enduring garrison of the place, I have to request that you will inform His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that this proposal was effected on the evening of the 25th instant. But before detailing the circumstances, I must refer to antecedent events. I crossed the river on the 22nd instant, the bridge at Bunnee not having been broken. On the 23rd I found myself in the presence of the enemy, who had taken a strong position, his left resting on the enclosure of the Alum Bagh, and his centre and right drawn up behind a chain of hillocks. The head of my column was first suffered from the fire of his guns, as it was compelled to pass along the trunk road between the villages; but as soon as my regiments could be deployed along his front, and his right enveloped my left, victory declared for us, and we captured five guns. Sir James Outram, with his accustomed gallantry, passed on in advance, close to the canal. But as the enemy fed his artillery with guns from the city, it was not possible to maintain this, or a less advanced position for a time taken up; but it became necessary to withdraw our right on the Alum Bagh, and refuse to the left, and even then we were incessantly harassed throughout the 24th; and the enemy's artillery, 1,500 strong, crept round through lofty vegetation, and made a sudden irruption upon our baggage massed in our rear. The soldiers of the 90th, forming the baggage guard, received the attack with great gallantry; but lost some brave officers and men, shooting down, however, twenty-five of the troopers and putting the whole body to flight. They were finally driven to a distance by the guns of Captain Olpherts' battery.

The troops had been marching for three days under a perfect deluge of rain, irregularly fed, and badly housed in villages. It was thought necessary to pitch tents, and permit them to halt on the 24th. The assault on the city was deferred until the 25th. That morning our baggage and tents were deposited in the Alum Bagh under an escort, and we advanced. The 1st Brigade, under Sir James Outram's personal leading, drove the enemy from a succession of gardens and walled enclosures, supported by the 2nd Brigade, which I accompanied. Both brigades were established on the canal at the bridge of Char Bagh.

From this point the direct road to the Residency was something less than two miles; but it was known to have been cut by trenches, and crossed by palisades at short intervals, the houses also being all loopholed. Progress in this direction was impossible; so the united column pushed on, detouring along the narrow road which skirts the left bank of the canal. Its advance was not seriously interrupted until it had come opposite the king's palace or the Kaiser Bagh, where two guns and a body of mercenary troops were entrenched. From this entrenchment a fire of grape and musketry was opened, under which nothing could live. The artillery and troops had to pass a bridge partially under its influence; but were then shrouded by the buildings adjacent to the palace of Fureed Buksh. Darkness was coming on, and Sir James Outram at first proposed to halt within the courts of the Mehal for the night; but I esteemed it to be of such importance to let the beleaguered garrison know that succour was at hand, that with his ultimate sanction I directed the main body of the 78th Highlanders and regiment of Ferozepore to advance. This column rushed on with a desperate gallantry, led by Sir

James Outram and myself, and Lieutenants Hudson and Hargood, of my staff, through streets of flat-roofed loop-holed houses, from which a perpetual fire was kept up, and overcoming every obstacle, established itself within the enclosure of the Residency. The joy of the garrison may be more easily conceived than described ; but it was not till the next evening that the whole of my troops, guns, tumbrils, and sick and wounded, continually exposed to the attacks of the enemy, could be brought step by step within this enceinte and the adjacent palace of the Fureed Buksh. To form an adequate idea of the obstacles overcome, reference must be made to the events that are known to have occurred at Buenos Ayres and Saragossa. Our advance was through streets of houses such as I have described, and thus each forming a separate fortress. I am filled with surprise at the success of the operation, which demanded the efforts of 10,000 good troops. The advantage gained has cost us dear. The killed, wounded, and missing, the latter being wounded soldiers, who I much fear—some or all—have fallen into the hands of a merciless foe, amounted, up to the evening of the 26th, to 535 officers and men. Brigadier General Neill, commanding 1st Brigade ; Major Cooper, Brigadier, Commanding Artillery ; Lieutenant-Colonel Bazely, a volunteer with the force—are killed. Colonel Campbell, Commanding 90th Light Infantry ; Lieutenant-Colonel Tytler, my Deputy-Assistant Quartermaster-General ; and Lieutenant Havelock, my Deputy-Assistant Adjutant-General are severely, but not dangerously, wounded. Sir James Outram received a flesh wound in the arm in the early part of the action near Char Bagh ; but nothing could subdue his spirit ; and though faint from loss of blood, he continued to the end of the action to sit on his horse, which he only dismounted at the gate of the Residency. As he has now assumed the command, I leave to him the narrative of all events subsequent to the 26th.

Enclosed is the return of casualties up to that date.

I have, &c.

Commanding Oude Field Force.

Major-General Outram, Commanding Cawnpore and Dinapore Divisions, to Major-General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff.

SIR, Camp, Alum Bagh, November 25, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to acquaint his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, with the proceedings of this force since the 28th of September, the date of my last despatch,* and beg to refer to the documents enumerated in the margin.† General Havelock has commanded the field force occupying the palaces and outposts, and Brigadier Inglis has continued in command of the Lucknow garrison—an arrangement that has proved most convenient.

The first work required was to open a roadway through the palaces for the heavy train, which had been brought into one of the gardens on the 27th September, and by the 1st October was safely parked within the entrenchment.

Contrary to the expectations expressed in my last despatch, the enemy, relying on the strong position of their remaining battery, (the one known as "Phillips' Battery,") continued to annoy the garrison by its fire, and to maintain there a strong force. Its capture, therefore, became necessary, and this was effected on the 2nd October, with the comparatively trifling loss of two killed and eleven wounded,—a result which was due to the careful and scientific dispositions of Colonel Napier, under whose personal guidance the operation was conducted. Three guns were taken and burst; their carriages destroyed, and a large house in the garden, which had been the enemy's stronghold, was blown up.

With a view to the possibility of adopting the Cawnpore-road as my line of communication with Alum Bagh, Major Haliburton, 78th Highlanders, commenced on the 3rd to work from house to house with the crow-bar and pick-axe.

On the 4th, this gallant officer was mortally wounded; and his successor, Major Stephenson, of the Madras Fusiliers, disabled. During the whole of the 5th these proceedings were continued; but on the 6th they were relinquished, it being found that a large mosque, strongly occupied by the enemy, required more extensive operations for its capture than were expedient; therefore, after blowing up all the principal houses on the Cawnpore-road, from which the garrison had been annoyed by musketry, the reconnoitring party gradually withdrew to the post in front of Phillips' Garden, which has since been retained as a permanent outpost, affording comfortable accommodation to Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders, and protecting a considerable portion of the entrenchment from molestation, besides connecting it with the palaces occupied by General Havelock. During the foregoing operations, the enemy, recovering from their first surprise, commenced to threaten our positions in the palaces and outposts by mining and assaults. As there were only a few miners in the garrison, and none with the field force, the enemy could not be prevented from exploding three mines, causing us a loss of several men ; and on the 6th they actually penetrated into the palaces in considerable numbers.

But they paid dearly for their temerity, being intercepted and slain at all points. Their loss on that day was reported in the city to have been 450 men.

A company of Miners, formed of volunteers from the several corps, was placed at the disposal of the Chief Engineer, which soon gave him the ascendancy over the enemy, who were foiled at all points, with the loss of their galleries and mines, and the destruction of their miners in repeated instances.

The Seikhs of the Ferczepore Regiment have zealously laboured at their own mines, and though separated only by a narrow passage (16 feet wide) from the enemy, have, under the guidance and direction of the Engineer Department, defended and protected their position.

The outpost of Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders, under Captain Lockhart, has also been vigorously assailed by the enemy's miners. Its proximity to the entrenchment made it convenient to place it under the charge of the Officiating Garrison Engineer, Lieutenant Hutchinson, under whose skilful directions the enemy have been completely out-mined by the soldiers of Her Majesty's 78th Regiment.

I am aware of no parallel to our series of mines in modern war ; 21 shafts, aggregating 200 feet in depth, and 3,291 feet of gallery, have been executed. The enemy advanced 20 mines against the palaces and outposts ; of these they exploded three, which caused us loss of life, and two which did no injury ; seven have been blown in ; and out of seven others the enemy have been driven, and their galleries taken possession of by our miners ;—results of which the Engineer Department may well be proud. The reports and plans forwarded by Sir Henry Havelock, K.C.B., and now submitted to his Excellency, will explain how a line of gardens, courts, and dwelling-houses, without fortified enceinte, without flanking defences, and closely connected with the buildings of a city, has been maintained for eight weeks in a certain degree of security ; but notwithstanding the close and constant musketry-fire from loopholed walls and windows, often within 30 yards, and from every lofty building within rifle-range, and notwithstanding a frequent though desultory fire of round-shot and grape from guns posted at various distances, from 70 to 500 yards ! This result has been obtained by the skill and courage of the Engineer and Quartermaster - General's Departments, zealously aided by the brave officers and soldiers who have displayed the same cool determination and cheerful alacrity in the toils of the trench and amidst the concealed dangers of the mine that they had previously exhibited, when forcing their way into Lucknow at the point of the bayonet and amidst a most murderous fire.

But skilful and courageous as have been the engineering operations, and glorious the behaviour of the troops, their success has been in no small degree promoted by the incessant and self-denying devotion of Colonel Napier,—who has never been many hours absent by day or night from any one of the points of operation,—whose valuable advice has ever been readily tendered and gratefully accepted by the Executive Officers,—whose earnestness and kindly cordiality have stimulated and encouraged all ranks and grades, amidst their harassing difficulties and dangerous labours.

I now lay before his Excellency Brigadier Inglis' report of the proceedings in the garrison, since its relief by the force under my command, since the capture of the enemy's batteries, and the occupation of the palaces and posts.

The position occupied by the Oude field force relieved the garrison of the entrenchment from all molestation on one-half of its enceinte,—that is, from the Cawnpore-road to the commencement of the river front ; and the garrison, reinforced by detachments of the 78th and Madras Fusiliers, was enabled to hold as outposts three strong positions commanding the road leading to the Iron Bridge, which have proved of great advantage, causing much annoyance to the enemy, and keeping their musketry fire at a distance from the body of the place.

The defences, which had been barely tenable, were thoroughly repaired, and new batteries were constructed to mount 13 additional guns.

The enemy, after the capture of the batteries adopted a new system of tactics. Their guns were withdrawn to a greater distance, and disposed so as to act not against the defences, but against the interior of the entrenchment.

The moment they were searched out and silenced by our guns, their position was changed, so that their shot ranged through the entrenchment ; and but for the desultory nature of their fire might have been very destructive.

Under the care of the Superintending Surgeon, Dr. Scott, the hospital was securely barricaded without detriment to ventilation.

From the Rev. J. P. Harris, Chaplain of the Garrison, the sick and wounded received the most marked and personal kindness. His spiritual ministrations in the hospital were incessant ; his Christian zeal and earnest philanthropy I have had constant opportunities of observing since my arrival in Lucknow ; and but one testimony is borne to his exertions during the siege, and to the personal bravery he displayed in hastening from house to house in pursuit of his sacred calling, under the heaviest fire. Daily he had to read the funeral service over numbers of the garrison, exposed to shot, shell, and musketry.

Order was established in the magazine under Captain Thomas, the Garrison Commandant of Artillery and Commissary of Ordnance; and under Doctor Ogilvie, Sanatory Commissioner, the Commissary Department effected great and visible improvements in the condition of the entrenchments, besides removing the horrible collection of filth and putrid carcasses which had accumulated in the palaces taken possession of by the relieving force.

I cannot conclude this report without expressing to his Excellency my intense admiration of the noble spirit displayed by all ranks and grades of the force since we entered Lucknow. Themselves placed in a state of siege,—suddenly reduced to scanty and unsavoury rations,—denied all the little luxuries, (such as tea, sugar, rum, and tobacco,) which, by constant use, had become to them almost necessaries of life,—smitten, in many cases, by the same scorbutic affections and other evidences of debility, which prevailed amongst the original garrison,—compelled to engage in laborious operations,—exposed to constant danger, and kept ever on the alert;—their spirits and cheerfulness, and zeal and discipline, seemed to rise with the occasion. Never could there have been a force more free from grumblers, more cheerful, more willing, or more earnest.

Amongst the sick and wounded this glorious spirit was, if possible, still more conspicuous than amongst those fit for duty.

It was a painful sight to see so many noble fellows maimed and suffering, and denied those comforts of which they stood so much in need.

But it was truly delightful and made one proud of his countrymen, to observe the heroic fortitude and hearty cheerfulness with which all was borne.

My cordial acknowledgments are due to Brigadiers Hamilton and Stisted. and to their Brigade Staff—Captains Spurgin and Bouverie—for the efficient disposition of their troops under General Havelock's orders and direction, and the vigilance with which they have guarded their extended position.

The glorious reputation which his defence of Lucknow has won for Brigadier Inglis, leaves little room for further commendation for the able manner in which that defence has been continued,—the vigour with which the defences of his garrison have been improved and extended,—and the unceasing vigilance which rendered every effort of the enemy to assail him utterly hopeless. I cordially concur in, and second his recommendation to the favourable notice of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, of the several officers named in his despatch.

To the gallant Brigadier Eyre, commanding the Artillery, whose victories at Arrah and Jugdespore have already given him an European reputation; to the brave Captains Olpherts, of the Bengal Artillery, and Maude, of the Royal Artillery, commanding batteries; to Lieutenant Thomas, Commissary of Ordnance; and to the officers and men of the combined force of Artillery, my hearty and sincere thanks are due. The duties which have fallen on them have been most arduous, and have been carried through with the zeal and gallantry which have ever distinguished their noble arm of the service.

Captain Crommelin, Commanding the Engineer Department, has had to undertake very important duties of a novel and difficult nature, without trained sappers and without any establishment of trained subordinates, and with a very small staff. Under these disadvantages, combined with the very serious one of ill-health, Captain Crommelin, aided by the Executive Department, converted the open arcaded halls of the palace into secure barracks, and has kept aloof the enemy's miners.

To Captain Crommelin; to his gallant and energetic second in command, Lieutenant Hutchinson; to Lieutenants Russell and Limond, and the officers and men recommended by Captain Crommelin, I am very greatly indebted.

I have particularly to recommend to his Excellency's notice Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, commanding Her Majesty's 90th Light Infantry, who throughout these operations has had charge of the advanced garden and its dependent posts, which have been exposed to the unceasing attack of the enemy. For the very able manner in which these posts have been held, Colonel Purnell deserves the highest praise.

Captain Brasyer, commanding the regiment of Ferropore; and Captain Lockhart, commanding Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders, have each maintained a difficult position with the most perfect success. These officers, to whom I must also add Captain Shute, commanding Detachment Her Majesty's 64th Regiment, have gallantly led their men in every sortie.

To Captain Willis, commanding Her Majesty's 84th Regiment; Captain Galwey, commanding Madras Fusiliers; and Lieutenant Meara, commanding Her Majesty's 5th Regiment (Fusiliers), I must tender my acknowledgments. Capt. Barrow, commanding Volunteer Cavalry; Captains Johnson and Hardinge, commanding Irregular Cavalry, though precluded from acting in their proper capacity, have zealously volunteered for every service in they or their men could be useful, and have assigned posts, or furnished working parties, with cheerful alacrity.

Captain Garden, Assistant Quartermaster-General; to Captain Hardinge, Officiating Deputy Quartermaster-General; Captain Moorsom, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General, my thanks are particularly due; and also to Captains Alexander, and Carnegie, for their services at the head of the Intelligence Department. Notwithstanding the complete hostility of the country many worthy messengers have been furnished, by which communications have been safely carried on in Bagh and Cawnpore. Captain Moorsom, of Majesty's 52nd Regiment, having surveyed the country and environs of Lucknow previous to the outbreak of hostilities, has constantly been able to render most important service, and is a very able and intelligent officer.

The commissariat arrangements have been most judiciously conducted under Captain Macbean, attached to the Oude Field Force, and Lieutenant [Name], attached to the garrison; and I have to thank them for their valuable services.

I beg to recommend to particular notice the arrangements made for the care of the sick by the Medical Department under Superintending Surgeon J. Scott, whose energy and zeal have been unremitting in the performance of his various duties.

I have further to recommend to his Excellency's notice Lieutenant Hudson, Her Majesty's 64th Regiment, Deputy Assistant-Adjutant-General; Lieutenant Hargood, Madras Fusiliers, Aide-de-camp on the Staff of the late Sir H. Havelock; and the officers of my Divisional and Personal

Major North, General Havelock's Deputy Advocate-General, and subsequently one of the Prize Agents, my thanks are due for the readiness and success with which he established and superintended the manufacture of Enfield rifle cartridges.

This valuable service was rendered without any relaxation of his other duties, in the prosecution of which he met with a wound.

The pleasing duty now remains of acknowledging my obligations to my Personal Staff.

To Colonel Napier, Military Secretary, Chief of the Adjutant-General's Department, for the efficient support I have ever received from him throughout these operations, and whose gallantry in the field was as conspicuous as his able guidance of the engineering operations above detailed was valuable.

I have much pleasure in making favorable mention of the services of Captain Dodgson, Assistant Adjutant-General, who has afforded me every assistance; also Captain Gordon, Deputy Judge-Advocate-General.

My Aides-de-Camp, Lieutenants Sitwell and Chamier, have rendered me most constant and zealous aid. I was unfortunately deprived of Lieutenant Sitwell's services on the 25th September, owing to a contusion received early in the day; and again, on returning from the garrison, from a severe wound on the 17th November. Lieutenant Chamier has attended at my side in the field throughout every operation.

My thanks are due also to my private secretary, Mr. W. J. Money, who has accompanied the army in the field in addition to his valuable services in his civil capacity.

I have to acknowledge the services of Captain Dawson and Ensign Hewett, Orderly Officers.

I was glad to avail myself of the services of Mr. George Couper, Civil Service, who volunteered to perform the duties of an aide-de-camp during our stay in the garrison and on the night of our retiring from it.

It is with the deepest regret that I have to record, at the head of the gallant and distinguished officers who have so zealously and ably aided these operations, and whose loss their country has to deplore, the name of the lamented Sir Henry Havelock, on whose merits it would be superfluous for me to dwell. Worn out by toils and exposure, he lived but long enough to witness the end for which he had fought so nobly, and to receive the valued token conveyed to him of the approbation of his Sovereign.

Colonel Campbell, of Her Majesty's 90th Light Infantry, who, in my former despatch, was returned as wounded, has since died. In him England has lost a most gallant and distinguished officer.

By the fall of the gallant officers—Major Haliburton, Her Majesty's 78th; Major Simmons, Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers; and Major Stephenson, of the Madras Fusiliers, the country and service have sustained a very heavy loss.

I have also, with sorrow, to record the loss of the many other valuable officers and soldiers who have fallen in the performance of their duty during the course of these operations, which have involved a total loss (subsequently to those reported in General Havelock's despatch of the 28th October,) of 6 European officers, 1 native officer, and 120 rank and file killed; 27 European officers, 7 native, and 382 rank and file wounded; total, 551 killed and wounded.

I have, &c.

J. OUTRAM, Major-General,
Commanding Cawnpore and Dinapore Division.

Major-General H. Havelock, Commanding Oude Field Force, to Colonel R. Napier, Chief of the Staff to Major General Sir James Outram, G. C. B.

SIR,

Lucknow, November 16, 1857.

I BEG to report, for the information of Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., the complete success of the operations in which the troops of my division were employed under his own eye this evening, in capturing a succession of houses in advance of the palace of Fureed Buksh.

I have given in the margin the details of detachments employed.*

The nature of the enterprize may be shortly described as follows :

The progress of the relieving force under his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief was anxiously watched, and it was determined that as soon as he should reach the Sikunder Bagh, about three miles from the Residency, the outer wall of the advance garden of the palace, in which the enemy had before made several breaches, should be blown in by mines previously prepared ; that two powerful batteries erected in the enclosure should then open on the insurgents' defences in front, and after the desired effect had been produced, that the troops should storm two buildings known by the names of the Hern khana, or Deer-house, and herefore ordered. Their action was, however, aratively feeble, so the batteries had the douask of completing the demolition of the wall rostrating and breaching the works and the ings beyond it. Brigadier Eyre commanded e left battery ; Captain Olpherts in the right ;

ain Maude shelled from six mortars in a more d quadrangle of the palace. The troops were ed in the square of the Chuttur Munzil, and ibe the enthusiasm with which this signal received by the troops. Pent up in inaction pwards of six weeks, and subjected to con-attacks, they felt that the hour of retribution glorious exertion had returned.

their cheers echoed through the courts of the received, throughout the operations, the most ive aid from my staff—Lieutenant Hudson,

Deputy-Assistant Quartermaster-General ;

Lieutenant Hargood, 1st Madras Fusiliers, my Aide-de-Camp; and Lieutenant C. W. Havelock, 12th Irregular Cavalry, my Orderly officer.

The Officers of Artillery—Brigadier Eyre, and Captains Olpherts and Maude, have earned my best thanks.

I must commend all the officers in charge of detachments; but most prominently Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, 90th Light Infantry, whose conduct throughout the affair evinced the most distinguished gallantry united to imperturbable coolness, and the soundest judgment; as well as to Lieutenants Russell, Hutchinson, and Limond, of the Engineers, and Captain Oakes (attached) who showed the way to the several points of attack.

No. 9.

Brigadier J. Inglis, commanding the Garrison of Lucknow, to Colonel R. Napier, Chief of the Staff, &c.

SIR, Lucknow Garrison, November 12, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to request that you will do me the favour to submit to Major-General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., commanding the forces, the following record of events in this position since the arrival of the army under his command.

1. On the following morning I received instructions to place under the orders of Major Haliburton, 78th Highlanders, as strong a detachment as I could spare from the garrison, in order to strengthen the rear guard which had been left at Mr. Martin's house, in charge of the heavy guns that had arrived with the force. I accordingly detailed a party of 100 men of the 32nd Foot, under the command of Captain Lowe, who was accompanied by Captain Bassano, Captain McCabe, and Lieutenant Cook, of the same corps. This detachment remained all day in position with the rear-guard, and on the following morning it covered the extreme rear, on the march into the "Fureed Buksh," whence Captain McCabe led a party of volunteers, composed of the 5th, 32nd, and 90th Regiments, into a garden, and routed the enemy with great slaughter. Early the next day, this detachment, having performed the arduous duties assigned to them, returned to my garrison. In these operations, the 32nd Regiment had one serjeant and one private killed, and two serjeants and two privates wounded. Captain Lowe also received a severe wound.

2. The report of the several sorties made under the direction of the Major-General commanding the forces, and in which detachments from this garrison have borne (I would fain hope) a distinguished part, have been so fully detailed by the officers who commanded on these occasions, that I need not enter further on the subject than to express my admiration of the gallant and devoted behaviour of both officers and men.

3. As soon as these operations were terminated, I turned my attention to the state of the batteries and defences of this position, many of which were in a very dilapidated state, as the Major-General is aware, especially the part called the Brigade Mess, at either flank of which was an open breach, neither of which we had ever been able to repair or strengthen, or ever adequately to defend. But the large number of Doolie Bearers placed at my disposal by the Chief of the Staff, and the increased strength of the garrison, enabled me to carry on the works with vigour, and to materially strengthen all my critical positions.

4. Since the arrival of the force, a large mound and a musjid adjacent to Innes's post were taken possession of by the late Lieutenant Graydon, and have been made defensible, as they completely overlook and command the iron bridge, and approach therefrom. A description of the works that have been carried out is fully given in the appended memorandum by the engineer officer. Great praise is due to the great professional skill, the persevering energy, and the untiring personal activity displayed by Lieutenant Hutchinson, under whom the works have been carried out.

5. Owing to the extreme paucity of numbers attached to the garrison magazine, and the harassing duties which have devolved on this establishment during this very protracted siege, it has necessarily always been in a somewhat unsatisfactory state, and I gladly seized the opportunity to remodel it. With this end in view, I directed Lieutenant Thomas, in charge of the magazine, to remove it to the Post Office compound, as affording the most convenient site for piling shot and collecting together the various materials appertaining to this department. This duty has been ably performed by Mr. Conductor Bewsey, Officiating Sub-Conductor, under the directions of Lieutenant Thomas, and I have now the pleasure to report that all the spare shot and shell has been collected, gauged and piled. The spare muskets and musket barrels have also been collected, and a large supply of cartridges, wads, fuzes, quick and slow matches have been prepared. The establishment have besides been employed in repairing sponge staffs, grummetting shot and shell, and in collecting wood, iron, lead, and other materials from the Fureed Buksh and other places. The ordnance drivers have also rendered assistance in removing guns and mortars, and in erecting and repairing batteries and issuing stores.

6. The buried treasure, amounting to nearly twenty-five lakhs of rupees, is being exhumed, and placed again under the charge of the civil authorities.

7. The commissariat arrangements made in garrison, under the directions of Sir James Outram, G.C.B., have involved a considerable reduction in rations, and this deprivation, coming as it did upon the garrison at the end of so long a siege, in addition to the want of malt liquor and spirits, has borne somewhat heavily on every one ; but all have sustained the deprivation cheerfully, and none more so than the women, whose admirable conduct I have alluded to in a former despatch. An appended memorandum, furnished by the garrison Commissariat officer, enters fully into the commissariat arrangements that have been made.

8. The great number of wounded which accompanied the Major-General's force into this position, speedily increased the number of patients from 130 to 627, and as nearly all arrived without bedding, and as there was besides but a small supply of medicine, it became necessary to make every arrangement to meet these wants. In order to provide the requisite shelter, two large double-pole tents have been pitched close to the hospital portico, and a large room in the Begum Kotee made over for the accommodation of wounded officers. The buildings in the central Seikh square were also assigned to the remaining portion of the sick and wounded. Old tents have been cut up for bedding, and the patients have been made as comfortable as circumstances would admit; and I am sure that Sir James Outram, G.C.B., will have viewed, with the same satisfaction as myself, the excellent arrangements which have been made by that indefatigable officer, Superintending Surgeon Scott.

9. During the period which this report embraces, the proceedings of the enemy have been marked by much less activity than heretofore. Several of their guns, however, have been moved across the river, whence they have kept up a desultory cannonade, which has been silenced on most occasions by a few rounds of our heavy ordnance.

10. Their musketry fire has, however, occasionally been so heavy, especially by night, as to induce a belief that they intended an attack; but these demonstrations have rarely lasted for any lengthened period, though they have rendered it necessary that every man should be under arms for the time. Owing to the repairs made to our defences, and the increased cover obtained thereby, our casualties on these occasions have been but few.

11. Among the officers belonging to this garrison, who have fallen since the advent of the Major-General's force, I deeply regret to have to record the loss of Captain Hughes, of the 57th Regiment Native Infantry, doing duty with Her Majesty's 32nd Foot, who was mortally wounded at the attack of a house which formed one of the enemy's outposts. Captain McCabe, Her Majesty's 32nd Foot, a most distinguished officer, has also fallen ; he received his death wound while leading his fourth sortie. Lieutenant Graydon, too, of the 44th Regiment Native Infantry, an officer of great merit, was mortally wounded while assisting in barricading his post.

12. Of the officers attached to this garrison, who have had opportunities of distinguishing themselves, I would beg to bring to notice the gallant conduct of Captain Lowe and Lieutenant Lawrence, of Her Majesty's 32nd Foot, who have each led a sortie ; Lieutenant Hardinge, too, Officiating Deputy Quartermaster-General, who headed two sorties ; also Lieutenant Aitken, accompanied by Lieutenant Cubitt, of the 13th Regiment Native Infantry, who led a party of his regiment to a successful attack on a barricaded gateway held by the enemy ; Major Apthorp and Captain Kemble, 41st Regiment Native Infantry ; Lieutenants Huxham (wounded slightly in two places) and Ouseley, 48th Regiment Native Infantry ; Lieutenant Warner, of the 7th Light Cavalry ; Lieutenant Cooke, Her Majesty's 32nd Foot ; and Lieutenant Mecham, of the Madras Army—also accompanied sorties and distinguished themselves.

13. Neither must I omit to record my appreciation of the gallant bearing of the Engineer officers—Lieutenants Anderson, Hutchinson, and Innes—who accompanied the storming parties.

14. My thanks are due to the officers commanding outposts, who have continued to evince the same vigilance and gallantry that has characterized their conduct throughout this memorable siege.

15. I have already expressed my inability to do justice to the behaviour of the troops, both European and Native, and I can therefore only say that they have continued to exhibit the same gallantry under fire, and the same patience under suffering and privation as heretofore.

16. The several officers who compose my Staff, have continued to render me every assistance, and have given me every satisfaction in their several departments.

17. Lastly, I beg to express my grateful acknowledgments to the Major-General commanding the Forces for the additional force placed at my disposal, composed of detachments of the Artillery, Volunteer Cavalry, 1st Madras Fusiliers, and 78th Highlanders, all of whom have borne themselves as becomes British soldiers. I have also to add my deep sense of the valuable counsel and advice which I have received from yourself on all occasions.

I have, &c.

No. 12.

Major-General H. Havelock, Commanding Oude Field Force, to Captain Dodgson, Assistant Adjutant-General.

SIR, Lucknow, November 19, 1857.

I BEG to forward, for submission to Major General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., the accompanying report of Captain Crommelin, Field Engineer, with plans, and rejoice in this opportunity of testifying to the merits of this officer, and his untiring industry, when the state of his health has permitted his exertions to be fully developed.

I have, &c.,
HENRY HAVELOCK, Major-General,
 Commanding Oude Field Force.

No. 13.

Captain Crommelin, Chief Engineer, Oude Field Force, to Captain Hudson, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, Oude Field Force.

SIR, Lucknow, November 12, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to submit, for the information of Brigadier-General Havelock, C.B., Commanding the Oude Field Force, a brief narrative of the Engineering operations that have been carried on, at the Palace and Gardens of the Chutter Munzil, since our occupation of the same, up to the present date.

2. Instead of presenting this sketch in the shape of a journal (for which indeed my data are very incomplete), I have determined upon adopting the more simple and intelligible plan of describing the operations under the four following heads, viz. : "General Defensive Operations;" "Operations at advanced Garden;" "Mining Operations;" and "Final Offensive Operations."

The two accompanying Plans, marked A and B, will illustrate the Report.

GENERAL DEFENSIVE OPERATIONS.

See Plans A and B.

3. It would serve no useful purpose to swell this report, by detailing all the numerous petty operations that fall under this head, such as "Preparing roads for passage of guns;" "Piercing loop-holes in walls of houses and courts;" "Barri-ading passages and isolated doors or windows ;”

 Opening out communications between posts and picquets ;” “ Providing screens at various places against musketry fire,” &c., &c., &c. ; but the following more important works are deserving of separate notice :—

1st.—On the 8th October, the rebels attacked one of our advanced picquets at A ; they were repulsed immediately with loss to themselves ; but it was considered advisable to disconnect the close communication that existed between their position and ours. To effect this end a charge of 200 lbs.
 of powder was laid, under the Superintendence of Colonel Napier, (Chief of the Staff), at much risk and with considerable difficulty, in a vaulted chamber, under some apartments adjoining our position and occupied by the enemy. The result of the explosion was most satisfactory ; the positions were entirely separated, and a clear view opened down the Khas Bazaar Street.

2nd.—The roof of the picquet above alluded to, serving as a post and road of communication to other points, being exposed to the fire of a 9-pounder gun, posted in the Khas Bazaar Street at a distance of 300 yards, a sand-bag parapet, about 8 feet thick at the base and 4 feet at the crest, was erected in one night along the end of the roof, and has since remained proof against the repeated rounds that have been fired at it from the gun.

3rd.—A battery, B for two 9-pounder guns has been constructed at the end of the lane to the south of the Lall Bagh, to sweep down the lane, in the event of the enemy forcing the advanced barricade at C.

4th.—A barricade, D,* 72 feet in length, composed of boxes, doors, and tent poles, with an

* See plan B.

embrasure for a single gun, has been constructed at the north-west corner of the Pyne Bagh, connecting the Lall Baradurree with the Jail. This barricade serves the double purpose of a defence against any attack of the enemy by the Pyne Bagh ; and as a covered way from the Palace, to the road that runs direct by the Clock Tower to the Baillie Guard entrenchment.

5th.—A barricade, E, similar to the above, 60 feet in length, but without a gun embrasure, has also been constructed close to the most advanced picquet on the water face of the Lall Bagh to prevent the passage of the enemy down the broad terrace between our palace position and the river. There is a corresponding barricade further up stream, near the Ballie Guard entrenchment.

6th.—The whole of the exposed doors and windows of the Lall Baradurree,* Furrad Buksh, and Chutter Munzill Palaces, have been provided with shot-proof barricades, composed of boxes and sand-bags. 34-pounder shot, fired from a distance of about 400 yards, have twice struck the top or weakest part of one of the Lall Baradurree barricades, at a height of 10 feet. The sand-bags were on both occasions thrown inwards, but the shot fell harmless on the ground close to the foot of the barricade. At a height of 8 feet those barricades might be considered quite shot-proof.

7th.—On the terrace of the Mosque, F, three strong lines of barricades, composed of doors, sand-bags, and tent poles, have been constructed, in order that the utmost extent of the Mosque might be defended, in the event of the enemy destroying any portion of it before our countermines could be completed. The enemy succeeded in blowing down the corner of the Mosque (at A) ; but the explosion tended rather to strengthen than weaken, our defensive position, and did not reach even our most advanced line of barricades. A shot-proof parapet was also constructed along the east front of the Mosque, as a protection against a battery, G, that the enemy commenced, but have not as yet completed, at a distance of 200 yards down the Cheena Bazaar, 8th.—The gateway and picquet house at the end of the lane to the south of the Lall Bagh have been strongly barricaded.

9th.—A Cavalier battery for one heavy gun has been commenced immediately behind the above-mentioned gateway, and is in course of construction.

OPERATIONS AT ADVANCED GARDEN.

See Plan A.

4. On the 5th of October, the enemy breached the south face of the advanced garden at H, and made an unsuccessful attack at that point. A retrenchment (a) was immediately constructed and has since been rendered shot-proof. A trench (b) facing the breach, and extending from the centre house of the garden to the east wall, was also constructed for the shelter of a strong guard. A third trench (c) for a strong guard, with a communicating trench (d) from the gate of the Garden, were at the same time constructed, and also a battery (e) for two 9-pounder guns to sweep the breach H.

Shortly after having formed the breach, H, the enemy burnt down the gate, K, in the centre of the east face of the garden, and enlarged the opening by a few round shot. This new breach was at once barricaded, and a retrenchment (f) thrown round it, debouching from trench (b).

Subsequent to the above operations, the following works were taken in hand and gradually carried to completion :—1st. A trench of communication (g) from the gate, L to the Vinery, near the right advanced Picquet, M. 2nd. A trench of communication (h) from the Vinery, to the south-west corner of the garden house. 3rd. A trench (i) with double parapet and traverses, running parallel to the north wall from trench (c) to the east wall. 4th. A trench (k) with traverses running parallel to east wall, and connecting trench (i) with retrenchment (f). 5th. A battery (l) at north-west corner of the garden house, for three guns to bear upon the breach H, and to oppose two batteries that the enemy had erected outside and opposite to the southern end of the east wall. 6th. A battery (m) for two howitzers to assist the foregoing one. 7th. A battery (n) for two guns to sweep any breach that the enemy might take in the walls, near the north-east corner of the garden. 8th. The doors and windows of both centre garden house and picquet house, M, have been strongly barricaded with sand-bags and boxes. And lastly, a cavalier battery, with six embrasures for heavy guns, to sweep the opposite bank of the river, and the several posts of the enemy, in front of the garden, has been commenced and is drawing to completion.

The whole of the trenches are unrevetted, and were constructed by simple sapping. The batteries are revetted with boxes and doors.

The working parties employed were small, and were composed of men totally untrained to such duties, viz. European and Native soldiers drawn from the different Regiments, and Doolie Bearers.

MINING OPERATIONS.

The enemy, very shortly after our occupation of the Palaces, showed a disposition to annoy us, as such as possible, by their mines. On the 5th October (as before mentioned), they effected a breach in the south wall of the advanced garden. On the 11th idem, they breached a portion of the boundary wall on the east face of the Sikh position, and on the 17th idem, they succeeded in destroying an upper storied room, in front of the Mosque,

Our limited supply of gunpowder prevented our retaliating by offensive mines; so we determined upon encircling the whole of that portion of our position, open to attack by mines, with a system of defensive or listening galleries, from which we could discover the approach of the enemy's miners, and break into their mines or destroy them by small charges of powder before they could reach our boundary. Volunteer miners were accordingly called for, from the several regiments, and on the 18th of October, we started work at five mines, with a force of 51 European soldiers, and 48 Sikh sepoy. Subsequently this force was strengthened by three other gangs, consisting of 54 doolie bearers and gun bullock drivers. The number of shafts and galleries that have been completed are as follows:—

Nine in the Sikh position (marked 1 to 9 on plan), giving an aggregate of $73\frac{1}{2}$ feet of shaft, and $10\frac{1}{2}$ feet of gallery.

Four for the protection of the Mosque picquet, and adjacent buildings (marked 10 to 13), giving $32\frac{1}{2}$ feet of shaft and $585\frac{1}{2}$ feet of gallery.

Two for the protection of the buildings along the lane to the south of the Lall Bagh (marked 14 and 15), containing 16 feet of shaft and 514 feet of gallery.

Two, marked 16 and 17, for the lane barricade, and south wall of advanced garden, with branches for offensive mines, giving 15 feet of shaft and 765 feet of gallery.

Two, marked 18 and 19, for the east face of garden, giving 16 feet of shaft, and 387 feet of gallery.

Total of shaft 152 feet; ditto of gallery 2,791½.

The shafts average 8 feet in depth, and the general section of the galleries may be set down as 3 feet in height by 2 feet in breadth, with an arched roof. We found the soil to be generally light and sandy; still the greater portion of the galleries were run without casing, although occasionally it was found absolutely necessary to resort to rough open casing. I may here mention, as an extraordinary fact, that two galleries were run respectively to lengths of 298, and 192 feet, without the aid of air tubes; in the latter the lights burned well, but in the former the men were obliged to work in the dark, and were somewhat (though not greatly) affected by the foulness of the air. In working these, we occasionally withdrew the miners for an hour or two, in order to purify the galleries. The daily progress in each gallery varied from 13 to 20 feet.

The utility of the above-mentioned galleries has proved most marked. On eight different occasions, the enemy were heard mining towards our position. We waited patiently and quietly until their miners broke into our gallery. We then fired on them through the opening, wounding several; and in every instance we captured their galleries and tools, and then destroyed the former without using any powder. On two other occasions, when the enemy were heard approaching, we commenced running out short branches from our own galleries, in order to lodge a charge for blowing in those of the enemy. Their miners in both enclosures abandoned their galleries. Our success has so alarmed the enemy, that they have latterly been afraid to approach near our position, and have twice exploded charges at ridiculously long distances from the works that they intended to destroy, indeed nearer to their own buildings than ours. I may say that since we commenced our listening galleries, the enemy have failed to do us any injury with their mines and that our exposed front has remained perfectly secure.

Our offensive operations, that are now in progress, and which I trust will prove conclusive, will form the subject of a future communication, in which I will take the opportunity of bringing to the notice of the Brigadier-General commanding the names of those officers and men of the department who have rendered good service.

No. 14.

Captain Crommelin, Chief Engineer, Oude Field Force, to Captain Hudson, Deputy Assistant-Adjutant-General, Oude Field Force.

Camp, Alum Bagh,

SIR, November 25, 1857.

IN continuation of my letter, dated 12th instant, I have the honour to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Oude Field Force, upon the "Final Engineering Offensive Operations" at the Palace and Gardens of the Chutter Munzil.

The Cavalier Battery, alluded to at the conclusion of my previous report, was completed during the night of the 13th instant, and was armed with the heavy guns on the morning of the 14th, viz.: the day originally appointed for the storming of the Hern Khana, Engine-house, and King's Stables.

During the night of the 13th, 29 charges of powder (each 25 lbs. in weight) were laid in chambers that had been previously prepared for them, under the foundation of the east face of the advanced garden wall, and immediately in front of the Cavalier Battery. These charges were intended for the demolition of that part of the wall that screened the Engine-house, Stables, and the other adjacent buildings, that were to be breached from the guns of the battery. I would here remind you that our attack was postponed from the morning of the 14th to that of the 16th. The charges of powder were thus exposed, in common canvas bags, for more than forty-eight hours, to the damaging influence of a very damp sandy soil; so that when they were exploded, their effect, owing to the deterioration of the powder, was only sufficient to shake and split the wall in several places, and to form a small breach. The wall, however, was so much injured, that the artillery, had an easy task in battering down as much as was necessary. The charges, I may mention, were half as large again as those recommended by Sir W. Pasley (our best practical authority on this as well as most other points of engineering detail), and were such as had been successfully used by myself, at Peshawur, in a precisely similar case.

During the night of the 12th and 13th, the trench (d, d) was widened for the passage of guns; screens were also constructed in the advanced garden; and other precautionary measures taken, to protect our force against any musketry fire that ight be poured in through the breaches in our n wall.

During the 15th the three mines that had been pared for the formation of breaches, in the Hern ana, were loaded and tamped. These mines were ung on the afternoon of the 16th. That at the rth-west corner of the building effected the each by which the right and centre columns of ack entered. Lieutenant Hall, in his report, oneously states that this breach was made by e 18-pounder gun at the barricade.

The centre mine failed to explode, owing, I agine, to some wet sand having been dislodged om the roof of the mine, by the concussion of r artillery, and having fallen upon the powder use.

The left charge, which was the largest, ex-ded; but it proved to be 10 feet short of the ilding, and consequently effected no breach or ury. This error in the position of the charge not to be wondered at, when it is considered,— t, that we could not, by the most careful survey, isfy ourselves as to the exact position of the ern Khana; and, 2ndly, that we could not sur-y the mine itself with the prismatic compass, no lights would burn, owing to the foulness of e air near the end of the gallery that had been ried to the (I believe) unprecedented length of 9 feet, without the aid of air-pipes.

On the morning of the 16th everything was dy for the attack upon the Hern Khana, ngine-house, and Stables. Copies of instruction,
e details of which had been prepared by myself,
m memoranda drawn out by Colonel Napier hief of the Staff); were handed over to each the five officers, commanding the storming ties, and to the engineer officers accompanying m; and these instructions were further explained, by the aid of plans, to several of the commanding officers.

For an account of the operations of the storming parties, I must refer to the enclosed reports (in original) of Lieutenants Hutchinson, Russell, Limond, and Hall, with the remark that the duties of the officers, under my command, appear to me to have been rapidly and efficiently carried out.

I must also refer to a separate report by Lieutenant Hutchinson, directing engineer, upon the engineering operations, from the 16th November, to the hour of our evacuation of the Bailey Guard Entrenchment, and the Chuttur Munzil Palace - confinement to my quarters owing to an injury of the leg, having prevented my superintending them personally.

It now remains for me to bring to the favourable notice of the Major-General commanding, those officers and men, of the Engineer Department, who have rendered good service ; and, in the first place, I trust it may not be considered out of order, that I here thankfully record my acknowledgement of the assistance that has always been afforded me by my experienced brother officer, Colonel Napier, Military Secretary and Chief of the Staff to Major-General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., who, notwithstanding the pressure of his other important duties, was ever ready to aid me with his valuable counsel and advice, to meet my constant demands for workmen and materials, and to superintend and direct the works, during the last month of our operations, when I was disabled from personally superintending them myself.

Lieutenant G. Hutchinson, of Engineers, deserves very great credit for the very able manner in which he discharged the duties of Directing Engineer of the works, during the last ten days of our operations. His services, as one of the engis of the original garrison, will be duly reported to the proper authority.

Lieutenant Russell, of Engineers, has rendered very efficient aid as Brigade-Major of Engineers; his constant and unwearying exertions, by night and by day, merit my best thanks and the highest praise.

Lieutenant Limond, the only other engineer under my command, has also proved himself a very able and energetic officer, and has rendered very excellent service. To him, and to Lieutenant Russell, was entrusted the general supervision of all the works from the time that I was disabled, until the appointment of Lieutenant Hutchinson as Directing Engineer—a period of about three weeks.

The officers and volunteers that have acted in the capacity of Assistant Field Engineers have, without exception, given me their best and readiest assistance; but I may with justice more conspicuously notice the names of Captain Oakes, 8th Bengal Infantry; Lieutenant Hall, 1st Bengal Cavalry; Mr. Goldsworthy, Volunteer Cavalry; and Mr. Cavanagh, Superintendent of the Chief Engineer's Office.

Serjeants Duffy and Connell, Assistant Overseers in the Department of Public Works, have performed most useful, and their duties in supervising workmen and collecting materials, &c., &c., have been most cheerfully and efficiently performed.

I cannot close this report, without noticing, in the most favourable manner, the important services performed by the under-mentioned soldiers, Superintendents of miners:—

Acting-Serjeant Cullimore,	} Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment.
„ „ Banetta, „ „ Farrer,
Corporal Dowling,

Corporal Hosey, Madras Fusiliers.

Private Baylan, Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers.

Their duties have been of a very dangerous and arduous character, and have invariably been performed to my complete satisfaction.

I have, &c.,

Chief Engineer, Oude Field Force.

SIR, Lucknow, November 21, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to forward Lieutenant Limond's statement, regarding the sortie party he led; also that of Lieutenant Hall.

With reference to my own party, I have to state that, starting from the Garden picquet-house, Captain Shute and myself led the party to foot of stockade, which we scaled, and that then I turned off at once for the house called Captain Orr's, and, in unison with Lieutenant Hall and Lieutenant Hay, who accompanied me, commenced carrying out our instructions. Up to this time not a man had been lost. Captain Shute led his men on beyond the Hern Khana, and took a garden and a gun.

Our mines exploded short; but the mine from the garden picquet decidedly shook and damaged the wall.

Communication with the garden was completed during the night, and all barricades, loop-holes, &c.

I have, &c.

Hern Khana, November 21, 1857.

HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Captain Crommelin, Field Engineer, that, in accordance with his instructions I accompanied the right column of attack, on the Hern Khana, under Captain Willis, 84th Regiment, on the 16th instant.

Immediately after the explosion of the barricade we sallied out and made for the part of the wall where it was intended the right breach should have been made. On arriving at the wall, on the Hern Khana, we found the crater of the mine, which was about ten feet short of the wall which remained uninjured. We therefore turned to the left, and entered the Hern Khana by the left breach, which had been made by the 18-pounder gun at the barricade at end of lane.

On getting into the Hern Khana we turned to the right, passed across the open square, and immediately commenced loopholing the wall which commands the street dividing our position from Kaiser Bagh. On your arrival I reported myself to you.

I have, &c.

M. HALL, Lieutenant,
1st Bengal Fusiliers, Assistant Field Engineer.

Lucknow, November 21, 1857.

ACCORDING to orders, Lieutenant Chalmers, Assistant Field Engineer, and myself, accompanied a detachment of the 90th Regiment L. I., on the attack upon the Engine-house. Keeping to the left, on passing that building, we found the rebels evacuating the same, and followed them up to the most advanced building, the "Overseer's house," which I at once directed to be barricaded. The enemy opened on it with guns from the Kaiser Bagh, and the house was then abandoned, and burnt by Colonel Purnell's orders. The east wall of the Barahduree enclosure was at once loopholed, and the windows to the south blocked up with sand-bags. During the night a battery for three light guns was constructed at the southern extremity of the lane, between the King's stables and Barahduree enclosure. The doors and windows of the engine-house facing the river were also barricaded. During the night a trench-covered communication was opened to the advanced garden, none being necessary between the Engine-house and King's stables.

I have, &c.

DAVID LIMOND, Lieutenant, Engineers.

Lieutenant J. Russell, Brigade Major of Engineers, to Captain Crommelin, Chief Engineer.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report that, according to order, Captain Oakes, Assistant Field Engineer, and myself, accompanied the detachment under command of Captain Lockhart, Her Majesty's 78th, on the 16th instant, in the attack upon the King's stables.

The detachment was drawn up in line in the front trench of the advanced garden, and on the order for the advance being given, we crossed the parapet of the trench and the breach in our front, and doubled across the open to the King's stables, reaching which some confusion occurred, for the er part of the breach that had been made by guns was some 4 feet from the ground ; and seeing any easy mode of ingress, Captain Lockhart led the way into the enclosure of the am engine-house on the left, and was followed many of his men.

On his mistake being pointed out, however, he turned, and in company we entered the court-d of the stables, which we found deserted.
 e men of the detachment followed us as quickly they could.

Our orders were to man the walls of the stables the side of the enemy ; but the latter were reating fast, pressed by our troops from the rn Khana, on seeing which many of the detachnt, to which I was attached, rushed across the d without orders and joined in the pursuit.

At Captain Lockhart's request I went to recall ee men, and on my return I found that he had upied the Barahduree and other buildings in r of the King's stables. Measures were im-diately adopted for securing our position ; but a short time the portion of Captain Lockhart's achment was withdrawn, and the post left to e charge of a detachment of Her Majesty's 90th, der Colonel Purnell.

During the night of the 16th, Lieutenant Lind, of engineers, and myself, constructed a baty for 3 guns, which opened fire towards the iser Bagh on the morning of the 17th.

I have, &c.

J. RUSSELL, Lieutenant,
 Brigade Major of Engineers.

Colonel R. Napier, Military Secretary, &c., to Major-Genl. Sir James Outram, G.C.B., Commanding the Forces.

SIR, Lucknow, October 16th, 1857.

ON the 25th ultimo Colonel Campbell reported to you, that he, with a small party of the 90th not exceeding 100 men and almost all the wounded, the heavy guns, and a large number of Ammunition waggons, were in the walled passage in front of the Motee Munzil Palace, which position he should be obliged to hold for the night, as he was invested by the enemy, and could not advance without reinforcements.

On the morning of the 26th, a detachment of 250 men, under command of Major Simmons, 5th Fusiliers, and part of the Ferozepore Regiment, under Captain Brasyer, were sent by your orders to reinforce Colonel Campbell, under the guidance of Captain Moorsom.

They had judiciously occupied a house and garden between Colonel Campbell's position and the palace; but as they were unable to move from their position, I received your orders to proceed to their assistance, with a further reinforcement of 100 men of Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders, under Colonel Stisted, and 2 guns of Captain Olpherts' Battery, and Captain Hardinge's Sowars.

Captain Olpherts strongly objected to his guns being taken, and, on considering the reason that he offered, I took it upon myself to dispense with them, merely taking spare bullocks. Captain Olpherts accompanied me as a volunteer. As I had reason to believe that I could open a communication through the palace, which would bring me near the position of the guns, I took Mr. Cavanagh, an intelligent civilian acquainted with the locality, and examined the palace as far as was cticable, and obtained sufficient knowledge of to form my plan of operations.

I then led the party, by one of the side outlets the palace, along the river bank to Major mmons' position, under a smart fire from the my, by which, however, we received little nage.

Under cover of the night, all the sick and ounded were quietly and safely transported along e river bank to the entrenchment, by a path cticable for camels and doolies, but quite im- cticable for guns. Captain Hardinge made eral journeys to bring up fresh doolies, until ery sick and wounded man was removed. He o took away the camels laden with Enfield munition. One of our 24-pounders, which had n used on the previous day against the enemy, e the working of which had ceased, owing to the sketry fire which poured upon it, was left in an oposed position; it was extricated in a very daring d dexterous manner by Captain Olpherts, aided Captain Crump (killed), and Private Duffy, of Madras Fusiliers.

At 3 A.M. the whole force proceeded undis- ered through the enemy's posts, until the lead- division had reached the palace; the heavy as and waggons were safely parked in the den, which I had reconnoitred on the preceding y. The enemy were aroused too late to prevent operation; but made an attack on the rear rd, which was ineffective.

remained with Colonel Purnell, to secure the ition thus gained with trifling loss. A large y of Sepoys was discovered in a walled garden, nected with that which contained our heavy s by men of Her Majesty's 90th, 5th Fusiliers, 32nd, who gallantly charged in, led by Colo- Purnell, 90th, and Captain McCabe, 32nd, and ost annihilated them, securing the garden itself as the rear of our position. Measures were immediately taken to open a road for the guns through the palace, and by the 1st instant every gun and waggon was safely lodged in the entrenchment.

It now remains for me to bring to your favourable notice the officers commanding corps and detachments — Colonel Stisted, 78th; Captain Brasyer, Seikhs; Captain Lowe, 32nd. The late lamented Major Simmons gave me very valuable aid.

To Colonel Purnell's lot fell the more difficult duty of commanding the rear guard and of securing the position when gained. In the whole of the operations his assistance and support were of the greatest value.

Lieutenant Fraser, of the Artillery, was left, on the 26th, by the fall of Brigadier Cooper, in charge of the heavy guns, and though wounded, his exertions assisted greatly in extricating the unwieldy train.

I must beg most particularly to bring to your notice Captain Olpherts, of the Bengal Artillery. Without his unfailing determination, skill, and fertility of resource, we should never have been able to withdraw the 24-pounder, but at the cost of a very heavy loss of life. From first to last his assistance has been invaluable, and cannot be too highly praised.

To Captain Hardinge's continued exertions is due the safe removal of the wounded, and camels, with rifle ammunition.

My Assistant Adjutant-General, Captain Dodgson, gave me every assistance. Captain Moorsom was here, as every where, a sagacious and daring guide. Captain Sitwell attended me zealously through the night.

Captain Olpherts recommends Private Duffy for the Victoria Cross for his gallantry in extricating

24-pounder gun under a very heavy fire of mus-etry, and I beg strongly to second his recommendation.

I have deeply to lament the loss of the gallant Captain Crump, Madras Army, killed whilst extri-ng the 24-pounder.

The loss was as follows:—

Artillery—1 captain killed.

Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers—1 private killed; 4
privates wounded.

Her Majesty's 32nd Foot—1 serjeant killed; 1 captain, 2 serjeants, 1 private, wounded.

Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders—2 privates
wounded.

Total—1 captain, 1 serjeant, 1 private killed;

1 captain, 2 serjeants, 7 privates, wounded.

No. 20.

From Colonel R. Napier, Military Secretary, &c., Major-General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., Commanding the Forces.

Lucknow, October 5, 1857.

ON the 1st instant, I received your orders to take the enemy's battery in the position called Phillips' Garden, near the Cawupore road. For the object you placed at my disposal the following detachments:—

Detachments of Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers; the 64th, 78th, and 90th Regiments, and the honourable East India Company's 1st Madras Fusiliers, under Major Haliburton, Her Majesty's Lieutenant Colonel Shute, Her Majesty's 64th; and Lieutenant Raikes, Madras Fusiliers, amounting to 100 men; Lieutenant Limond, Engineers, and

Lieutenant Tulloh, Acting Assistant Field Engineer, attended the column, with a party of five Miners of Her Majesty's 32nd, and a party of Artillery, under Serjeant Smith, with means of bursting guns.

In the afternoon of the 1st, the column formed in the road leading to the Paen Bagh, and advanced through the buildings near the jail, occupied the mass of houses on the left and front of Phillips' Garden, under guidance of Mr. Phillips, the former occupant, and the enemy were driven from some houses. and a barricade on the left of our advance, by 50 men of the Madras Fusiliers, led by Lieutenant Groom under a sharp fire of musketry, in a very spirited manner.

The houses in front were strongly barricaded, and in many cases the doors were bricked up; it was, therefore, late before we had worked a way to a point, from whence we could command the enemy's position. A party of the enemy was driven out, and a row of loopholes was commenced immediately, and the ground examined right and left. Attempts to penetrate the garden to the left were ineffectual; to the right an opening was obtained, which disclosed that the enemy's batteries were separated from us by a deep narrow lane, some 12 or 15 feet below the garden; the latter was surrounded by a deep mud wall, with buildings attached. The face of the battery was scarped, and quite inaccessible without ladders. A heavy fire was kept up from the face of the battery, and the lane was flanked by a strong barricade. As it was dark, and a direct attack would be certain to cost many lives, I determined to wait till day-light, before assaulting the battery. The position was duly secured, and the men occupied the buildings for the night.

In the morning, after giving the men breakfast, and arranging with the Artillery to open fire from entrenchment, the troops advanced. A severe was opened from the barricade, flanking the on the right; but Major Haliburton detached Lieutenant Creagh, Madras Fusiliers, with a party to turn the barricade by the Cawnpore road, which was effectually done. The troops then doubled back through the lane, and forced a way through the stockade into the enemy's batteries; the 5th Fusiliers and detachment of 64th in advance, under Lieutenant Brown, supported by the Madras Fusiliers, and Her Majesty's 32nd. The enemy was immediately driven from the battery, and Phillips' house occupied without further opposition. A picquet being left in possession, the troops advanced on the guns which had been withdrawn to the end of the garden, and to the streets adjoining, and captured two 9-pounders and one 12-pounder gun, driving off the enemy, who defeated them with musketry and grape. The guns were immediately dragged to the garden and cast, their carriages completely destroyed, and the ammunition sent to the entrenchment. Phillips' house was blown up by a party under Lieutenant Innes, Engineers, and at dark the troops withdrew to their position of the previous night.

 In all the arrangements I was most fortunate in obtaining the aid of that very able and brave officer, Major Haliburton, Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders, who deserves particular notice.

I beg to recommend to your favourable notice
 Captain Shute, Her Majesty's 64th, and Lieutenant Brown, 5th Fusiliers, who led the party into the battery, and were foremost in capturing the two pounders. I also beg to recommend to your notice Private McHale, Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers, who was the first man at the capture of one of the guns.

Lieutenant Limond, of the Engineers, was very active in the duties of the Engineer Department, and in reconnoitring the enemy's position. Captain Dawson and Lieutenant Hewett attended me zealously as Field Orderly Officers throughout the operations; and Mr. Cavanagh, Superintendent Chief Commissioner's Office, accompanied the party as a guide, and was always to be found at the front.

The guns were destroyed by Sergeant Smith, with the party of Artillery.

The position of this battery was so inaccessible, and the locality so little known, that the enterprise of taking it was considered by the experienced Chief Engineer of the Garrison as one of very serious difficulty. Owing to our laborious investigation of its position, which enabled us to obtain command of it from the adjacent mass of buildings, I was able to take it at the comparatively small loss of 2 killed and 11 wounded.

I have only to add, that, although I have mentioned the names of those officers who had the good fortune to be at the points of attack, yet the conduct of the whole of the Officers and men was in every way deserving of your commendation; they were most eager to assault the battery on the night of the 1st, but I restrained them, as I was convinced that I could effect the desired end without the serious loss that would have then been incurred.

That attack, when made, was carried out with their unfailing gallantry.

It is impossible to estimate the loss of the enemy.

General H. Havelock, Commanding Oude Army, to Captain Dodgson, Acting Military Secretary.

Lucknow, November 21, 1857.

I HAVE much pleasure in forwarding for submission to Major-General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., your accompanying report from Colonel R. Napier, Chief of the Staff, detailing the late operations at the advance posts in the Palace of Fureed Buksh.

I have &c.

H. HAVELOCK, Major-General,
Commanding Oude Field Force.

No. 23.

Colonel R. Napier, Military Secretary, &c., to Captain Hudson, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Oude Field Force.

SIR, Lucknow, November 20, 1857.

THE Chief Engineer of the Oude Field Force being wounded at the time of our arrival at Lucknow, and further prevented, until the 8th ultimo, from personally attending to his duties, by an accidental lameness, produced by his arduous exertions in constructing the bridge at Cawnpore, for the passage of the force across the Ganges, there devolved upon me many duties not pertaining to my office, which it is proper that I should report through you, as I believe no officer except myself is acquainted with all that has taken place, and the course of those duties gave me an opportunity of noticing the valuable services of officers which could not otherwise be brought to Major-General Havelock's knowledge.

On the morning of the 27th ultimo, the escort with the heavy train occupied the range of palaces called the Chuttur Munzil and Fureed Buksh.

Major-General Havelock is aware that these palaces afford the only shelter that our troops could have occupied, and that as mere shelter they give excellent accommodation; as a military position they have very great disadvantages. The northern face is well protected by the river Goomty; but the east and south-east faces are surrounded by buildings, and in contact with the city.

Captain Crommelin's plan, which he will submit his report of the engineer operations, illustrates the preceding remarks.

The position was too extensive for our force, nearly all of which was occupied in guarding it ; it was susceptible of no reduction, so that, most desirable as it was that we should have occupied one of the exterior buildings as flanking defences, we were unable to do so, but were obliged to confine ourselves to the palaces and gardens, and to erect precautionary defences against any means of annoyance the enemy could devise. Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, of Her Majesty's 90th, being in command of the rear-guard on the 27th, I requested him to assume command of the Palace Garden and buildings adjacent to it. On the 28th the palace buildings extending in the direction of the Khas Bazaar were explored by Captain Moorsom, who, with a party of 50 men of the 90th and 5th Regiments, gallantly drove the enemy out at the point of the bayonet, killing a considerable number, with the loss of one man of Her Majesty's 90th. Captain Moorsom then placed a picquet in a house commanding the Cheena and Khas Bazaars. On the 3rd instant the enemy sprang a mine under the garden wall, which merely shook it without bringing it down. On the 5th they exploded a second mine, which effected a considerable breach, and appeared in some force with the intention of making an assault ; but, on the head of the column throwing itself on the breach, a well-directed fire from Her Majesty's 90th caused it to retreat precipitately with considerable loss. The enemy also burned down one of the gateways of the garden, making a second practicable breach, at which they occasionally appeared to fire a shot or two. Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell had retrenched both these breaches, which it became evident that the enemy had no intention of assaulting ; but they exposed the garden to a severe musketry fire from commanding buildings on the right, called the Hern Khana ; it, therefore, became necessary to open trenches of communication, which were commenced by Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell and his officers. On the 6th, the enemy blew up the picquet overlooking the Cheena and Khas Bazaars, causing us a loss of three men, and in the confusion that ensued, penetrated in considerable numbers into the Palace, where many of them were destroyed. They are said to have lost 450 men ! The remainder were driven back, but continued to occupy a part of the Palace buildings which had been in our possession. Of these the nearest to us is a mosque, commanded by our buildings, but giving several easy means of access to our position. On the 8th the enemy attacked from the mosque our nearest picquets, but were repulsed with loss. In order to prevent a repetition of this annoyance, I examined carefully, in company with Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell and Captain Moorsom, the buildings connecting us with those of the enemy, and we succeeded in penetrating to a vault under their position, where, screened by the obscurity, we could see the enemy closely surrounding the entrance, and hear them in considerable numbers overhead. A charge of two barrels of powder was lodged in the vault, and was fired by Lieutenant Russell, of the Bengal Engineers. The effect was complete ; many of the enemy were blown up, and their position greatly injured, whilst we obtained a command over the streets leading to the Khas and Chena Bazaars, better and more secure from molestation than our previous one. This post was immediately and securely barricaded by Captain Crommelin, of the Engineers, who this day resumed his duties as Chief Engineer, and the value of his services was immediately apparent. Though our position was improved by this explosion, the possession of the mosque was absolutely necessary to our security. I accordingly determined to re-capture it, and on expressing my wishes to Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, that officer himself accompanied me with a small party of the 1st and Madras Fusiliers. The enemy, 50 or 60 in number, were surprised and rapidly driven out with a very trifling loss on our side, and the position immediately barricaded and secured by Captain Crommelin; it has ever since formed a good connection between the picquets of the advanced garden and the quarters of Brasyer's Seikhs, and all attempts of the enemy to molest it have been ineffectual. It falls within Captain Crommelin's province to report in detail the various operations by which this difficult position, in close contact with the city, occupied by a numerous and persevering enemy, has been defended and protected.

I beg to bring to the notice of Major-General Sir David O'Connell the excellent services performed by Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, who has commanded in the advanced garden and its outposts since their occupation. Much of the trench work by which the position was rendered unassailable has been executed by the 1st and Madras Fusiliers, and under his superintendence, directed by the Engineer Department. On all occasions he has received the cordial and able co-operation of a most able and accomplished officer. Captain Grant, of the Madras Fusiliers, has commanded the post near the mosque, from the 11th October to the 1st of November, when he was severely wounded. He maintained the post under a constant and close musketry fire, and repeated attacks by mining, with cool courage and judgment. Both these qualities were required to avoid real, and to disregard imaginary, dangers of mines, and Captain Grant displayed them in an eminent degree. The daring and intelligent Captain Moorsom has been engaged in most of the above operations, and has given very valuable assistance.

Captains Rattray and Wade have shown themselves excellent commanders of outposts.

SIR, Lucknow, October 22, 1857. (No. 110.)

FOR the information of Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., commanding the Division, I have the honour to enclose two reports from officers commanding sortie-parties, giving an account of their proceedings whilst so employed.

Both these officers carried out my orders in a most satisfactory manner, and were most successful in the performance of the duties entrusted to them.

Commanding Garrison of Lucknow.

No. 25.

Lieutenant B. M. M. Aitken, Commanding Treasury Guard, to Captain Wilson, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, Lucknow.

SIR, Lucknow, October 21, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to state, for the information of Brigadier Inglis, commanding the garrison, the proceedings of a party of the regiment under my command, on the night of the 25th and morning of the 26th September, which ended in the capture of the Teree Kotee.

On the evening of the 25th, after the first column of the relieving force arrived, I heard the shouts of the second column in the city in the direction of the jail, and thinking they might get entangled in the lanes, and might suffer from the guns under the Clock Tower, I took 12 armed Sepoys of the regiment, with pick-axes and shovels, for the purpose of clearing away, if possible, the battery under the Clock Tower. We got over without opposition, as the head of the second relieving column was by this time in the lane and close up to the guns. As I thought this a good opportunity to occupy at least a portion of the Teree Kotee, I took upon myself the responsibility to take the Sepoys through a door made in the wall by the insurgents. We advanced some distance quietly without meeting any one. At last in a court-yard we came upon a small body, eight in number, and took them prisoners, without firing a shot. I left the Sepoys in charge of a havildar in this court-yard for the night, and reported the circumstance for the information of Brigadier Inglis, who ordered me to occupy the Teree Kotee with a stronger body in the morning.

Early next morning, we advanced to the bank of the river, and shot a few of the insurgents, who attempted to swim the river. At this time I observed a body of men on the top of a building with a gateway. We attempted to get in by breaking in the principal gate, which was barricaded; but found this impossible. Havildar Ramnarain Pande, however, succeeded in breaking down one of the small doors at the side of the gate, and was the first man who made an entrance. We killed some five or six men in the gateway, the others, having got into the rooms above, and on the terraces which ran towards the Fureed Buksh. A party of the 2nd came up at this time under a Serjeant, and some 25 men altogether were shot and bayoneted.

We had two Sepoys wounded, and one man of the 32nd was killed. I ought to mention that Captain Lowe, of Her Majesty's 32nd, arrived with some men after we had got into the rooms, he having been employed in driving the insurgents out of the Captain's Bazaar. All the Sepoys behaved well, and I beg to bring to the notice of the Brigadier the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Cubitt, who was most forward throughout the affair.

Unfortunately three of our Sepoys were wounded by the Europeans of the Second Relieving Column on the night of the 25th, after we got over the Battery under the Clock Tower, they having been mistaken for insurgents.

No. 26.

Captain E. W. D. Lowe, Commanding Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment, to Brigadier J. Inglis, Commanding Lucknow Garrison.

City Residency, Lucknow,

SIR,

September 27, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you that, agreeably to your instructions, I proceeded yesterday morning in command of 150 men of the 32nd Regiment for the purpose of clearing the Captain's Bazaar, and adjoining posts occupied by the enemy.

The party was in three Divisions:—the first, under Captain Bassano, on the right; the second, in reserve, under Captain Hughes, 57th Native Infantry (attached to the Regiment); and the third, under Lieutenant Lawrence. The first and second advanced under cover of the thick bushes between our trenches and the road, whilst the third, passing through Innes' outpost, came out on the road through the houses in front, taking two small guns as they entered it, and which they dismounted from their carriages. The enemy were taken quite by surprise, and fled precipitately to the river, leaving a 6-pounder gun in the road. They were pursued by our men, and were nearly all shot or drowned in endeavouring to swim the river. Lieutenant Lawrence then led his party towards the Iron Bridge, and most gallantly succeeded in capturing a 9-pounder gun, just as a second round of grape was about to be fired at them. This gun having been brought away, they returned, and we took possession of the ruined mosque, and clearing the Captain's Bazaar, killed some of the enemy there, and captured an 18-pounder gun, and four small guns (two of them without carriages).

I then proceeded to the Tere Kotee with part of the men; but found it unoccupied. A gate by the river, leading into the Fureed Buksh Palace, was then forced, and several of the enemy inside killed. We were here met by a party of the 13th Native Infantry, under Lieutenant Aitken, who had come in by another entrance. Having your orders not to proceed further in this direction, I withdrew the men.

Captain Hughes had, in the mean time, led a party again towards the Iron Bridge, and killing a great number of the enemy in the houses about, spiked two large mortars, which, however, he was unable to bring away. He was, I regret to say, dangerously wounded whilst forcing the door of a house. As the party retired, they blew up a large magazine of the enemy's powder.

The objects contemplated having been obtained, not without loss, as the adjoining return will show, I withdrew the party to the Residency, leaving guards at the ruined mosque and Tere Kotee.

In conclusion, I beg to bring prominently to your notice the great zeal and gallantry displayed by all engaged— both officers and men—so equally, that it would be invidious to particularise any one ; but Lieutenant Lawrence has, however, begged me to report the distinguished bravery of Corporal Samuel Cole, and Private Michael Power, in charging and capturing the 9-pounder gun.

Lieutenant Innes, of the Engineers, accompanied the party throughout, and afforded me every assistance.

No. 28.

Captain M. Galwey, Commanding 1st Madras Fusiliers, to the Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General.

Lucknow, November, 1857.
 IN reply to your letter dated 4th November, 1857, No. and subject as per margin,* I have the honour to state as follows.

About 2 P.M., on the 27th September, 1857, the Madras Fusiliers were ordered to parade for a sortie under command of Major Stephenson, commanding the same regiment, for the purpose of taking some guns in the enemy's Cawnpore battery.

The regiment was told off in three divisions, the strength of it not admitting of a larger number. Captain Fraser had command of No. 1, Captain Galwey No. 2, and Captain Raikes of No. 3 division; Lieutenant and Adjutant Gosling, Lieutenants Beaumont and Cleland, and Lieutenant the Honourable J. Fraser, 1st Bengal Native Infantry, doing duty with the Fusiliers, fell with the regiment. A few men of Her Majesty's 1st Regiment, under Lieutenant Warner, 7th Bengal Cavalry, Captain Kemble, 41st Bengal Native Infantry, Lieutenant Huxham, 48th Bengal Native Infantry, Lieutenant Anderson, Bengal Engineers, and Lieutenant Mecham, 27th Madras Native Infantry, accompanied the party.

The party proceeded in strict silence out of the Bailey Gate to the garden opposite, and passed through a door to the right, about half way down the Garden, which led through bye-paths till it reached the road, at which place there was a considerable street fire from loopholes and from the top of houses, and from the guns of the enemy in position. A charge was made at the nearest gun, through long grass ruins, small breaches in walls, and a broad ditch. Our men entered by the embrasure, and the enemy immediately abandoned this gun. A considerable delay occurred in making preparations for bursting this gun, which, however, ultimately proved a failure, as some person had spiked it previously and in the hurry of the moment. During this time a party of No. 1 Division, under Captain Fraser, proceeded to reconnoitre a little further, when they came on another battery of the enemy, consisting of a 24-pounder and an 18-pounder gun. These were abandoned; but, the enemy being all round, and keeping such a fire on his party, Captain Fraser sent back to Major Stephenson to say he required a reinforcement. On this Captain Galwey, of No. 2 Division, proceeded with a few men. On reaching the spot, he found that, from the number of the enemy (which he calculated from their heavy fire), the position could not be held without a further reinforcement. The battery was surrounded with high walls, and apparently with no outlets. Captain Galwey returned, and reported this to Major Stephenson. It was now discovered that there were with us no means by which we could destroy or dismantle the guns; so Major Stephenson directed the advanced party to fall back on him, which, however, they did not then do. Captain Fraser spoke in the highest terms of the gallantry of Serjeant Lidster, Madras Fusiliers, who spiked the 24-pounder, and of Corporal William Dowling, Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment, who spiked the 18-pounder gun, being at the same time under a most heavy fire from the enemy.

Finding it impossible to burst the first gun, Major Stephenson left a party to protect that gun under a subaltern, and proceeded with Captain Maikes' Division No. 3, which he had kept with him to the advanced battery, which, as before stated, was surrounded with high walls. At this time Serjeant Lidster, previously mentioned as having spiked a gun under heavy fire, was killed. Major Stephenson called on some of the Volunteers or Guides to point out the way to the next battery; but no one knew the way, or seemed at all aware of our locality, and at this time firing being heard in our rear, Major Stephenson was compelled to retire by the way we came, it being quite impossible to go forward without guides. The three guns were left spiked, owing to want of means to destroy them. On the return of the party, it was exposed to a very destructive fire from the enemy, from the tops of houses and loopholes, and from want of means it was most difficult to take away our killed and wounded. One Serjeant, severely wounded, and since dead, must have been left on the ground, had not a private of the 32nd Regiment, in the most gallant manner, with the assistance of Captain Galwey, taken him up and carried him to a place of safety. Lieutenant Huxham, 48th Bengal Native Infantry, was wounded.

I enclose a return of the killed and wounded of the 1st Madras Fusiliers on this occasion.

Lieutenant A. C. Warner, Adjutant 7th Light Cavalry, to Captain Wilson, Officiating Deputy-Assistant Adjutant-General, Lucknow Garrison.

SIR, Lucknow, November 7th, 1857.

AGREEABLY to instructions received, I have the honour to report as follows.

In consequence of there being no available officers with Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment, I was selected to command a party of that corps on the 27th September in a sortie for the purpose of capturing some of the enemy's guns, in a battery opposite to our Cawnpore battery.

We paraded about 2 P.M. with the Madras Fusiliers, and marched out of the Bailey Guard Gate, my party in advance, the whole under command of Major Stephenson, of the Madras Fusiliers. We proceeded through the "Teree Kotee," across the road in rear of the Clock Tower, and then took ground to our right. Immediately we had crossed the road, we became exposed to the enemy's fire, and made a rush across a large court-yard through a door-way to our right. After passing through a succession of narrow streets and holes in the walls, we arrived at the Cawnpore-road. We then came on one of the enemy's guns, which was firing grape down the Cawnpore-road. I took my party to one side of the embrasure, and on receiving the word of command, we rushed in, headed by Major Stephenson. The enemy abandoned their gun, and a Naick of the 13th Regiment, "Kalka Tewaree," spiked it. We then endeavoured to burst it; but owing to the absence of water and other materials failed.

While we were attempting to burst this gun, a party of men under Captain Fraser, of the Madras Fusiliers, went on to another battery of the enemy's which was further in advance.

Shortly after this, the party under my command went with Captain Galwey and some of his men to reinforce Captain Fraser. On arriving near his position, we found the enemy in great force on all sides of us, keeping up a very heavy fire. We then retreated, by order of Major Stephenson, on the main body. One of the Madras Fusilier Serjeants being badly wounded, Captain Galwey, Lieutenant Mecham, 27th Madras Native Infantry, Private Smith, Her Majesty's 32nd, and myself, with great difficulty, managed to get him back to the main body. This private was, I regret to say, killed in the retreat. Major Stephenson then ordered us to retreat, which was done by the same route by which we had advanced. During the retreat, we were exposed to a heavy fire from the houses. The conduct of Corporal Cooney and Private Smith, of the 32nd, who were both killed, was most noble.

I enclose a return of the killed and wounded of Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment on this occasion.

MEMORANDUM regarding the Sortie of the 27th September.

Chuttur Munzil, Nov. 8th, 1857.

ON the 26th September I was warned by Brigadier Inglis to lead a party from the brigade mess, and, having taken the guns in its front, to circle leftwards, taking or destroying all the guns on the way, till we should reach our own position at jail or Teree Kotee. The party, however, that was told off for this purpose on the 26th, was required to help in the heavy guns and rear guard in the Motee Mehal, and the sortie was therefore temporarily deferred.

2. Having next morning mentioned the proposed sortie to Lieutenant Anderson, Garrison engineer, at the Fureed Buksh, he stated his opinion of the advisability of the sortie debouching from the jail and going in rear of the square house, and proceeding thence in a direction parallel to the road, by which plan we should start fair from our own ground, probably hit on the enemy's usual route, and take the guns in rear.

3. The sortie having been re-arranged for the afternoon of the 27th, Lieutenant Anderson proposed to guide it himself. The party was (as I learnt on reaching the first house attacked) commanded by Major Stephenson, of the Madras Fusiliers, and the party to explode the guns consisted of artillerymen under the command of Captain Mansel. Two Sepoys of the 13th Native Infantry accompanied us, under my orders, with picks, to assist in knocking down obstacles, should it be necessary.

4. Lieutenant Anderson led the party out by the Teree Kotee and jail, and rear of the square house to the building now forming the left of the Highlanders' position. The enemy being in possession of it, it was attacked; but the party never appeared to enter the rooms and clear them; it only remained in or rushed through the court-yards and passages, shooting or bayonetting such of the enemy as voluntarily came out.

5. The correct place for debouching from the square house was on the same side, only further advanced, than that at which we had entered it, and, as I afterwards found, Lieutenant Anderson was waiting there to lead the men out, as soon as they should have taken possession of the house. But waiting for no guidance, they left the house at the point which they reached on rushing through it, and immediately found themselves on the road. Hearing a call for an engineer officer, I went forward, and found the party on the road in front of an embrasure, which was shortly afterwards charged, and the gun taken. Not forty men were present for the first ten minutes, and although Captain Evans and my two Sepoys were there, the rest of the explosion party were among the absentees. After waiting ten minutes, and Major Stephenson getting impatient, Captain Evans, hopeless of the arrival of the bursting party and material, spiked the gun. This was no sooner done than they arrived, and the subsequent attempt to blow up the gun was a failure, from the vent being filled up by the spike. During the attempt to burst the gun, an officer (Captain Galwey I believe) came to report the capture of two other guns, the spiking of one of them, and the necessity for reinforcement. Major Stephenson having advanced towards them, asked me where we were, and what was to be done. As to what was to be done, on enquiry from Captain Evans it appeared that the men had drunk all the water reserved to moisten the clay to tamp the guns, that in fact he could not burst them, and there were no spikes present with which to spike them. I therefore said that, wherever we might go, we could destroy no more guns, and that consequently to return to the entrenchment seemed to me advisable. As to where we were, I said, I thought we were at the battery on the left of the Cawnpore road, which opinion was also expressed by Mr. Cavanagh. Mr. Phillips, our real guide, could give no opinion at all. To make certain of the locality, I told Major Stephenson I would cross the road and reconnoitre, which I accordingly did, and found that my conjecture had been correct. On my returning, the party had commenced its return to the entrenchments, which it effected by nearly the same route as that by which it had advanced.

The party which remained with Lieutenant Anderson, at the house first attacked, prevented the enemy still on it from doing us much injury on our return, otherwise our loss might have been most serious. The separation of the whole party into the two bodies, which was the previous cause of the failure in destroying the guns, is entirely attributable to an advance having been made from that house without the direction of the proper guide.

J. McLEOD INNES, Lieutenant, Engineers.

NOTE.—This sortie was designed to attack the Garden Battery, and it appears from the experience gained in a subsequent attack (1st, 2nd and 3rd November) that the strength of the party was quite inadequate to accomplish the object required. The real cause of the failure in bursting the gun that was taken possession of, instead of spiking, appears to have been the delay in bringing up the bursting party.

Had the house alluded to by Lieutenant Innes been taken possession of, instead of being merely passed through, and measures taken to reconnoitre the ground in advance before the party proceeded, it is probable that the result would have been more satisfactory, and that at all events the captured guns would have been effectually destroyed; but without a much larger body of men, the complete conquest and destruction of the whole Garden Battery could not have been accomplished.

J. C. ANDERSON, Lieutenant,
Garrison Engineer.

SIR, Lucknow, October 20, 1857.

AGREEABLY to your request, I have the honor to forward a Report of the proceedings of the party, as per margin*, under my command, during the sortie of the 29th ultimo. We assembled in the third Seikh square, a little before daybreak, as a reserve to an attacking party, under command of Captain Hardinge, who, when he had taken the guns in front of the brigade mess, advanced to his right to take a gun situated in a strong position in the middle of a lane, to the left front of Mr. Gubbins's house. He placed his men in a flanking position, and came to me for a party to advance and take some houses to the right and left of the lane, from which there was a heavy fire. I advanced through the breach in the Seikh square, with Lieutenant Ouseley, 48th Regiment Native Infantry, Lieutenant the Honorable J. Fraser, and 35 men, and led them up the lane to the front of the enemy's stockade. I took up a position with four or five men, and fired on several of the enemy who were trying to escape. Lieutenant Ouseley, the Honorable J. Fraser, and several men got over the stockade, and the party under Captain Hardinge came forward, and the gun, a six-pounder, pointed towards him, was taken possession of. One of our men was killed as we reached the stockade, and one wounded a short time after. 14 or 15 of the enemy were killed, 9 of them in two huts to the right and left of the lane. I left this party of the reserve under command of the Honorable J. Fraser, and went back to the remainder of the reserve, which I found had nced from the Seikh square, under Captain wey, and we proceeded down the lane and took forward positions in a house which Captain bes, 1st Light Cavalry, and his Seikh Orderly, examined and reported empty. There was a ng party of the enemy to our left front, who t up a heavy fire. I placed part of the men er Captain Galwey in front of the house ;

 ther party, under Captain Forbes, took posi-ion of the upper story of the house ; and I ched a third party to take possession of a icade across the street, a little to our right
 t. Our loss here was one killed and one nded. Five or six of the men from this posi-got into a large house still further in advance.
 I went and examined the house, and found,
 r getting into the lower story, that the enemy begun two mines, the shafts of which were k to a considerable depth. I reported this to utenant Innes, the Executive Engineer, who examination, decided on blowing them up.
 ng short of men, I ordered a party of ten, under eant-Major Donovan, to come down our centre tion and occupy the house where the mines
 e. He remained in charge till the mines were wn up. During the time I was thus occupied, utenant Ouseley rendered great service by turing a gun, which had checked the advance the party to which he was attached, by being nt at the end of a very narrow lane, about or 70 yards long. Lieutenant Ouseley, accom-ied by Serjeant Higgins and four men of the Madras Fusiliers, went through a number of ases and narrow passages to the right of the e, and finding their further progress stopped by ery high and steep bastion, where they distinctly rd the voices of the enemy, they ascended it, by the above-named officer, found it unoccupied, and rushed across it into a house, from which they fired down upon and killed two out of some 40 men assembled below them, and raising a cheer routed the enemy, and took possession of the gun, without losing a man, or giving the enemy the power of discharging the piece, to which drag-ropes were attached to enable the enemy to pull it round the nearest corner, should we attempt to charge it. A party of 8 or ten men, from Captain Galwey's position, under Lieutenant Cleveland, reinforced Lieutenant Ouseley, and after the gun had been removed, they retired, and the bastion was blown up. Afterwards two small guns were found in a lane close to this battery, and taken possession of by Lieutenants Ouseley and Aitken, 13th Regiment Native Infantry. The three were dismantled from their carriages and were sent into the garrison, and the carriages broken up and burnt. Our loss at this point was one killed and two wounded—one of the latter, Mr. Lucas, whose zeal and gallantry on every occasion during the siege every one has heard of. About 11 o'clock we returned into garrison, having examined and cleared the guns from the whole of the front of Mr. Gubbins's house. We had not time or men to examine the houses in front of our centre bastion, which I much regret, as there are constant reports from the men that mining is going on, but I have no good reason to suppose so, as I have invariably, when called, found the houses unoccupied, and heard no noises that would lead me to suppose that mining was going on.

*Lieutenant J. C. Anderson, Garrison Engineer, to

Lucknow, October 19, 1857.

THIS sortie proceeded simultaneously with two others— one from the Seikh Square to the right of the Brigade Mess, and another from the Redan towards the Iron Bridge, led by Captain McCabe, Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment, with a few of the men of his regiment, who had, during the siege, been on duty on the posts opposite the position to be attacked. The whole strength of the sortieing party was 200 men, with a reserve of 150 men.

At daylight the party issued from an opening in the Brigade Mess wall, and formed up under cover of a wall which runs parallel to the other at the distance of a few paces. The advance was then made in file, the men having to scramble over the debris of a house which had been blown down on a former occasion, and a rush made direct on the enemy's gun, 18-pounder, which lay behind a breastwork, at a distance of 80 yards from the Brigade Mess. The gunners fired two rounds at us when we made our appearance, but before they could fire again, we had scaled their battery and driven them to flight. We then proceeded to force a building immediately to the left of the gun. The lower story was quickly occupied. Captain McCabe, the gallant leader of many former sorties, was mortally wounded in the operation, and some delay having in consequence occurred, a few of the enemy in the upper story had time to kill and wound several of our men before they were attacked and bayoneted. After the house had been taken possession of, a picquet of 25 men was left to hold it, while the main body of our men proceeded along a narrow lane, under command of Major Simmons, Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers, to occupy two large buildings, about 60 and 80 yards, respectively, in advance of the first, with several other smaller buildings adjoining; the loss to the enemy in all being probably above 30 men. On our side we had the misfortune to lose Major Simmons, who was killed by a musket shot while leading his men into the most advanced building. We had now progressed to a position from which we had a view of the enemy's 18-pounder gun in front of the Cawnpore battery. It lay in a lane running towards the Cawnpore road, the end of which was barricaded and loopholed; and directly in line with it, on the opposite side of the road, the enemy occupied a house from which they kept up a hot musketry fire on our position.

I then sent for the reserve, and desired that an officer of rank might be sent to command the whole party. General Sir J. Outram having become acquainted with our progress, sent word that, unless further advance could be made without danger of considerable loss, the design of proceeding against the enemy's gun, now in our view, should be abandoned, and that the party should retire after destroying in succession the houses we had taken possession of. After consulting with Captain Evans (attached to the Artillery), who had meanwhile destroyed the enemy's gun, which we left at the first house, and also a 6-pounder gun in its neighbourhood, I returned a reply to the General that further advance could not be made out considerable loss, and I proceeded to destroy the three large houses we held, commencing the one furthest in advance, and withdrawing the party gradually to the rear. This operation, which 13 barrels of powder were expended, destroyed the principal musketry cover of the enemy against our defences between the Brigade Mess and the Cawnpore Battery, and the destruction of the houses in front of the latter, together with that effected by the sortieing parties acting in conjunction with us to the right, has relieved a considerable portion of our work from serious annoyance.

The party returned about 9½ A.M.

Lieutenant G. Hardinge, Commanding Irregular Cavalry, &c., to Colonel B. Napier, Chief of the Staff.

Lucknow, October 22, 1857.

IN OBEEDIENCE to your orders, I have the honor to report that the under-mentioned parties have been made over to me to take the guns to the front and right of the Brigade Mess and Seikh square :—

Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment, under
Lieutenant Cooke	20 men
Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders, under
Captain Lockhart	140 „
1st Madras Fusiliers, under Captain
Galwey	90 „
Total	250 men.

We fell in and filed out of the breach in the Seikh square at daybreak of the 29th September, 1857.

The advance consisted of Her Majesty's 32nd, main body Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders, reserve of 1st Madras Fusiliers, the Engineers under Lieutenant Innes, Artillery under Lieutenant J. Alexander, Major Apthorp, (whose report I enclose,) Captain Forbes and Lieutenant Ouseley, knowing the ground, accompanied the reserve.

We formed silently under cover of some broken ground. The first gun, a brass 12-pounder, was taken by Her Majesty's 32nd with a cheer. By keeping to the right of the embrasure, we avoided the discharge. Lieutenant Cooke and Private Keilly were first at the gun.

The 32nd occupied a house in rear of the gun, and enabled the Artillery to burst it unmolested.

The 78th Highlanders, led by Captain Lockhart, who was slightly wounded, then charged a gun to the right, the covering party of the first gun, and a considerable body of the enemy, rallied round this gun. Sergeant James Young, 78th Highlanders, the first man at the gun, bayoneted one of the enemy's gunners while re-loading, and was severely wounded by a sword-cut.

I ordered up a party of the 1st Fusiliers, under Lieutenant the Honourable J. Fraser, to take the enemy in rear, and a number of them were killed here and in the houses in the neighbourhood. Hand grenades used with good effect.

Proceeding further to the right, opposite Mr. Gubbins' house, our further progress was stopped by a small gun and some wall-pieces at the end of a narrow lane.

Lieutenant Ouseley, 48th Native Infantry, and Lieutenant Aitken, 13th Native Infantry, took these pieces in flank after a difficult detour, by getting into a house above them, and with a cheer and volley routed the enemy. This manoeuvre was most skilfully and gallantly executed. Sergeant Higgins, with 4 men of the Madras Fusiliers, and Private Browne, 32nd, are stated to have been the first men at the gun. Mr. Lucas, a volunteer, well known for his bravery, was mortally wounded here.

Major Apthorp and Captain Forbes, with the Fusiliers under Captain Galwey, occupied the houses commanding the pieces which were brought away. Two shafts of a mine were here discovered and blown up.

The batteries and barricades were completely burnt and destroyed. Working parties of the Seikh Cavalry, under Lieutenant Graham, and sepoy of the 13th Native Infantry, under Lieutenant Aitken, did good work.

I inclose Lieutenant Innes's report. Under cover of the houses blown up, the party fell back unmolested.

One heavy gun was burst, three smaller ones and some wall-pieces brought in.

Our loss was 4 killed and 11 wounded, including Mr. Lucas and Captain Lockhart.

Lieutenant, Commanding Irregular Cavalry,

General.

Memorandum of Demolitions effected by the Party under Captain Hardinge, on the 29th September, 1857.

Lucknow, October 21st, 1857.

THE party for demolition consisted of six miners of Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment, with a fatigue party of six men supplied from the troops under Captain Hardinge's guidance. It carried six barrels of powder, with the requisite supply of hose, port fire, and slow-match.

2. The house that covered the first gun taken, was the first selected for demolition. I accordingly laid in it a charge of two barrels. This done, Captain Hardinge pointed out the two next places which he proposed to destroy. They were houses in which the enemy were said to be, and to eject whom would have been attended with no benefit, but probably with a considerable loss of life. One house being in a dilapidated condition, I laid one barrel of powder against the middle of its outer-wall; the other was strong, and I therefore lodged two barrels against its wall in a similar position.

3. These charges being laid, it was decided to defer the explosions till the time should arrive for retiring, when they should be fired in a reverse order to that in which the charges were laid.

4. On the capture of the guns by the reserve, I lodged a barrel of powder at the Stockade where they had been, and fired it. The demolition was successful.

5. I had thus laid out all the six barrels, when Major Apthorp, in command of the reserve, reported the discovery of a house with mines in it, leading probably to the bastion and out-houses at Mr. Gubbins' compound. I mentioned the want of powder; but Lieutenant Graham arriving and reporting that more powder had been placed at my disposal, I requested to have four barrels sent me. On proceeding to examine the house and mines, I found that there were two shafts, but no galleries. No mines then had to be destroyed, only the house, in which, therefore, I lodged and fired two barrels of powder, bringing down the side of the house facing the entrenchments.

6. The time for the party to retire having now arrived, I fired the mines mentioned in paragraph 2, in a reverse order to that in which the charges had been laid. As the explosion did not occur till the rear guard was on the entrenchment side of the buildings successively demolished, the inspection of the results could not be made on the site of the building destroyed: but as well as observation from a tolerably short distance could enable a decision to be arrived at, all the demolitions were successful.

Lieutenant, Engineers, destroy a 24-pounder gun, situated on a mound about 200 yards from Mr. Hill's shop, which had been doing immense injury in the garrison during the siege.

3. The party started from Innes' outpost about day-break, and took and spiked 2 mortars and 4 Zemindaree guns of small calibre, destroying the carriage of the latter. The guns were placed on the roads leading towards the iron bridge and past Mr. Hill's shop, and the column had to traverse a distance of 1,200 yards from the outpost before reaching the last gun. The party then returned about 300 yards, and quitted the road to reach the 24-pounder gun above-mentioned. It was taken possession of, and the houses near having been occupied, it was destroyed successfully.

I regret, however, to add that the column sustained considerable loss in consequence of an order with reference to occupying the houses in its rear leading to the Iron Bridge not having been carried out.

AGREEABLY to your order I have the honour to report that, on the 2nd ultimo, the under-mentioned party was put under my command for bringing the guns to the right of the Cawnpore road:—

Her Majesty's 32nd, Lieutenant Cook, 68 men.

Her Majesty's 84th Regiment, 12 men.

Madras Fusiliers, 15 men.

Artillery, 7 men.

On coming up to the batteries, we found the enemy had deserted them, and withdrawn one or two guns. They had burst a very heavy gun on the Cawnpore road, and another, an iron 18-pounder, had the muzzle blown off. I had this gun destroyed after burning the batteries and blowing up a large mosque, in which four barrels of powder were placed.

I withdrew the party unmolested, the enemy only firing from some distant houses. One man of Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment was wounded.

Lieutenant Graham and 20 Seikh Cavalry formed the working party.

SIR, Lucknow, November 21st, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to forward a plan and memorandum, showing Captain Lockhart's post and work done by the Engineer Department at that post.

I have, &c.,

G. HUTCHINSON, Lieutenant, Engineers,
Director of Works.

No. 46.

Memorandum of Work executed at Captain Lockhart's post, from the first possession of it until the 21st of November, 1857.

BARRICADES were at once and primarily erected at all outlets and loopholes cut along all the walls.

Doorways of communications opened between the three main houses, which originally were distinct buildings, and such arrangements made as enabled us to command to the utmost the ruins on the right and left of position.

A cannon-proof barricade was erected across the Khas Bazaar, communicating with 84th post, and an embrasure opened through it for a gun: a second barricade was afterwards placed across the Cawnpore road.

The enemy commenced mining against us at H on the left of our position, about six days after our occupying the post. We sunk a shaft, preparatory to driving a gallery, to meet them ; but before we could complete the shaft, the enemy exploded a very large charge of powder, some 10 feet short of our outer enclosure wall, which had the effect of shaking down the wall and filling up our shaft, by the masses of earth thrown into the air and descending into our shaft. I regret to say we lost one man in this shaft. By some fatality, though the men on duty and at the mine saw the enemy's train burning, and volumes of smoke issuing out of the houses, from which they knew the enemy were mining, they did not move from the spot, but merely sent to report to their officer. We were prepared for the explosion, and had the enclosure already barricaded off, so that the enemy gained nothing by the mine.

From this time up to within the last six days, we have been almost constantly at work day and night, countermining against them.

Our general success has been very good, having held our ground with an expenditure of but 200lbs. of powder, and resisted numerous attacks of the enemy's miners.

On two particular occasions our success was more than usual. A gallery, driven from our shaft C, intercepted a gallery of the enemy's, and our explosion completely cut off some 12 feet of it ; so that the next morning, on breaking into the portion so cut off, we dug out, or rather dragged out, four dead bodies, the enemy's miners having been completely cut off in a tomb, as it were, for the gallery they were in was not broken down, but stopped up by our explosion.

In this case our operations commenced from shaft D.

We broke into their gallery some 12 feet from our wall about 12 o'clock at night, and Serjeant
1858. 3 K

Day, our Superintending Miner, remained below, assisted by others, holding the entrance to their gallery until I arrived.

On entering the enemy's gallery, I took Corporal Thompson, of the 78th Highlanders, with me, and observing the apparently great length of the enemy's mine, proceeded cautiously to extinguish the lights, so as to keep ourselves in darkness as we advanced. At this time the enemy were in the mine at or near their shaft, which, contrary to their usual practice, they evidently wished to hold uninjured. They severally fill them in at once when we take their gallery.

I proceeded, extinguishing the lights, until I distinctly saw the enemy at the far end, and to advance further would be to advance in a blaze of light. I therefore lay down and waited, as our preparations above, carried on under Lieutenant Tulloch, were not yet ready. Whilst lying there, I saw a sepoy with musket at trail advance down the mine, and when within 40 feet of him, fired at him. My pistol missed fire, and before Corporal Thompson could hand me his pistol the sepoy had retreated. After remaining some time longer, I placed another man with Corporal Thompson, and went up to get an officer down, as I felt it required a very steady man down there to support us. While we were laying the charge, and making various arrangements, which utterly precluded our watching against an enemy's advance at the same time, Lieutenant Hay, of the 78th Highlanders, then commanding the picquet, kindly volunteered and took up my old post. Lieutenant Tulloch and Serjeant Day quickly got the powder down, and all arrangements ready, when we then withdrew Lieutenant Hay behind the partial barricade we had formed; and whilst here, still watching with Corporal Thompson, he got two shots at another man who attempted to come down the mine, and apparently wounded him. The enemy made no more attempts to come down the mine, but went outside their building, and came over our heads, apparently with the intention of breaking through. After some quarter of an hour's walking over head, they, I conclude, could not find the direction of the mine, and retreated into the house.

Our charge of 50 lbs. which I had laid outside our barricade, and 82 feet up the enemy's gallery,* was soon tamped, and the charge fired by Lieutenant Tulloch. The charge being laid with nine feet of sand-bag tamping behind it, and none in front, the main force of the powder acted towards the enemy's shaft, but it took down forty feet backwards towards us, leaving us forty feet to use as a listening gallery. I deduce the enemy's mine to be 200 feet long and upwards, from the reconnoitring of Lieutenant Hay and myself before we commenced laying our charge, and from the position of the houses it came from. The gallery had numerous air-holes and was thoroughly ventilated.

I was much indebted to Lieutenant Hay and Corporal Thompson in this business, and also to Lieutenant Tulloch, who himself also fired the mine—a somewhat difficult task, as our bore being short, he had to retreat some sixty feet through the enemy's gallery and ours, and then of the shaft. Such is a brief account of our mining operations.

The total length of gallery work run is 500 feet, and five shafts, averaging 12 feet deep, with a drain of 5 feet each.

The 9-pounder gun I placed in a position in the house on the left of our position, as shown in plan, and it was useful in silencing the fire of a gun of the enemy's firing from a stockade up the lane.

* 82 feet I fixed on as giving us the best amount of gallery, and no more than we could well defend.

In concluding this report, I would respectfully bring to your notice the valuable assistance rendered by Serjeant Day, of the 32nd, who was in charge of the mines, and until Lieutenant Tulloch was posted to the position, acted direct under my orders. His zeal and quiet steady management of the raw recruits under him has been most commendable.

I would also bring to your notice the unremitting zeal and attention to his work manifested by Lieutenant Tulloch, since he has been in charge of the post ; and during the period of my acting here, Lieutenant Tulloch has almost entirely—unassisted by me—carried on our system of mines most successfully.

I have, &c.,
G. HUTCHINSON, Lieutenant, Engineers,
 Director of Works.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

No. 1626 of 1857.

WITH reference to Government General Order No. 1625, of this date, the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct, that every officer and soldier, European and Native, who formed part of the force under command of Major-General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., shall be allowed a donation of six months' batta, as already authorized for the troops composing the late garrison of Lucknow.

 Secretary to the Government of India,

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, December 30th, 1857.

No. 1666 of 1857.

THE Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council, in directing the publication of the subjoined despatch from Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., dated the 30th September 1857, considers it due to that officer and to others who may have felt disappointment at the omission of it among the despatches which were published in the Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary of the 23rd instant, to explain that, although earlier in date than those despatches, it has been received after them, and that its publication has not been delayed.

His Lordship in Council most fully appreciates the valour of the troops whom that distinguished officer, the late Sir Henry Havelock, aided and supported by Sir James Outram and by the lamented Brigadier-General Neill, led victoriously through the hosts of the insurgents and in the face of extraordinary difficulties, to the relief of the garrison of Lucknow; and he desires that every officer, non-commissioned officer and soldier will accept the assurance of the entire approbation of Government, as offered to each and all individually.

The Governor-General in Council observes with great satisfaction the supplemental order in which Sir J. Outram separately brings to notice the services rendered by the Ferozepore Regiment under their gallant leader, Captain Brasyer. The thanks of Government were given to this regiment in the general order, No. 1625, of the 22nd instant; and his Lordship in Council willingly reiterates his acknowledgments to Captain Brasyer and his officers and men.

A despatch from the Deputy-Adjutant-General of the Army, dated the 22nd of December, 1857, is also now published. In it his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief prominently brings to notice the good service performed by the officers of the Volunteer Cavalry, commanded by Captain Barrow, and the Governor-General in Council embraces with much satisfaction this opportunity of publicly recording his sense of the gallant conduct of Captain Barrow and his devoted band, officers and men, ever forward where hard work and danger were to be found.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secretary to the Government of India,
in the Military Department.

No. 49.

Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., to his Excellency Sir Colin Campbell, G.C.B., Commander-in-Chief.

SIR,

Lucknow, September 30, 1857.

GENERAL HAVELOCK having effected his junction with the garrison holding the Residency of Lucknow on the evening of the 25th instant, I, on the following day, resumed command of the troops, issuing the order A., of which I enclose a copy for his Excellency's information. I had previously sent a note to the Commandant of the Garrison, warning him of our approach, and warning him not to be enticed into weakening his garrison by detaching to our support when he should hear us engaged in the city, lest the enemy should avail themselves of that opportunity to assault his position. This note I have since learnt he received—copy enclosed B.

Since we have obtained access to the exterior of the entrenchments, we find that they had completed six mines in the most artistic manner—one of them from a distance of 200 feet under our principal defensive works, which were ready for loading, and the firing of which must have placed the garrison entirely at their mercy. The delay of another day, therefore, might have sealed their fate.

To force our way through the city would have proved a very desperate operation, if indeed it could have been accomplished.

After passing the bridge, therefore, which is at the entrance, General Havelock took his force by detours to the right, where but little means comparatively of opposition had been prepared, until he approached the front of the "Kaiser Bagh," (King's Palace), from whence a heavy fire was opened upon us, and from that point (through a limited extent of about a quarter of a mile of street that intervened before reaching the Residency) the troops were much exposed to the fire of the enemy occupying the houses on both sides, as well as to some of the besieging guns which had been turned against us, besides being obstructed by ditches which had been cut across the street—all which obstacles were overcome by the usual gallantry and dash of British troops, but at a heavy cost. The Residency was joined in the evening; and the cheers of our rescued comrades overcame for the time our regrets for the many who had fallen in their cause.

General Havelock's reports will acquaint your Excellency with details; my own reports commencing from the following day, when, as the enemy had, during the night, continued to occupy offensive position and to maintain his fire on the entrenchment, it became my first object to occupy or destroy his works ; for, independent of the damage caused by his fire to the now crowded garrison, no communication could be held with the city. I, therefore, on the morning of the 26th, ordered the Captain Bazaar to be cleared, which has heretofore harboured the enemy in vexatious proximity to the garrison, and it was occupied by Her Majesty's 32nd Regiment under Brigadier Inglis, capturing five guns, with a loss of one officer (Captain Hughes, 57th Light Infantry) and two privates killed and seven privates wounded, thus removing all obstruction from the river side of our position.

On the 27th September the palaces, extending along on the line of the river, from the Residency to near the "Kaiser Bagh" ("Teree Kotee," "Chuttur Munzil," and "Fureed Buksh"), were occupied for the accommodation of our troops. On the same day, at noon, a party consisting of 150 men made a sortie on another of the enemy's positions, and destroyed 4 guns, at a loss of 8 killed and wounded. At day-light on the 28th, 3 columns, aggregating 700 men, attacked the enemy's works at three different points, destroyed 10 guns, and demolished by powder explosions the houses which afforded position to the enemy for musketry fire. This has effectually destroyed his attacks, excepting on one point, where he has still 3 guns, which it is difficult to get at ; but it is not likely the enemy will attempt to maintain that isolated position, and as there has been no fire from thence this morning, it is probable he may have abandoned it. This successful operation was attended by the serious loss of one officer and 15 men killed and missing, 1 officer and 31 men wounded, the officer killed being Major Simmons, Commanding Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers, most deeply regretted by the whole Army.

Our present prospects have now to be considered. It was the urgent desire of the Government that the garrison should be relieved, and the women and children, amounting to upwards of 470 souls, withdrawn.

The army of the enemy has been beaten in the open field without difficulty. The resistance was more obstinate in the suburbs, and at a great sacrifice the troops forced their way to the garrison of Lucknow. The sick and wounded had been left with the baggage in a strong enclosure, called "Alum Bagh," five miles from the Lucknow entrenchment.

In considering the heavy loss at which we forced our way through the enemy, it was evident that there could be no possible hope of carrying off the sick, wounded, and women and children (amounting to not less than 1,500 souls, including those of both forces). Want of carriage alone rendered the transport through 5 miles of disputed suburb an impossibility.

There remained but two alternatives; one to reinforce the Lucknow Garrison with 300 men, and leaving every thing behind, to retire immediately with the remains of the Infantry upon the "Alum Bagh," thereby leaving the garrison in a worse state than we found it, by the addition to the numbers they had previously to feed, the great amount of our wounded, and the 300 soldiers, who would barely have sufficed to afford the additional protection that would have been required, without adding such strength as would have enabled them to make an active defence, to repel attacks by sorties, or to prevent the enemy occupying the whole of their old positions, while it would have been impossible for any smaller force than the remainder of our troops, diminished by those 300 men, to have any hope of making good their way back, and that not without very serious loss. I, therefore, adopt the second alternative as the only mode of offering reasonable hope of securing the safety of this force, by retaining sufficient strength to enforce supplies of provisions, should they not be open to us voluntarily, and to maintain ourselves, even on reduced rations, until reinforcements advance to our relief.

Now that Delhi has fallen and released our forces, two brigades might perhaps be spared for this service. But I am satisfied that even one brigade, with two batteries of artillery, could make good its way to the "Dilkoosha" (a position three miles from hence on the Cawnpore side of the canal), the route to which, the rains now being over, will be practicable for artillery by the direct road from "Alum Bagh."

With such a force established at "Dilkoosha," we could without difficulty open out our communication, and withdraw the whole, or such portion, of our forces as may be desired after re-establishing our authority at Lucknow.

Since my decision has been made, I have received a letter from the "Alum Bagh," in which it is stated that they are in great want of provisions, but upon returns of what they have, it is clear that they are not aware of their own resources, which were sufficient for some days. I have, therefore, ordered back the cavalry to join them in the night by a circuitous route, with conditional orders to withdraw to Cawnpore, or to maintain their position, as may be found most practicable. Their only difficulty is provisions, as they are placed in a fortified enclosure, defended by two of our heavy guns, and two 9-pounders, besides other guns taken from the enemy, 250 European soldiers, and a number of convalescents fit to bear arms.

I have, &c.,

J. OUTRAM, Major-General.

1st October, P.S.—The Cavalry failed to make their way out last night; the enemy being found on the alert, and in such strength beyond our picquets, it was not deemed prudent to attempt to force a passage; consequently this despatch was brought back, and there will be no means of transmitting it at present.

Lucknow Residency,
September 26, 1857.

DIVISION ORDERS.

THE relief of the Lucknow Garrison having last night been accomplished by General Havelock and his brave troops, Major-General Sir J. Outram resumes his position as commander of the forces.

The Major-General heartily congratulates General Havelock and the troops whom that gallant and distinguished officer has so gloriously led to victory, on brilliant successes over the hosts that have opposed them since the army crossed the Ganges on the 19th instant. He sincerely believes that, in the history of warfare, British valor was never more conspicuously displayed than on the 21st instant at "Mungulwurra," on the 23rd at "Alum Bagh," and on the 25th, when his heroic comrades forced the city bridge and other formidable obstacles which interrupted their passage to the position held by the beleaguered garrison. The Major-General deeply laments the heavy cost at which the relief of our countrymen has been purchased, but the glorious devotion with which the gallant dead and equally gallant survivors staked their lives to rescue the Lucknow garrison will be deeply appreciated by our Queen and our country; and the safety of those whom we, under God's blessing, have been permitted to redeem from a dreadful fate, must be our consolation for the loss of so many of our noble comrades. The Major-General begs to return his most sincere and heartfelt thanks to the General and his gallant army for their glorious exertions, the only acknowledgment of their achievements which it is in his power to render. On General Havelock it will devolve, in his reports to the Commander-in-chief, to do justice to the army which has so devotedly carried out his orders. But, while fully aware that every arm was stimulated by the same brave spirit, the Major-General deems it right to bear his personal testimony to the admirable conduct of such of the troops as acted under his immediate observation. He would specially note the behaviour of the 90th Regiment, who led the advance of the left attack at "Mungulwurra;" that of the Volunteer Cavalry, who charged the artillery of the retiring enemy and captured two of their guns; that of the 84th and detachment of the 64th attached to it, who led the attack on the enemy's left at "Alum Bagh;" that of Captain Olpherts's battery, who so bravely followed up their retreat on that occasion, and Major Eyre's battery, in opposing the many that afterwards bore on their position; that of the 5th Fusiliers and Captain Maude's battery, who led the column on the 25th instant, under a most murderous fire; that of the 1st Fusiliers (Madras), who charged the bridge and battery at the entrance of the city, led by the gallant Assistant Adjutant-General, Lieutenant Havelock; and finally, that of the 78th Highlanders, who led the advance on the Residency, headed by their brave commander, Colonel Stisted, accompanied by the gallant Lieutenant Hargood, Aide-de-Camp to General Havelock; Captain

Grant, 1st Madras Fusiliers ; Lieutenant Hudson, 64th Regiment ; and Lieutenant Chamier, Aide-de-camp.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER.

The Major-General regrets to find that, in noticing the services of the troops which came under his personal attention, in division orders of 26th instant, he omitted to mention the Regiment of Ferozepore and its gallant leader, Captain Brasyer. The Major-General in that order merely referred to what he himself observed, but was well aware that this regiment was most prominently forward on every occasion. Though happening seldom to be in the same part of the field, he takes blame to himself for having inadvertently omitted to mention their advance with the 90th at "Mungulwurra," which did come under his personal observation. The time has not yet come for the Major-General to notice the conduct of the troop subsequently to his assuming command, during which period the Sikh Regiment has been incessantly occupied on the most important service ; but they may rest assured that they, as well as all the corps who have like them highly distinguished themselves since, will be brought to prominent notice.

SIR, North-side of the River, Sept. 20th, 1857.

THE army crossed the river yesterday, and all the material being over, marches to-morrow, and, under the blessing of God, will now relieve you. The rebels, we hear, purpose making a desperate assault upon you as we approach the city, and will be on the watch in expectation of your weakening your garrison to make a diversion in our favour as we attack the city. I beg to warn you against being enticed too far from your works when you hear us engaged. Such diversion as you can make without in any way risking your position, should only be attempted.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to transmit, for the information of the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council, copy of a letter dated the 15th instant, No. 7, from Captain L. Barrow, commanding the Volunteer Cavalry with Major-General Sir J. Outram's force, bringing prominently to notice the names of officers who have done good service in the corps under his command; and I am to request you will have the goodness to acquaint his Lordship in Council, that Sir James Outram has been requested to inform Captain Barrow, that the merits of these officers, and more especially of Captain Barrow himself as Commandant of the Volunteer Cavalry, are highly appreciated by his Excellency.

I have, &c.,

SIR, Camp Alum Bagh, December 15, 1857.

AS most of the officers of the Volunteer Cavalry have been removed by his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, their services being otherwise required, and many others having left the force, I trust I shall be excused for bringing prominently to notice the names of all these officers who have performed their duty well, and in an entirely new capacity.

The officers as per margin marked * served in the force left Allahabad, on the 6th July, under General Havelock, and those marked † joined at various periods of the Campaign. These officers have not only performed the duties of private soldiers and non-commissioned officers, but side by side with the privates of the different regiments composing the late Field Force. The arduous nature of these duties is so well known to the Commander-General, that it only remains to bring to

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

No. 1667 of 1857.

THE Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council has received the accompanying despatch from his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, and hastens to give publicity to it.

It supplies an omission in a previous despatch from his Excellency, which was printed in the Gazette Extraordinary of the 24th instant.

Major-General Windham's reputation as a leader of conspicuous bravery and coolness, and the reputation of the gallant force which he commanded, will have lost nothing from an accidental omission such as General Sir Colin Campbell has occasion to regret.

But the Governor-General in Council will not fail to bring to the notice of the Government in England the opinion formed by his Excellency of the difficulties against which Major-General Windham, with the officers and men under his orders, had to contend.

No. 59.

*Commander-in-chief to the Governor-General.Head Quarters, Camp near Cawnpore.*LORD, December 20, 1857.

HAVE the honour to bring to your Lordship's notice an omission, which I have to regret, in my despatch of the 2nd December, and I beg to be allowed now to repair it.

I desire to make my acknowledgement of the great difficulties in which Major-General Windham, who was placed during the operations he describes in his despatch, and to recommend him and the officers whom he notices as having rendered him assistance, to your Lordship's protection and good regards.

I may mention, in conclusion, that Major-General Windham is ignorant of the contents of my despatch of 2nd December, and that I am prompted to take this step solely as a matter of justice to Major-General and the other officers concerned.

I have, &c.,

C. CAMPBELL, General,
Commander-in-Chief.

NOTIFICATION.—No. 29.

*Fort William, Home Department,
January 6, 1858.*

WITHIN the next few days, the river steamer Arcturion, conveying the first of the ladies and gentlemen, and of the sick and wounded officers of the Lucknow garrison, will reach Calcutta.

No one will wish to obtrude upon those who are suffering from bereavement or sickness any show of ceremony which shall impose fatigue or pain. The best welcome which can be tendered upon such an occasion is one which shall break in as little as possible upon privacy and rest.

But the rescue of these sufferers is a victory beyond all price ; and in testimony of the public joy with which it is hailed, and of the admiration with which their heroic endurance and courage have been viewed, the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council directs that, upon the approach of the Madras to Prinsep's Ghaut, a royal salute shall be fired from the ramparts of Fort William.

The Governor-General in Council further directs that all ships of war in the river shall be dressed in honour of the day.

Officers will be appointed to conduct the passengers on shore, and the state barges of the Governor-General will be in attendance.

As soon as the telegraph shall announce that the Madras has passed Atcheepore, two signal guns will be fired from the fort.

By order of the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council.

CECIL BEADON, Secretary to the Government of India.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE GOVERNOR
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, January 5, 1858.

No. 16 of 1858.

THE Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following report of a successful attack made by a portion of the troops under the Command of Major-General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., on a body of the enemy in the neighbourhood of his camp, on the 22nd December last. His lordship in Council concurs in the commendation given by his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief to Sir James Outram and the officers and men under his command on the occasion.

SIR,

No. 41 A.

I HAVE the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to enclose, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor-General of India in Council, copy of a Despatch of the 23rd instant, from Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., reporting the circumstances of a successful attack made upon a portion of the enemy in the neighbourhood of his camp by a detachment of the troops under the Major-General's command, in which four guns were captured; and I am to state that his Excellency considers the whole affair to have been extremely well conducted, and to reflect much credit on the troops engaged.

I have, &c.,

H. W. NORMAN, Major,
Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

No. 63.

Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., Commanding Troops in Oude, to the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

*Camp before Lucknow,
December 23, 1857.*

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that I had yesterday an affair with the enemy, at a village called Guilee, three miles from hence, situated a little to the right of the road to Dil Khoosha.

I had been informed two days previously, by my spies, that the enemy contemplated surrounding my position, in order to cut off supplies, stop all foraging expeditions, and to intercept my communication with Bunnee. With this object they despatched a force to Guilee, which took up a position between that village and Budroop, which places are about a mile distant from each other.

On the evening of the 21st instant, I learnt that the rebels had been reinforced, and that their strength amounted to about 4,000 infantry, 400 cavalry, and 8 field guns.*

Having ascertained that a space of about half a mile intervened between their position and the gardens skirting the canal and the Dil Khoosha, I moved out at 5 A.M., in the hope of surprising them at daybreak, and intercepting their retreat to the city, with a force detailed in the accompanying Divisional Order, which I have this day issued and to which I beg to refer his Excellency for all details, and for the terms in which I express my appreciation of the conduct of the troops on the occasion.

The main body of the enemy being on the

* Since ascertained to have been only 4, all of which were captured.

March considerably in advance, retreated to the city by a detour to the left out of our reach, and concealed by intervening tops of trees, on hearing the attack on their rear; but the loss of 4 Horse Artillery guns, much ammunition, besides elephants and baggage, and some 50 or 60 men slain, will, I think, deter the enemy from again venturing beyond their defensive works, or at any rate from attempting for some time to come, to carry out their plan of surrounding this camp within a too limited circumference; and I have great hopes that the success of this expedition will be productive of good effect in restoring confidence to the neighbouring inhabitants.

Division Orders issued by Major-General Sir James Outram, G.C.B.

Camp, Alum Bagh, December 23, 1857.

1. MAJOR-GENERAL Sir James Outram has much pleasure in recording, in Division Orders, his satisfaction with the conduct of the officers and men* under the command of Brigadier

* Two 9-pounder guns, Royal Artillery, Captain Maude; four 9-pounder guns, 2nd Company 3rd Battalion Bengal Artillery, Captain Olpherts; 112 Military Train, Major Robertson; 50 Volunteer Cavalry, Captain Barrow; 36 Irregular Cavalry, Lieutenant Hay and Lieutenant Graham; 400 Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers, Colonel Guy; 103 Her Majesty's 75th Regiment, Captain Brookes; 156 Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders, Captain Lockhart; 108 Her Majesty's 84th Regiment, Captain O'Brien; 270 Her Majesty's 90th Light Infantry, Captain Guise; 150 Regiment of Ferozepore, Captain Brasyer; 40 Madras Sappers, Lieutenant Ogilvie.

TOTAL.—Six 9-pounder guns, under Captain Olpherts; 190 Cavalry, under Major Robertson; 1227 Infantry, under Brigadier Stisted; Right Column, under Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, Her Majesty's 90th Light Infantry; Left Column, under Colonel Guy, 5th Fusiliers; Reserve, under Lieutenant-Colonel Hamilton, Her Majesty's 78th Highlanders.

Stisted, engaged yesterday in the skirmish at Guilee, in which four guns and twelve waggons filled with ammunition, were captured.

2. The Right Column, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Purnell, Her Majesty's 90th Regiment, consisting of detachments of the 78th and 90th Regiments, and of the Ferozepore Regiment of Seikhs, excited his admiration by the gallant way in which, with a cheer, they dashed at a strong position held by the enemy, and from which they were met by a heavy fire. Regardless of the overwhelming numbers, and six guns reported to be posted there, the suddenness of the attack, and the spirited way in which it was executed, resulted in the immediate flight of the enemy, with hardly a casualty on our side.

3. Colonel Guy, in command of the Left Column, consisting of 400 men of Her Majesty's 5th Fusiliers, under the guidance of Lieutenant Moorson, Deputy Assistant - Quartermaster - General, was equally successful in his simultaneous attack on the adjacent village of Guilee, in which and the adjoining tope two guns were captured.

4. The enemy were now rapidly followed up across the plain by the Volunteer Cavalry, under Captain Barrow, until they found refuge in a village, from which they opened a fire of grape and musketry. They were, however, speedily dislodged, by the assistance of two of Captain Olpherts' guns, under the command of Lieutenant Smithett, and, changing their line of retreat, they endeavoured to reach the city by the way of the Dil Khoosha.

5. The Military Train, under Major Robertson, having been, however, despatched to make a flank movement, followed them up so rapidly that they dispersed their cavalry, and drove their guns into a ravine, where they were captured, the leading horses, of which the traces were cut, only escaping.

6. The Major-General was particularly pleased with the very cool and soldier-like behaviour of the Military Train. Far ahead of the infantry and unable to remove the guns which were captured, they were menaced in their front by a large body of fresh troops from the city, and attacked on their right flank by the main body of the enemy, consisting of about 2,000 infantry, who had commenced their march previous to our attack, and who, on hearing their rear assailed also, changed their route to one in the direction of the city, and seeing their guns in possession of so small a force as that under Major Robertson, made demonstrations of an attempt to regain them; but by the bold front shown by the Military Train, and the gallant advance of their skirmishers, were held at bay, until the arrival of a party of the 5th Fusiliers, and two 9-pounder guns, under Captain Olpherts, completely secured their capture, and enabled a working party of the Madras Sappers, under the command of Lieutenant Ogilvie, to extricate them from the ravine into which they had been driven. Captain Hutchinson, Chief Engineer, on this, as on several other occasions during the day, afforded much valuable assistance.

7. The Major-General has to thank Lieutenant-Colonel H. Hamilton, Commanding the Reserve, for the good position taken up by him, which, with the fire of the two guns under Lieutenant Simpson, which were most judiciously posted, were of great assistance in checking the advance of the enemy during the protracted operations of removing the captured guns.

8. Sir James Outram has also to express his acknowledgments to Brigadiers Hamilton and Eyre, who were left in charge of the camp, and with the small force at their disposal, checked the dispositions for an attack which the enemy was commencing with their skirmishers on the left flank, until the return of the force to camp caused them to abandon their intentions.

9. It will be the pleasing duty of the Major-General to make his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief acquainted with the successful result of yesterday's operations, and his approbation of the conduct of all those concerned in them.

SUPPLEMENT TO DIVISION ORDERS,

In publishing to the troops under his command the return of casualties which occurred in the skirmish at Guilee on the 22nd instant, as well as the return of ordnance captured by them, the Major-General is happy to have to record his approval of the conduct of Staff-Serjeant Roddy, who was in command of the two guns attached to Colonel Guy's column, and whom his commanding officer, Captain Olpherts, has mentioned for the able way in which he brought his guns into action, and the good service he rendered in covering the rapid advance of the column.

Major Robertson has also brought to his notice the great assistance he received on every occasion from Captain Lane, 5th Bengal Light Cavalry, and Lieutenant Rich, Her Majesty's 9th Lancers, attached to the Military Train.

No. 1.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE GOVERNOR-
GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, December 23, 1857.

No. 1627 of 1857.

THE Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following despatches received from Major-General Gowan, C.B., commanding in the Upper Provinces, and Major-General Penny, C.B., commanding at Delhi, detailing the proceedings of the columns detached from Delhi under the command of Brigadier Showers and Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed.

The Governor-General in Council has much pleasure in conveying his warm acknowledgments to Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed and the officers and men under his command, for their gallant conduct and exertions on the occasions of the attacks on the insurgents at Boolundshuhur, at Malagurh, at Allygurh, and lastly at Agra, where, after a very long march, and joined by the garrison of Agra, consisting of No. 20 Light Field Battery and the 3rd European Regiment under the command of Colonel Cotton, Commandant of Agra, the column entirely routed a large force of insurgent sepoy, taking the whole of their guns, baggage, camp, &c.

The Governor-General in Council also desires to convey to Brigadier Showers, and to the officers and men under his command, the assurance of the great satisfaction with which he views their zeal and exertions in the several conflicts with the insurgents in the districts to the westward of the Jumna.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secretary to the Government of India,
in the Military Department.

SIR,

No. 206.

I DO myself the honour of forwarding, for submission to his Excellency the Commander-in-chief and the Supreme Government, Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed's detailed Report of his proceedings against the mutineers at Boolundshuhur on the 28th ultimo.

I have, &c.

G. E. GOWAN, Major-General,
Commanding in the Upper Provinces.

No. 3.

Major-General A. Wilson, Commanding Field Force, to Major Prior, Assistant Adjutant-General, Lahore.

Delhi Palace, September 30, 1857.

SIR,

No. 1557.

IN continuation of my letter, No. 1550, of yesterday's date, I have the honour to forward, for submission to Major-General Gowan, C.B., commanding in the Upper Provinces, Lieutenant-Colonel E. H. Greathed's detailed Report of his proceedings against the mutineers at Boolundshuhur on the 28th instant.

I beg to bring to the favourable notice of the Major-General the several officers whose names have been particularly mentioned by Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed in his despatch.

I have, &c.

A. WILSON, Major-General,
Commanding Field Force.

*Lieutenant-Colonel E. H. Greathed, Commanding
Moveable Column, to Captain Stewart, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, Delhi.*

Boolundshuhur,

September 29, 1857.

SIR

IN continuation of my Report of yesterday's date, I have the honour to report to you, for the information of the Major-General commanding, that on my arrival at Boolundshuhur with the main column yesterday morning, I received a report that the enemy occupied a strong position at the fork of two roads behind a breast-work, in which two guns were at first said to be posted. It appeared afterwards there were six, of which two were 9-pounders. I immediately sent Her Majesty's 8th and two guns as a reinforcement to those already in advance. I afterwards brought up Captain Bouchier's Light Field Battery, Her Majesty's 75th Regiment, and the 2nd Punjaub Infantry, leaving Major Turner, H. A., in command of the Reserve, consisting of one troop of Horse Artillery, 4th Punjaub Infantry, and the 2nd Punjaub Cavalry.

The action was maintained on the part of the enemy's guns with great spirit for a very considerable time, notwithstanding the admirable practice of Captain Bouchier's Battery on the right and the cross fire from Captain Remmington's guns on the left road. I had in the meantime pushed forward in the centre, between the guns, which were supported by cavalry and infantry, and in advance of the position first occupied by Major Ouvry, as mentioned in that officer's report, and also on the right of Captain Bouchier's Battery, in the centre of Her Majesty's 75th, and on the right Her Majesty's 8th and 2nd Punjaub Infantry, with directions to clear the strong positions held by the rebels. This duty was well performed by the 8th under Captain Hinde, the 75th under Major Gordon, and the 2nd Punjaub Infantry under Captain Green. Seeing that the flanks were protected, I ordered Captain Bouchier to advance, which he did at a gallop. At the same time Her Majesty's 75th cleared the enclosures in the centre, and advanced with a cheer, and the rebels deserted their entrenchments, leaving one 9-pounder in our hands.

The cavalry then advanced by the two roads at a gallop, and I have the honour to refer you, for the particulars of the conduct of both artillery and cavalry, to the Reports of Major Turner and Major Ouvry. During the action the enemy's cavalry menaced both my flanks in considerable numbers, but was uniformly driven off with considerable loss. After I had cleared the town, I encamped on the other side of the bridge, over the Kalee Nuddee, on the Anoopshuhur road, with the intention of marching to Malagurh this morning. In the afternoon intelligence was brought to me that the fort had been completely evacuated, and that Wallee Dad had fled to Anoopshuhur.

I sent over 50 sowars immediately to take possession of this fort, which I visited this morning, and made arrangements for its immediate destruction: these will be completed to-morrow, and as soon as I have made arrangements for my wounded, I shall march towards Anoopshuhur.

I have the honour to request that you will draw the favourable consideration of the Major-General to the Reports of Major Turner and Major Ouvry, and to the mention they have made of the officers and soldiers mentioned in them. When all did their duty entirely, it is difficult and invidious to draw distinctions; but I must be permitted to express my best thanks to Major Turner for the uniform assistance and kind counsel he has afforded me on every occasion. The conduct of Captain Bouchier and his officers and men in the management of their battery was the subject of my admiration, as they were immediately under my own eye throughout.

The activity and judgment of Major Ouvry has been conspicuous throughout, and in the affair of yesterday he gave me the most zealous assistance in every point where he could be of service. I trust that the wound of Captain Drysdale, commanding the 9th Lancers, whose horse was shot dead under him when most gallantly charging at the head of his regiment, will not deprive the Government of his services for any lengthened period. Every officer and man in the force appeared to forget fatigue in their determination to drive the rebels from the position they had taken in our front.

I received the most effective aid from those excellent officers, Captain Norman, Assistant Adjutant-General, and Captain Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General; also from my Brigade Major, Captain Bannatyne, and my Orderly Officer, Lieutenant Ximenes, of the 8th Regiment.

Mr. Sapte, C.S., was kind enough to accompany me throughout, and to give me much assistance.

I have, &c.

E. H. GREATHED, Lieutenant-Colonel,
Commanding Moveable Column.

No. 5.

Major H. A. Ouvry, Her Majesty's 9th Lancers, Commanding Cavalry Brigade, to Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, Commanding Moveable Column, Boelundshukur.

*Camp, Boelundshukur,
September 28th, 1857.*

Sir,

I HAVE the honour to inform you, that I preceded the column of march, according to your order this morning. On my advanced guard of Light Cavalry arriving near the town of Boelundshukur, it was observed to be occupied by the enemy in force, who had a breast-work across the road and guns in position.

I immediately ordered guns to the front, which advanced within 500 yards of the breastwork. The enemy then opened with a round shot, which was replied to by our guns.

Having received most valuable information from Lieutenant Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master-General, that there was a road on my right, by which I could take the enemy's breast-work in flank, I called a reinforcement of artillery to the front and posted them on this road, when they did excellent service.

The Kutcherry, a pukka building, I also occupied with 100 infantry, who were sent to the front at my request.

At this period, you having arrived on the spot with the infantry, I went to the left to take the command of the cavalry, with whom I had previously posted a division of Horse Artillery, which I ordered to open fire on the right flank of the enemy's position.

After a very hot and well-sustained fire of two hours, I observed you advancing your infantry and guns on the enemy's left flank, driving them before you from their position.

As I also observed that they were flying on the road to Gurmucktesir Ghât, and towards Malagurh, I ordered Her Majesty's 9th Lancers to advance in pursuit, followed by the division of artillery.

The 9th Lancers charged through the city, which was shortly afterwards occupied by the infantry.

The road on the other side the town was partially blocked up with waggons and carts, and the enemy dispersing into the khets in the open country, I ordered the cavalry to halt, and advanced two guns to the bridge over the East Kalee Nuddee.

The sepoys endeavoured to make a stand outside the city gate, but were immediately charged and dispersed by the head of the column of the 9th Lancers, who have killed a number of them, and I cannot speak too highly of the gallantry of that regiment in charging through the town under a most severe fire from the houses.

I wish to bring most particularly to your notice the services of the artillery engaged; the manner in which they brought their guns into close action, and the constancy of their fire merits special mention.

I regret to say that my loss has been very distressing, as I have been deprived of the services of four most valuable officers in the 9th Lancers, the return of which I have already had the honour to transmit to you.

The splendid conduct of the Irregular Cavalry merits the highest praise, they having killed 200 of the enemy's sowars during the action and towards its close.

I wish most particularly to bring to your notice the distinguished gallantry of Captain Drysdale, commanding Her Majesty's 9th Royal Lancers, who sustained a fracture of the collar-bone from the fall of his horse, which was shot as he was charging the sepoys on the right of the town, after he had passed through it; also of Trumpeter and Lance Corporal Kens and of Private Jordan, who saved him and brought him out of the mêlée.

The names of Lieutenant Sarel, 9th Lancers, who advanced with his squadron in pursuit by your direction, and of Lieutenant Blair, 2nd Dragoon Guards (attached to the 9th Lancers), the former severely wounded in the right hand (fore-finger of right hand since amputated), and left arm, and the latter, who was most dangerously wounded in a personal conflict with one of the rebel sowars, also deserve special mention.

The names also of Captains Bouchier and Remington, of the artillery, whose battery and troop were engaged during the whole action, as well as that of Lieutenant Cracklow, who had a division of guns employed, and whose loss must have been heavy, I desire to bring prominently to your notice.

In the Irregular Cavalry, Lieutenant Watson charged and defeated a superior force of the enemy's horse, who were advancing to attack him, driving them into the town, and cutting up a great many. I regret to say, that on this occasion, Captain Best, of whose conduct Lieutenant Watson speaks very highly, received a severe sabre wound. Lieutenant Watson has also brought to my notice the services of Mr. Lyall, a civilian, who was with him during the whole action, and offered him the most valuable assistance.

The names of Lieutenants Younghusband and Gough, commanding Irregular Corps, I also consider it my duty to bring to your notice, as having performed most gallant service during the day.

Lieutenant Probyn, with his horse, charged and defeated a body of cavalry and armed Goojers, who attacked the baggage while we were engaged with the enemy.

From Lieutenant Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General, and from Lieutenant Norman, Assistant Adjutant-General of the Army, I received the most valuable information and assistance, and I wish to bring them conspicuously to your notice.

To Mr. Sapte, the Collector of the district, I have to return my most sincere thanks for the assistance he afforded me through his local knowledge of the ground.

The assistance I received from my two Orderly Officers, Captain the Honourable A. Anson, Her Majesty's 84th Regiment, and Lieutenant Martin, of Her Majesty's 9th Lancers, during the long period of eleven hours that we were in the saddle, was most valuable and effective.

I HAVE the honour to forward the reports of the Officers of Artillery Commanding Batteries* and Detachments in action to day against the rebels, also returns of casualties and ordnance expended.

A more detailed statement of the ordnance and other ammunition captured shall be given hereafter.

Having been directed by the Officer commanding the Moveable Column to command the Reserve (Corps noted in the margin†), I was not an eye-witness of the performances of the guns in action; but I have great pleasure in pressing upon Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed's attention the very gallant conduct of Serjeant Diamond and Gunner FitzGerald, of the 2nd Troop 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery, who, after the rest of their gun's crew were disabled, continued to serve it under a very heavy fire of musketry, and I trust that by Colonel Greathed this gallant conduct, as also that of Second Lieutenant Cracklow, may be brought to the notice of Major-General Wilson, command-

Captain F. Remington, Commanding 1st Train, 1st Brigade of Horse Artillery, to Lieutenant Bunny, Artillery Detachment Staff, Moveable Column.

Camp, Boolundshukur, September 28th, 1857.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Major Turner, Commanding Artillery with the Moveable Column, that after leaving the main body shortly after daybreak with the right division of my troop under Lieutenant Murray, I proceeded up the road which was our line of march, till I came within view of a breast-work which the enemy had thrown across the road.

Two embrasures were distinctly visible, and I accordingly quickened my men till within what I considered 600 yards of the enemy. I afterwards found that it must have been about 900 yards, but I was deceived in the distance, owing to the early morning light and the avenue of trees bounding the road. The enemy opened a tolerably brisk fire from their guns, one of very small calibre; but the fire of my guns caused that of the enemy to slacken very soon, and on the arrival of my centre and left divisions under Lieutenants Manderson and Traill, the enemy's fire almost ceased. I was obliged to form these latter on the right of the road in ploughed land, and owing to the intervention of trees and gardens, it was difficult to form any correct estimate of the effect of their fire.

After expending the ammunition of the howitzer limber, and the same number of rounds from my left division, I advanced at a gallop, about 400 yards nearer, and it was here I discovered how deceptive the distance had been. My new position was about 500 yards distant from the enemy's entrenchment, whence two guns still continued to fire occasional shots at us, notwithstanding I kept up a continued fire on it.

On an Officer* being sent to me to tell me to cease firing, as the infantry were advancing, I limbered up, crossed the road, and proceeded to the left, where Captain Norman told me my presence was desirable, if possible. A vidette of Her Majesty's 9th Lancers guided me to a road, on which he told me a squadron of his regiment had proceeded with two guns. The ground was very heavy, and I could only proceed at a walk ; but as soon as I got on a road I ordered the trot, and followed the line of the Lancers and guns, till I arrived at a place where they were halted. Shortly after a heavy fire of musketry was opened on them from a serai, at the entrance of which they were ; and as they were obliged to withdraw a short distance, I formed battery to the front with my left division under Lieutenant Traill, which I placed on some high ground to the right of the road to meet contingencies.

I am happy to say, the arrival of the Sikh Infantry prevented the contingency I dreaded ; but it was not in time to prevent serious loss to a division of Captain Blunt's Troop under Lieutenant Cracklow.

The latter Officer having informed me that his guns were temporarily disabled owing to casualties, I advanced through the serai, whence the enemy had by this time been dislodged, with my right division, and took up a position at the further end of the bridge on this side of the serai. As soon as the baggage made its appearance, I moved off in the direction of camp, as requested by the Deputy-Assistant Quartermaster-General. Since my arrival in camp, two 9-pounder ammunition waggons and two carts have been brought into my park by villagers. They contain some 9-pound and 6-pound shot, and a few cartridges. Accompanying are a list of casualties and a return of ammunition expended.

* Captain Norman.

I HAVE the honour to forward for your information the report I have received from Lieutenant Cracklow, who commanded two guns detached today from the troops under my command.

As they were the only guns actually engaged with the enemy, I need not add any further report of the proceedings of the remaining three guns of the troop.

I beg to call to your notice the high commendation which Lieutenant Cracklow has, in his report, bestowed on Serjeant Diamond and Gunner Fitzgerald. This commendation has been confirmed and strengthened by several officers in Her Majesty's 9th Lancers, who were witnesses of their gallant conduct.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report for your information that, in accordance with the orders I received, I proceeded with two guns to support the left cavalry picquet. On arriving at the picquet, the officer commanding ordered me to open a flanking fire on two guns of the enemy, which were posted at the end of a road about 700 yards off. I did so, and continued firing until the guns were taken by our people.

I then accompanied the cavalry along the road, leading by the left of the city. As we were proceeding down the road, a man put his musket over a wall and shot a horse in the leading gun. Soon after this, two more horses were shot in the same team, and as no horses could be got to replace the casualties, the syces with the bad (sic) horses having disappeared as soon as the firing commenced, the gun was obliged to be left behind, and did not come into action at all. I proceeded to the front with the other guns. We advanced through the gate of a small serai, and I was ordered to take my gun through the opposite gate, and up to a bridge, which was about 200 yards in advance of the gate along the pukka road. I first advanced myself to see what was the state of affairs on the other side. I found that the enemy were advancing in considerable numbers along a wall to my right, and it was evident to me that if I advanced the gun I should have had it disabled in a few minutes by the enemy's musketry fire in my rear, and that the gun would most probably have been taken, as there were no infantry to stand by it. I retired the gun about 40 yards to the first gate of the serai and opened fire on the enemy, who had by this time advanced to the gateway through which I had been ordered to advance the gun, and continued firing for about a quarter of an hour, after which, the infantry having advanced, the enemy were driven back. As my gun was disabled, one man having been killed and four wounded, I retired, and Captain Remington's guns were ordered to relieve me.

I beg to bring to your notice the gallant conduct of Serjeant Diamond and Gunner FitzGerald. These two men, when the rest of the crew were disabled, served the gun under a heavy musketry fire; their coolness and daring elicited the admiration of all present.

I have the honour to inclose casualty rolls of the men and horses, and a return of ammunition expended.

SIR,

I BEG to report, for the information of Major Turner, that, agreeably to his order, I proceeded to the support of the 1st Troop 1st Brigade, formed up my battery to the right of their position, and immediately became engaged with the enemy's guns and infantry.

The fire from the enemy's battery was silenced; and, supported by the infantry, I advanced along the road, took a gun (9-pounder), and as the infantry kept advancing with me, I took two of my guns at a gallop down the road to the gaol. A few rounds of grape cleared my advance, and the enemy, both cavalry and infantry, fled from the position they had occupied on my right. At the gaol our cavalry took up the pursuit, and I remained there until ordered to return to camp by the commanding officer of the force. I cannot speak too highly of the coolness and steadiness of my officers and men; and I should be doing an injustice were I not to bring to notice the assistance I obtained from Lieutenant Roberts of the Artillery, who showed me my ground, and in rapid advance down the road first arrived at the guns we captured.

A roll of casualties and expenditure of ammunition is annexed.

E. H. GREATHED, Lieutenant-Colonel,
Commanding Moveable Column,

No. 14.

Major-General N. Penny, Commanding Field Force, to Major-General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, Army Head Quarters, Delhi, October 20, 1857.

SIR, No. 1610.

WITH reference to your memorandum, dated Government House, Calcutta, September 22, 1857, transmitted to me by Colonel Wilson, commanding at Cawnpore, I have the honour to submit the following statement of the recent proceedings of the force under my command.

As soon after the fall of Delhi as circumstances would admit, a moveable column was detailed for the purpose of pursuing the main body of the rebels who had gone down the western bank of the Jumna; but before the necessary arrangements could be completed, it was ascertained that the mutineers were crossing the river, with the evident intention of making their escape through the Doab and proceeding to Rohilcund or Oude.

To cut off this portion of the rebels, and prevent them from executing either of the above projects, was considered by my predecessor, General Wilson, to be of the first importance. Consequently the route of Colonel Greathed's column (strength as per margin)* was changed, and he was ordered to proceed towards Allygurh viâ Boolundshuhur.

It became necessary to go to Boolundshuhur for the purpose of destroying the fort of Malagurh, the Nawab of which place gave much trouble during the outbreak. In the station and city of Boolundshuhur the column encountered the Jhans mutineers and Malagurh insurgents, and after a sharp action signally defeated them.

* 1st Troop 1st Brigade Horse Artillery; 2nd Troop 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery; No. 17 Light Field Battery; 2nd Company Sappers and Miners; Her Majesty's 9th Lancers; 1st Punjaub Cavalry (Detachment); 2nd Punjaub Cavalry (Detachment); 5th Punjaub Cavalry (Detachment); Hodson's Horse (Detachment); Her Majesty's 8th Regiment; Her Majesty's 75th Regiment; 2nd Punjaub Infantry; 4th Punjaub Infantry.

The Nawab of Malagurh's Fort, a place of some strength, about four miles distant from the station of Boolundshuhur, was then blown up by our engineers.

Colonel Greathed's report of this affair has, however, been forwarded through General Gowan, commanding in the Upper Provinces, for the Commander-in-chief's information.

Having made arrangements for conveying the wounded to Meerut, the column proceeded by the Trunk Road to Allygurh, which was found to be occupied by the two rebel Thakoors of Ackerabad. Colonel Greathed at once attacked and drove them from the city and suburbs, killing about 400 men, chiefly sowars and Mahomedan fanatics; but I need not trouble you with details, as the report of the officer in command has already been forwarded to Army Head-Quarters.

The day after the occupation of Allygurh, the column followed the rebel leaders to Ackerabad, their place of residence, which was burnt and destroyed by the troops, who had previously slain the two chiefs and about 100 of their followers.

At this juncture, the Chief Commissioner, North-Western Provinces, sent the most urgent requisition for aid to Colonel Greathed, who at once detached two troops of Horse Artillery and a body of cavalry, by forced marches, to Agra, which was threatened by the mutineers collected at Dholpore; the remainder of the column followed by forced marches likewise, and reached the cantonment of Agra on the morning of the 10th instant.

Before their camp was pitched, the troops were surprised by the mutineers from Neemuch, Nusse-rabad, Mhow, and other places who had, previously combined for the express purpose of attacking Agra, which they supposed to be weakly defended.

Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed's first report of the engagement having been transmitted through General Gowan, the second is herewith attached.

The station at Agra being now freed from all chance of attack, it was determined that the moveable column should at once push on towards Lucknow, where reinforcements were said to be much needed. Acting upon this resolution, Colonel Greathed reports that he will reach Mynpooree on the 20th current.

Little or no opposition is anticipated, as the Nawab of Futtugurh—the only person from whom resistance may be expected—is reported to have but a small band of retainers under his command.

I trust that by the time this reaches you, Colonel Greathed's column will have arrived at Cawnpore, and that he will be in direct communication with Army Head-Quarters.

I will now detail, in a few words, the operations conducted by Brigadier Showers on the Western side of the Jumna.

A small column, consisting of the following troops—

- 4 Horse Artillery Guns,
- 300 Irregular Cavalry,
- 200 Her Majesty's 52nd Regiment Light Infantry,
- 200 Guide Infantry,
- 300 4th Seikh Infantry—

was despatched towards Furreednugger, for the purpose of restoring order among the disaffected Goojur villages as well as with the view of destroying any detachments of rebels that might be encountered. After executing this duty, Brigadier Showers returned to Delhi.

On the 2nd current another column, composed of the troops mentioned in the margin,* was despatched into the district under the same officer.

The object of the expedition was to occupy the ex-King's Pergunnah of Kote Kasim; to seize Toola Ram, of Kewaree, together with the Nawab of Jhujjur and Dadree, and other individuals of lesser note, who were known to be rebels.

Brigadier Showers has taken possession of Rewaree and its 13 guns, without opposition,—Rao Toola Ram having fled with his followers, it is supposed, towards Biokaneer.

The Nawab of Dadree submitted to our authority, and the Nawab of Jhujjur has likewise given himself up and now awaits his trial.

Brigadier Showers' report of his later proceedings is herewith enclosed.

I have, &c.

Major H. A. Ouvry, Commanding Cavalry Brigade to Captain Bannatyne, Major of Brigade.

SIR, Camp, Agra, October 11, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed, that on the 18th October, 1857, immediately after arriving at Agra, and pitching our tents on the encamping ground beyond the cantonments, the enemy, whose presence was utterly unknown, made a sudden attack on our camp with their heavy artillery.

The 9th Lancers immediately formed up on the left of the artillery facing the Gwalior road.

On arriving in the field, I perceived a large force of the enemy's cavalry advancing on our left; they had reached and sabred the gunners of one gun. I immediately ordered the lancers to charge, which duty they did most effectually, killing and dispersing them entirely.

Two squadrons of the 9th Lancers, with Hodson's Horse, which then arrived, took up a position, supporting two guns, which kept a large cavalry force of the enemy at bay, and protecting the camp.

The three regiments of Irregular Cavalry formed up on the right of our camp under Captain Watson, whose Report I have herewith the honour to inclose.

After an advancing cannon fire of some duration, which I supported with the cavalry, the enemy gave way, and were pursued ten miles to the banks of the Kharee Nuddee by the artillery and cavalry. Great numbers were destroyed, and all their guns, ammunition, and baggage fell into our hands.

I have, &c.

Commanding Cavalry Brigade.

No. 20.

Lieutenant J. Watson, Second-in-Command, 1st Punjab Cavalry, to Major Ouvry, Commanding Cavalry Brigade.

SIR, Camp, Agra, September 11, 1857.

IN accordance with your instructions, I do myself the honour of making the following Report of the circumstances which occurred in the right of our line in yesterday's action with the mutineers' force, and of the part taken in it by the three squadrons of the Punjaub Cavalry which paraded under my command.*

Shortly after the enemy's fire opened upon our camp, the three squadrons, mustering about 210 sabres, moved off towards the European barracks; Colonel Greathed, who was present, informing me that beyond the barracks I should find open ground, from which I could operate with effect upon the enemy's left flank. Passing the barracks I came under fire of the enemy's guns and musketry. I therefore proceeded at a trot to some walls close to their left flank, and there drew up the three squadrons in open column. After waiting in this position for about five minutes, I perceived a favourable opportunity for charging, and advancing clear of the walls, wheeled into line, and swept down at a gallop on their flank.

The effect of this was the instantaneous flight of the mutineers; but they were too late to escape us, and a large number of their infantry and artillerymen fell under our sabres, and we captured three heavy guns and five standards.

Shortly after this, the whole of our line advanced, and the three squadrons falling in on the left of the road, joined in the pursuit, and turning off at the river to a ford about half a mile to the left of the road, captured two 9-pounder guns and numerous ammunition carts, &c. &c. We turned the guns upon such of the enemy as were within range on the opposite bank, and served them for some time with considerable effect. We formed the rear guard on the return to camp, which we reached about 9 P.M.

* 1 squadron 1st Punjaub Cavalry, 1 ditto 2nd ditto, 1 ditto 5th ditto.

The three squadrons lost in this action 2 men killed and 15 wounded, and of the European officers engaged,* Lieutenant Maclean was severely, and Lieutenants Probyn, Macdonell, and Plowden slightly wounded.

Lieutenant Younghusband, commanding the squadron of the 5th Punjaub Cavalry, was, I regret to say, very severely injured by falling down one of the numerous dry wells that were scattered about the Baziree fields, through which we charged upon the enemy.

I need not assure you that the whole of the European and native officers and troopers engaged, behaved throughout with the greatest gallantry, and I trust that you will be good enough to bring their services on this occasion to the favourable notice of the Government.

I have, &c.

J. WATSON, Lieutenant,
Second-in-Command, 1st Punjaub Cavalry.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Major-General commanding the Meerut Division, that I reached Dadree yesterday, where I found the following guns, of which I have taken possession :—

2 Brass guns.
2 Iron do.
2 Iron do.

The brass guns I purpose to take with me ; but the iron guns I have directed to be destroyed.

Sir Theophilus Metcalfe will have reported the arrangements that have been made with respect to the Nawab of Dadree ; but it will be satisfactory to me to hear that the Nawab received the moveable column under my command with the utmost respect, coming himself on the istakbul, and expressing his readiness to submit to any inquiry that the Government intended to institute into his conduct during the period of the late insurrection, and to afford his assistance in arresting any mutineers and insurgents who might take refuge within his jurisdiction.

I have further to report, that the force of the Hurrianah and Cashmere auxiliary forces arrived this morning. I shall hereafter have the honour to forward the present state of that force. I purpose to move to-morrow morning to Chookookeous, a sporting residence of the Nawab of Jhujjur, about ten miles from that town, where, I have reason to believe, he will come out and meet me.

The day following I propose to proceed to Jhujjur.

Camp Jhujjur, October 18, 1857.

SIR,

No. 10.

IN continuation of my letter of the 11th inst., I have the honour to report, for the information of the Major-General commanding the Delhi Field Force, that from Dadree I proceeded with my column yesterday morning to Chookookeous. On the road a deputation from the Nawab of Jhujjur came out to meet me, to intimate that the Nawab was at a short distance from Chookookeous, and that he awaited instructions to come into my camp. I communicated to him, on his arrival, the instructions of Government, and after the delivery of the perwannah from the Commissioner, he was arrested, and has since been under the charge of Captain R. Lawrence.

The Nawab was frank in his communications regarding the state of his troops, and of the objections that he suspected his father-in-law, Ubdool Sumund Khan, would make to giving himself up. Having, therefore, reason to apprehend that some opposition would be made to my taking possession of the fort and of the arms and ammunition and horses of the troops, I moved forward my force, prepared to attack them if there should be any opposition. During the night, however, all the troops—both sowars and footmen—fled, and, on my reaching the cantonments, I found the whole deserted; the only horses remaining in the cavalry stables were those which belonged to the Nawab. A very few men remained, and those that did gave up their arms without opposition.

I afterwards entered and took possession of the fort, with about 21 guns and a large quantity of powder and ammunition, a report of which I shall hereafter have the honour to forward.

I had intended to make a forced march from Daree to Jhujjur, in the hope of surprising the Nawab and his relations. Difficulties, however, arising, I was obliged to give up the plan; but to prevent the Nawab from effecting his escape, I detached the Guide Cavalry and the Punjaub Mounted Police to Nahur on the 17th, with orders that they should be on the look-out for fugitives from Jhujjur. Captain Sanford, who commanded, reports having seen a number of armed men proceeding in the direction of Nahur, of whom he had cut up all whom he could overtake.

I have heard from other sources that the fugitive soldiers were making towards Kanoud. I have, therefore, detached to-day a force, consisting of the 6th Dragoon Guards under the command of Colonel Custance and Hodson's Horse, to Nahur, for the purpose of overtaking them and of obtaining possession of the Fort of Kanoud and of the treasure said to be deposited there, before the place can be reinforced. This force will reach Kanoud to-morrow morning. I purpose myself to follow them with the remainder of my column, this evening, and hope to reach it on the 20th instant.

After settling the place, I shall, if nothing occurs to render other measures necessary, return to Jhujjur in three marches, as I understand the Bahadoorgurh and Furrookhnuggur Nawabs are to be visited by my column.

I have, &c.

Commanding Moveable Column.

THE Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council is pleased to publish the subjoined despatch from his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, dated the 12th of November, 1857, and the report by Captain Peel, C.B., of the Royal Navy, received therewith, of the action with the insurgents at Khujwa, on the 1st of November.

Concurring in the justice of the observations which his Excellency has felt himself constrained to make on the circumstances under which this conflict took place, the Governor-General in Council most cordially joins with his Excellency in doing honour to the memory of that gallant and much lamented officer Lieutenant-Colonel Powell, C.B., of Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, who nobly fell at the head of his small force, by whose steady discipline and invincible courage the victory was gained over an enemy very greatly superior in number.

His Lordship in Council warmly appreciates the valour, while he deeply regrets the loss of the many brave men who fell with their commander.

On the fall of Lieutenant-Colonel Powell, the command of the detachment devolved on Captain Peel, R.N., and the Governor-General in Council most heartily offers to that distinguished officer the tribute of his admiration, for his conduct at the most critical period of the engagement, and for the intrepidity and judgment with which he achieved success.

His Lordship in Council likewise offers his best thanks to every officer and man, of the troops and of the Naval Brigade, the devotion of the whole having been most conspicuous on the occasion.

SIR. (No. 1281.)

IN forwarding the enclosed despatch* and the annexed returns to Government, I am instructed by the Commander-in-chief to remark, that the action of which it gives an account was peculiarly severe, the loss of the force engaged being at the rate of about one to five.

2. Success crowned the desperate efforts of the assailants; but it is evident, from the very lucid report of Captain Peel, C.B., R.N., that the attack was most hazardous, and that at one time the force was in the greatest danger.

3. The troops had been harassed by very long marches, and they were not in a state to attack, much less to follow up an attack.

4. It is most providential that the 5th Irregular Cavalry, owing to some accidental cause, had not advanced with the rebel infantry from Banda. Had they done so, not a man of the detachment would have escaped to tell the tale.

* From Captain Peel, R.N., dated November 3, 1857, with 8 enclosures (see "Gazette," January 5 and 16, 1858).

5. Although the late gallant Colonel Powell, C.B., fell gloriously at the head of his troops, the Commander-in-chief conceives that he, in some measure, imperilled his most important charge, viz., that of the Siege Train, and therefore exceeded his duty.

6. A company of the Royal Engineers was taken out in this affair and incurred loss; and this, in the face of the repeated instructions of the Commander-in-chief, that they should not on any account be employed on such duties; and what is more, instead of being used as a last reserve, they were pushed forward in the front, to support the skirmishers.

7. The result, however, of all was success; and, although obliged to criticise the disposition of the force, his Excellency gladly bears testimony to the brilliant courage and the untiring energy displayed by all ranks in conflict with the enemy, and in the great efforts made to come up with him.

8. This fight affords one more instance of what the British soldier will perform, in spite of every disadvantage and extraordinary fatigue.

9. This was a soldier's fight, if there ever was one.

10. The Commander-in-chief would especially direct the attention of the Government to the manner in which the command was conducted by Captain Peel, C.B., R.N., after the death of Colonel Powell, C.B., at a moment of extreme danger and difficulty.

11. The return of the papers is requested when no longer required.

I have, &c.

W. MAYHEW, Major,
Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

I am to state that his Excellency considers Colonel Barker deserving of credit for the manner in which he has carried out the duty assigned to him.

No. 34.

Colonel G. R. Barker, Royal Artillery, Commanding Column, to Major-General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff.

Camp, Futtehpoore,

December 17, 1857.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report that, on the receipt of your confidential letter dated the 9th instant, and received the following afternoon, I immediately placed myself in communication with Mr. Probyn, the collector at Futtehpoore, and after mature consideration, I decided that the southern and south-eastern portions of the district was the best field for the operations I was enjoined to carry out.

Accordingly, on the afternoon of the 11th instant, I marched back on the Grand Trunk Road to Khaga, which I reached the following morning. At midnight the column started again for Koth, a large village on the Jumna, 25 miles distant, and noted as the principal rendezvous of mutineers and turbulent characters of the district. On the way we visited a village called Kirtrairm, the inhabitants of which had shown themselves disaffected, and arming themselves, had driven away the police and plundered the Tehsulee, and become the terror of all well-disposed people in the neighbourhood. On reaching the village, several men were seen with arms in their hands, and as they endeavoured to escape two or three were shot; one being taken, was hung by Mr. Probyn, who accompanied the column.

This magistrate was at once enabled to re-establish his native officials at the Tehsulee.

Thence the column continued its march to Koth, the approach to which for some miles was so difficult, over fields and country intersected with nullahs, that we did not reach the place till 4 o'clock. The inhabitants, who were very numerous, and amongst them, as we had learnt, a large number of sepoy, having heard of our approach, had deserted the place, some crossing the river and others concealing themselves in the ravines. The very long day's march obliged me to halt for the night, and prevented my molesting them till the morning, when, however, I sent parties in each direction along the banks of the river, for the purpose of destroying the boats and securing any men they might find.

Many prisoners were brought in, amongst them many suspicious characters, who were handed over to the civil authorities. After search had been made in the village for treasure supposed to be buried there, the place was destroyed. A considerable quantity of European wearing apparel was found, and many uniforms of the 3rd and 6th Light Cavalry, also of the body guard, but no treasure was discovered.

The same afternoon the column continued its march in a north-west direction towards Gurha Narewhi, another disaffected village, to which, the following morning, I sent a detachment of Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, who burnt it, but could take no prisoners. A village named Raree was also burnt the same day. I halted for the night at Narimer. In the morning, I again sent detachments of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry and Madras Rifles, on either side of the road, to the villages of Surkunder and Laton, both of which places had become notorious for harbouring mutineers and budmashes, who were continually plundering and murdering the inhabitants of the neighbouring villages. These were both destroyed, and a few armed men shot down in each. These detachments then rejoined the column at Jummul-mour.

This morning the column continued its march to Futtehpore, taking a somewhat circuitous route, for the purpose of exhibiting, as much as possible, the troops to the inhabitants of the district, and visiting one or two other villages.

As the time of my progress was limited to five or six days, I was unable to extend my march to any other parts of the district, but I am able to state, from the report of the magistrate, that the movement has been so far satisfactory that revenue has already been sent into the treasury, and supplies have been promised from several quarters, and he anticipates no difficulty in re-establishing the police in most of the places which were visited.

The small number of rebels may be accounted for by the fact, that after the first village was surprised, the news was spread all over the country, and every refractory village was found completely deserted, the inhabitants of the good ones alone remaining in their own homes. The number of boats on the Jumna facilitated the escape of the rebels on every point.

The column moved in the highest possible order, and as it was necessary, in order to show the force, and also on account of the difficulty of crossing some parts of the country, to march only by daylight, we were not able at all times to make long marches.

The column will proceed to Cawnpore, by ordinary marches, to-morrow morning.

I HAVE the honour to report for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-chief, that a detachment "Seikh Volunteers," strength as per margin* under my command, marched from Cheybassa this morning. The object of my march was, upon a requisition from the Senior Assistant Commissioner of Singbhoom, to quell an insurrection among certain portions of the Cole tribe to which they had been incited by the (late) Raja of Porchat and his brother.

I came upon a large body of the insurgents this morning shortly after daylight, about 2,000 in number, and dispersed them without difficulty, inflicting severe loss upon them with none to myself.

No. 19.

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-chief, that I arrived here the day before yesterday, and found the insurgents posted in front of this town. I engaged and routed them, pursued them for 7 miles, captured 12 guns, 6 of them English manufacture, and killed over 700 of the enemy, who are now totally dispersed. My loss was 1 killed, 4 wounded; total 5. I should have marched this morning in the direction of the Grand Trunk Road, viâ Khasgunge, but a body of insurgents has crossed the river 2 miles south of Oolonge, and I intend to attack them to-morrow morning. The above is the second engagement I have had with the insurgents, and I have captured in all 15 guns, 9 of them of English manufacture, and all in excellent order. I left a large convoy at Allygurh, containing tents for 4 regiments and servants for 6 regiments, including 2,000 doolie bearers, and grain and supplies of all sorts. As soon as I have disposed of the above insurgents I shall go across to the Grand Trunk Road, send the captured guns to Allygurh, and, if I hear of his Excellency's advancing in the direction of Futtygurh or Mynpooree, bring down the convoy or act as I receive instructions, or, in the absence of instructions, as may seem most advisable: after clearing this district of insurgents, my duty clearly is to bring down the convoy so much wanted by the troops and his Excellency.

May I beg, if this reaches you, you will be so good as to reply to me at Allygurh, from whence letters can be forwarded to my camp.

P.S. I suppose you are aware this is the second engagement I have had with the insurgents in this district. News just come in that the insurgents who had crossed the river had gone off in hot haste and recrossed the river. The Nawab of Furruckabad threatens to attack me. Nonsense, it is a mere ruse to cover some other design, perhaps flight from Furruckabad.

I left Delhi on the 6th December, with a force detailed below,* escorting a convoy for the camp of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, agreeably to instructions. I lodged the convoy under the guns of the fort of Allygurh on the 11th December. I then proceeded into the district to attack the insurgents who had taken possession of Khasgunge, Gungeeree, and Patialee. I engaged the enemy at Gungeeree on the 14th, and at Patialee on the 17th, utterly routing them on both occasions; capturing in the first affair 3 guns, and in the second 12, 15 in all (of which 9 are of our own manufacture, splendid serviceable guns); and killing of the enemy about 1,100 men. I had 48 killed and wounded in the first action, including 3 officers of the Carabineers; in the second action only 5 killed and wounded. The district (sic) having come down to Etah to escort the convoy, which I have directed to march from Allygurh on the 26th, and join me at Mynpoorie, which place I propose to take possession of as soon as I

The convoy consists of 3,288 hackeries laden with grain, salt, soojee, biscuits, wheat, sugar, dhall, ghee, ottah, rum, 2,483 gallons, quilts, 2,740 blankets, 4,558 cotton carpets, 2,018 tents (privates'), 166 staff serjeants' do., 3 sepoys' tents of two pauls each, 6½ establishments (barrack), 1,229 men, doolie bearers 2,000, hospital establishment 294. From Agra have been despatched 100 doolies and 600 bearers, cotton carpet (setrunjees) 2,000. Lieutenant Graham has hired at Allygurh 251 more hackeries, and thus the carts or hackeries in single file will stretch over 20 miles.

There are 1,419 camels, and about 60 spare elephants. The latter are with me.

I have just received further reinforcements from Allygurh of 100 Seikh sappers. Wale's Horse reaches Allygurh to-morrow, and will escort convoy to Mynpoorie.

*Lieutenant-Colonel T. Seaton, C.B., Commanding
Moveable Column, to Major-General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff.*

Camp, Malown,

December 25, 1857.

SIR,

I HAD the honour yesterday and again this morning to forward to your address a despatch giving, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, a brief summary of my proceedings since I left Delhi in command of this column. I have now the honour to acquaint you that I shall be at Mynpoorie on the 27th, where I hope to meet with and destroy the forces of Rajah Tej Sing. In concurrence with the opinion I expressed to the Chief Commissioner, Colonel Fraser, he advises me to leave behind at Allygurh all the grain and flour, &c., except a portion of the grain my convoy contains; I therefore propose to bring on the spare camels and elephants, the tents, quilts, blankets, doolies, dooly bearers, barrack and hospital establishments, and all such things as are required by European troops recently arrived in the country, and when marching I propose and have ordered the grain, flour, &c., to be stored at Allyghur, but in the carts ready to be sent on whenever necessary.

The hackeries are in number 3,288, and it seemed to me an absurdity to encumber the march of the army by such a tail as this, which in single file would stretch nineteen miles. Of these carts, 694 are unladen; if, therefore, any empty carts are required for his Excellency's camp, I beg to be favoured with your instructions. I hope the convoy will start from Allygurh on the 27th, and join me at Mynpoorie on the 2nd January. If I hear of his Excellency's approach to Futtigurh, I shall bring the convoy on direct, or otherwise as I may receive instructions. I hear that Tej Sing is sending his baggage beyond the Jumna. He may possibly make a stand at Mynpoorie; if he does, I shall endeavour before engaging him, to stop the bridges over the canal, and do my best to catch him; but I shall gain more correct information to-morrow at Kurrowlie.

Kurrowlie, December 26, 1857.

THE Rajah Tej Sing is still at Mynpoorie, and will probably make a stand, but I hear he has sent off all his baggage and valuables across the Jumna to his wife's relations. The Zemindar of this place, Luckmun Sing, is most friendly to the British Government, and has behaved throughout this insurrection remarkably well.

P.S. I may as well mention that I have sent to Agra for a small engineers' park, ladders, intrenching tools, sand bags, &c., in case they may be required.

SIR,

Delhi, November 24, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for submission to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, Captain Caulfield's report, with its inclosures, of the action fought by the Moveable Column, to the command of which he succeeded on the death of Lieutenant-Colonel Gerrard, with the Joudpore Legion and other insurgents at Narnool, on the 16th instant.

No: 45.

Captain J. P. Caulfield, Commanding Moveable Column, to Captain Stewart, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, Meerut Division.

Camp near Narnool,

SIR,

Nov. 18, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Major-General Penny, C.B., commanding Meerut Division, that the Moveable Column under command of the late Lieutenant-Colonel Gerrard marched from Kanonde at 1 A.M. on the morning of the 16th instant. Owing to the slow progress made by the heavy guns, the column did not reach this place till 11 A.M. About two miles before arriving here, we passed a small village on our right, and some of the Guide Cavalry who were sent to reconnoitre brought back with them the jemadar of the village, who informed us that the enemy, numbering 1,000 infantry and 2,500 cavalry, with 8 guns, of which, however, only five were mounted, were encamped to the left of the village of Narnool on the other side of a nullah, and that they intended to come out to meet us.

The jemadar came with us willingly to point out their position, and brought us to the edge of a very large plain, with hills on either side, and at the opposite end slightly wooded.

Here we halted until the heavy guns came up when Colonel Gerrard formed up the column, the Carabineers and Guides on the right, then the 7th Punjaub Infantry, Horse Artillery, 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, heavy guns, 23rd Punjaub Infantry, Puttiala Infantry, Seikh Horse Artillery and the cavalry under Captain Stafford. In this order we advanced,—the infantry in quarter distance column, at deploying distance, Colonel Gerrard leading in front of the left flank of the 1st Fusiliers,—and very soon perceived the enemy advancing to meet us.

After going about 100 yards, the enemy opened fire from three guns with round shot, grape, and shrapnel.

The order was then given to deploy into line of the double, and for the guns on both flanks to advance, while the heavy guns opened fire at once. After about five minutes, the enemy's fire having slackened a little, the Carabineers and Guides were ordered to charge by Captain Wardlaw, while the whole line advanced rapidly. The charge was most brilliantly executed under command of Captain Wardlaw of the Carabineers ; the enemy's cavalry met them without flinching, and engaged them hand to hand. They swept along the whole front and through the guns, and returned to their former position. The enemy's guns opened again with grape on the advancing line, but the 1st Fusiliers, who were immediately in front of them, now charged them in the most gallant and spirited manner, and captured two of them ; the other was taken by the Mooltanee Horse more to the left. The line again formed and advanced, the enemy disputing every foot of ground with determination ; and inclining to the right, the left flank crossing a deep and broad nullah, and clearing some thick brush jungle, we came in view of the village of Narnool on our right, and the enemy's camp across the nullah on some rising ground in front.

Colonel Gerrard himself brought up the horse artillery to bear upon the camp, and ordered the line to advance. At that moment he was mortally wounded, and the command of the force now fell upon me as next senior officer present.

I was then leading the 1st Fusiliers across the nullah, and we charged the enemy's camp, followed by the Punjaub Infantry, and captured 2 more guns, which were keeping up a heavy and destructive fire.

I was afterwards obliged to withdraw the Fusiliers to support the guns, which I now opened on the village.

The enemy returned in force, and repossessed themselves of the guns and camp, and again opened fire. I immediately sent two companies of the 1st Fusiliers and two companies of the Punjaub Infantry and a party of the Carabineers and Guides to retake them. They succeeded in taking one, but the enemy withdrew the other to a large pukka serai, where they now take refuge.

I ordered the Guide Infantry under Lieutenant Ward to advance gradually upon them, occupying the tops of the intermediate houses with the heavy guns in their rear. The light guns I ordered round to the left of the serai, where there was a single door, the other one, opening into the street, being a strong double one. By the time the guns had got round and opened fire, the Guides had taken possession of a high house commanding the serai, and compelled the enemy to evacuate it. This being reported to me, I ordered the guns to cease firing, and the Fusiliers and 7th Punjaub Infantry advanced into the serai, taking the gun at the door, and killing the few of the enemy that remained inside.

The ground we had advanced over during the day was between two and three miles, and it was now late, so I ordered the Fusiliers and Punjaub Infantry and Guide Infantry to occupy the serai during the night, while Captain Stafford with his force bivouacked on the enemy's encamping ground. Early the following morning I cleared the city with a party of the Fusiliers, and found it nearly deserted. The three dismantled guns we found in their camp, and I have ordered one—an old worthless one—to be destroyed. The enemy having fled in different directions, I was unable to follow them up.

I should estimate the loss of the enemy at 350 killed and wounded; 300 bodies were counted on the field. I have the honour to enclose a return of casualties in the force under my command for the information of the Major-General.

My reason for not moving the guns earlier to the left was that a large body of men appeared on our right, and I was not certain whether they were friends or enemies. They proved to be friends. I did not send the cavalry in pursuit, owing to the lateness of the hour, and the men having been in their saddles since 1 A.M.

I sent a party under Captain Wardlaw the next morning as soon as I could procure information as to the probable route taken by the enemy. He followed them nearly as far as Kantee, but saw no signs of them.

I omitted to mention that, previous to taking the gun on the left, Lieutenant Lind with the Mooltanee Horse charged the enemy's cavalry on that flank, and cut up about thirty of them.

I have the honour to enclose the report of Captain Stafford commanding detachment, together with a return of his killed and wounded; also the reports of Captain Wardlaw commanding cavalry on the right, and Lieutenant Lind commanding Mooltanee Horse.

My thanks are due to all ranks for the gallantry displayed, especially to officers commanding corps and detachments; but I would bring to the particular notice of the Major-General the names of Captain Wardlaw of the Carabineers, and Lieutenant Cookworthy, commanding 1st Troop, 3rd Brigade, Horse Artillery (too much praise cannot be given to those officers), and I trust the Major-General will bring their names to the favourable notice of his Excellency the Commander-in-chief; Captain Stafford, commanding detachment Hurriannah Field Force; Lieutenant Lind, commanding Mooltanee Horse; Lieutenant Humphry, Engineers (this officer charged a party of the enemy's cavalry, and when wounded and unhorsed fought his way out on foot),—Lieutenant Money, Acting Adjutant 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, when going to his assistance had his horse shot under him. This officer was of great use to Colonel Gerrard, as his detachment staff. Great credit is due to Lieutenant Ward, 5th Native Infantry, doing duty with Guide Infantry, for the manner in which he took his men into the city. I was also much pleased with Lieutenant Godby commanding 7th Punjab Infantry; Lieutenant Wallace, 1st Fusiliers, was wounded while acting as my orderly officer; Lieutenant Hogg, of the Commissariat, and Captain Osborn, 54th Native Infantry, were of great use to Colonel Gerrard and myself as orderly officers.

I would also beg the Major-General to bring to the notice of the Chief Commissioner the invaluable services of Mr. Ford, Collector of Goorgaon; his exertions in obtaining information and supplies have been most indefatigable.

Captain Stafford makes favourable mention of Lieutenant Warner, 1st Fusiliers, and Lieutenants Pearse, Hamilton, Hunt, and Walcott; Assistant-Surgeon Minas and Sergeant-Major Jackson.

Captain Wardlaw speaks most highly of the gallantry of the Carabineers and Guides, and of the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Hudson, commanding squadron of Carabineers, and Lieutenant Kennedy, commanding Guides, also of Captain Sanford and Lieutenant Craig's Guide Cavalry.

Lieutenant Lind, in his report, speaks most favourably of Lieutenants Caulfield, 9th Cavalry, and Russell, 46th Native Infantry, doing duty with Mooltanee Horse.

My very best thanks are also due to Dr. Brougham, 1st Fusiliers, for his attention to the wounded in the field hospital.

No. 47.

Lieutenant J. B. Lind, Commanding Mooltanee Cavalry, to Captain Caulfield, Commanding Field Force.

SIR, Camp Narnool, Nov. 18, 1857.

THE late lamented Colonel Gerrard, when forming his line of attack, directed the Mooltanee Cavalry under my command to form up on the left of the line. There not being room to do this at first, I was ordered to go round the hill on our left and cross it as soon as possible. I soon found this was impossible, and returned with all speed and got into my position; when the enemy limbered up their guns to retire, I ordered a charge, and captured the two 9-pounder guns with their limbers. Immediately afterwards the Mooltanees were engaged in a smart affair with the enemy's cavalry, in which many of the rebels were cut down and finally driven off. Our line being again reformed, I kept my position on the left flank, and came up through a wood in rear of the entrenched position held by the rebels. Afterwards, being directed to proceed back to our guns, I was about to do so, but thought I had better bring off one of the guns captured in the entrenched position before-mentioned; accompanied by Lieutenants Caulfield, Russell, and Hamilton, and a few sowars, we tried to get the guns off, and, whilst doing so, were attacked by the rebels (cavalry and infantry) in such force as made the abandoning of the gun a matter of necessity. Ressaldar Wellydid Khan was here severely wounded, and several sowars also. The Mooltanee Cavalry formed a part of the attacking party to retake it. We held the entrenched position during the night with the 23rd Punjaub Infantry, Hurriana guns, and Lieutenant Hamilton's (Sowana) Cavalry.

2. I have every reason to be proud of having such officers as Lieutenants Caulfield and Russell under my command ; their gallantry was most conspicuous in the charge in which the guns were taken, and they rendered me every assistance during the day.

Ressaldar Atta Mahomed Khan behaved with his usual bravery, and was in the thickest of the fight.

Sowar Mitty Khan of the Gundapore troops of Mooltanecs also behaved very well. The whole Ressalah, indeed, showed well in all our hand-to-hand engagements with the enemy, and were led by their Khans in them.

No. 48.

Captain George Wardlaw, 6th Carabineers, to Captain Caulfield, Commanding Moveable Column.

SIR,

Camp Narnool, Nov. 18, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report that, on the morning of the action of the 16th instant, I received instructions from Colonel Gerrard to command the right, consisting of the Carabineers and Guides. Shortly after forcing the line, the enemy's guns re-opened fire on the extreme right, and several of the Carabineers were wounded ; our Horse Artillery advanced and returned the fire, and after a few rounds I received the order to advance ; we did so, and, perceiving the enemy's cavalry showing a disposition to charge, we accordingly charged, broke and dispersed them, cutting up a large number, but were charged by others on the left flank. They fought in the most determined manner, but found their pluck of little avail against the swords of the Guides or Carabineers ; about 50 were killed. The Guides wheeled to their left, and charged the guns on the flank, and the Carabineers wheeling to the left about, charged through the guns in rear, and several gunners were killed, and the majority fled amongst the trees. I regret to say the Cara-bineers and Guides suffered rather severely in this charge. The gallantry displayed by both corps was most conspicuous, and the conduct of the Guides was most distinguished; their commanding officer, Captain Kennedy, to whom I am much indebted for assistance during the day, was wounded, but did not leave the field, though his left hand was disabled. I can only say that no European corps could have charged with greater spirit or more effect than did the Guides on this occasion.

The detachments under my command had received orders to protect the right flank whilst the attack on the serai and camp was going on, but the enemy's cavalry showing in various points on our rear and flanks, gave us a good deal of annoyance, and immediately we approached they fled. Subsequently, at the request of the commanding officer of the Fusiliers, I moved to the left a portion of the Carabineers to support their attack in the camp, after their taking which I sent Lieutenant Vyse with a division in pursuit of the enemy with the Irregulars under Captain Hamilton. Several of the enemy were cut up.

Owing to a large force appearing on our right, which afterwards proved to be the Jeypore troops, I was unable to move the greater part of my force to the left when the enemy were flying; but, as there were other corps of Irregular Cavalry on the left, I trust that a considerable number of the enemy were cut up.

I have much pleasure in reporting the gallant way in which Lieutenant Hudson managed the squadron of Carabineers under his command. Captain Kennedy, whose conduct I have noticed above in command of the Guides, was worthy of the highest praise. Two other officers of the Guides were severely wounded, Captain Sanford and Lieutenant Craigie, while gallantly leading on their men.

I trust you will have the goodness to represent to the Major-General commanding the conduct of the men under my command. I forgot to mention that I received great assistance from Captain Anderson, of 54th Native Infantry, interpreter to the Carabineers, who came through the charge and secured a tumbril, with three or four Carabineers.

Deputy-Adjutant-General of the Army

No. 51.

*Lieutenant-Colonel T. Seaton, Commanding
Moveable Column, to the Chief of the Staff.*

SIR, Mynpoorie, December 28, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-chief, that I reached this place yesterday, and found Rajah Tej Sing's force posted outside the cantonments. I attacked him at once, routed them, took 6 guns, and killed about 250 of his rabble. I took possession of the town at once, which I found nearly deserted. I had only two men wounded.

Since I left Delhi, this little force of 1959 men has captured 22 guns and killed 1400 insurgents. I shall remain here until the 31st, and on that morning march for Bhowgong to cover the march of the convoy, and be on the main road ready to communicate with his Excellency's camp. I have sent 6 letters to your address, but have not as yet received any reply. I shall await his Excellency's orders, and be prepared to move in with the convoy the moment I hear of his Excellency's approach. The guns I captured at Gungeera and Puttialea, I sent in to Allygurh; nine of them are of our own manufacture: of the guns captured yesterday one is a fine new pattern 8-inch howitzer, and was the fitting gun of the carriage manufactory at Futtehgurh. Rajah Tej Sing fled to Bhowgong yesterday with only 16 horsemen.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to convey the direction of the Commander-in-chief, that you will proceed with your force to Bewur and halt there until you receive a further order.

2. His Excellency offers you his hearty congratulations on the brilliant successes which have attended your march. I am very sorry to hear that none of my despatches have come to hand which have been sent to you repeatedly in duplicate.

3. His Excellency marches to morrow to Goor-sahai Gunge, and it is possible that he may proceed even nearer to the Kalee Nuddee.

The Commander-in-Chief of the Indian Navy, to the Governor of Bombay.

MY LORD, Bombay, December 31, 1857

I DO myself the honour of transmitting to your Lordship in Council, a copy of a letter addressed to the senior officer at Calcutta, by Lieutenant Lewis, Indian Navy, commanding a detachment of seamen of the Indian Navy on duty at Dacca, reporting the proceedings during the disarming of, and engagement with, the sepoys stationed there.

This spirited affair, which was conducted with the utmost gallantry, appears to me to reflect the highest credit on Lieutenant Lewis, and all concerned; and it is with the greatest satisfaction that I submit this plain and well recorded detail of an action which I doubt not will receive the warm approval of your Lordship in Council.

The conduct of Mr. Mayo, midshipman, has been prominently noticed by Lieutenant Lewis in his bold heading of a charge, which is the more to be admired when I add that Mr. Mayo had only been nine months in the Indian Navy.

A copy of Lieutenant Lewis's letter was forwarded by the senior Naval Officer, to the Right Honourable Governor-General of India in Council.

I have, &c.

G. G. WELLESLEY,

Commander-in-chief, I.N.

No. 56.

Lieutenant T. E. Lewis, Indian Navy, Commanding Detachment at Dacca, to the Senior Indian Naval Officer at Calcutta.

SIR,

Dacca, November 22, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report for your information that, in compliance with the orders of civil authorities at Dacca, I proceeded on Sunday to disarm the sepoys stationed at Dacca. The treasury, executive engineers, and commissariat guards were disarmed without resistance. We then marched down to the Lall Bagh. On entering the lines, the sepoys were found drawn up by their magazine with two 6-pounders in the centre. Their hospital and numerous buildings in the Lall Bagh, together with the barracks, which are on the top of a hill, and are built of brick, and loopholed, were also occupied by them in great force. Immediately we deployed into line, they opened fire on us from front and left flank, with canister and musketry. We gave them one volley, and then charged with the bayonet up the hill, and carried the whole of the barracks on the top of it, breaking the doors with our musket butts, and bayonetting the sepoys inside. As soon as this was done, we charged down hill, and taking them in flank, carried both their guns and all the buildings, driving them into the jungle. While we were thus employed with the small-arm men, the two mountain train howitzers, advancing within 150 yards, took up a position to the right, bearing on the enemy's guns, in rear of their magazine, and, unlimbering, kept up a steady and well-directed fire. Every one, both officers and men, behaved most gallantly, charging repeatedly in face of a most heavy fire without the slightest hesitation for a moment. I beg particularly to bring to notice the conduct of Mr. Midshipman Mayo, who led the last charge on their guns most gallantly, being nearly twenty yards in front of the men.

I regret to say our loss has been severe, but not more, I think, than could have been expected from the strength of the position and the obstinacy of the defence. Forty-one sepoys were counted by Mr. Boatswain Brown dead on the ground, and eight have been since brought in, desperately wounded; three also were drowned or shot in attempting to escape across the river.

I inclose the list of killed and wounded. Doctor Best being ill, Dr. Green, Civil Surgeon, accompanied the detachment into action, and was severely wounded. I was most ably seconded by Mr. Conner, my second in command.

Lieutenant Dowell, Bengal Artillery, volunteered and took command of one of our howitzers, which he fought most skilfully to the end of the action. We were also accompanied by Messrs. Carnac, Bainbridge, Macpherson, Bengal Civil Service, and Lieutenant Hitchins, Bengal Native Infantry, who rendered great assistance with their rifles, to whom my thanks are due.

Our force consisted of 5 officers and 85 men, and the enemy's 200 in the lines.

I have, &c.

T. E. LEWIS, Lieutenant, I. N.,
Commanding Indian Navy Detachment at Dacca.

WILLIAM THOMSON,

Superintending Surgeon in Temporary Medical Charge.

FROM THE
LONDON GAZETTE of FEBRUARY 23, 1858.

Buckingham Palace, February, 19, 1858.

THIS day the Archbishop of Canterbury, accompanied by the Bishops and Clergy of the province, waited upon Her Majesty to present the following Address, which was received by Her Majesty on the Throne.

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Madam,

WE your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Archbishop, Bishops and Clergy of the province of Canterbury, assembled in Convocation, approach your Majesty with our humble congratulations on the late happy event of the Marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Royal with His Royal Highness Prince Frederick William of Prussia.

In addressing your Majesty on this occasion, we rejoice to know that we are only echoing the voice of the whole country, and expressing the deep interest which is universally felt in an event which so materially concerns the happiness of your Majesty and your Illustrious Consort.

We indulge the hope, that the alliance of the Princess Royal of England with a Prince of the Royal Family of Prussia will tend to connect the two countries still more closely in the bonds of national amity, and thus render a Marriage, which is so gratifying to your Majesty, a source of increased prosperity to the kingdom at large.

We venture to assure your Majesty that our earnest prayers are offered to Almighty God, that He may be pleased to crown this auspicious union with His abundant blessing.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

"I thank you for your loyal and dutiful Address, and I accept with sincere gratification, your congratulations on the Marriage of my beloved daughter with a Prince of an Illustrious House, whose high character affords the best security for her future happiness.

"I trust that, by the Divine blessing, the hopes and wishes which have been expressed on this happy occasion, in a manner most gratifying to me by yourselves and by all classes of my faithful people will be fully realized, and that this Marriage will not only ensure the lasting happiness of those most dear to me, but also conduce to the best interests of the two great nations whom it connects by a new bond of amity."

Whitehall, February 22, 1858.

The following Addresses of congratulation to the Queen, on the occasion of the Marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Royal with His Royal Highness Prince Frederick William of Prussia, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Home Department for presentation, were accordingly presented by him to Her Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously :

J. E. DUPUIS, Major-General,
Commanding Royal Artillery in India.

India Board, February 22, 1858.

The following papers have been received at the East India House :

Captain Boyd, of the 2nd Regiment of Bengal European Infantry, to the Secretary, Military Department, East India House.

Delhi, November 28, 1857.

SIR,

No. 283.

I HAVE the honour to enclose a Supplementary Roll of Killed, Wounded, and Dead, since the 8th June to the 26th November, 1857, in the Honourable Company's 2nd European Bengal Fusiliers ; and I have to regret that their names were omitted in the original roll forwarded on the 26th November, 1857, owing to the difficulties experienced in collecting a correct list. Nearly all the Pay Serjeants of Companies, as well as the Orderly-room Serjeant, having been shot in action, and the regimental records having been left at the Depôt when the regiment proceeded on service in light marching order, there was great difficulty in getting a correct roll.

I have, &c.,

ALEX. BOYD, Captain,
Commanding 2nd European Bengal Fusiliers.

Supplementary Nominal List of Non-Commissioned Officers, Drummers, and Privates, of the 2nd European Bengal Fusiliers, Killed, Wounded, and Died, since the 8th of June, 1857.

Delhi City, November 28, 1857.

- 391 Corporal John Buller, 1 Co., September 14, left leg amputated in the thigh.
790 Drummer Thomas Maddox, 2 Co., September 14, musket-ball through left foot.

- 2004 Private Richard Barrett, 3 Co., September 14, wounded in right shoulder.

Exchequer Bills.

*Office of Her Majesty's Paymaster-General,
Whitehall, February 22, 1858.*

The Exchequer Bills, dated in the month of March, 1857 (per Act 19 Vict., cap. 19, anno 1856), with the interest due thereon, will be paid off on the 15th March, 1858, when the interest will cease. Such bills will be received at this office daily, from half-past ten till three o'clock, until the 8th day of March, 1858, inclusive.

Printed forms, containing instructions for the preparation of the lists and the arrangement of the bills, may be obtained on application at this Office.

The bearers must endorse each bill with their usual signatures, and they must insert their names and addresses, in each list; and where the names of holders are inserted in the bills, the indorsements of such holders must also be obtained previously to their lists and bills being left for examination.

New bills, bearing interest at the rate of two pence by the day, upon every one hundred pounds, and dated the said 15th day of March, 1858, may be obtained in payment of the principal of the whole, or part, of the Exchequer Bills issued under the Act above mentioned, on the claimants specifying, in their lists, the amount of new bills required by them.

The new bills, together with the interest on the bills left on or before the said 8th day of March for exchange, will be issued on the 16th day of March, 1858; the bearers must attend at this Office to sign receipts for the payment of principal and interest.

Payment, in money, may be obtained at this Office for any of the said Exchequer Bills, previously to the said 15th day of March, 1858, upon the claimants leaving the bills for examination one day prior to that on which such payment is desired.

N. B. — All Exchequer Bills dated prior to March, 1857, have been previously advertised to be paid off.

TREASURY WARRANT.

Whereas by an Act of Parliament, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of Postage," power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, by Warrant under their hands to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage, payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant.

And whereas farther powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act of Parliament, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post-office."

And whereas certain powers are also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act of Parliament, passed in the eighteenth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the laws relating to the stamp duties on Newspapers, and to provide for the transmission by post of printed periodical publications."

And whereas a Treaty hath been lately entered into between Her Majesty's Government and the Republic of Liberia, for regulating the communications by post between the United Kingdom and Liberia; and it is expedient for the better carrying out of the same, that certain regulations should be made in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said hereinbefore recited Acts and every of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this Warrant under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners (by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided) order, direct, and declare as follows:

1. On every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to Liberia, or posted in Liberia, addressed to the United Kingdom, and transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and any place in Liberia (the conveyance between the United Kingdom and Liberia being by British packet boat), there shall be charged and taken an uniform rate of postage of sixpence.

2. On every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted by British packet boat from any port in Liberia to any other port on the West Coast of Africa, or any other foreign or colonial port at which such packet boat shall touch on its voyage to or from the United Kingdom, there shall be charged and taken an uniform rate of postage of four pence.

3. On every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between Liberia and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom (the conveyance between Liberia and the United Kingdom being by British packet boat), there shall be charged and taken a British rate of postage of five pence for the conveyance of every such letter between Liberia and any part of the United Kingdom ; and for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and the colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of postage as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage on letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and transmitted direct between such port and any such colony or foreign country ; provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny, in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

4. All such respective letters so transmitted as hereinbefore in the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd clauses of this Warrant mentioned, if exceeding half an ounce in weight, shall be subject to the several further, and additional, and progressive rates of postage hereinafter mentioned ; that is to say :

On every such letter, if exceeding half an ounce in weight and not exceeding one ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid two rates of postage.

And on every such letter, if exceeding one ounce, and not exceeding two ounces in weight, four rates of postage.

And on every such letter, if exceeding two ounces, and not exceeding three ounces in weight, six rates of postage.

And for every additional ounce in weight of any such letter above the weight of three ounces, there shall be charged, taken, and paid two additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional ounce shall be charged as an additional ounce in weight ; and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding half an ounce in weight.

5. The postage of every letter posted in the United Kingdom addressed to Liberia, or posted in Liberia addressed to the United Kingdom, shall be paid at the time of the letter being posted, and if any such letter shall be posted in the United Kingdom without any postage being paid thereon, or with a postage paid thereon less than the sum of sixpence, the same shall and may be detained and opened, and shall be returned or given up to the sender thereof. And if any such letter shall be posted either in the United Kingdom or in Liberia with a postage paid thereon, less in amount than the sum chargeable under this Warrant, but equal in amount to the sum of sixpence, every such last mentioned letter shall be charged with the amount of the difference between the postage so prepaid, and the full postage to which it shall be liable under the provisions of this Warrant, and in addition thereto with a further fixed rate of postage of sixpence.

6. Nothing herein contained shall be construed in anywise to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions and privileges granted by the said recited Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, or to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the privileges which seamen and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's service, and seamen and soldiers employed in the service of the East India Company, are now by law entitled to, of sending and receiving by the post, letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

7. On every British newspaper posted in the United Kingdom addressed to Liberia, transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and any place in Liberia (the conveyance between the United Kingdom and Liberia being by British packet boat), there shall be charged and taken an uniform rate of postage of one penny, which postage shall be paid at the time of the newspaper, being posted, but every printed newspaper posted in Liberia addressed to the United Kingdom, and transmitted by the post from Liberia to the United Kingdom (the sea conveyance being by British packet boat), shall be delivered in the United Kingdom free of British postage.

8. On every printed newspaper posted in any British colony or foreign country addressed to Liberia, and on every printed newspaper posted in Liberia addressed to any British colony or foreign country, respectively transmitted by the post through the United Kingdom (the conveyance between Liberia and the United Kingdom being by the British packet boat), there shall be charged and taken an uniform rate of postage of one penny in addition to any foreign transit postage that may be chargeable for the transmission of any such respective newspapers through a foreign country.

9. On every printed foreign or colonial newspaper transmitted by British packet boat, from any port in Liberia, to any other port on the West Coast of Africa, or any other foreign or colonial port at which such packet boat shall touch on its voyage to or from the United Kingdom, there shall be charged and taken an uniform rate of postage of one penny, which postage shall be paid at the time of the newspapers being posted.

10. All packets consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, colonial, or foreign, and all packets consisting of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, or the Colonial or Liberian Legislatures, posted in the United Kingdom addressed to Liberia, or posted in Liberia addressed to the United Kingdom, may be transmitted by the post between the United Kingdom and Liberia (the sea conveyance being by British packet boat). And all such respective packets shall be transmitted in conformity with and under and subject to the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter mentioned and contained relating thereto. And the single rate of postage for the transmission of such packets, shall be the sum of three pence. And all such respective packets so transmitted and chargeable with postage under this clause, shall be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage hereinafter mentioned, that is to say :

On every such packet, if not exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, for the transmission thereof respectively as aforesaid, the uniform single rate of postage of three pence.

And on every such packet, exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, progressive and additional rates of postage as follows, that is to say :

On every such packet, if exceeding four ounces in weight, and not exceeding eight ounces in weight, two rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding eight ounces, and not exceeding one pound in weight, four rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound, and not exceeding one pound and the half of another pound in weight, six rates of postage.

And for every additional half of a pound in weight of any such packet above the weight of one pound and the half of another pound, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, two additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional half of a pound in weight, shall be charged as an additional half of a pound in weight. And each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause, shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such packet would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding four ounces in weight.

11. Every packet which shall be transmitted by the post under the 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th Clauses of this Warrant, shall be so transmitted in conformity with and under and subject to the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter contained, that is to say :

Every British newspaper which shall be posted in the United Kingdom, under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be printed and published at intervals, not exceeding thirty-one days between any two consecutive numbers or parts of such publications, and the same shall be registered by the proprietor or printer thereof, at the General Post-office, in London, and shall be posted within fifteen days from the date of its publication, and the title and date of the newspaper shall be printed at the top of every page thereof.

No packet which in length, or breadth or width, shall exceed the dimensions of two feet, shall be forwarded by the post, under the 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th Clauses of this Warrant.

The terms "books, publications, or works of literature or art" in this Warrant used, shall for the purposes of this Warrant, mean and comprise all such articles as in their general character are either literary or consist of printed, engraved, or lithographed matter (although not strictly literary), including printed books, printed publications, or compilations, almanacks, printed or lithographed letters, and such artistic productions as prints, printed maps (whether on paper, or canvass, or cloth), and photographs, when not on glass or in frames containing glass, together with any binding, mounting, or covering, of or upon or belonging to any such article or production or any portion thereof, and including also any cases or rollers of prints or maps, book markers (whether of paper or otherwise), pencils, pens, or other things usually appertaining to any such article or production, or necessary for its safe transmission which shall be sent in the same packet with any such article or production to which they or it shall belong; Provided, nevertheless, that nothing herein contained shall extend to authorize the sending by the post under the 10th Clause of this Warrant, of any patterns or books of patterns, or papers of patterns, of any article or thing whatsoever, unless such patterns consist merely of paper. .

Every packet transmitted by the post under the 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th clauses of this Warrant, shall be sent open at the ends or sides, and either without a cover, or in a cover or envelope, open at the ends or sides.

There shall be no word or communication printed on any newspaper transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant after the publication thereof, or upon any cover thereof, nor any writing or marks upon any such newspaper, or upon any cover thereof, other than and except the name and address of the person to whom the same is sent, but the name or title of such newspaper and the name and address of the publisher, newsvendor, or agent, by whom the same is sent, may be printed on the cover thereof.

There shall be no paper or thing inclosed in or with any such newspaper.

No packet transmitted by the post under the 10th clause of this Warrant shall contain any written letter, either closed or open, nor any written communication in the nature of a letter, either closed or open (whether such letter or communication be addressed to, or intended for, the person to whom the packet shall be directed, or any other person), nor any inclosure sealed, or otherwise closed against inspection, nor shall there be any other inclosure, not authorized by this Warrant, sent in or with any such packet, nor shall there be any written letter or any written communication in the nature of a letter, in or upon any such packet, or on the cover or envelope thereof.

Every packet transmitted by the post under the 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th clauses of this Warrant, and posted in the United Kingdom, shall be put into the Post-office at such hours in the day, and under all such regulations as the Postmaster-General may appoint.

Upon every packet transmitted by the post under the 10th clause of this Warrant, which shall be posted in the United Kingdom or Liberia, the postage thereof shall be paid at the time of the same being posted.

12. If any packet sent, or tendered, or delivered, in order to be sent by the post under the 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th clauses of this Warrant, shall in length, or breadth, or width, exceed the dimensions of two feet, or if any such packet, or the cover, or envelope thereof, shall not be open at the ends or sides, or if any packet sent, or tendered, or delivered, in order to be sent by the post, under the 7th, 8th, and 9th clauses of this Warrant, shall be sent otherwise than in conformity with the terms, conditions, and regulations established by or under the authority of this Warrant, or if any packet sent, or tendered, or delivered, in order to be sent by the post, under the 10th clause of this Warrant, shall contain any written letter, or any written communication in the nature of a letter, or if there shall be any written letter, or any written communication in the nature of a letter, on any such last-mentioned packet, or on the cover or envelope thereof (whether such letter or communication be addressed to or intended for the person to whom the packet shall be directed, or any other person), every such respective packet shall and may be detained and opened, and at the option of the Postmaster-General, shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof, and every such respective packet, on being so returned or given up, shall be chargeable with the like amount of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter.

13. If any packet sent, or tendered, or delivered, in order to be sent by the post, under the 10th clause of this Warrant, between the United Kingdom and Liberia (any such packet posted in London, and sent from any department or office in or connected with the public service of Her Majesty, which shall keep a postage account with the General Post-office in London, and the postage thereof being charged in such account only excepted), shall be posted in the United Kingdom or Liberia, with a postage paid thereon less in amount than the rate of postage to which such packet would be liable under and by virtue of the regulations hereinbefore contained, but equal in amount to the single rate of postage which would be chargeable under this Warrant, if such packet did not exceed four ounces in weight, every such packet shall be forwarded, charged with the amount of the difference between the postage so paid thereon, and the postage to which such packet would be liable as aforesaid, together with a further and additional rate of postage, equal in amount to the single rate of postage chargeable under the 10th clause of this Warrant on a packet not exceeding four ounces in weight; but if any such packet shall be posted in the United Kingdom or Liberia, with a postage paid thereon less in amount than the single rate of postage chargeable under the 10th clause of this Warrant, or if any packet sent, or tendered, or delivered, in order to be sent by the post under the 10th clause of this Warrant, between the United Kingdom and Liberia (any such packet posted in London, and sent from any department or office in or connected with the public service of Her Majesty, which shall keep a postage account with the General Post-office in London, and the postage thereof being charged in such account only excepted), shall be posted in the United Kingdom or Liberia, without any postage being paid thereon, every such respective packet shall and may be detained and opened, and at the option of the Postmaster-General, shall be dealt with and chargeable in like manner as is hereinbefore directed with respect to any packet not open at the ends or sides, or not exceeding in length, or breadth, or width, the dimensions of two feet.

14. The respective letters and packets transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant shall be subject to the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage respectively contained in a certain Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury under the hands of two of the said Commissioners, bearing date the 19th day of February, 1855, relating to re-directed rates of postage upon letters and packets which shall be re-directed and again forwarded by the post.

15. The rates of postage chargeable on letters, printed newspapers, books, publications, or works of literature or art, and other printed papers transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be in lieu of any rates of British postage now chargeable by law thereon.

16. The several terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act passed, in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

17. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may, by warrant under their hands, duly made at any time hereafter, alter, repeal, or revoke any of the rates of postage hereby fixed or altered, or any of the orders, directions, regulations, and conditions hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other rates, orders, directions, regulations, and conditions in lieu thereof, and from time to time appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

18. This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of April, 1858.

FROM THE
SECOND SUPPLEMENT
TO THE
1858.

Admiralty, February 26, 1858.

DESPATCHES, of which the following are copies, have been received by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty from Rear-Admiral Sir Michael Seymour.

CAPTURE OF CANTON.

No. 14. "Coromandel," at Canton,
SIR, January 13, 1858.

BY the last mail I had the satisfaction of reporting briefly to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty the capture of the city of Canton. I will now do myself the honour of detailing the proceedings which crowned our efforts with success.

2. The demands made by the British and French Ambassadors on the 10th of December, having been rejected by Yeh (the Imperial High Commissioner), as well as a subsequent demand made by the Commanders-in-Chief of the Allied Forces (to whom the Ambassadors had transferred the question), for the peaceable surrender of the city, it was decided to resort to coercive measures, and as all the intelligence we had received, ascribed the number of troops comprising the garrison to amount to 30,000, and the confidence of the Imperial Commissioner in his own strength, led us to suppose the means of defence, both to the northward and in the interior of the city, had been greatly increased, it was decided that before our comparatively small force should act against the apparent odds in favour of the enemy, a slow fire should be kept up on the defences of the city from the English and French ships of war, in the directions where the troops were supposed to be stationed.

3. I have already reported the positions of the ships of war in the Canton Creek. At daylight on the morning of the 28th December, the signal agreed upon was simultaneously hoisted at the mast heads of the Actæon and Phlegeton, and a slow fire was opened upon the S.W. and S.E. angles of the old and new city walls; along the east wall and on the south wall opposite the Vice Roy's residence. To impede the progress and communication of the Imperial troops along the parapets, and to breach the walls, to facilitate the entry of the allied forces, a battery of two 13-inch and two 10-inch sea service mortars, and two 24-pounder rockets, under the direction of Major Schomberg, R.M.A., placed in position by Captain Hall, Commander Dowell, of the Hornet, and Captain Mann, R.E., on the Dutch Folly (where the French and English flags were hoisted), played on Magazine Hill, the City Heights, and Gough's Fort, with the other forts to the northward of the city outside the walls. The long-range guns of the gun-boats were also at a later hour of the day pointed in the same direction.

4. Major-General Van Straubenzee had been indefatigable in his search for a suitable point of debarcation, and at 7 A.M. the forces named in the margin* commenced to land inside of Kuper's Island Passage. The 59th Regiment, Royal Artillery, and Royal Sappers and Miners first; then the French Naval Brigade, followed by the Brigade of Royal Marines; and later in the day by the British Naval Brigade. From the pains taken by the officers who superintended the arrangements, Captain Hall, C. B., Captain Reynaud, of the Nemesis, and Major Clifford, Assistant Quartermaster General, aided by Messrs. James J. Hill and Henry Hill, Masters of the Calcutta and Hesper, the landing was effected with ease and dispatch. Soon after landing, Lieutenant Hackett, of the 59th Regiment, was surprised by a party of Chinese, who barbarously cut off his head and made off. Two were shot and a third was taken, and hanged.

5. The Major-General, under whose command I had placed the whole of the Royal Marine Light Infantry forces, by my order of 22nd of December, having directed Colonel Holloway, with Lieutenant-Colonels Walsh's and Hocker's Battalions of Royal Marines, to remain near the landing-place, as a reserve to protect the rear, and to forward supplies; each division as it formed, advanced in the direction of Lin's Fort; the French Naval Brigade, under my gallant colleague, Rear-Admiral Sir Rigault de Genouilly, exciting admiration by the completeness of its equipments, and by the soldier-like and efficient appearance of its officers and men. The fort was at once taken possession of by detachments of the French Brigade and 59th Regiment, the enemy retiring as the troops advanced. Lin's Fort is a circular red tower, built of stone; it had twelve guns in position, but badly appointed and of small calibre.

6. As the 1st and 3rd Divisions of the Naval Brigade were advancing to the right, they joined the covering parties of the 59th Regiment, which were driving back a large body of Chinese. As these troops occupied the position assigned to the Naval Brigade, and were increasing in numbers, the Niger's and Hornet's detachments, under Captain the Honourable A. A. Cochrane, C.B., and Commander Dowell, were ordered to dislodge them, which was gallantly executed, the Chinese taking up a fresh position behind each ridge, and finally in a joss-house or temple, from which they were also driven, until they reached the main body of Chinese troops near Gough's Fort.

Captain Cochrane seeing the importance of this temple, put it in a state of defence, and held it till relieved by the 1st Division at 9 P.M. Its possession protected our right from annoyance during the night. The gallant conduct of Commander Dowell, and of the officers and men generally, in the face of greatly superior numbers, has been brought to my notice. Several casualties occurred on this service.

7. The enemy appeared in great force on the hills to the northward of the city, and a brisk fire of cannons, gingalls, and rockets, from the city walls and Gough's Fort, was kept up on our troops as they advanced; which was, however, kept in check by the French and English howitzers which had been brought to the front, notwithstanding the unfavourable nature of the ground for artillery.

8. The army bivouacked for the night round Lin's Fort, the ground being admirably adapted for an encampment, being honeycombed for miles by a vast assemblage of graves—the "Criminal's Cemetery." The spaces between the mounds affording excellent shelter.

The 1st and 3rd Divisions of the Naval Brigade occupied the right, supported by Lieutenant-Colonel Lemon's Provisional Battalion of Royal Marines ; the 2nd Division of the Brigade the centre ; and the French and 59th Regiment the left. An occasional fire was kept up from the walls during the night, but without much effect.

9. The head-quarters for the night were in a Buddhist temple, to the rear of Lin's Fort. Having had an opportunity of viewing the east wall, it was decided to take it by escalade on the following morning at 9 o'clock, and to ensure success, it was arranged that a brisk enfilading fire should be kept up along the east wall, from the East Gate to the North-east Gate, by the French and English gun-boats, near the French Folly, till the hour named,—the fire then entirely to cease. Instructions were accordingly sent to Captain Shadwell, C.B., and Captain D'Aboville, of the Audacieuse, our respective senior naval officers, superintending the fire in the Canton creek.

10. The whole of the allied forces being under arms, at 5 A.M., on the 29th December, General Van Straubenzee ordered the field batteries to advance as soon as day-light permitted the passage of the guns over the uneven and unknown ground, to breach the parapet of the wall where the British Division intended to escalade, and the French guns were soon actively engaged on the portion assigned to their Division. Directions having been sent on the previous evening to Lieutenant-Colonel Lemon, and the 1st and 3rd Divisions of the Naval Brigade, to advance and take possession of a large temple in front of our position, within 100 yards of the wall, they were seen in quiet occupation as the day broke, and were soon after joined by Captain Key, C.B., with the 2nd Division. This temple afforded shelter from the guns of Gough's Fort, as well as from the fire that continued to be maintained from the city walls.

11. The scaling ladders, in charge of Commanders Hamilton, Fellowes, and Slight, and Lieutenant Viscount Gilford, were now carried as close to the shallow ditch as prudence permitted, in which service Mr. H. Thompson, Midshipman of the Sanspareil, a most praiseworthy and zealous young officer, was mortally wounded by a spear-rocket, causing his death on the following day.

12. At six o'clock the two battalions of the Royal Marine Brigade, under Colonel Holloway, arrived, and whilst the 2nd Battalion, under Lieutenant-Colonel Hocker, was placed as a reserve at Fort Lin, the 1st Battalion, with Colonel Holloway and Lieutenant-Colonel Walsh, were ordered by the General to support four companies of the Provisional Battalion, which were thrown out in extended order to check the enemy, advancing from Gough's Heights, in great force, and keeping up a heavy fire; a howitzer and a 12-pounder rocket subsequently supported the Royal Marines.

13. Soon after 7 o'clock, Captain Bate, of the Actæon, and Captain Mann, R.E., were directed to reconnoitre the wall, to select a fitting place for planting our scaling ladders. In the performance of this important and dangerous duty, Captain Bate was wounded in the chest by a gingall ball from the parapet. Dr. C. A. Anderson, Staff-Surgeon, at once proceeded at great personal risk, under a heavy fire to his assistance, but it was of no avail, as this gallant and highly esteemed officer died within a few minutes after receiving his wound. By this most unfortunate calamity, Her Majesty has lost one of the most talented and estimable officers in Her Service.

14. The fire from the walls having been kept in check by howitzers and the rifles of the Royal Marine Light Infantry, about half-past eight the French Brigade headed by its gallant Admiral, dashed forward with the scaling ladders. Our own ladders were at once in hand, and with a short run, planted against the wall, and amidst the hearty cheers of the whole army, the French and English Colours were floating over the Battlements of Canton. Division after Division rapidly clambered up the ladders, and advanced along the wall to the northward, taking Gate after Gate, (which form the principal defences of the city) in rapid succession; the enemy completely surprised, and confounded at the impetuosity of the attack, offering but trifling opposition. Before 10 o'clock the Flags of the Allied Powers floated over the five storied Pagoda, the city heights, including two Forts mounted with heavy guns, and the other defences of the city as far as the North Gate.

Our mode and plan of attack may be considered as a complete surprise, and may account for the limited loss which attended our operations. The authorities evidently expected we should first attack Gough's Heights and the defences outside the city, considering the height of their wall a sufficient security against an attack by escalade. The main body of their troops were in that quarter, and the guns on the city heights, in newly-constructed forts, bore in the same direction.

15. At the North Gate the enemy appeared inclined to make a stand. Captain Key, with one-half of the 2nd Division, advanced and took up a position in an earth battery in an elbow of the wall inside the gate, turning the guns upon the Sailor's Fort and the enemy's troops to the westward. The rest of the Division, by order of the General, passed through the North Gate, and drove the enemy back. The services of Commanders Hood and Slight, Lieutenant A. Bogle of the Sanspareil, and Lieutenant Viscount Gilford of the Calcutta, who was severely wounded, as well as Lieutenant W. O. Butler of the Hornet, were conspicuous on this occasion.

16. Occasional guns were fired from the forts outside the walls; but the rocket-party of the Cruizer, under Mr. Armitage, Midshipman, soon set on fire the buildings round the Upper and Lower Blue Jacket Forts, and compelled their evacuation, whilst the 1st Division of the Naval Brigade made a sortie, and captured Gough's Fort and the Marines' Fort, the former mounting 9 guns, and the other 12, blowing up the magazines, and destroying the guns and carriages.

17. In the direction of the West Gate, the enemy kept up a sharp fire from the reversed guns on the ramparts, and notwithstanding the fire from the Calcutta's field-pieces, in charge of Lieutenants Goodenough and Beamish, approached, under shelter of the wall and of some brick guard-houses, to within 50 yards of the North Gate, when Captain Sir Robert McClure, assisted by Captain Cochrane, made a sortie, which effectually dislodged them. The covering buildings were then destroyed, and several guns spiked or thrown over the wall. Except a desultory fire, which was returned occasionally, we suffered no further annoyance, and the fire ceased at 9 P.M.

18. I would here mention the zeal displayed by Lieutenants Goodenough and Beamish in bringing their guns to the front. Lieutenant Goodenough's light 12-pounders arrived at Lin's Fort on the evening of the 28th, and were in time to do good service at the north gate. Lieutenant Beamish's task was more difficult, as his two heavy 12-pounders, with limbers and spare waggons, had to be drawn up the wall, a height of 28 feet. The good conduct and exertions of the junior officers and guns' crews with the field pieces has been notified to me.

19. The 59th Regiment, on scaling the wall, proceeded to the southward, and went as far as the centre of the south wall, where they sustained several casualties ; amongst the rest Ensign Bowen, who was mortally wounded, and died on the 10th instant. Having overcome all opposition, they returned to the South-east Gate, which they occupied and held as the extreme left.

20. As a diversion, and with a view to carrying the South-east Gate, Captain Hall left the river, where he had been employed on important duty, at 9 o'clock, with 100 Marines and 600 officers and seamen, volunteers from the gun-boats. Their services, however, had been anticipated by the rapid success that attended our force on other directions of the city walls ; but the readiness and zeal displayed by Captain Hall and these officers and men, is not the less commendable.

21. As large bodies of armed men were seen passing into the city, through the West Gate, during the afternoon, it led to the impression that an attack was contemplated during the night ; which induced Major-General Van Straubenzee, to give directions to burn the houses in the vicinity of the North Gate. This duty was entrusted to Captain Osborne, C.B., who with Lieutenants Browne, Cator, Davidson, of the Royal Navy, and Lieutenant Pritchett, R.M., executed it under a sharp fire, and with considerable difficulty, the houses containing little inflammable material.

22. I have avoided making prominent mention of the services of the military branch of the force, it being peculiarly the province of my gallant colleague, Major-General Van Straubenzee, who having been in every position where his onerous duties called him, will be better able to do justice to the merits of the gallant officers and men under his orders.

The Royal Marine Battalions, having been placed under his Excellency's immediate orders; I also refrain, from the same reasons, from particularizing the good services they performed in this important affair. The provisional battalion of Royal Marines, from Her Majesty's ships, composed an efficient force of 800 men.

23. It is hardly necessary for me to mention that our brave Allies took a conspicuous share in all the operations I have endeavoured to describe. Rear-Admiral Sir Rigault de Genouilly showed a noble example, which was gallantly emulated by the fine body of officers and men under his command. It is but justice to add, that the French were the first on the walls of Canton. The Rear-Admiral has begged me to mention prominently the services of Capitaines de Vaisseau Reynaud, of the Nemesis, Jules Collier, of the Capricieuse, and D'Aboville of the Audacieuse, and that the whole of the brigade under his command, performed their duty with zealous alacrity.

24. I am assured that their Lordships will feel satisfaction in knowing that the most cordial good feeling, and perfect understanding, have been maintained between my gallant colleagues and myself; the one object, the occupation of Canton, agreeably to the instructions of our respective Governments, having been steadily kept in view.

25. On the morning of the 30th the enemy sent in a flag of truce, begging permission to bury the dead, which was granted. In the afternoon the Commanders-in-Chief, with their Staff, accompanied by Lieutenant-Colonel Walsh's Battalion of Royal Marines, Captain Key's Division of the Naval Brigade, Royal Artillery with 2 guns, and Sappers and Miners under Captain Knox, R.A., also a strong detachment of the French Naval Brigade, under Capitaine Jules Collier, proceeded to capture the West Gate. The guns on the parapet were loaded, and turned on our position, but all the defences were abandoned, and not the slightest opposition was offered. The guns, as far as the West Gate, bearing on our lines were spiked and thrown over the walls. The force then made the circuit of the city.

26. In the course of the day, an inferior officer came in with a message, stated to be from the Tartar General, but he was informed that we could only treat with the principal authorities.

27. The capture of the city having been now completed, it becomes my pleasing duty to bring to their Lordships' notice the good conduct of the officers and men composing the Naval Brigade, during the whole of these operations. Though brought together from so many ships, at short notice, they formed a most serviceable body of 1800 men, independent of 100 Royal Marines and 600 seamen in the gun-boats, held in hand by the Flag Captain for any emergency.

28. My thanks are particularly due to Commodore the Honourable Charles Elliot, C.B., and the Captains of the several divisions of the Naval Brigade. Commanders Hamilton and Hood have been in the Canton River for nearly twelve months, and Commander Fellowes is stated to have been the first of the brigade on the wall, from a ladder planted by Lieutenant Maresceaux, of the Nankin. The names of Lieutenants Curme, Honourable W. J. Ward, Jenkins, Alston, Reilly, Madden, Cator, F. Smith, and Broad, have been brought to my notice. Most of the above officers took part in the action in Fatshan Creek, on the 1st of June. I would also venture to mention the name of Lieutenant Sholto Douglas, commanding the Coromandel, tender, which has carried my Flag in the river since the commencement of the operations, and who has conducted himself entirely to my satisfaction. Lieutenant F. R. Purvis, Senior Lieutenant of the Actæon, was prevented from participating in these operations in consequence of a serious wound received whilst assisting to put out a fire on the night of the 27th December. I cannot bear too high testimony to the important services rendered by the gun-boat squadron, under the varied and difficult circumstances in which they were called upon to act. Through the unwearied exertions of Mr. John Davey, the zealous and active Inspector of Machinery, they have been kept in an efficient state. Their gunnery was highly creditable, and their participation with the French gun-boats in the fire along the east wall, was most effective, nearly dismantling several of the gateways. They had also been constantly employed in the conveyance of stores, ammunition, sick, and wounded, and I can most cordially recommend the lieutenants commanding and the second masters, to their Lordships' favourable notice. Lieutenant Colin Campbell of the Opossum, an officer of long service and merit, is placed on the staff of the Major-General commanding. I should be glad if their Lordships would be pleased to place at my disposal a few warrants for deserving Petty Officers, whose good conduct may be brought to my notice.

29. The fire from the Dutch Folly, directed by Major Schomberg, was very effective, many of the shells exploding in the midst of the Government buildings on the City and Gough's Heights. I may add, that the accurate fire from the Cruiser, Hornet, Mitraille, and Fusée completely demolished the Viceroy's Yamun. I have much pleasure in noticing the services rendered by Captain Shadwell, who had charge of the Gun Boats, and also of Commanders Dew and Crosswell, of the Nimrod and Surprise, the fire from whose heavy guns must have materially assisted in disconcerting the enemy on the distant part of the walls.

30. I enclose a list of casualties in the Naval Brigade, amounting to 5 killed and 34 wounded, and 17 men severely burnt by an accidental explosion of a magazine. Five men have since died.

31. Every necessary arrangement had been made by Mr. David Deas, C.B., the Medical-Inspector of the Fleet, for the comfort of the sick and wounded. The Inflexible was stationed for their reception, with a staff of medical officers and two "Chinese Chops," or covered junks, had been fitted up as hospitals and conveyed near the landing place. Besides these vessels, the Assistance, steam troop-ship, and Imperador and Imperatrice, steam-transports, were also prepared. Happily they were not required. Mr. Deas makes favourable mention of Dr. John Cotton, Surgeon of the Inflexible; Mr. Richard D. Pritchard, Surgeon of the Racehorse; Mr. Forbes, Surgeon of Cruiser; and Mr. Edward T. Mortimer, Assistant-Surgeon of Hesper. Commodore the Honourable C. G. J. B. Elliot, has also mentioned the assistance rendered by Mr. W. Baynes, Surgeon of the Sybil; Dr. Richard D. Mason, Surgeon of the Sans Pareil, and Mr. J. McSwiney, Surgeon of the Furious.

32. The services rendered by Captain Harry E. Edgell, of Her Majesty's ship Tribune, at Hong Kong, in forwarding our supplies and guarding the colony, entitle him to my warmest thanks and commendation.

33. I have on former occasions reported the great assistance rendered by Captain William K. Hall, my Flag Captain. I can only repeat, that I am under the greatest obligations to that officer for the untiring zeal with which he has devoted his whole energies to the good of the public service.

84, As active operations may now be considered at an end in this quarter, I also take the liberty of mentioning the valuable services of Mr. W. D. Jeans, my Secretary, and the very laborious duties he has had to perform during the whole period of the existing difficulties with the Canton Government,

I have, &c,

M. SEYMOUR,

Rear-Admiral and Commander-in-chief.

OPERATIONS AT CANTON SUBSEQUENTLY TO CAPTURE.

No. 17.

“Coromandel,” at Canton,

SIR, January 14, 1858.

IN continuation of my letter No. 14, of the 13th instant, I have the honour to report proceedings at Canton, subsequent to the 30th December.

2. On the 31st, parties of sappers and miners commenced their preparations for blowing up Gough's Fort and the Upper Blue Jacket Fort, outside the walls to the northward of the city, and they were destroyed on the following day, the former by the English, the other by the French. On the evening of the 31st a heavy explosion took place near the North-east Gate. A magazine of Chinese powder was being cleared out, when, by some accident, it exploded, and 17 seamen were severely burned.

3. On the 1st January, the French and English Ambassadors visited Canton, under salutes, both on arrival and departure.

4. No communications having been received from the Chinese authorities, who had not in any way recognized our capture of the city, it was determined to march a body of troops through it and endeavour to effect their capture. On the 5th instant, therefore, at 8 o'clock in the morning, the city was suddenly entered in three different places. A strong division of the French Brigade, headed by their gallant Commander-in-Chief, proceeded to the West Gate, and, leaving a portion in possession of that point, hastened to the residence of the Tartar General, who was captured by Captain Jules Collier. The General and myself entering to the northward, marched down the north street towards the Yamun of Pequi, the Governor, who was taken by the Royal Marines under Colonel Holloway; and, as we were holding a conference with the prisoners already in our possession, Mr. Parkes, Her Majesty's Consul, arrived, with the gratifying intelligence that Commodore the Honourable Charles Elliot, with Captain Key's division of the Naval Brigade, had seized Yeh, the Imperial Commissioner, with all the provincial Records, which are now being examined by Mr. Wade, Chinese Secretary. We directed the three captives to be taken to headquarters, much against the inclination of Pequi and the Tartar General, who stated their willingness to treat, and that they had not been informed by Yeh of our summons for the surrender of the city. A party of Royal Marines under Colonel Lemon, was also sent to secure the Imperial Treasury, which was effected, and three hundred thousand dollars in Sycee silver taken possession of; no opposition was offered to any of these proceedings, and the troops returned to their quarters. The silver is now on board the Calcutta for custody.

5. An account by Commodore the Honourable Charles Elliot, of the manner in which Yeh was taken, is herewith enclosed, No. 1, for their Lordship's perusal.

6. The streets of Canton are narrow and the houses are mostly of one story, and with the exception of the public buildings and stone arches, are of mean appearance. There is a great deal of open ground inside the walls.

7. On Yeh's arrival at head-quarters, he was asked after the foreign prisoners, known to have been in his possession. His Excellency was perfectly indifferent on the subject, and replied that he would show us their graves, as they had all died. He added that he had taken great trouble with their burial. It having been determined to send Yeh to the Inflexible till it shall be decided how his Excellency is to be disposed of, Captain Hall conveyed him on board; Pequi and the Tartar general remained at head-quarters.

8. On the 6th instant a conference was held by the Ambassadors in the city, to determine what should be done with the captives. It was agreed that the Inflexible should proceed with the Imperial Commissioner, and anchor off Tiger Island, and that the government of the city should be restored to Pequi, subject to our control, on the conditions specified in the inclosed paper No. 2, which his Excellency acceded to.

9. On the 9th, therefore, the Ambassadors, and the Commanders-in-Chief of the allied forces, proceeded in state to the city, and having installed Pequi under a salute, as Governor of the city, appointed a tribunal, as settled by the terms submitted to his Excellency, composed of Colonel Holloway, Royal Marines, Capitaine de Frégate Martineau and Mr. Parkes, Her Majesty's Consul at Canton. A guard of two hundred Royal Marines (which has since been increased) and a party of the French Naval Brigade, were left in the Yamun to support the Governor. The City Gates are now open by day, and tranquillity has been uninterrupted from the moment of the possession of the city.

10. In consequence of the peaceful aspect of affairs, I have, with the sanction of Major-General Van Straubenzee, removed the whole of the Naval Brigade to their ships, leaving the garrison composed of the Troops, Royal Marines, and French Naval Brigade. I enclose a copy of a General Order, No. 3, issued by the Major-General on the Brigade quitting Canton.

11. An excellent line of communication has been made by Captain Hall, assisted by Commander Fellowes and Captain Fisher, Royal Engineers, along the east city wall to the water, above the French Folly, with a serviceable pier; and the Commissariat and military stores of the English and French are now in course of completion. The very useful corps of Chinese Coolies raised at Hong Kong by the military authorities, convey all the supplies to the front, a great saving of labour to the troops.

12. The future conduct of this question will now, unless hostile measures again become unnecessary, rest with the Ambassadors of the Allied Powers.

13. His Excellency Sir John Bowring, having obligingly on my application, attached Mr. Harry S. Parkes, Her Majesty's Consul at Canton, to my Staff, I have great pleasure in calling their Lordships' notice to the important services rendered by that gentleman. His zeal and ability, with his intimate knowledge of the manners, customs, and language of the Chinese, have been turned to most valuable account.

14. I am glad to report that the health of the forces afloat and on shore, continues satisfactory.

I have, &c.

Inclosure No. 1 to No. 17, of 1858.

PROCEEDINGS IN CAPTURING YEH, IMPERIAL COMMISSIONER.

Head Quarters, Naval Brigade.

SIR, Canton, January 5, 1858.

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you how it came to the share of 100 blue jackets, under Captain A. C. Key, C.B., to make the important capture of his Excellency Yeh, and the valuable documents found with him.

Captain Key was moving down at 8 A.M., this morning, with his party, to the position you had assigned to him, at the south-east corner of the Parade-ground, accompanied by me, when Mr. Consul Parkes informed us that the most important point, viz., the Yachua College, where, by information received, Yeh was supposed to be, had not been visited.

I offered to grant him an escort, which he gladly accepted, and we therefore accompanied him to the above named building.

We found it deserted, but Mr. Parkes there ascertained that Yeh had only left it on Thursday last, and he succeeded in picking up a guide, who pointed out on a map the position of Yeh's present abode.

From thence we proceeded to the Lieutenant-Governor's Yamun, which was already in the possession of Colonel Holloway, R.M., and Mr. Parkes having confirmed his previous information by the statement of two other men, we advanced without loss of time to the south-west corner of the city to take possession of the Lieutenant-General's Yamun, where the three guides we now had with us affirmed that Yeh then was; these men also knowing him by sight. We pushed on as rapidly as possible, and on arriving in front of the building burst open the doors and rushed in immediately.

Several pink button Mandarins were first seized, but at the further end of the house, on Captain Key bursting open a door, he perceived a stout Mandarin endeavouring to escape, and immediately secured him, assisted by my coxswain.

Mr. Parkes then brought in each guide separately, and, on being removed, each stated that the person seized was Yeh.

The attention of Mr. Parkes was then turned to securing the records and official correspondence, of which a large quantity was found.

In the performance of this search it was necessary to open every chest found in the building, as most of them contained papers; and every care was taken to prevent the destruction of clothes and a vast amount of valuable property, which was re-packed and left in the house.

I cannot speak too highly of the good behaviour and regularity of the seamen employed with our small party, which was much contributed to by my Aide-de-camp, Lieutenant Alfred Alston, and the officers commanding them, Commander Hood, Lieutenants Clutterbuck and Bogle.

It is not for me to represent the skill and ability displayed by Mr. Parkes, further than to observe that the success of the capture is due to him.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) CHARLES G. J. B. ELLIOT,
Commodore, Commanding Naval Brigade.
Major General Van Straubenzee, C.B.,
Commanding the Forces.

Enclosure No. 2 to No. 17, of 1858.

Submitted to Pequi, the Governor.

NO Proclamation is on any account to be issued without submission to the Allies, and without their counter seal.

In all disturbances in which foreigners are concerned, the case is to be referred to the Allied Tribunal established at the Yamun of the Governor.

All questions between the Chinese, are to be decided by their own tribunals.

Chinese committing offences against foreigners, or vice versâ, to be handed over to the tribunal established by the Allies, except when the offences are committed within the portion of the city occupied by the allied forces, when they will be dealt with according to martial law.

An allied tribunal will be appointed to act with the Governor, and will be supported by a military force to assist in maintaining order ; and further, patrols, mounted or otherwise, will be sent out daily.

All depôts of arms and military stores, to be handed over to the allied Commanders.

Head Quarters, 7th January, 1858.

(Enclosure No. 2 to No. 17, of 1858.)

GENERAL ORDER.

Heights in Canton, Jan. 12, 1858.

THE Naval Brigade having been ordered by Rear-Admiral Sir Michael Seymour, K.C.B., to rejoin their respective ships, the Major-General cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing his warm admiration of their gallantry and conduct during the period they have co-operated on shore with Her Majesty's other forces and our allies the French.

The Major-General begs to return his sincere thanks to Rear-Admiral Sir M. Seymour, K.C.B., for his cordial and ready support on all occasions, and to assure him that he shall ever esteem it an high honour to have been associated with so distinguished an officer at the taking of Canton.

The Major-General begs to express his best thanks to Commodore the Hon. C. Elliot, C.B., for the able manner in which he performed the arduous duty of commanding the Naval Brigade, a passage in the gallant Commodore's career of which he may be justly proud.

The Major-General's best acknowledgments are due to Captains Keith Stewart, A. C. Key, C.B., and Sir R. McClure, Kt., for the energetic and admirable manner in which they commanded and manœvered their respective divisions.

Dependent as the troops have been during this war, on the services of the Royal Navy, the indefatigable exertions of Captain Hall, C.B., have frequently elicited the Major-General's admiration, and merited his warmest thanks.

To Captains Hand, Honourable A. Cochrane, C.B., Sherard Osborne, C.B., the Commanders, Lieutenants, Officers, and Seamen of the Naval Brigade, the Major-General begs to return his heartfelt acknowledgments for their gallantry and admirable conduct, and feels confident that should circumstances again occur which may render their co-operation with Her Majesty's land forces necessary, the British Naval Brigade will add new wreaths to the laurels it has already so frequently gained.

C. J. VAN STRAUBENZEE, Major-General.
Commanding Her Britannic Majesty's Troops in India.

W. C. HOLLAND, Brevet-Major,
Commanding H.M.'s 75th Regiment.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 26th day of February, 1858.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve and ratify the scheme duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

For authorizing the sale of certain property formerly belonging to the prebend of Beaminster Prima, in the cathedral church of Salisbury, and now vested in the said Commissioners.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 26th day of February, 1858.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the representations made (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

For assigning district chapelries to The consecrated church of the Holy Trinity, situate at Ossett-cum-Gawthorpe, in the parish of Dewsbury, in the county of York, and in the diocese of Ripon.

And the consecrated church called Christ Church, situate at Barkisland, in the parish of Halifax, in the county of York, and in the diocese of Ripon.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 26th day of February, 1858.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve and ratify the scheme duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

For authorizing the sale of certain property formerly belonging to the second portion or prebend in the collegiate or parish church of Bromyard, and now vested in the said Commissioners.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 26th day of February, 1858.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that the time for the discontinuance of burials in the undermentioned churchyards and burial-grounds be postponed as follows, viz.—

In the Great Synagogue Jewish Burial-ground, in the parish of St. Matthew, BETHNAL GREEN, from the tenth of March to the first of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, on condition that no grave be opened within five yards of the boundary walls; in the churchyard of BRONHAM, Wilts, from the first of March to the first of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in the churchyard of the parish of TWEEDMOUTH, from the first of March to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in the New Synagogue Jewish Burial-ground, in the parish of St. Mary, WHITECHAPEL, from the tenth of March to the first of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, on condition that no grave be opened within five yards of the boundary walls; in the churchyard of NEW WINDSOR, in the burial-ground of the Baptist Chapel, and in the Acre Burial-ground, in Windsor, from the first of February to the first of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; in the churchyards of St. Peter, St. Helen, St. Andrew, St. Alban, St. Swithin, All Saints, St. Martin, and St. Nicholas, in St. George's Churchyard in the parish of Claines, and in the Independent Burial-ground in All Saints parish, all in the city of WORCESTER, from the first of April to the first of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

And whereas by an Order in Council of the twenty-sixth of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, burials were directed to be discontinued as therein mentioned in the parish churchyard of GRANTHAM, in the burial-ground, Grantham, situate in the parish of Manthorpe cum Little Gonerby, and in the Ebenezer Chapel Burial-ground in the parish of Spittlegate, and it seems fit that the said Order be varied ; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the vaults and brick graves in the said churchyard and burial-grounds may be used on the following conditions, viz., that when required they be opened without disturbing soil that has been already buried in ; that each coffin be embedded in a layer of powdered charcoal four inches thick, and be separately entombed in an air-tight manner ; and that the only bodies interred be those of the husband or wife of persons already buried therein.

And whereas by an Order in Council of the thirteenth of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, burials were directed to be discontinued in the churchyard of St. Nicholas, HARWICH, and in the burial-ground of the Independent Chapel in that parish, and it seems fit that the said Order be varied ; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the now existing vaults and brick graves in the said churchyard and burial-ground be excepted from the operation of the said

Order, provided they be opened, when required, without disturbing soil that has been already buried in; that each coffin be embedded in powdered charcoal, and be separately entombed in an air-tight manner; and that the only bodies interred be those of the husbands and wives of persons already buried there.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 26th day of February, 1858.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that the representations of the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, stating that, for the protection of the public health, no new burial-ground should be opened in any of the undermentioned parishes, without the previous approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and that interments in the same should be discontinued with the following modifications:—

MARKET WEIGHTON.—Forthwith in the parish church of Market Weighton, and from and after the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, in the Churchyard, with the exception of reserved grave spaces, which can be opened without the disturbance of human remains, and in which the only bodies to be interred shall be those of the husbands and wives of persons already buried in the adjoining graves. MALTBY, YORKSHIRE.—Forthwith in the parish church of Maltby, Yorkshire; and from and after the first day of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, in the Churchyard, except in family vaults and walled graves which were in existence on the fifteenth of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, which can be opened without disturbing soil that has been already buried in, and in which each body shall be separately entombed in an air-tight manner. NETHER KNUTSFORD.—Forthwith in the Churchyard of Nether Knutsford, except in so far that one body only be buried in a grave, and that no grave be reopened within fourteen years, unless to bury another member of the same family, in which case a foot of earth shall be left undisturbed above the previously buried coffin, unless it be a walled grave or vault, in which case each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal, and separately entombed in an air-tight manner. COLNE IN WHALLEY.—Forthwith in the Church of St. Bartholomew, Colne, and in the Independent Chapel; and on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, in St. Bartholomew's Churchyard, and in the Independent Chapelyard, and in the Inghamite Burial-ground, except in vaults and walled graves in the open air, existing on the thirtieth January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, in which each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal and separately entombed in an air-tight manner; and in the Wesleyan and Baptist Burial-grounds, except in now existing vaults and walled graves, to be used with the same precautions, and in family graves not less than five feet deep, which can be opened without the exposure of remains, and which are not within three yards of any building. MIDDLEWICH.—Forthwith in the Church of Middlewich, and on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, in the churchyard, and in the Wesleyan and Independent Burial-grounds, except in vaults and walled graves in the open air, existing on the thirtieth January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, in which each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal and separately entombed in an air-tight manner.

ST. JOHN AND ST. MARTIN, BEVERLEY.—Forthwith in Beverley Minster, and in the Independent Chapel in the parishes of Saint Mary and Saint Martin ; that from and after the first of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, burials be discontinued in the Minster Churchyard, with the exception of family vaults and brick graves which were in existence on the first of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and which shall be used on the following conditions:—that, when required, they be opened without disturbing soil that has been already buried in ; that each coffin be embedded in a layer of powdered charcoal four inches thick, and be separately entombed in an air-tight manner ; and that the only bodies interred be those of the husband, wife, parents, unmarried children, and brothers and sisters of persons already buried therein.

ST. MARY AND ST. NICHOLAS, BEVERLEY.—Forthwith in the Church of Saint Mary, in St. Mary's New Burial-ground within three yards of dwelling-houses, in the Wesleyan Chapel and Burial-ground in the parish of St. Mary, and in the Independent Chapel in the parishes of St. Mary and St. Martin ; that from and after the first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, burials be discontinued in St. Mary's Churchyard, with the exception of family vaults and brick graves which were in existence on the first of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and which shall be used on the following conditions:—that, when required, they be opened without disturbing soil that has been already buried in ; that each coffin be embedded in a layer of powdered charcoal four inches thick, and be separately entombed in an air-tight manner; that the only bodies interred be those of the husband, wife, parents, unmarried children, and brothers and sisters of persons already buried therein; and that in St. Mary's New Burial-ground, no body be buried in an earthen grave without a covering of four feet of earth, measuring from the upper surface of the coffin to the ordinary level of the ground; that, with the exception of family vaults and graves, only one body be buried in each grave, and that, with the same exception, no grave be re-opened. CHRISTCHURCH COALVILLE, IN IBSTOCK AND WHITWICK, LEICESTERSHIRE.—Forthwith in the Church of Christchurch, Coalville; and in the Burial-ground, with the exception of the part of the ground on the south of the church, in which no burial shall take place, except in brick graves, in which each coffin shall be separately entombed in an air-tight manner; that from and after the first day of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, burials be wholly discontinued in the General Baptist Chapel Burial-ground, Coalville, in the parish of Whitwick, Leicestershire.

Also WHALLEY, LANCASHIRE.—Forthwith in the Churchyard of St. James's, Clitheroe, except so far as is compatible with the observances of the regulations for new burial-grounds, omitting No. 3; and that in St. Mary's Churchyard, Clitheroe, interment be discontinued on the first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, except in vaults and walled graves existing the eighth of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, in which each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal, and be separately entombed in an air-tight manner, and in family graves not less than five feet deep, which can be opened without the disturbance of remains, and in graves not previously buried in, and that, in the meantime, one body only be buried in any grave. BARROW - ON - SOAR, LEICESTERSHIRE. — Forthwith in the Parish Church of Mount Sorrel, North End; and from and after the first day of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, in the Churchyard, and in the General Baptist and Wesleyan Burial-grounds, Mount Sorrel, North End, with the exception of now existing family vaults and brick-graves in the churchyard, which can be opened without disturbing soil that has been already buried in, and are free from water, and in which the only bodies to be interred shall be those of the husbands and wives of persons already buried therein. ENFIELD, MIDDLESEX. — Forthwith in the old part of the Parish Churchyard, with the exception of vaults and brick graves which were in existence on the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, and which shall be used on the following conditions, viz. that, when required, they be opened without disturbing the soil that has been already buried in, that each coffin be embedded in powdered charcoal, and be separately entombed in an air-tight manner. And that in the New Burial-ground no grave shall be used which is not free from water, and that no coffin shall be buried in any unwallled grave within four feet of the ordinary level of the ground. HUDDERSFIELD. — Forthwith in the Independent Chapel and Burial-ground at Buckley Hill, Marsden.

should be taken into consideration by a Committee of the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, on the twelfth day of April next.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 26th day of February, 1858.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order, upon the representation of the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that the person or persons having the care of the vaults under the church of Saint Mary, Islington, shall adopt, or cause to be adopted, the following measures, viz.—

- 1st. That, in the first instance, the whole interior of the vaults, where accessible, shall be freely lime-washed, with the object of purifying the air, for the protection of the workman.
- 2nd. That all the coffins, including those in the private vaults, shall, when piled upon each other, be removed and be placed in a single layer on the floor of the vaults, and be then covered with a layer of fine gravel or sand, eight inches thick at the least; and that the whole be again covered with a proper layer of concrete.
- 3rd. That in those parts of the vaults which are in an offensive condition, McDougal's disinfecting powder shall be freely used, and be also applied to any coffins which may be found broken or offensive.

Also that the following regulations be observed in the Church of England Cemetery of Birmingham; viz.:

That in common graves therein, every coffin buried in them shall be separated from any other coffin by at least a foot of earth, and shall be buried at least four feet below the surface, and such graves not again opened;

and that on and after the thirtieth of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, one body only be buried in any common grave, and no such grave shall be re-opened within fourteen years. No un-walled grave shall be re-opened within fourteen years after the burial of a person above twelve years of age, or within eight years after the burial of a child under twelve years of age, unless to bury another member of the same family, in which case a layer of earth not less than one foot thick shall be left undisturbed above the previously buried coffin ; but if, on re-opening of any grave, the soil be found to be offensive, such soil shall not be disturbed. No coffin shall be buried in any un-walled grave within four feet of the ordinary level of the ground, unless it contains the body of a child under twelve years of age, when it shall not be less than three feet below that level.

TREASURY WARRANT.

Whereas by an Act of Parliament passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the Regulation of the Duties of Postage," power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury from time to time, by warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage, or Inland postage, payable by law on the transmission by the post of Foreign or Colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant, and from time to time, by Warrant, as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof, and from time to time, by Warrant, as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

And whereas by another Act of Parliament, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post-office," further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and power is also given to the Postmaster-General (amongst other things) to collect and receive the foreign and colonial postage charged or chargeable on any letters sent by the post, and also with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to require the postage, British, Colonial, or Foreign, of any letters sent by the post to be pre-paid, either in money or in stamps, as he might think fit, on the same being put into the Post-office, and also with such consent to abolish or restrict the pre-payment in money of postage on letters sent by the post either altogether or on certain letters, and to require the pre-payment thereof to be in stamps, and also to refuse to receive or send by the post any letters tendered contrary to any regulations thereby made, and power is also given to the Postmaster-General and any officer of the Post-office to detain any letters which should be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations therein mentioned, and to open such letters, and either to return them to the senders thereof, or to forward them to the places of their destination, charged in either case with such rates of postage as the Postmaster-

General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury should from time to time direct.

And whereas, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have, by divers Warrants under their hands fixed, made, and established certain rates of British postage payable on the transmission by the post of certain Colonial letters therein respectively mentioned.

And whereas the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by a certain other Warrant under their hands bearing date the 15th day of January, 1858, did make regulations for the prepayment of the several rates of postage payable on letters posted in the United Kingdom addressed to any of the colonies therein mentioned, and on letters posted in any of such colonies addressed to the United Kingdom, and did (amongst other things) order and direct that on every letter posted in any of Her Majesty's colonies in the West Indies (the islands of Barbadoes, Trinidad, and Turk's Island excepted), or in Malta, Gibraltar, or Hong Kong, addressed to the United Kingdom, the postage thereof should be paid at the time of the same being posted; and also that if any letter should be posted in any of the colonies before mentioned, addressed to the United Kingdom, without any postage having been paid thereon, or with a postage paid thereon less in amount than the single rate of postage chargeable thereon, every such letter should be detained and opened, and should be either returned or given up to the sender thereof; and also that if any letter should be posted in any of the before mentioned colonies addressed to the United Kingdom, and the postage paid thereon should be less in amount than the rate of postage to which such packet would be liable under and by virtue of the regulations in force relating thereto, but equal in amount to the single rate of postage chargeable on any such letter, if not exceeding half an ounce in weight, every such last mentioned letter should be forwarded charged with the amount of the difference between the postage paid thereon, and the postage to which it would have been liable if the postage had been paid when posted together, with the further and additional rate of postage of sixpence ; and also that the Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury might by Warrant, under their hands duly made at any time thereafter, alter, repeal, or revoke any of the orders, directions, or regulations thereby made, and might make and establish any new or other orders, directions, or regulations in lieu thereof.

And whereas it is expedient to alter the said regulations so made by the said Treasury Warrant of the 15th day of January, 1858, as to the prepayment of the rates of postage upon certain of the said letters therein mentioned, and also as to the detaining and opening, and either returning or giving up to the senders thereof of certain other of the said letters therein mentioned in the manner hereinafter contained.

Now we the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said hereinbefore recited Acts, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do by this present Warrant, under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners, by the authority of the statute in that case made and provided, order and direct as follows (that is to say) :

1. That on every letter posted in any of Her Majesty's colonies in the West Indies (the Islands of Barbadoes, Trinidad, and Turk's Island excepted), or in Malta, Gibraltar, or Hong Kong respectively addressed to any department or office in or connected with the public service of Her Majesty, which shall have a postage account with the General Post Office in London, it shall not be necessary that the postage thereof shall be paid at the time of the same being posted; and that every such letter so posted in any of the said colonies respectively, addressed as last aforesaid, shall and may be forwarded to the place of its destination, although the postage shall not have been paid thereon at the time of the same being posted; and the postage thereof shall be charged in such postage account anything in the said before-recited Treasury Warrant, bearing date the 15th day of January, 1858, contained to the contrary thereof notwithstanding.

2. And, with respect to letters posted in Gibraltar or Malta, if any letter, not being a letter addressed to any department or office in or connected with the public service of Her Majesty which shall have a postage account with the General Post-Office in London, shall be posted in Gibraltar or Malta, addressed to the United Kingdom without any postage having been paid thereon, or with a postage paid thereon less in amount than the rate of postage chargeable thereon under and by virtue of the regulations in force relating thereto, and such letter, on being opened, shall be found to have originated in, and been sent from, any country or place out of Gibraltar and Malta, every such letter shall be forwarded to the place of its destination, charged with the rate of postage to which it would have been liable if the postage thereof had been paid when posted, together with the further and additional rate of postage of sixpence, anything in the said before-recited Treasury Warrant bearing date the 15th day of January, 1858, contained to the contrary thereof notwithstanding.

3. The terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

4. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may by Warrant under their hands duly made at any time hereafter alter, repeal, or revoke any of the orders, directions, and regulations hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other orders, directions, or regulations in lieu thereof.

5. This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of March, 1858.

Whitehall, Treasury Chambers, the twenty-sixth day of February, 1858.

No. 1.

The Commander-in-Chief to the Governor-General.

*Head Quarters, Fort Futtehgurk,
 January 5, 1858.*

MY LORD,

I HAVE already had the honour to inform your Lordship by telegraph, of the various arrangements which have been made for the march of the force, under my immediate command, up the Doab.

Having been obliged to part with much of my carriage to meet the wants of Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., in Oude, considerable delay was unavoidable at Cawnpore, after the action of the 6th.

The time, however, was not lost. A brigade under Brigadier the Honourable Adrian Hope was detached to Bithoor, where every vestige of the Nana Sahib's property was swept away; and after very considerable exertion, much treasure recovered from the wells belonging to his former palace. The troops had worked hard at this duty.

and it was not completed when it had become necessary for Brigadier Hope to close on me, subsequent to my march.

The 88th Foot was accordingly ordered out from Cawnpore, under Colonel Maxwell, C. B., to prosecute the researches, which had already been attended by much success.

An order has been given to transfer the treasure so found to Mr. Sherer, Civil Magistrate of Cawnpore.

Another brigade having been detached under Brigadier Walpole, to make a detour by Akbarpoor through Etawah to Mynpoorie, with orders to rejoin me on the Grand Trunk Road.

The effect of this movement has been excellent, and Captain Bradford, the officer whom I selected to act as a Special Commissioner, to accompany Brigadier Walpole's force, has been enabled to shape out the police arrangements. He has punished some notorious malefactors, and disaffected districts, as shown by the various reports which have been forwarded to the Secretary of Government.'

In consequence of the march of this column, it would appear that there has been a complete sweep of rebels and bad characters, from the southern part of the Doab.

Brigadier Walpole joined me yesterday, at Futtehgurh, and has received my entire approval, for the able and judicious manner in which he has carried out the duty entrusted to him.

I am informed by the civil authorities that my protracted stay at Cawnpore was of much benefit, and I am convinced that, apart from any immediate military object, it is necessary for the re-establishment of authority, that the march of the troops should be deliberate. Time is thus afforded to the Magistrates and Special Commissioners to visit rebellious towns and villages, and again display to the people in an unmistakeable manner, the resolution of your Lordship's Government to visit punishment on all those who have, during the last few months, set aside their allegiance.

Our movements have accordingly been regulated on this principle, with reference to the day on which Brigadier Walpole was ordered to be at Mynpoorie, and the date of the probable arrival of Colonel Seuton's column from Delhi, at the same place.

Having completed my means of movement with the carts which had returned from Allahabad on the 23rd December, after conveying the wounded to that station, I marched to Chowbepore on the 24th.

On the 28th, while the head quarters and one brigade were advanced to Meerunka Serai, Major-General Windham, C. B., was detached with his remaining brigade to Futtiah, the Rajah of which place had abandoned his fort, the night of the advance from Cawnpore.

The fort was destroyed by the Engineers, and several rebels, belonging to the villages in the neighbourhood, were disposed of by the Magistrate.

Mr. Power accompanied this brigade, and was enabled to make a good circuit round the country.

Measures were taken, from our several halting places, to destroy the country boats on the Ganges, in order to prevent interruption of the Doab, from the Oude side of the river, when the troops should have moved on.

A considerable number were burnt, but it is probable that many may have escaped notice.

On the 31st December the leading brigades arrived at Goorsaigunge, Brigadier Grouthed and Major-General Windham closing up, the one from the river in the evening, and the other from Futtiah the next day.

Early on the forenoon of the 1st January, Brigadier Hope was sent forward with two regiments to the Kallee Nuddee, to prevent the further destruction of the iron suspension bridge, by the rebels. They disappeared on his approach, and the corps of Royal Engineers and Bengal Sappers, with a party of sailors, under Major Nicholson, Royal Engineers, set to work with great vigour, and worked day and night for the repair of the bridge, which had been very much injured.

I consider that Major Nicholson, and the officers and men under his command, deserve great credit for the unflagging industry, and real skill displayed, on this occasion.

The sailors were specially useful to Major Nicholson, in the management of the ropes which replaced the broken part of the iron work of the suspension bridge.

On the morning of the 2nd January, I rode out accompanied by the Chief of the Staff, to see if the bridge was ready for the advance of the column. Shortly after my arrival, while I was inspecting the work which was nearly complete, I observed an unusual movement amongst the villagers in a village about half a mile to the right front of the bridge. It soon became evident that an attack was about to be made on the working parties.

The picquet, which had been placed on the enemy's side of the river to cover the working party, was quickly reinforced.

The picquets there, consisting of a wing of the 53rd Regiment, skilfully laid out by Major Payn, of that corps, under the direction of Brigadier Hope, to the left and along the road.

The enemy attacked with guns and musketry, whilst the remainder of the 53rd was passing the bridge in support, and the heavy guns were being advanced from the position in which they had originally been placed, to cover the working parties.

The right wing of the 93rd Highlanders remained on the right bank of the Kallee Nuddee, in reserve.

A raking fire was quickly opened by Lieutenant Vaughan, of the Royal Navy, and Major Smith, Commanding a Field Battery, Royal Artillery.

It not appearing expedient to press the enemy, till the remainder of the force should come up, for which orders were sent; the position now taken up by the 53rd Regiment was secured, and the fire of the enemy kept down by our guns, but an advance was not permitted.

I may mention that the flanks had been secured, when the bridge was first occupied by the detachment of a wing of the Highlanders at Rowen, a village about three miles to the right, where there was a ford.

A patrol having been sent also on the previous day, to destroy whatever boats might be found, for several miles up the Kallee, Nuddee to the left of the bridge.

At 11 A. M., the main column from the old camp began to arrive, Brigadier Greathed's Brigade leading.

At the same time it was observed that the enemy had got a heavy gun in position, which had not opened before about half-past 2, P. M.; the 53rd, supported by the 93rd, advanced on the village, to the right, which had already been evacuated in consequence of the fire brought upon it; whilst Brigadier Greathed marched along the left of it, the Cavalry moving at a sharp pace, on the line of the enemy's retreat towards Futtehgurh.

The retreat of the enemy soon became a rapid flight, considerable execution being inflicted by the Cavalry, under the immediate superintendence of Brigadier-General Grant and Brigadier Little; all the guns which had been opposed to us, viz. (vide Return) eight in number, falling into our hands.

In this skirmish all the troops engaged behaved remarkably well, and the only fault I had to find, was with their too great eagerness for attack.

The [redacted] who were dispersed on this occasion, consisted of three or four Battalions 41st and other corps of Native Infantry.

In the 41st the rebels had begun with much system to organize a second battalion, their recruits being dressed in a neat uniform.

Their rout was complete, and it is said, apparently on good authority, that the fugitives who escaped, have made for Bareilly.

The camp was pitched late in the evening on the road to Futtehgurh, five miles from the Kallee Nuddee, where I had the pleasure of meeting Colonel Seaton, who had ridden over from Bewer to report the arrival of his Force and Convoy in person.

He was directed to make certain arrangements with the latter, and to close on Futtehgurh, after being joined by Brigadier Walpole.

A very large stock of grain was ordered to be sent to Cawnpore, to ease that district, and lighten the labours of the Commissariat, for the supply of Sir James Outram.

On the 3rd I marched on Futtehgurh, which had been deserted after the defeat of the previous day, by all the followers of the Nawab.

The flight of the rebels was so rapid that they had no time to complete the destruction of the Government property. It is with the utmost satisfaction I have to inform your Lordship of the very large amount of stores, of the most valuable description, belonging to the late Gun and Clothing Agencies, which have been saved to the State.

A notorious malefactor, one Najir Khan, was seized with his guns in the town.

I caused this to be done by the inhabitants, under fear of punishment on themselves. He was executed at the principal gate, on the 4th instant.

Mr. Power, Civil Service, has applied to me to sanction the appointment of Mr. Capper, Civil Service, to assist him in the Futtehgurh district.

Mr. Power represents his new assistant, as a man of much experience in these districts, and acquainted with the people.

I have therefore ventured to give the sanction required, subject to your Lordship's approval.

The destruction of the Nawab's palaces is in process. I think it right that not a stone should be left unturned, in all the residences of the rebellious chiefs.

They are far more guilty than their misguided followers.

A brigade will proceed to-morrow to visit two very mutinous villages, at a distance of some 20 miles from Futtehgurh.

A garrison has been left at Mynpooree, consisting as per margin.*

This garrison will furnish the escorts from Mynpooree to Agra, so long as such precautions are necessary.

I have intimated to Colonel Fraser, the Chief

* Her Majesty's 38th Foot; 2 field battery guns; 200 Wall's Horse.

Commissioner, North West Provinces, that it is not expedient to leave a small detachment by itself at Etawah, but that that place should trust rather to the influence of the Mynpooree garrison on the one side, and the last arrangements made by me in the Cawnpore district on the other.

That arrangement consists of a moveable column which is now being organised by Brigadier Inglis, at Cawnpore, for the purpose of marching about the district in aid of the civil power.

Having reached this point, and the communication being fairly established between Calcutta and Agra, I await your Lordship's further instructions.

I have, &c.,

Commander-in-Chief.

Brigadier J. Inglis, late Commanding Lucknow Garrison, to the Secretary to the Government of India.

Military Department, Cawnpore,

SIR,

December 28, 1857.

IN my report to Major-General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., of the operations which took place in the garrison of Lucknow after the 25th of September, until the 23rd of November last, when we were finally relieved by the force under the personal command of his Excellency the Commander-in-chief, I unfortunately omitted the names of Captain Wilson, Deputy-Assistant Adjutant-General, Lieutenant Birch, Aide-de-camp, and Captain Barwell, Fort Adjutant. I have consequently observed with much regret that these officers have not received notice in the General Order, by the Governor-General in Council, under date the 22nd instant.

I have, in my former report, endeavoured to do justice to the merits of these officers, and as they have continued to render me valuable service, I feel assured that they would have been prominently brought to the notice of the Governor-General by Sir James Outram, G.C.B., but for my inadvertence, which I trust it is not too late to have corrected.

My anxiety that no time should be lost in rendering justice to the officers above alluded to, will, I trust, be deemed sufficient excuse for my having addressed you direct.

I have, &c.

J. INGLIS, Brigadier, late Commanding Lucknow Garrison.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, January 12, 1858.

No. 54 of 1858.—Errata.

Brigadier J. Inglis, late commanding Lucknow garrison, having brought to notice that the names of Captain H. Forbes, of the 1st Light Cavalry, and Lieutenant A. S. Thain, of the 13th Native Infantry, were inadvertently omitted in the 12th paragraph of the Brigadier's despatch, dated 12th November, 1857, published in the Extraordinary Gazette of the 23rd December, 1857,* the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council desires to rectify that omission, and that those officers' names be added to that paragraph. Captain Forbes's name after that of Major Athorp,

General Orders by the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council.

Fort William, January 12, 1858.

No. 55 of 1858.

THE Right Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following report of a successful attack, made by the troops under Colonel Rowcroft, on a body of marauding rebels in the neighbourhood of his camp, on the 26th of December last.

To Colonel Rowcroft, to Captain Sotheby, R.N., commanding the Naval Brigade, and to the officers and men under his command ; to the detachment of Royal Marines under Lieutenant Pym, and that of the Bengal Police Battalion under Lieutenant Burlton ; as well as to the officers, civil and military, honourably mentioned by Colonel Rowcroft, the Governor-General in Council desires to offer his thanks for their services on this occasion.

The Governor-General in Council has much satisfaction in acknowledging the good services rendered upon this occasion by the Nepaulese troops, acting under Colonel Rowcroft's command. To the officers and soldiers of that force generally, but especially to Major Captain Sree Bhuggut Khanka, commanding the Ramdull Regiment, to Captain Dercedass Opudiah, of the same corps, and to Captain Koolpurshad Singh Bushnial, commanding the Gorucknath Regiment, his Lordship in Council desires to tender the thanks of Government, for the great zeal and gallantry which they have displayed.

Camp, Mujhowlee, on the River Chota Gundah, 25 miles West of Sewan,

SIR,

28th December, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Right Honourable the Governor-General, that the Field Force, under my command received a reinforcement of the Gorucknath Regiment of Goorkhas—500 strong—on the morning of the 25th December, sent on to join me by forced marches from Segowlee, by his Excellency Maharajah Jung Bahadoor and Mr. Samuells, the Commissioner. It was represented to me strongly that they were too fatigued, foot-sore, and hungry to march again that day, and that they had been without sleep for two nights. I therefore postponed for the day, though reluctantly, my arrangements to move and attack the rebels at Sohunpore—7 miles distant, and about midway between my entrenched camp at Myrwa and Mujhowlee. About half-past seven on the morning of the 26th December, I marched from camp with the force noted in the margin,* leaving two companies—100 men—of Goorkhas, and 50 matchlock-men of the Hutwa Rajah's, for the protection of the camp ; and of these, half a company and twenty matchlock-men to watch and secure the narrow Causeway Bridge over the river Jurhaee, less than half a mile in front of my camp. It was reported to me that the rebels were posted in the village of Sohunpore, and in two or three large topes (woods) close to it, on either side of the Mujhowlee road, with a tank with high banks close in front of the village on the north, in which most of the sepoy's, and three of their four guns were posted. On arriving within little more than half a mile of the position of the rebels, I formed line, and took ground to the right, to turn their left flank, and act more easily on the tank. During this movement, the enemy pushed forward numerous skirmishers into the topes and cultivation, and opened fire of guns and musketry on our line. Our skirmishers, consisting of the Marines, part of the Naval Brigade and Seikhs, soon returned their fire, doing much execution among the enemy, especially the marines with the Minié rifles. We also opened fire with our guns, and a few shells well thrown, in two or three directions, checked the rebels for a time. I advanced the line a short distance, when the main body of the enemy rapidly moved to their right, to join a force previously in position, I strongly suspect, on our left, their aim apparently being to surround us with their numbers. I changed our front immediately to our left. During this time, a village on our left was steadily and gallantly held by Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Regiment Native Infantry, with the 50 Seikhs; and I sent two companies of the Ramdull Regiment of Goorkhas to reinforce him in holding that post, and, if possible, to capture a gun firing on our left. Lieutenant Burlton reports that Soobadar Himkumal Bushnia, 9th Company Ramdull Goorkhas, behaved very gallantly, constantly encouraging his men ; and, in riding at one of the rebels who was attacking Lieutenant Burlton, inflicting fortunately only a cut through his turban and helmet, the soobadar was very severely wounded by a tulwar cut round the left hip, a Seikh then rushing up, cutting down, and killing the rebel. After changing ground to the left, I advanced the line towards the enemy, now and then allowing our guns to throw a shell or two. The enemy made a show of advancing a short distance, with about 50 sowars in their front. After advancing the line a short distance, two or three shells were beautifully pitched into the midst of this large body of foot and horsemen, at 900 or 1,000 yards distance, scattering them in all directions. I am sorry there was no opportunity to allow of the Goorkhas joining in a charge. The main body then moved rapidly to their left, as if to gain their old position in the topes and village. Our line was changed to the right. During the former advance and this movement, the rebel skirmishers were firing from heavy cover on us, from our right and right rear. I ordered the marines to skirmish and cover our right, and two companies of the Gorucknath Regiment, who were placed in reserve, to cover our right rear. The line and skirmishers advanced, firing a few rounds from our guns into the topes, and in the direction of the tank. The rebels seem to have had only a rear-guard, at this time, left at Sohunpore. The skirmishers rapidly advanced into the topes, which we found quite clear of the enemy. Three tents of Baboo Coer Singh's nephew, Hurkishen Singh, were here found all pitched, and a quantity of grain, &c. I ordered the tents to be burnt at once. We then moved to the right to get on the Mujhowlee-road, and continued our advance without delay to Mu-jhowlee, some six miles distant. Within about two miles of Mujhowlee we saw the rear of the rebels entering the place, and on nearing it I ordered the marines, and part of the Naval Brigade, and four companies of the Gorucknath Regiment, to push on rapidly after the Seikhs composing the advance guard, in the hopes of capturing their guns, crossing the deep ford of the Gunduk. I am happy to say one large iron six-pounder gun and limber complete, full of ammunition, was taken in the river. The Sikhs and some men of the Gorucknath Regiment, with Captain Koolpurshad Singh Bushnial, were among the first down at the river in capturing the gun. The cultivation was so heavy, and we advanced on so quickly, it was difficult to ascertain the number of the rebels killed. Two other tumbrils - one full of ammunition, the other of powder and two or three carts were also taken. The rebels, by all reports and appearances, were 1100 or 1200 sepoys, and between 4000 and 5000 other armed men. The Naib Nazim, Mushuruff Khan, was present in the action with his force, and also Alli Kur-ream, Moulvee of Patna, who was first reported to have been killed in the action, but now said to have got away the evening before. The Governor-General will be pleased to learn that this one day's work has completely cleared the district of this horde of marauding rebels, relieving the many villages of their plundering and oppression. The Rajah of Mujhowlee, and the people, gladly welcomed us, as did other people on the road. I had promised the Rajah I would soon relieve him. The Rajah states the rebels made sure of surrounding and destroying us as we were so few, and of being able to get into Chupra and to plunder the district. The Rajah also states that, with the sepoys, matchlock-men, sword and spear-men, the rebels were more than 6,000 or 7,000 strong. I do not think that the rebels had heard of the arrival of the second Goorkha Regiment, on the 25th December. I learn from the Mujhowlee Rajah, and other reports, that there must have been some 120 of the rebels killed, by the number of bodies since seen in their positions in the field. Besides many wounded, a few rebels were killed at the ford, and six in one boat. I am happy to say we have had few casualties. The gun and musket firing of the rebels was too high, their round shot and matchlock balls mostly passing over our heads, the round shot killing a Doolee bearer, and a villager, in our rear. A Goorkha private of the Gorucknath Regiment was wounded by a musket ball, and also one of the magistrate's sowars. It is a marvel none in the line were hit, for numbers of the round shot, &c., passed over or by us, tearing up the ground, and ricocheting, but without hitting any one. The action commenced about 10 A.M., and by half-past 1 P.M. we had dispersed and driven the rebels through the topes and village of Sohumpore, and followed them up and driven them out of Mujhowlee, and over the river Gunduk, by four P.M. The troops had a hard day's work, and went through their fatigue most cheerfully. I was myself in the saddle for ten hours, or would have written to you earlier; but I wrote and reported our advance, and successful attack, and complete operation, to Brigadier-General MacGregor, with Maharajah Jung Bahadoor, the same evening express to Bettiah. We bivouacked for the night near the river, having marched without tents or baggage, except two or three tents for the men of the Naval Brigade, and a few hackeries for the ammunition, and to carry the Goorkhas and Sikhs in case of accidents during the action.

* Royal Marines, 30; Naval Brigade, 130; Ramdull Goorkha Regiment, 500; Gorucknath Ditto, 350—one company of this regiment being at Sewan, and two in camp; four guns, 12-pounder howitzers, two being Mountain Train; Captain Rattray's Seikhs, 50.

I marched again yesterday morning, 27th December, with a detachment of the Naval Brigade, two guns, and eight companies of Goorkhas—400 men—and the Seikhs, crossed the river, and moved through Selimpore, and about two miles beyond, to the house of one Narain Dial Canongoe, formerly an Assistant Collector, who had been forward in marauding and giving aid to the rebels. His house was blown up, burnt, and destroyed. We also moved to another village, to the house of one Sungram Lall, the nephew and toomandar of the above, and destroyed his house; but neither of the villages were injured. We returned to camp at half-past four P.M.

I need hardly say that the troops behaved, as British marines and seamen ever do, most excellently and gallantly; Captain Sotheby ever ready and present with the guns, and to afford me every assistance in the field. Captain Sotheby has paid great attention to the drill and training of the Naval Brigade for land service, and in quickly training the horses and ponies for the guns, horses for the large 12-pounder howitzer, and ponies for the three others, and the seamen to ride and act as gunners; and under Lieutenant Turnour, R.N., in charge of the artillery, they have had constant drill and training, and are now ready and steady for field service, and were in the action of the 26th December.

Lieutenant Grant, R.N., in charge of the Naval skirmishers, Lieutenant Turnour, R.N., in charge of the artillery, Lieutenant Radcliffe, R.N., in charge of the Naval column, and all the officers of the Naval Brigade, and those attached to the Goorkha regiments, zealously exerted themselves, and afforded me every assistance.

Lieutenant Pym, commanding the Royal Marines, especially, did good service with the Minie

Rifles, and the orders I sent him were at once understood, and promptly acted on, while skirmishing.

Captains Weston, 36th Regiment Native Infantry, and Brooks, 1st Regiment Light Cavalry, respectively in military charge of the Ramdull and Gorucknath Goorkha Regiments, afforded me every aid in the management of those regiments; and Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Regiment Native Infantry, in charge of the Sikhs; and were ever ready for any duty and service ordered.

Captain Morgan, 22nd Regiment Native Infantry, Field Force Staff, the Honourable Mr. Montague, R.N., my acting aide-dé-camp, and Mr. Lynch, Deputy Magistrate of Sawan, as also Mr. Nicholson, who acted as my aide-dé-camp, afforded me every assistance in the field, and during the entire day.

Mr. Nicholson's son, Mr. Kenneth Nicholson, to whom I gave the charge of the rear guard company, baggage and camp followers, rendered me very useful service.

Major Captain Sree Bhuggut Khanka, commanding Ramdull Regiment, Captain Darcedass Opudiah, Ramdull Regiment, Captain Koolpurshad Sing Bushnial, commanding Gorucknath Regiment, and all the officers of the two Goorkha Regiments, were anxious and ready to render good service, and the men of both regiments were steady and willing in the field, and kept well to the front, with the European force.

I respectfully beg to recommend Captain Sotheby, Royal Navy, of Her Majesty's steam frigate Pearl, and all the civil, military, and naval officers, to the favourable notice of the Right Honourable the Governor-General.

I have reports that the rebels left their gun, which played on our left, behind them in some well or jungle at Sohunpore, and also the two guns, they are said to have crossed over the river, somewhere hidden beyond Selimpore. The rebels will feel the want of their guns and ordnance stores at Goruckpore, as they are said to be in want of ammunition.

On the evening of the 26th, I despatched a messenger to Myrwa, to move on the camp and baggage, which was carefully brought on to this place at 4 P.M. yesterday, under Lieutenant Hamilton, 8th Regiment Native Infantry, doing duty with the Naval Brigade.

I have ordered a bridge of boats to be got ready to cross the river to-morrow, to facilitate the movement over of the numerous hackeries, the only carriage we have, to be ready to move and act according to reports brought in, and probable orders from Brigadier-General MacGregor to cooperate with the Maharajah's Nepaulese army.

A few sepoy and rebels were brought in prisoners, during yesterday. They will be duly and speedily disposed of. Proclamations have been sent out to the villagers to capture all rebels, and offering rewards.

I have, &c.,

Commanding Sarun Field Force.

SIR, Mynpooree, December 28, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-chief, that I reached this place yesterday, and found Raja Tej Singe's force posted outside the cantonments. I attacked him at once, routed them, took 6 guns, and killed about 250 of his rabble. I took possession of the town at once, which I found nearly deserted. I had only two men wounded.

Since I left Delhi, this little force, of 1,959 men has captured 22 guns and killed 1,400 insurgents. I shall remain here until the 31st, and on that morning, march for Bhowgong, to cover the march of the convoy, and be on the main road ready to communicate with his Excellency's camp. I have sent six letters to your address ; but have not as yet received any reply. I shall wait his Excellency's orders, and be prepared to move in, with the convoy, the moment I hear of his Excellency's approach. The guns I captured at Gungeeree and Puttialea, I sent into Allygurh. Nine of them are of our own manufacture. Of the guns captured yesterday, one is a fine new pattern 8-inch howitzer, and was the fitting gun of the carriage manufactory at Futttehgurh. Rajah Tej Sing fled to Bhowgong yesterday, with only 16 horsemen.

THE Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council has much satisfaction in publishing, for general information, the following despatch from Brigadier-General Macgregor, C.B., detailing the circumstances under which the Station of Goruckpore has been re-occupied, and the rebel Nazim, Mahomed Hussein, totally defeated by the Goorkha auxiliary force, under command of Maharajah Jung Bahadoor.

His Lordship in Council desires, at the same time, to express his warm acknowledgments to Maharajah Jung Bahadoor, for the valuable assistance thus afforded by the Nepaulese troops, and his appreciation of the zeal and bravery, by which their conduct on this occasion was distinguished.

The thanks of the Government of India are also due to Brigadier Junga Doge, who commanded the leading brigade, as well as to Colonel Lall Singh, and Captain Sujan Singh of the Nepaulese Artillery, and the other Goorkha officers mentioned in the Brigadier-General's despatch.

The Governor-General in Council has also to acknowledge the obligations of the Government of India to Brigadier-General Macgregor, C.B., whose ability and good judgment, in a charge of no small responsibility, have been conspicuous.

Major Fitzgerald, Lieutenant Foote, and the other European officers, who accompanied the Goorkha troops, merit the thanks of the Governor-General in Council.

No. 32.

Brigadier-General G. H. Macgregor, C.B., Military Commissioner, to the Secretary to the Government of India.

*Camp Goruckpore,
January 7, 1858.*

SIR

I YESTERDAY had the pleasure of sending to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Central Provinces, and to the Commissioner of Patna, for transmission to the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council, the following telegram : " The army under the command of Maharajah Jung Bahadoor, occupied the Station and City of Goruckpore this day, at 2 P.M. Our passage was at first disputed at a nullah, in the middle of the jungle, in front of Gourckpore, and secondly, at the entrance to the station. The rebels, however, made no real stand ; after firing a few rounds on the advance of our troops, they fled and were pursued to the Rapti, in their endeavours to cross which, some hundreds were killed, with trifling loss on our side. We have captured 6 guns and 2 zumbooruks. More by post to-morrow."

2. I have now the honour to submit, for the information of his Lorship in Council, a detailed account of our operations of yesterday, which I was unable to do in time for the post last night.

3. We left camp at seven in the morning, a thick fog spreading over the plain, but which had entirely dispersed by the time we arrived at the jungle, about two miles and a half in front.

4. There a Brigade under Brigadier Rim Sing, accompanied by Captain Plowden, was sent by a road to our right to turn their left flank, and a brigade under Brigadier Summuck Sing, accompanied by Captain Edmonstone, to turn their right flank by a road to our left ; a third brigade under Brigadier Junga Doje, accompanied by Lieutenant Foote, and supported by the guns under Colonel Lall Sing, accompanied by Major Fitzgerald, marching by the main road.

5. Shortly after entering the jungle, which was very thick, the centre column was stopped at a nullah, where the road led over a bridge, about fifteen feet of the superstructure of which had been torn away by the enemy, leaving however the main beams intact. Here the enemy had taken post to prevent our further progress, but our guns immediately opened on them, replied to by two of theirs, as also by a volley of musketry, succeeded by a dropping fire. Our fire was, however, too much for them ; and on the advance of the infantry, who passed through the nullah, the enemy fled with precipitation, abandoning a gun which was captured by the centre brigade.

6. From this the enemy fled through the jungle, pursued by our men as hard as they could go, but being only infantry, and the road being sandy and heavy, the men were unable to come up with the flying enemy. After passing the bridge, the centre column was joined by the two flanking ones in succession, the enemy not having waited for them to arrive on the scene, and the whole pressed forward to the front, at a pace which was mostly a run the whole way. The bridge was immediately repaired, and the baggage began to cross.

7. On the head of the column emerging from the jungle, a party of the enemy were observed on the left, between whom and our skirmishers, long shots were being exchanged, and a few rounds from the guns of the leading brigade quickly dispersed them. The leading brigade then pushed forward, and as the ground rose a little at its crest, we were in view of the Station of Goruckpore. Here the enemy opened on us from a small tope in front, at about 700 yards. His round shot fell very accurately on the road, but not exactly in the direction that we were approaching in.

-8. Two guns were immediately brought to the front, and two more shortly after. This fire was very effective, killing two men at the enemy's gun, which they abandoned, accompanied by a small party of horse, which was seen no more. On capturing this gun, the force was about to halt, agreeably to orders from the Maharajah, when fresh orders were received to push on, and try and intercept the rebels, at the Ghaut.

9. The troops again pressed forward with unwearied energy, passed a very strong entrenchment, which would have cost us much trouble and many men, if the enemy had had the resolution to defend it, and reached the Ghaut on the river, just as a number of the enemy were endeavouring to push off for the other side.

10. At one place a number tried to rush up the banks and effect an escape into the fields, but were intercepted by the Goorkhas and cut to pieces. The great majority however jumped into the river, where they were shot down in great numbers. Three or four hundred must have been killed there, the river being at one time literally covered with floating bodies.

11. It is now my pleasing duty to bring to the notice of his Lordship in Council the names of the Nepaulese officers, who were most distinguished in the action of the day. Colonel Lall Sing, commanding the Maharajah's Artillery, proved himself a good artillery officer. He brought his guns well forward into action, and served them with a rapidity and precision which soon drove the enemy from his position. Captain Sujan Sing commanded the guns on the rising ground at the entrance of the Station, and his very effective fire was much admired by the officers present.

12. Major Fitzgerald, who accompanied Colonel Lall Sing, has gained the confidence of that officer. He gave him sound and judicious advice, which was well acted on.

13. Brigadier Junga Doje, who commanded the leading brigade, reaped, conjointly with the artillery, the principal honours of the day. He led his men on steadily in advance, captured the first gun at the bridge, and was the first to overtake the rebels at the Ghaut. Lieutenant Foote, who accompanied him, greatly distinguished himself, exerting himself constantly to get the men into order, and keep them steady in their ranks.

14. Brigadier Summuck Sing's Brigade was also well in advance, accompanied by Captain Edmonstone, who got the guns into position on emerging from the jungle, and quickly drove the enemy away. His brigade was also early at the Ghaut.

15. Brigadier Run Sing's Brigade was most skilfully led through the forest to the right, by a native guide and Mr. Bird, of the Civil Service, and accompanied by Captain Plowden; arriving too late to surprise the enemy at the bridge in the jungle, they having previously fled on the advance of the centre brigade; Run Sing's Brigade was from its position unable to take much further part in the events of the day.

16. The same may be said of Brigadier Jodh Adhikaree's Brigade, which formed the rear guard, with the baggage, and was accompanied by Lieutenant Hill.

17. I have great pleasure in specially mentioning the services of Mr. Bird, of the Civil Service, who has, from the time he joined this force, exerted himself in a way which deserves my warmest praise. He was the guide, and at the head of the column on this day, where his local knowledge proved of the greatest value.

18. I have also to bring to the notice of his Lordship in Council, the assistance which I have received from my military secretary and aide-camp, Lieutenant MacAndrew; from the time that we entered on our duties at Bettiah, he has been most useful and zealous. He was with the leading brigade from the opening at the Goruckpore end of the forest to the end of the action, and the first man who reached the Ghaut on the river.

19. Captains Brander and Thompson, of the Commissariat Department, having but little of their own proper duties to do, in consequence of the self-supplying nature of this camp, exerted themselves as military officers, and rendered very good service; the latter especially in having, together with Lieutenant MacAndrew, subdued a dangerous fire, which broke out close to a rebel magazine, and threatened the Judge's house with destruction.

20. Lieutenant Cory, Quartermaster in camp, also accompanied the advance brigade. The Commissioner, Mr. Wingfield, Civil Service; the Collector, Mr. Brereton, Civil Service; and Captain Byers, Assistant Resident at Nepal, accompanied myself and the Maharajah throughout the day.

21. Surgeon Dicken, and the other Medical Officers, were present at their posts, but had fortunately but little to do, our casualties being only two killed and five wounded,

22. A return of the captured ordnance will be sent as soon as it can be prepared.

I have, &c.,

G. H. MACGREGOR,
Military Commissioner.

General Order by the Governor-General of India in Council,

No. 114 of 1858.

Fort William, January 22, 1858.

THE Right Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following report of a successful attack, made by the troops under the command of Brigadier W. Campbell, commanding at Allahabad, on a large body of rebels, within a few miles of the station, on the 5th instant. His Lordship in Council concurs in the approbation, expressed by his Excellency the Commander-in-chief, of the conduct of Brigadier Campbell, and the Officers and men under his command on the occasion.

No. 34.

The Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army to the Secretary to Government of India, Military Department, Head-Quarters, Camp, Futtehgurh,

SIR, January 13, 1858.

I HAVE the honour, by the direction of the Commander-in-chief, to transmit copy of a report dated the 8th instant, from Brigadier W. Campbell, commanding at Allahabad, of a successful attack made by him on the 5th instant, on insurgents who had collected within a few miles of the Station, and in submitting it to the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council, I am to request you will have the goodness to express his Excellency's entire satisfaction with the manner in which the affair was conducted throughout, and with the behaviour of the troops engaged.

I have, &c.,

H. W. NORMAN, Major,
Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

No. 35.

Brigadier W. Campbell, Commanding at Allahabad, to the Chief of the Staff,

SIR, January 3, 1858.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-chief, that having received intelligence from Mr. Mayne, the Magistrate at Hunnoomagunge, of a large body of rebels having assembled at Munseata, about 12 miles from this, on the other side of the Ganges, towards Secundra, and knowing that the Lieutenant-Governor wished them to be dispersed, I proceeded from this at 2, A. M., on the morning of the 5th January, in command of the force named in the margin.*

I arrived at Munseata at daylight, and there found the rebels about 700 strong, in position on a hill, with three guns on the opposite side of a ravine; they immediately opened fire without effect. I ordered a Company of the Rifle Brigade, under command of Captain Lindsay, and two Companies of the 79th Highlanders, under Lieutenant-Colonel Taylor, to advance in skirmishing order, the former on the enemy's left, and the latter on their right; this was done with precision, and great quickness. The guns were ordered into action, but, in consequence of the slowness of the bullocks and the celerity with which the enemy retreated, as soon as the infantry commenced their firing, Colonel Gordon, Royal Artillery, was only able to fire one round.

The skirmishers advanced in pursuit, Lieutenant-Colonel Douglas following in support with the guns and main body of the 79th, a good number of the enemy were shot, and the force passed through Munseata in the above order to Syrepore, about three miles, where many had posted themselves in a strong built large house, and in other buildings of the village. I regret I failed in taking the enemy's guns, which must have been hid by them, as no one saw them carried off at Syrepore. At Syrepore I ordered the guns to come into action. A few rounds drove the rebels out of the village, and several of them were shot by the Rifles and the 79th, who I had sent round each flank of the town, in order to cut off their retreat.

* Royal Artillery, 79th Highlanders, Rifle Brigade.

The village was then searched. A Jhussah Thakoor, and two Brahmins, were found and hanged, one being a pensioned sepoy of the 71st Native Infantry. Many matchlocks and tulwars were found. At the request of Mr. Mayne, the magistrate, the village was destroyed.

Immediately after this, Captain Matheson's Troop of Irregular Cavalry joined my force. At the suggestion of Mr. Mayne, who knows the country, and showed great zeal and gallantry during the whole of the day, I ordered this troop to leave Hoonnumungunge in order to endeavour to cut off the retreat of the rebels; this was exceedingly well executed. The troop attacked the rebels with great gallantry, and destroyed forty or fifty of them. I collected the troops in a grove of trees, and halted to refresh them at 10 A.M.

At 10:30 A.M. Major Anderson, Royal Horse Artillery, joined our column with the mounted detachment of his troop, which was on the march from Benares to Allahabad. I, after consulting Colonel Wood, C.B., had sent an order to Major Anderson, when I left the fort, to obtain a guide at Hunoonanagunge and join me at Munseata, and act as cavalry.

At 11 A.M. firing was heard in our rear, and it was reported that Naib Nizam, with 2000 men, was coming to attack us. I waited a short time under the trees, then reformed Royal Horse Artillery on the left, 79th in the centre, guns on the right, and Rifles in the rear, as I then intended to send the last-named to destroy Paphamow, a small rebel village.

On leaving the wood I found the enemy, I think about 1200 strong, within a mile and a half. I ordered the 79th out to skirmish, and Colonel

Gordon to come into action as soon as he could, at the same time I ordered the Royal Horse Artillery to cut off the retreat of the enemy to our left. This was done with great quickness and effectually, about 150 killed, and many of the others driven back on the infantry and guns, where many were killed, the 79th and Rifles making some capital shots at long distances.

At this time Mr. Mayne reported he had seen the Nizam. I ordered Major Anderson, Royal Horse Artillery, with half of his troop, to follow him a short distance. He did not overtake him; but killed 100 more of the enemy, some, I am told, men of consequence in the rebel force. Colonel Wood took command of the remainder, and prevented the rebels, in the neighbouring villages, which were burnt, from retreating to our left.

At Munseata I halted the force for a short time, and then marched to Allahabad, arriving at 7-30 P.M. All reported present with the exception of a few men, who came up with the guard that was left in our rear, to bring up some cars that arrived at 9 P.M., when all were present.

The enemy's loss cannot be calculated at less than 400. I have since heard that about that number were seen making their way to Secundra, wounded.

I am thankful to say that our loss was only one man of Benares Horse killed, and six wounded; the Royal Horse Artillery, two horses killed and five wounded; the Benares Horse, nine horses wounded.

I am much obliged to Lieutenant-Colonel Wood, C.B., R.H.A., for his assistance during the day, and also to Lieutenant-Colonel McDonald, Rifle Brigade, who volunteered his services to accompany the force. And I beg further to state that I was much satisfied with the manner in which Lieutenant-Colonel Douglas, 79th, commanding the infantry, Lieutenant-Colonel Taylor, the companies with which he was detached, Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, the Foot Artillery, Major Anderson, detachments of his troop Royal Horse Artillery, Captain Lindsay, the Rifles, and Captain Matheson, the Benares Horse. This, I am told, is a newly raised corps, and the service they rendered on the 5th, and their workmanlike appearance, I beg respectfully to say, did them great credit. I sent them home before the Nizam's advance, as they had several wounded men and horses, and did not expect their services would be required.

Brigade Major Campbell and Captain Maxwell, officiating Deputy Quartermaster-General, were with the force, and performed their duties to my entire satisfaction; and Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon reports that Captain Thurburn afforded him great assistance during the day. I am much obliged to Captain Frazer, 7th Hussars, who kindly acted as my Aide-de-Camp, and carried orders correctly and very quickly.

In conclusion, I beg to state that I am very much indebted to Mr. Court and Mr. Mayne, Magistrates; the former accompanied me during the day, and the latter attached himself to the cavalry, when he did good service with his sword, and was most useful to the commanding officers.

I beg to add that all the officers and men did a long day's work zealously and cheerfully.

I have the honor to forward a list of casualties.*

I have, &c.,

W. CAMPBELL.

* Note—Not received at head-quarters, but the loss is given in the body of the report.

H. W. NORMAN,
Deputy Adjutant-General.

P.S.—I have the honour to add, for the information of his Excellency, that since the above was written, Mr. Mayne has sent me one of the enemy's guns, found by his men at Munseata, concealed in the ground, and also he reports to me that the enemy calculated their loss at 500 killed, and 300 wounded.

FROM THE SUPPLEMENT
LONDON GAZETTE of MARCH 5, 1858.

War-Office, Pall-Mall,

5th March, 1858.

THE Secretary of State for War has this day received Despatches, of which the following are copies, addressed to Lord Panmure by Major-General C. T. Van Straubenzee, C.B., commanding Her Majesty's Land Forces in China.

Head Quarters, Canton,

MY LORD,

January 14, 1858.

I HAD the honour by the last mail briefly to report the capture of the city of Canton, I have now the honour to forward for your Lordship's information the particulars thereof.

It having been decided by their Excellencies

Rear-Admiral Sir Michael Seymour, K.C.B., Rear-Admiral Rigault de Genouilly, and myself, that the attack should be made on the north-eastern part of the walls of the city of Canton, the forces for this attack were landed on the 28th December as nearly as possible in the order arranged in a memorandum forwarded to your Lordship by the last mail, and at the place agreed upon, in a creek opposite to the eastern end of Kuper Island, to which point I proceeded on the afternoon of the 27th ultimo.

On the 27th ultimo, I directed a covering party of Her Majesty's 59th Regiment to be landed at the point above named to protect the Royal Engineers, Volunteer Sapper Company, and working party of the Native Transport Corps, under Captain Mann of the Royal Engineers, whilst constructing jetties for landing troops and guns, making and widening roads across the low marshy paddy fields to the hard ground about 400 yards inland. These works were proceeded with most actively, and the amount of labour performed proved the zeal which had been devoted to their accomplishment; indeed, I feel much indebted to Captain Mann, R. E., Lieutenant Stewart, R. E., and all employed, for the evident interest taken in their task. The 59th covering party was under Major Burmester, commanding the 59th Regiment, to whose admirable disposition of his force it was mainly owing that these works were continued uninterruptedly during the greater part of the night.

From the low state of the tide the landing could not be proceeded with as arranged, simultaneously with the opening of the bombardment at 6 A.M. on the 28th ultimo; but about 9 A.M. it was commenced, and vigorously carried on under the superintendence of Captain Hall, C.B., R.N.,

Commandant Raynaud, Capitaine de Vaisseau, F. I. N., and Major the Honourable H. Clifford, Assistant Quartermaster-General, by whom the whole of the force and a large amount of material, stores, etc., were landed before nightfall, reflecting the greatest credit upon the untiring exertions of these three officers. Great praise is also due to Captain Temple, of the 12th Madras Native Infantry, a most zealous and active officer, for his arrangements in forwarding to the front the required ammunition, stores, etc., as soon as landed.

By 10 o'clock A.M., the French force having disembarked were pushed on at my request to some rising ground about half a mile inland, placing a picket to protect their left on a point which commanded a view of the country to the river, and the village and ground to their front, their right flank resting on a hill above a paved causeway leading through the village to the East Gate of Canton.

On the French brigade taking up this position a fire of jingalls, matchlocks, and rockets was opened upon the brigade from the village in front and from groups of the enemy formed to its right. No other troops being yet available, I directed the portion of the 59th Regiment under Major Burmester, to be advanced to the right of the French. The enemy still continuing troublesome, without doing much mischief, and the eagerness of our Allies being difficult to restrain, their distinguished Commander-in-Chief ordered one battalion to advance and drive them from the heights and knolls in front, which was effected in gallant style. The whole of this part of the country was undulating, the higher ground covered with Chinese graves of a circular form, rendering it very difficult to cross, the lower parts intersected by paddy fields, many of which were still under water.

The remainder of the 59th having now reached the front, it was employed in driving the enemy back on the right of the French Brigade, and as the whole line approached nearer to Fort Linn, a smart fire was opened by some French howitzers, to keep down the fire of the fort, under cover of which the 59th Regiment moved up to a joss-house, within 300 yards of the fort, the French at the same time advancing to the hill in their front, the whole covered by the 4½ howitzers of Captain Knox's battery, which were fired with great effect. The fort being thus partially surrounded, the enemy were discovered to be evacuating it, by our Allies, who rushed on and occupied it, followed by the 59th Regiment.

As there was no prospect of being in a position to escalate the walls of the city on that day, owing to the great difficulty and labour required in getting up artillery, ammunition, &c., I decided upon bivouacking upon the ground we then occupied. The 59th Regiment in rear and under cover of Fort Linn, against the right flank of which the enemy were making good practice with their guns from the walls of the city; the French Naval Brigade to our left having an advanced picket in a most favourable position in a joss-house to their front, from which the direct road to the East Gate was commanded. Lieutenant-Colonel Lemon's battalion of Royal Marines to the right on a range of hill fronting the north-north-west, and on its right, two divisions of the British Naval Brigade, under the command of Commodore the Honourable C. Elliot, C.B., who afterwards moved one division to the front under the command of the Honourable Captain Cochran, C.B., to a most admirably selected and strong position. My object in this disposition of the force, being to induce a belief on the part of the enemy that it was my intention to advance towards Fort Gough, in which feat I was fortunate enough to succeed.

The 3rd Division of the British Naval Brigade under Captain Key, C.B., R.N., was placed in rear and to the right of the joss-house occupied during the night by the Allied Commanders, with one battalion of Colonel Holloway's brigade on their left, the other battalion of the Colonel's brigade being left at the landing-place to protect stores, &c., and keep open our communication.

The artillery were partly in position in front of Fort Linn, the remainder on the ground below the fort, prepared for an onward move at daylight. The ladders and reserve ammunition were also brought to the fort. In the course of the afternoon the enemy appeared frequently in considerable force on our front and right, from the former they were as often driven by our rockets and artillery fire, from the latter by the dashing onslaughts of the British Naval Brigade. Up to this time, some few men of each force were wounded and one officer, Lieutenant Hackett, of the 59th Regiment, Aide-de-Camp to Colonel Graham, whilst carrying an order, was barbarously murdered by some Chinese, who had concealed themselves in a grave, two of whom were shot and one captured and hung.

By daylight on the 29th ultimo the large joss-house, which had been held on the previous day in great force by the enemy, was occupied without a struggle by a portion of the Naval Brigade, under the orders of those distinguished officers Sir R. McClure, R.N., and Captain Osborne, C.B., supported by a battalion of Royal Marines, under the command of that old and deserving officer Lieutenant-Colonel Lemon. I directed Colonel Graham to send the 59th Regiment, under cover of houses to our left, as near as practicable to the walls, there to extend and keep down the fire from the openings in the castellated parapet of the walls; the Rifle Company of the 38th Madras Native Infantry to extend on the right of the 59th Regiment, which was performed by both parties to my entire satisfaction. The artillery I directed to advance across the plain to the high ground, as near as possible to the wall, with a view to breaching the light parapet of it, should it be deemed necessary. The Admiral and myself having agreed the previous night that the bombardment of the eastern line of wall should continue until 9 a. m., so as to afford ample time to get up ladders, artillery, &c., this was effected with more dispatch than I had thought possible, owing to the great exertions of all concerned, particularly of the officers and men of the Royal, and Royal Marines Artillery, whose energy and zeal were worthy of high commendation. The intermediate time was employed in more closely reconnoitring the wall. Two guns of Major Barstow's Battery were brought close to the ditch, and together with some companies of Lieutenant-Colonel Lemon's Battalion of Royal Marines did effective service in keeping down a smart fire from the walls, by which, however, I grieve to say the force lost one of its brightest ornaments. Captain Bates, of Her Majesty's ship Actæon, who had advanced to the edge of the ditch or ravine with Captain Mann, R.E., to examine more closely the height of the walls, was mortally wounded and expired before he could be removed to the rear.

The enemy now perceiving, I presume, that our object was not to attack Fort Gough, descended in large numbers, and compelled my sending out some companies of Lieutenant-Colonel Lemon's Battalion to keep them back and protect our right, and afterwards to direct Lieutenant-Colonel Walsh's Battalion of Colonel Holloway's Brigade, to extend to their right, to prevent the advance of the enemy, which was judiciously effected by all the officers concerned, though, I regret to say, not without Colonel Holloway and some of the men being wounded.

A howitzer and rocket tube were also brought forward and did good service. Shortly before the hour agreed upon it was reported to me that some ladders were being placed against the wall to our left, and that the troops were mounting the walls, upon which I directed all to advance, and before 9 o'clock, A.M., the greater part of the force was upon the walls of Canton, meeting but very slight resistance, except at the gateways.

Major Luard, Brigade Major to the 2nd Brigade, is stated by his Brigadier to have been the first person on the walls of Canton.

Within the city the attack appears to have been wholly unexpected, and but few of the enemy were found to oppose the number of the Allies now crowded on the walls. I proceeded to the right, halting for a moment at the East Gate to direct its being broken open by Lieutenant Langley of the Royal Engineers, an excellent young officer, passed the five storied Pagoda and Magazine Hill, when I observed the enemy making a rally at the North Gate, and advancing towards us. I immediately directed Commander Slight, of Her Majesty's ship Sanspareil, whom I beg to recommend to your Lordship's favourable notice, to form part of the Naval Brigade nearest to us, and charge down the hill, which was gallantly executed, and the enemy driven back. The enemy here showed a valour and determination which had it extended to the body of their troops, would have greatly increased the cost at which Canton was taken. Brigadier Graham, with his gallant regiment the 59th, and 38th Madras Native Infantry, after a slight resistance, took the East Gate, and proceeded round the walls nearly to the South Gate of Canton old city wall.

Having now given the particulars of the movements leading to the capture of the city, it becomes my pleasing duty to express the deep sense I feel of the cordial co-operation and assistance I have received from their Excellencies Rear-Admirals Sir Michael Seymour, K.C.B., and Rigault de Genouilly, K.C.B., commanding their respective Naval Brigades. There were no differences of opinion, every operation decided upon was cordially carried out, the best means of attaining the end being the only wish of all. I shall ever esteem it a high honour to have been associated with two such distinguished officers.

To the brigadiers, naval officers, officers, staff and regimental, non-commissioned officers, soldiers and sailors, English and French, I can only return my thanks, and record my sense of their gallantry, zeal and devotion to their country's cause, and express my regret that they have not had an enemy to encounter more worthy of their martial ardour. Where all have done their duty in this short, but I trust, satisfactory campaign, it is difficult to name individuals. I must, however, bring to your Lordship's notice the officers commanding brigades, Colonel Hope Graham, 59th Regiment; Colonel Holloway, R.M., A.D.C. to Her Majesty; Colonel Dunlop, commanding the Royal Artillery; and Captain Mann, commanding the Royal Engineers. Major Burmester, commanding the 59th Regiment; his second in command, Major Lodder, and senior captain present, Captain Romer, attached as aide-de-camp to Rear-Admiral Rigault de Genouilly, K.C.B. ; Lieutenant-Colonels Lemon, Walsh, and Hocker, commanding battalions of Royal Marine Light Infantry ; and Captains Richard Parke, Jackson, Brevet-Major Boyle and Foote, the senior Captains of Battalions and acting Field-Officers ; also Captain Buck, commanding the Rifle Company of the 38th Madras Native Infantry.

Colonel Holloway specially brings to my notice his Brigade-Major, Brevet-Major Travers (whom, from personal observation I can recommend as a valuable officer), and also his aide-de-camp Captain Ellis, R.M., L.I.

Colonel Graham specially notices his Brigade-Major, Major Luard, an officer whom I can also recommend.

Colonel Dunlop speaks in high, and I feel well deserved terms of the officers commanding batteries of the Royal Artillery. of whom that most zealous officer, Captain Knox is the senior ; also of Major Schomberg, R.M.A., who commanded the mortar battery in the Dutch Folly ; and that indefatigable and talented young officer, Lieut. Festing, R.M.A.

To Dr. Gordon, C.B., principal medical officer, and the officers of the Medical Department, to Deputy-Commissary General Power, and officers of the Commissariat Department, I have to return my thanks for their excellent arrangements from the date of landing to the present time ; the latter officer, Deputy-Commissary General Power having had very many difficulties to overcome, which required an officer of his talent and experience to cope with. Of Captain Temple and the Land Transport Corps, raised for the occasion by that talented officer, Colonel Wetherall, C.B., and composed principally of Chinese, I cannot speak too highly, for they had not only to afford assistance in carrying provisions and material of war for the small force from Hong-Kong, but also for the Royal Marines, Naval Brigade, and our gallant Allies ; their arduous duties were performed with the greatest cheerfulness.

I take this opportunity of thanking the officers who did me the favour to accompany me on the 28th and 29th ultimo, foremost of whom I must name that old, distinguished, and still energetic officer, the Lieutenant-Governor of Hong Kong, Lieutenant-Colonel Caine, whose martial spirit could not be restrained when the scene of war was so near to his Government, Mr. Lock, attached to the Embassy of the Right Honourable the Earl of Elgin, and Lieut. Colin Campbell, R.N., attached to me as Naval Aide-de-Camp, by Rear-Admiral Sir Michael Seymour, a most promising officer.

I have also to thank Rear-Admiral Regault de Genouilly for lending, and still permitting me to retain, the services, as aide-de-camp, of Mons. E. A. de Mandat, Viscomte de Grancey, of the French Imperial Naval Service, an officer previously distinguished, and who will, I feel, become a high ornament to his profession. The Rev. Mr. Huleatt, chaplain to the forces, I observed on the field prepared to minister consolation to the wounded or dying.

The arrangements of Mr. Commissary of Ordnance Young, C.B., and Mr. Thomson, of the Military Store Department, were most efficient.

I have now to tender my thanks to the officers of the General and Personal Staff, whose particular duty it was to convey, and see carried out, my orders, and to recommend them to your Lordship's notice, viz., Lieut.-Col. the Hon. St. George Foley (B. Military Secretary); Lieut.-Colonel Stephenson, Scots Fusilier Guards, Assistant Adjutant-General ; Major the Hon. H. Clifford, Assistant Quartermaster-General ; Brevet-Major Crealock, 90th Regiment, Deputy - Assistant Quartermaster-General, and Capt. the Hon. B. Pellew, Rifle Brigade, Aide de-Camp.

I must beg also to bring to your Lordship's notice the services of Brevet-Major Cazalet, 29th Madras Native Infantry, whom I selected for the command of Hong Kong at a time of considerable anxiety, when the more efficient part even of the usual garrison was brought away for this service, and who, with the town-major and Acting Deputy-Assistant Quartermaster-General Captain King, 59th Regiment, merit my approbation.

I beg herewith to forward returns of casualties and ordnance.

I have, &c.,

C. T. VAN STRAUBENZEE, Major-General,
Commanding Her Majesty's Troops in China.

The Right Honourable

The Secretary of State for War.

MEM.—The brass guns are serviceable; the whole of the iron guns and carronades are un-serviceable.

There is a small quantity of un-serviceable shot and shell scattered over the works, which are not worth collecting.

The wooden carriages are un-serviceable, and many of them have been destroyed and used for fire-wood.

The gunpowder, rockets, blue lights, and stink pots have been destroyed, with the exception of about 15,000 lbs. of gunpowder, which have been kept for Engineer purposes.

The charcoal, sulphur, saltpetre, and leaden bullets are still in the magazines: the amount of each is only an approximate estimate, as no means exist of ascertaining the exact quantities.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to transmit, for your Lordship's information, a copy of a General Order issued on the 4th of January, and to inform you that, according to the arrangements therein made, the Allied Forces marched to the different points indicated at 8 o'clock on the morning of the 5th instant. The whole of the arrangements were strictly carried out, and proved more successful than could possibly have been anticipated.

The French Naval Brigade, 250 strong, with one gun, entered the Yamun, and secured the person of the Tartar General, where they were joined by Lieutenant-Colonel Hocker's battalion of Royal Marines and two howitzers. Lieutenant-Colonel Walsh's battalion of Royal Marines, with two guns under Colonel Holloway, C.B., forced their way into the Yamun of the Governor of Kwang Tung, and made him prisoner.

Lieutenant-Colonel Lemon's battalion of Royal Marines, with two guns, marched as directed, first to the temple in which it was supposed that Yeh was secreted, and afterwards, joined by 200 of Lieutenant-Colonel Walsh's battalion, to the treasury, and succeeded in capturing a quantity of treasure in silver.

The principal event of the day, however, was accomplished by the British Naval Brigade, 100 men of whom, under the command of Captain Cooper Key, R. N., C. B., were ordered by Comodore the Honorable C. Elliott, C. B., to accompany Mr. Consul Parkes and himself in search of the High Commissioner Yeh, a clue to whose abode had been obtained by Mr. Parkes, whose indefatigable exertions on all occasions merit the highest commendation. After a long and tiring search, which would have proved useless, but for the intimate knowledge of the Chinese language displayed by Mr. Parkes, the High Commissioner was traced to a small Yamun, situated in the south-western extremity of the city, which being broken into, Yeh himself was seized by Captain Cooper Key; some difficulty having occurred in identifying him, as several Chinese mandarins in turn declared themselves to be Yeh.

After securing several boxes of valuable official papers, Yeh, the High Commissioner, the Governor of Kwang Tung, and the Tartar General, were marched up to head-quarters, where the Commanders-in-Chief decided that the High Commissioner should be sent on board Her Majesty's ship Inflexible, which was carried into effect on the same evening.

I feel sure that your Lordship will be gratified with the success that attended this day's proceedings, brought about by the strict observance of instructions by the respective officers in command of the different parties, and the activity and tact displayed by Mr. Consul Parkes in discovering the retreat of the High Commissioner.

I have, &c.,

C. T. VAN STRAUBENZEE, Major-General,
Commanding Her Majesty's Troops in China.

The Secretary of State for War.

GENERAL AFTER ORDER.

IT having been decided that an entrance into the city be effected, the following will be the arrangement.

The French Naval Brigade, with 400 men and 4 guns, will move off from the North Gate, at half-past 7 o'clock, to the West Gate, which they will occupy in force, placing 3 guns in position, and leaving 150 men ; the remaining 250 men and 1 gun will move eastward up the main street, halting in front of the Tartar General's house. Colonel Hocker's Battalion of Royal Marines, with 2 small howitzers from Royal Artillery will move at 8 o'clock from the North Gate to where the road running from East to West Gate crosses ; 200 men with 1 gun will proceed to their right, and join the French in occupying the Tartar General's house ; the remaining men and gun will turn to the left, and halt opposite the Governor's quarters, which will be occupied ; 400 men of Colonel Walsh's battalion will proceed by the street east of the Parade Ground, with 2 small howitzers, till they reach the main street running east and west ; 200 men and 1 gun will proceed to their right, to assist in occupying the Lieutenant-Governor's house ; the remaining 200 and gun to the left, to join Colonel Lemon's battalion in occupying the Treasury, Seat of Justice, &c. Colonel Lemon's battalion of 400 men, with 1 gun, will proceed at same hour from East Gate, halting at the District College ; a sufficient party to maintain themselves, the remainder or larger portion proceeding without delay to the Treasury, and there joining Colonel Walsh's men. Colonel Graham, with 59th Regiment, or such portion as can be spared from the protection of our posts, to proceed at same hour from South East Gate, to secure such persons and documents as may be found in a Temple which will be pointed out to him ; this done, and those sent to the South East Gate for security, he will advance up the street of Triumphal Arches, and join and take command of all at the Treasury. The object being to secure the persons and documents of those nominally holding the reins of government in a city captured by assault, and to enforce their submission, commanding officers will be held responsible for any destruction committed by their men not rendered absolutely necessary by circumstances; they will avoid collision with any but armed parties, and even with them, should they lay down their arms. They will bear in mind that the object is not loot or wanton destruction, but to enforce and prove our supremacy, and what is more, the civilised character of our respective nations. The whole of the Naval Brigade and Troops on the heights and walls to remain under arms during these movements ; those of the Naval Brigades not occupying posts to be sent to the heights. Colonel Dunlop will have the remaining portion of his artillery in readiness to act as may be required.

By order,

(Signed) FREDK. STEPHENSON,
Assistant-Adjutant-General.

TREASURY WARRANT.

Whereas by an Act passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," it is enacted that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, and at any time after the passing of that Act, by Warrant, under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or inland postage, payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant.

And whereas another Act of Parliament was passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post-office.

And whereas it is expedient that further regulations should be made for the transmission by the post of the letters hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers vested in us in and by the said recited Acts, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do by this Warrant (under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners by the authority of the statute in that case made and provided), order and direct as follows :

1. On every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between any place in the United Kingdom and any foreign port on the western coast of Africa (the sea conveyance being by British packet boat), there shall be charged and taken a uniform British rate of six pence.

2. On every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between any foreign port on the western coast of Africa, and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom (whether through any colony or foreign country or not), the conveyance between any such foreign port and the United Kingdom, being by British packet boat, there shall be charged and taken the rates of British postage following ; that is to say :

For the conveyance of every such letter between the foreign port on the western coast of Africa and any part of the United Kingdom, a rate of sixpence ; and for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and the colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of postage as shall, from time to time, be charged and payable for British postage on letters posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and transmitted direct between such port and any such colony or foreign country ; provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny in respect of the inland conveyance, under this clause, of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

3. On every letter transmitted as is hereinbefore in this Warrant mentioned, exceeding half an ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid progressive and additional rates of postage as follows ; that is to say :

On every such letter exceeding half an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, two rates of postage.

On every such letter exceeding one ounce, and not exceeding two ounces in weight, four rates of postage.

On every such letter exceeding two ounces, and not exceeding three ounces in weight, six rates of postage.

And on every such letter exceeding three ounces, and not exceeding four ounces in weight, eight rates of postage.

And for every ounce in weight above the weight of four ounces, there shall be charged and taken two additional rates of postage; and every fraction of an ounce above the weight of four ounces, shall be charged as one additional ounce ; and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause, shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding half an ounce in weight.

4. In all cases in which any letter, in respect of which any rate of postage is chargeable as hereinbefore mentioned, shall pass through a foreign country, any foreign postage payable thereon, shall be charged and paid thereon in addition to the British postage.

6. Nothing hereinbefore contained shall in any-wise prejudice or affect the privilege granted by the said recited Act, passed in the 4th year of the reign of Her present Majesty in favour of petitions and addresses forwarded to Her Majesty by the post, nor the privilege granted by the same Act to Members of each House of Parliament to receive by the post petitions and addresses to Her Majesty, and petitions addressed to either House of Parliament, not exceeding thirty-two ounces in weight, exempt from postage, nor shall anything in this Warrant contained in anywise prejudice or affect the privilege which seamen and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's service and seamen and soldiers employed in the service of the East India Company now, by law enjoy, of sending and receiving by the post, letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

6. Nothing hereinbefore contained shall be deemed or construed to extend to any letters posted in or addressed to France, or any foreign country through France, and transmitted between France or foreign countries through France, and any foreign port on the western coast of Africa, all which last-mentioned letters shall be charged and chargeable with the same rates of postage as if this Warrant had not been signed.

And whereas the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to them in and by the said hereinbefore recited Acts, and of all other powers enabling them in that behalf, did, by a certain Warrant in writing, under the hands of two of them, the said Commissioners, and by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided, bearing date the 21st day of July, 1857, order and direct, that all packets consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, colonial, or Foreign, and all packets consisting of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, or the colonial legislatures, might be transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom, and any part of the several places mentioned and set forth in the Schedule A, to the said now reciting Warrant annexed, and that all such respective packets should be so transmitted in conformity with and under and subject to the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions thereafter mentioned and contained. And that the single rate of postage for the transmission thereof should be that which was mentioned and set forth against the said places respectively in the said Schedule A. And that all such respective packets so transmitted should be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage thereafter mentioned.

And whereas it is expedient to extend the provisions of the said recited Warrant of the 21st day of July, 1857, except as hereinafter mentioned, to packets of a like kind to be transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and any foreign port on the Western Coast of Africa, the sea conveyance being by British packet boat.

7. Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in further exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said two hereinbefore recited Acts of Parliament, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do by this Warrant, under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners, by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided, order and direct as follows :

All packets consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, colonial, or foreign, and all packets consisting of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, or any of the Colonial Legislatures, may be transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and any foreign port on the Western Coast of Africa (the sea conveyance being by British packet boat). And that on every such packet so transmitted under this clause, if not exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, for the transmission thereof as aforesaid, the uniform single rate of postage of three pence; and that on every such packet exceeding four ounces in weight there shall be charged, taken, and paid such progressive and additional rates of postage as are directed to be charged, taken, and paid, on and in respect of the several packets mentioned and contained in, and authorised to be transmitted by the post under, the provisions of the said recited Warrant of the 21st day of July, 1857.

8. All such respective packets to be transmitted by the post under the 7th clause of this present Warrant shall be so transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to, the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions contained in the said recited Warrant of the 21st day of July, 1857, with respect to the several packets therein mentioned (except such as relate exclusively to packets posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to the East Indies or New South Wales, or posted in the East Indies or New South Wales, addressed to the United Kingdom), and that all such respective packets so to be transmitted under the 7th clause of this present Warrant shall be subject as well to the several progressive and additional rates of postage aforesaid, as also to the said several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions (except as aforesaid) respectively mentioned, expressed, and contained in and by the said hereinbefore recited Warrant of the 21st day of July, 1857, in like manner in all respects, and as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes as if the said several progressive and additional rates of postage and the said several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions (except such only as relate exclusively to packets posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to the East Indies or New South Wales, or posted in the East Indies or New South Wales, addressed to the United Kingdom) respectively mentioned and contained in the said hereinbefore recited Warrant of the 21st day of July, 1857, were contained, inserted, expressed, and repeated in this present Warrant, and as if the foreign ports on the western coasts of Africa with a single rate of postage of three pence set forth against such ports had been and were mentioned and contained and included in the said schedule A, annexed to the said hereinbefore recited Warrant of the 21st day of July, 1857.

9. The respective letters and packets transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant shall be subject to the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage respectively contained in a certain Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, under the hands of two of the said Commissioners, bearing date the 19th day of February, 1855, relating to redirected rates of postage upon letters and packets which shall be redirected and again forwarded by the post.

10. The rates of postage chargeable on letters, books, publications, or works of literature or art and other printed papers transmitted by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be in lieu of any rates of British postage now chargeable by law thereon.

11. The term "foreign port" used in this Warrant shall include any foreign places on the western coast of Africa, and also any foreign islands situate within the distance of fifty miles from the same coast ; and the several other terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

12. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may, by Warrant under their hands, or the hands of any two of them, at any time hereafter alter, repeal or revoke any of the rates of postage hereby fixed or altered, or any of the orders, directions, regulations and conditions hereby made and may make and establish any new or other rates, orders, directions, regulations, and conditions in lieu thereof, and from time to time appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of April, 1858.

THE following Papers have been received at the East India House :

No 1.

*Extract Military Letter from Bengal, No. 307 ;
dated December 3, 1857.*

THE accompanying correspondence noted in the margin, reports the operations of Colonel Wilson, commanding at Cawnpore, against a division of the Delhi fugitives, mustering three thousand men.

and eight guns, whom he attacked at Sheorajpore, twenty-two miles from Cawnpore, and completely routed them.

No. 2.

Colonel N. Wilson, Commanding at Cawnpore, to Major-General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, Calcutta.

SIR,

October 21, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that intelligence reached me during the day of the 17th instant, that the first division of the Delhi fugitives, mustering 3000, with eight guns, had reached Sheorajpoor, a village situated in almost an open country, twenty-two miles from this.

2. That active communication was being carried on with this force by the Nawa, who was endeavouring to subvert their intention of crossing into Oudh, by high offers of pay and rewards if they would support him at Bittow, a strong position capable of easy defence, where a large amount of his valuables are reported to be secreted.

I deemed it inadvisable that so large a body should get into a position of strength so close as to menace Cawnpore, and equally so, that they should pass unmolested into Oudh. I therefore determined to attack, and if possible, surprise them; with which view I marched from here at 1 o'clock A.M., on the 18th instant, with the force detailed in the margin;* reached the first rebel picket of cavalry four miles from their encampment, at 2 o'clock P.M. This picket of cavalry, four miles from their encampment at 2 o'clock P.M., this picket was surprised and partially destroyed by my small cavalry advanced guard, but the remainder conveyed the first intelligence of our approach to the enemy half an hour before we came in front of them. They turned out to be posted in two parties, one under large trees in front of the village, and bridge over a deep nullah, and the other in a garden behind the village.

* 5 9-pounders; 1 24-pound howitzer; 28 Artillerymen; 650 Infantry; 50 sabres police cavalry.

Upon our approaching within 1000 yards they opened their guns upon us, followed, as we lessened our distance, by musketry. Our advancing skirmishers upon the flanks gradually crept up those upon the left, which were ably handled by Captain Wolseley, Her Majesty's 90th Light Infantry approaching the enemy's right front, doubtless made their Enfield rifles tell upon the rebel gunners, for they began to remove their guns. I then followed up with the whole force, passing the bridge, and driving the rebels out of the village, beyond which I again reformed, continuing the pursuit.

By this time the flight had turned into a complete route, and they fled so precipitately, that though a number of ordnance stores, &c., fell into our hands, the guns which were horsed, escaped, owing to our want of cavalry.

The few police horse with me followed the rebels up for some miles, but they went off so fast that the Sowars were only able to destroy a few straggling sepoya. The loss on the part of the rebels was considerable, that of my force three killed and six wounded.

Having bivouacked for the night in the garden occupied by the rebels, I moved at daybreak on the 19th to the ferry abreast of Sheorajpore, distant four miles, hoping to come up with any of the rebels who might attempt to effect the passage of the river, and to destroy any boats found there.

During the night, however, some of the boat were removed to the opposite bank, and one or two shifted up river, by a small party of fugitives which was said had occupied the jungle into which guns could not penetrate, and not thinking it prudent to detach, I determined to return to Bittoor. On arrival abreast the village of Kurruchpore, situated half the way to Bittoor in a jungle a quarter of a mile from the road, and almost entirely owned by mutineers, sepoy, many of whom had only a few days previously returned from Delhi. I halted the column, and detached a company to destroy any rebel sepoy who might be found there. Some escaped upon the approach of this party, but those overtaken were shot down, and the houses of all that were pointed out by Captain Bruce destroyed.

Two or three regular cavalry horses being taken, the force then rested at Bittoor for the night, returning to Cawnpore yesterday morning at 8 o'clock.

Herewith I inclose returns of killed and wounded, also returns of advance stores captured from the rebels in the village of Sheorajpore.

I take this opportunity of recommending to the notice of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, Major Barnston, Her Majesty's 90th Light Infantry, who led on his men with much steadiness and gallantry. To Captain Bruce, 5th Punjab Cavalry, and Captain Impey, Executive Engineer (who volunteered his services), I am very much indebted for their valuable assistance. To Captain Down, 1st Madras Fusiliers, my Acting Brigade Major, and Lieutenant Graham, — Regiment Native Infantry, my acting Aide-de-Camp, my thanks are also due.

I have, &c.,

N. WILSON, Colonel,
Commanding Cawnpore.

The Secretary to the Government of India, in the Military Department, to the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

SIR, November 21, 1857.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your docket No. 1304, dated 4th November, 1857, and in returning the letter dated 21st ultimo, from Colonel N. Wilson, commanding at Cawnpore, to the address of Major-General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, reporting the operations against a division of Delhi fugitives, mustering 3000 men, and 8 guns, whom he attacked at Sheorajpoor, 22 miles from Cawnpore, and completely routed, to acquaint you that the same has been laid before Government.

I am, &c.,

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secretary to the Government of India, in the Military Department.

*Extract Military Letter from Bengal, No. 307.
Dated December 3, 1857.*

THE papers recorded in the margin relate to the field operations of a wing of the Shekawattes Battalion in the Maunbhoom district, under the command of Colonel Forster, C.B.

We have expressed our high satisfaction at the sound judgment and energy with which Colonel Forster carried out this duty, and which was in consequence crowned with success.

No. 5.

Major-General Sir J. B. Hearsey, K.C.B., to the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

SIR, Barrackpore, November 16, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to forward for the information of the Commander-in-Chief, and for the purpose of being submitted to the Government of India, the annexed copy of a despatch from Colonel Forster, C.B., commanding Shekhawattee battalion, dated the 13th current, reporting a successful field operation recently accomplished in the Maunbhoom district by a wing of that regiment under his personal command.

2. It affords me much satisfaction to be the channel of making known to his Excellency and to Government, the good and soldier-like conduct of all ranks on this occasion, and at the same time to bring prominently to favourable notice the zeal and intelligence of Colonel Forster, who is an officer of great Indian experience, and of acknowledged ability.

I have, &c.,
J. B. HEARSEY, Major-General,
Commanding Presidency Division.

No. 6.

The Officer Commanding the Shekhawattee Battalion, to the Assistant Adjutant-General, Presidency Division.

SIR, Camp, Pooroolea, November 13, 1857.

I HAVE much pleasure in reporting for the information of the Major-General commanding the Presidency Division, that the wing of the Shekhawattee Battalion under my command having successfully accomplished all that was required of them by Government in Maunbhoom, the Commissioner of Burdwan (now present in camp) will report the same for the satisfaction of his Lordship in Council, and of his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal

Mr. E. Lushington informs me that our services will now not be needed here, and in the event of my not receiving immediate farther orders for any other duty, I shall, with the concurrence and advice of the officiating Commissioner, retrace my steps towards Midnapore via Bancoorah, as soon as our services are finally dispensed with at Poorolea.

The great scarcity of atta and other food for the troops obtainable at Poorolea, renders a move advisable, the supplies from Calcutta not having as yet reached us.

I am to make over the Chief of Packets (Neelmoney Sing), who is a prisoner under my charge at present), to the civil and political officer (Captain Davies).

The native officers and sepoya, I am proud and happy to add, have most zealously and cheerfully undergone the fatigue and privations, for they were on half rations of atta for many days, and for some days without any, and have given proofs, by their alacrity in surrounding the Chief's camp, and his four hundred followers, and taking him a prisoner, and subsequently proceeding against the formidable stronghold at Kasheepore, which surrendered to the troops, capturing four pieces of artillery, a large number of arms and munitions of war, together with treasure, all which had been buried and hid under rubbish and earth, of their earnest loyalty.

The fort, I have delivered over to Mr. Lushington, the officiating Commissioner, and it is safely occupied by the police of this district.

I must now hope that these favourable results accomplished in a complete and decisive manner, without the aid of artillery and Europeans (which assistance was deemed advisable by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to make, but which his Excellency, the Commander-in-Chief, could not at present grant), upon which his Honour, the Lieutenant-Governor, was pleased to leave the conduct of the future hostile proceedings in this district entirely to my discretion and judgment, these measures will, by their complete and successful results, I trust, obtain for me your approbation, and that of his Excellency, the Commander-in-Chief, as well as of his Lordship the Governor-General in Council, for the moral effect thus produced has been of value in causing the entire districts of Singhbhoom and Maunbhoom, to settle down into perfect quietness.

I have, &c.,
H. FORSTER, Colonel,
 Commanding Shekhawattee.

No. 7.

The Officer commanding the Shekhawattee Battalion, to Lieutenant-Colonel A. Sanders, Deputy Quartermaster-General of the Army.

SIR, Camp, Rogonathpore, November 9, 1857.

I DO myself the honour to report for the satisfaction of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, having been called upon to coerce the Chief of Packete, and to gain possession of his stronghold at Kasheepore (if I deemed the force at my disposal sufficient for that object), I lost no time in marching at once towards Rogonathpore on the morning of the 6th instant, and having accomplished the distance of thirty miles, on the following day I had the honour to join Mr. E. Lushington, officiating Commissioner of Burdwan, at Rogonathpore, with whom I was desired to consult before adopting any ulterior proceedings.

The Chief Neelmoney Sing, I found encamped a short distance close to the neighbouring hills, with about 400 followers, and had finally refused to come in and deliver himself up, or to answer for his late contumacious conduct to the Commissioner, openly defying British authority.

There remained but one obvious line for me to pursue, and having obtained the concurrence of the officiating Commissioner, I moved up my troops with the view to compel him to obedience.

The moment this Chief saw us approach, and when within musket-shot, his heart appeared to fail him, and he quickly proceeded in his palan-keen to meet and surrender himself to me.

Having got possession of his person, I brought him up to camp, and duly gave him up to the officiating Commissioner, who subsequently requested me to keep him under a guard in camp, where he still remains a prisoner.

Yesterday, the 8th instant, I proceeded with the disposable portion of the wing of the Shekhawattee battalion to the Chief's stronghold at Kasheepore, which I found to be a much more formidable defensive post than was represented to me ; it has strong high walls, twenty-five feet high, with loop holes, an outer ditch, and (recently erected) outer defences ; these had been made with fresh earth-works. There were four guns within the fort, two of them English (iron 6-pounders), and two smaller native 3-pounders, with a number of wall pieces ; the former I have spiked. This fort was finally made over to the civil authorities when we evacuated it, and Mr. Lushington has placed a police guard for the present.

Great quantities of powder, matchlocks, swords, spears, and other warlike stores were found concealed under rubbish; the powder I destroyed, although from the quantities of sulphur, saltpetre, and other ingredients discovered hid, there is no reason to doubt that a manufactory for ammunition of all descriptions had been established within this dangerous hold thus timely secured by us.

I now trust that these successful operations, promptly achieved without bloodshed or aid of artillery, will prove acceptable both to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, as well as to his Lordship in Council.

I cannot express too highly the zealous, willing, and ardent manner in which the whole of the native officers and men of this force conducted themselves in these operations, supported as we were by the active and energetic decision of the officiating Commissioner of Burdwan, together with no less earnest endeavours of Captain Davies, officiating Assistant Commissioner of Maunbhoom, to back my humble efforts in effecting the decisive termination of this successful operation. I cannot omit the cheerful and varied assistance of Mr. Assistant-Surgeon H. R. Daniell, whose aid I found of the highest value, in the absence of any other officer with this wing.

I have, &c.,

H. FORSTER, Colonel,
Commanding Shekhawattee Battalion.

General of the Army.*

SIR,

November 26, 1857.

WITH reference to your letter No. 1430, of the 19th instant, submitting a report of the operations of a wing of the Shekhawattee Battalion in the Maunbhoom district, under the command of Colonel H. Forster, C.B., I am directed to acquaint you, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that the Right Hon., the Governor-General in Council, has been pleased to express his high satisfaction at the sound judgment with which Colonel Forster carried out this duty, which was in consequence crowned with success.

I am, &c.,

GENERAL ORDERS OF THE GOVERNOR OF BOMBAY.

Bombay Castle, January 8, 1858.

No. 40 of 1858.

THE Right Honourable the Governor in Council has received a detailed report, drawn up by Captain Simpson, of the 2nd Light Cavalry, the officer in command, and submitted to Government by his Excellency the Commander in Chief, of the gallant defence made by the troops* in the fortified enclosure at Neemuch, against the attack of a large body of rebels, estimated at 4,000 men, from the district of Mundisore.

In this defence, the details of which have been already published to the army by his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the conduct of every officer and of every soldier present was alike remarkable for courage, cool and collected, in the hours of action, and sustained with unflinching durance during thirteen days and nights of incessant watching and exhausting and laborious duty. The thanks of Government are especially due to Captain Simpson, who commanded on this trying and difficult occasion, and to all those who so honourably served under his orders.

No. 47 of 1858.

THE Right Honourable the Governor in Council has very great satisfaction in publishing, for the information of the army, the following report made to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief by Brigadier Stuart, commanding the Malwa Field Force (now 1st Brigade Nerbudda Field Force), of his successful operations against the insurgents assembled near Mundisore, during four days, from the 21st to the 24th November last:—

No. 11.

No. 201 of 1857.

Brigadier Stuart, commanding Malwa Field Force, to the Adjutant-General of the Army, Bombay.

SIR, Camp Mundisore, 30th November, 1857.

WITH reference to my telegrams of the 25th and 26th instant, I have now the honour to forward the reports, and to communicate, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, full particulars of the successful operations in which the Malwa Field Force, and the Field Force Hyderabad Contingent under command of Major Orr, were engaged on the 21st, 22nd, 23rd, and 24th instant, against the rebel enemy in the vicinity of Mundisore.

2. On the morning of the 21st November, this force, accompanied by the Field Force Hyderabad Contingent, which, as I have already reported, is co-operating with me under command of Major Orr, arrived within three miles and a half of Mundisore about 9 A.M., and as I had no good information as to the roads or the country in the immediate vicinity of the town, nor as to the fords of the river Sowna, which it was necessary to cross before reaching the town, I determined upon encamping until a good reconnoissance had been effected. The rebel enemy at Mundisore, hearing of our approach, had posted picquets entirely covering the country over which we were advancing, and observing our picquets thrown out, they mustered in some force outside the walls of the town, and appeared inclined to attack. I, however, contented myself with reinforcing the picquets, and leaving the whole charge of the front to Major Robertson, 25th Regiment Native Infantry. The field officer of the day returned to camp about 3 o'clock P.M. I received intimation from him that the enemy were advancing in force, and threatening both our flanks and centre at same time. I accordingly moved out to meet them. They advanced steadily, with banners flying, and appeared in great numbers. On approaching our right front, however, they were most gallantly charged by Lieutenant Dew, Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons, who, with some of his men, occupied that ground as a picquet. Captain Orr, commanding 3rd Regiment Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, supported Lieutenant Dew, and the enemy were driven back with great loss; and before our guns, which had quickly moved up, could open upon them, the attack on our centre was repulsed by a few rounds of our artillery, whilst that on the left was successfully met by the field force under Major Orr. The enemy, having been thus driven back at all points, were pursued for some distance—in fact until they nearly reached the walls of the town; and nothing further occurred that day.

3. Having received intelligence from the Governor-General's agent that the portion of the rebel army before Neemach, amounting to about 5000, would probably raise the siege of that place, and endeavour to effect a junction with their headquarters at Mundisore, I determined to frustrate this, by intercepting them. Accordingly, early on the morning of the 22nd instant, I moved forward my force in order of battle. Our advance was unopposed, and on my left flank reaching the village of Kuljepore, I made a flank movement to the left, as previously determined on, leaving the advance guard to cover it, and to reinforce the rear guard, as we crossed the Bakri ford of the river Sowna, about 1,400 yards to the south-west of the town of Mundisore. Thus secured, the movement was safely effected, opposed only by a slight and ineffective fire from a gun on one of the south-west bastions of the town. I then encamped, facing the west of the town, my flanks well protected by the two branches of the river, and my line running at right angles to the right of Sir Thomas Hislop's camp in 1817. Just previous to the camp being marked out, it was reported that cavalry were seen on the left, and Major Orr, taking the 1st Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent under Captain Abbott, and 4th Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent under Captain Murray, saw about 300 horse, supposed to be under Heera Sing, endeavouring to draw them off in a north-westerly direction, but keeping at too great a distance to allow of being attacked. Reinforcements of cavalry were sent for, and whilst the left wing of Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons under Captain Gall, and 8rd Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent under Lieutenant Clerk, were moving up, intelligence was brought to Major Orr that Heera Sing's baggage had just left the village of Goraria, on the Neemuch road. The object of Heera Sing's party to draw our cavalry away from his baggage thus being apparent, Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons, the 1st Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, and the 4th Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, galloped off in pursuit, the 3rd Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent remaining as a reserve. They caught up the enemy about two miles south of Peeplia, and, after cutting up about 200 of them, halted at a nulla a mile to the south of that village. On perceiving it strongly occupied by the enemy's infantry, who showed many standards, they then returned to camp.

4. Feeling assured that the infantry seen in Peeplia formed the advance guard of the enemy, I moved at 8 o'clock A.M. on the 23rd instant by my left, and crossed the northern branch of the river Sowna. I then halted my column, and collected all my baggage on the reverse flank, then moving on to my proposed camp on the Neemuch and Mundisore road, ready to oppose the enemy either from one or the other direction. On coming on to the ground, the enemy appeared in great force to the north; so, ordering my baggage to be collected on a strong mound, I strongly reinforced my rear guard and proceeded to meet them. After a short advance, I formed line to my front, facing northwards, and found the enemy occupying a very strong position, with their right in and beyond the village of Goraria, their right centre covered by a date nulla and lines of date-trees, their battery of six guns on rising ground, with a large mud hut protecting their gunners, and their left stretched along the ridge running east from the village. My line advanced, covered by skirmishers; the enemy's infantry, with banners flying (many of them green), moved down to meet us through the intermediate fields of high jowarree, and their guns opened fire. I immediately halted my line, and replied to the fire with Captains Hungerford and Woolcombe's batteries, at a range of about 900 yards. After a few rounds, I again advanced the line, and permitted Captain Hungerford to move his half battery to a position on our right front, from which he could enfilade the enemy. After an advance of about 300 yards, our line was again halted, and firing resumed, that from both batteries being very effective. A most gallant charge was then made on the enemy's guns by the escort of Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons attached to Captain Hungerford, under Lieutenant Martin, who found, however, that the position was still very strongly held by the enemy's infantry, and was compelled to retire, he himself being very severely wounded. Captain Hungerford's half battery was again advanced to within 100 yards, and, after a round or two of grape, the guns were at once again charged and captured, the enemy flying in great numbers into the village to their right. The 3rd Regiment Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, under Captain S. Orr, was just at this moment rapidly advanced by our right front, and, having been wheeled to the left, it swept down upon them in their retreat, and killed great numbers. Our line then changed front about the eighth of a circle, right thrown forward, and moved steadily on the village, which evidently held great numbers of the enemy; their skirmishers disputed our advance, but were soon driven back. Having halted within about 300 yards of the village, our artillery opened upon it with shot and shell, after which I directed the infantry to advance and carry it. The men of the 86th and 25th Regiments dashed forward in the most gallant manner, and, having entered the village, commenced to drive all before them. They soon met, however, with very warm opposition, the enemy having taken possession in great force of many houses, from which a most harassing fire was kept up on our men. Under these circumstances, and as, moreover, I could get no satisfactory accounts of what was passing in my rear, which I knew, from the firing I heard, as also from the pressing applications I had received for reinforcements, had been warmly engaged, I recalled the infantry, and posted strong picquets all round the village, and moved the remainder of the men a short distance off, to where the baggage had been passed up from the rear. I then learnt that during the afternoon, when we were hotly engaged in the front, a strong body of the enemy from Mundisore attacked our rear, and endeavoured to carry off the siege train, baggage, &c. ; they were, however, most gallantly repulsed on every occasion. In one of these attacks I regret to say that Lieutenant Redmayne, Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons, was killed, while most bravely leading his men against the enemy. Notwithstanding the many attempts made by the enemy to press upon and harass our rear, it gives me great satisfaction to be able to state that not a particle of baggage was lost, nor a follower injured. On this occasion Lieutenant Leith, commanding a squadron 14th Light Dragoons, appears to have done good service ; as also Lieutenant Fenwick, 25th Regiment Native Infantry, in charge of the baggage. Gunner Maitland, of the Bengal Artillery ; and Gunner Thomson, of the Bombay Artillery, also distinguished themselves, by assisting to work the heavy guns most effectively against the enemy.

5. On the 24th instant, I arranged with Captain Hungerford, Commandant of Artillery, that the village of Goraria, in which the rebels had taken refuge, should be well shelled and again assaulted by the infantry. Accordingly, I moved up to it about noon, and found that the enemy were as I had left them the preceding evening, excepting that a few had attempted to escape, nearly all of whom were killed. After a heavy fire of three hours duration, the detachment, Her Majesty's 86th Regiment, under command of Major Keane, and the 25th Regiment Native Infantry, under Major Robertson, again stormed the village, and carried it, killing great numbers of the enemy, they themselves also suffering severely. At sunset I withdrew the troops, intending to move against the fort of Mundisore the next day. Early, however, on the morning of the 25th instant, intelligence reached me that the enemy had during the night completely evacuated Mundisore, and were scattered in flight throughout the country in various directions, having lost, it is computed, about fifteen hundred of their number during our operations against them. I accordingly removed my camp to Mundisore, and am now engaged in dismantling the fort, destroying the guns, &c., before leaving this neighbourhood.

6. By the successful operations of the Malwa Field Force and Field Force Hyderabad Contingent in the vicinity of Mundisore, the Neemuch garrison has been relieved from the assault with which it was threatened; the insurgent rebels have been dispersed from their stronghold, in which for months past they have been daily collecting all those disaffected to our rule, and peace and order will now, it is to be hoped, be re-established in these districts.

7. I must now, in conclusion, place on record my grateful acknowledgments to Colonel Durand, Officiating Agent to the Governor-General for Central India, for his cordial assistance to me on all occasions. He was present in the field throughout the operations, and gave me the benefit of his advice, which proved of great service to me. Major Orr, Commanding Field Force Hyderabad

Contingent, most ably co-operated with me on all occasions; and to him, and all under his command, I am very much indebted. To Major Boileau, Field Engineer, and his assistants, Lieutenants Prendergast (severely wounded) and Gordon; to Captain Mayne, Intelligence Department; to Captain Coley, Major of Brigade; to Lieutenant Macdonald, Deputy-Assistant Quartermaster General; to Lieutenant Thain, Sub-Assistant Commissary General; and to Surgeon Mackenzie, Staff Surgeon, my warmest thanks are due; the assistance rendered me by these officers left me nothing to wish for. A perusal of the report made by Captain Gall, commanding left wing Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons, will convey to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief some idea of the good service performed by all ranks under his command. I most fully concur in Captain Gall's report, and beg to commend to the consideration of his Excellency all the officers and men mentioned by him. Of Captain Gall himself, I must in justice add, that a more able, zealous, and hard-working officer I have never met with, nor one more worthy of distinction. Of Captain Orr, 3rd Regiment Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, and the officers and men under his command, I have already had reason to send the most favourable report to the Resident at Hyderabad. On this last occasion nothing could surpass the bravery shown by all ranks of this regiment. Captain Orr himself is, I consider, a first-rate cavalry officer; his daring courage is admired by all, and in every affair in which he is engaged, his personal combats are most prominent features. To Captain Hungerford, Commandant of Artillery Malwa Field Force; and to Captain Woolcombe, Commanding No. 4 Light Field Battery, and the officers and men under their command, my best thanks are due. I do not think artillery practice could have been b and there can be but little doubt that the successful issue of operations is much to be attributed to their assistance. Of the conduct of Captain Brown, and the officers and men of the B Company Madras Sappers and Miners, I have much pleasure in speaking in the highest terms; whether as sappers or as infantry, they have distinguished themselves on every occasion. They have undergone an incredible amount of hard labour during our late march with a siege train over a country without roads; nor must I omit to mention that they accompanied the storming parties into the village of Goraria, and proved of the greatest service. My best thanks are also due to Major Keane, and the officers and men of the detachment Her Majesty's 86th Regiment; the gallantry of all ranks was most conspicuous, and, on both occasions that the village was assaulted, the coolness and daring of the officers and men, at whose head Major Keane placed himself, elicited the praise of all. My despatch from Dhar will have made his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief aware of the very high opinion I held of Major Robertson, and the officers and men of the 25th Regiment Native Infantry. During the late operations, nothing could have been finer than the behaviour of all in this regiment. Major Robertson distinguished himself on the 21st instant as field officer of the day in the disposition of the picquets, which duty I entirely confided to him, and by the skilful manner in which he met the attack made upon him in force on the afternoon of that day. During the succeeding days, Major Robertson rendered me the greatest assistance; the manner in which he led his regiment on two occasions to storm the village of Goraria is beyond praise, and I consider that the admirable conduct of the 25th Regiment Native Infantry fully attests the worth of this officer, who will, I hope, meet with some mark of distinction. In the praise conveyed to Captain Little, 25th Regiment Native Infantry, by his commanding officer, I quite concur; and trust that his Excellency may be able to grant some mark of favour to this deserving officer. In the two attacks on the village of Goraria, I could see no difference between the conduct of the men of the 25th Regiment Native Infantry and their comrades of Her Majesty's 86th Regiment; the same daring and gallantry characterised both. Their list of casualties will show how warmly they were engaged; and I trust his Excellency will recognise the merits of this regiment. Before closing this despatch, I beg to report on the admirable conduct of Assistant-Surgeon Butler, 4th Company 2nd Battalion Artillery, who, during the engagement on the 23rd instant, though suffering severely from sickness, left his dooley, and was engaged in the most active manner during the whole day in assisting to administer comfort to the wounded. The conduct of this officer has been brought to my notice by the Staff Surgeon of the Force, and will, I trust, meet with some reward.

I have, &c.

C. S. STUART, Brigadier,
Commanding Malwa Field Force.

to Government of India.*

SIR: Allahabad, January 12, 1858.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter (Circular 4372), dated 3rd November last, calling for a list of Europeans Killed and Wounded during the recent insurrection by the rebels, and in reply to forward for the information of the Governor-General in Council the annexed Return, which embodies the results supplied by the Returns received from the Commissioner of the Benares Division.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets the delay which has occurred in furnishing a statement embracing the results for the entire province, but the attention of those Officers who have failed to supply their returns has again been drawn to the subject, and it is hoped the remaining statements will be furnished at an early period.

I have, &c.,

R. STRACHEY, Lieutenant-Colonel,
Secretary to Government Central Provinces.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MARCH 12, 1858.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 3rd day of February, 1858.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order, with reference to the representations made by the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State (as set forth in this Gazette), that no new burial-ground should be opened in any of the under-mentioned parishes without the previous approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State; and that burials in the said parishes shall be discontinued with the following modifications, from and after the fifteenth of February instant (except as is herein otherwise directed), as follows; viz.:

SOWERBY BRIDGE.—Forthwith in the several churches and chapels of Sowerby Bridge; and from and after the first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine (with the exception of family vaults and walled graves, which were in existence on the first of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, which are free from water and can be opened without disturbing soil that has been already buried in, and in which each coffin shall be separately entombed in an air-tight manner, and except in the reserved grave space belonging to the incumbent, the Reverend C. Rogers, which may be used, on the above conditions, for vaults and walled graves, for the interment of Mr. Rogers and the members of his family), in the churchyard of Sowerby Bridge. In the Wesleyan Methodist Chapel Burial-ground, Bolton-row, with the exception of family vaults and graves, burials to be forthwith discontinued within five yards of the day school and Sunday school, and it is ordered that, with the same exception, no graves be reopened. It is also ordered that in the Independent Chapel Burial-ground, Warley, with the exception of family vaults and graves, no grave be re-opened.

BACUP.—Under all churches and chapels in the consolidated chapelry of St. John, Bacup; and on and after the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, in Saint John's Churchyard, and in the Ebenezer and Irwell-terrace Chapel Burial-grounds, except in vaults and walled graves existing on the ninth November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, which are free from water, and in which each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal and separately entombed in an air-tight manner; and it is ordered that in the meantime interment be discontinued in the said churchyard and burial-grounds, except in graves not less than four feet deep, which can be opened without the exposure of remains or coffins; and it is also ordered, that (with the exception of now existing vaults and brick graves, to be used with the above-named precaution, and except in existing family graves not less than five feet deep, and which can be opened without the exposure of remains, and except in graves at least three yards from any building, and which have never been previously opened, one body only to be buried in each) interment be discontinued forthwith in the Wesleyan and the Independent Burial-grounds. HALIFAX.—In the parish church of Halifax, also in the Baptist Chapel, Pellon-lane, Hanover-street Chapel, Salem Chapel, Northgate End Chapel, and in the Roman Catholic Chapel; also in the burial-grounds of the Primitive Methodist Chapel, Baptist Chapel, Pellon-lane, Northgate End Chapel, and Roman Catholic Chapel. From and after the first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine (with the exception of family vaults and brick graves which were in existence on the first of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven), in the parish churchyard, and in the burial-grounds of the Square Chapel, Holy Trinity Church, Salem Chapel, Sion Chapel, Saint James's Church, and Hanover-street Chapel; and it is ordered, that the above excepted vaults and brick graves be used on the following conditions: that no coffin be buried within three feet of the ordinary level of the ground; that, when required, the vaults and graves be opened without disturbing soil that has been already buried in; and that each coffin be embedded in a layer of powdered charcoal, four inches thick, and be separately entombed in an airtight manner; and it is further ordered, that in the burial-grounds of the Square Chapel, Holy Trinity Church, Salem Chapel, Sion Chapel, Saint James's Church, and Hanover-street Chapel, the only bodies buried be those of the husband, wife, parents, unmarried children, and brothers and sisters of persons already interred; and in the parish churchyard, the bodies of the husband and wife of persons already buried. In the Halifax General Cemetery, on the east side, within thirteen yards of all dwelling-houses; and also in the burial-ground of the Wesleyan Chapel, South Parade, with the exception of six hundred and seventy-five square yards of unoccupied ground on the east side, and of family vaults and graves which were in existence on the first August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven; and it is ordered, that in the said General Cemetery, and Burial-ground of the Wesleyan Chapel, with the exception of family vaults and graves, only one body be buried in each grave, and that the burials be conducted in accordance with the fifth and seventh of the Official Regulations for New Burial-grounds.

LONDON GAZETTE of MARCH 26,

1858.

Whitehall, March 24, 1858.

AN Address of congratulation to the Queen, on the occasion of the Marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Royal with His Royal Highness Prince Frederick William of Prussia, from the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Pontefract, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Home Department for presentation, has accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously.

CHAPTER of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

ELECTION and INVESTITURE of the DUKES OF WELLINGTON and DEVONSHIRE.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, March 25, 1858.

A CHAPTER of this Most Noble Order was held this day at three o'clock.

The Knights Companions following in their mantles and collars; viz. :—The Marquess of Exeter, the Marquess of Lansdowne, the Marquess of Salisbury, Earl de Grey, the Marquess of Abercorn, the Marquess Camden, the Earl of Clarendon, the Earl of Carlisle, Viscount Palmerston, Earl Granville, and the Marquess of Westminster, attended by the Officers of the Order, viz., the Prelate, the Chancellor, the Registrar, Garter, and Black Rod, in their respective mantles and chains, assembled in the Green Drawing-Room, where they were called over by Garter.

Her Majesty and His Royal Highness the Prince Consort having passed into the Chapter-Room, the Knights Companions and Officers proceeded into the presence of the Sovereign.

The Sovereign and Knights Companions being seated, and the Officers standing in their respective places, the Chancellor signified to the Chapter Her Majesty's royal will and pleasure that two of the vacant stalls in St. George's Chapel should be filled, whereupon His Grace the Duke of Wellington was introduced by Garter and Black Rod, and being conducted to Her Majesty, received the Honour of Knighthood, and having had the honour to kiss Her Majesty's hand withdrew. The Duke of Devonshire was then in the same manner introduced and knighted, and having had the honour to kiss Her Majesty's hand withdrew.

The Knights Companions then proceeded to the election and the suffrages having been collected by the Chancellor, were by him presented to the Sovereign, who commanded him to declare and he accordingly declared, that the Most Noble Arthur Richard, Duke of Wellington, had been duly elected a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

Then, by command of the Sovereign, his Grace was received at the door of the Chapter-room by Earl Granville and the Marquess of Westminster, the two junior Knights, and conducted between them to Her Majesty, preceded by Garter (bearing the ensigns of the Order upon a crimson velvet cushion) and by Black Rod. The Duke of Wellington, kneeling near the Sovereign, Garter, on his knee, presented the Garter, and Her Majesty, assisted by His Royal Highness the Prince Consort and the Marquess of Exeter, the two senior Knights Companions present, buckled it around his Grace's left leg, the Chancellor pronouncing the usual admonition.

Garter next presented, in like manner, the Ribband and George, and Her Majesty, assisted as before, put the same over his Grace's left shoulder, the Chancellor pronouncing the admonition. The Duke then again kissed Her Majesty's hand, and, having received the congratulations of each of the Knights Companions, retired.

The Knights Companions then proceeded to a second election, and the suffrages having been collected by the Chancellor and presented to the Sovereign, he was commanded to declare, and accordingly did declare, that the Most Noble William, Duke of Devonshire, was duly elected a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

Then, by command of the Sovereign, his Grace was received at the door of the Chapter-room by Earl Granville and the Marquess of Westminster, and conducted in the same manner to Her Majesty, when he was invested with the Garter, Ribband and George, and his Grace, having received the congratulations of each of the Knights Companions, withdrew.

The Chapter being concluded, Garter, by Her Majesty's command, again called over the Knights Companions, who, together with the Officers, retired from the presence of the Sovereign with the usual reverences.

*At the Court at Buckingham-Palace,
March 25, 1858.*

The Queen, as Sovereign of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, has been graciously pleased, by letters patent under Her royal sign manual and the Great Seal of the Order, bearing date this day, to dispense with all the statutes and regulations usually observed in regard to installations, and to grant unto the Most Noble Arthur Richard, Duke of Wellington, and unto the Most Noble William, Duke of Devonshire, Knights of the said Most Noble Order, and duly invested with the ensigns thereof, full power and authority to exercise all rights and privileges belonging to a Knight Companion of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, in as full and ample a manner as if they had been formally installed, any decree, rule, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

St. James's Palace, March 24, 1858.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint William Lawrence, Esq., F.R.S., to be one of Her Majesty's Serjeant-Surgeons in Ordinary, in the room of Benjamin Travers, Esq., deceased.

Westminster, March 22, 1858.

This day the Lords being met a message was sent to the Honourable House of Commons by the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, acquainting them, that The Lords, authorized by virtue of a Commission under the Great Seal, signed by Her Majesty, for declaring Her Royal Assent to several Acts agreed upon by both Houses, do desire the immediate attendance of the Honourable House in the House of Peers to hear the Commission read; and the Commons being come thither, the said Commission, empowering the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, and several other Lords therein named, to declare and notify the Royal Assent to the said Acts, was read accordingly, and the Royal Assent given to

An Act to settle annuities on Lady Havelock and Sir Henry Marshman Havelock in consideration of the eminent services of the late Major-General Havelock.

An Act for enabling the East India Company to raise money in the United Kingdom for the Service of the Government of India.

Westminster, March 25, 1858.

This day, the Lords being met, a message was sent to the Honourable House of Commons by the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, acquainting them, that The Lords, authorized by virtue of a Commission under the Great Seal, signed by Her Majesty, for declaring Her Royal Assent to an Act agreed upon by both Houses, do desire the immediate attendance of the Honourable House in the House of Peers to hear the Commission read; and the Commons being come thither, the said Commission, empowering the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, and several other Lords therein named, to declare and notify the Royal Assent to the said Act, was read accordingly, and the Royal Assent given to

An Act to continue an Act of the last session to authorize the embodying of the Militia.

No. 1.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, January 21, 1858.

No. 111 of 1858.

IN continuation of Governor General's Order No. 1383, of the 5th of November, 1857, the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following letters* from Major-General Sir A.

* No. 812, dated December 21, 1857; No. 8, dated January 5, 1858; No. — dated January 5, 1858.

Wilson, K.C.B., lately in command of the Delhi Field Force, bringing to notice the services of certain officers which were not referred to in his previous despatch, and to whom his Lordship in Council offers his warm acknowledgements of their excellent service :—

No. 2.

Major-General A. Wilson, Commandant of Artillery, and late Commanding Delhi Field Force, to the Assistant Adjutant-General of the Army, Head Quarters.

Head Quarters of Artillery.

Meerut, December 21, 1857.

SIR,

No. 812.

AS an addenda to my despatch of the 22nd of September last, I have the honour to request you will submit to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, for the purpose of being forwarded to Government, the name of Brevet-Colonel J. Welchman, of the 1st European Bengal Fusiliers, among the names of those officers who have done good service with the force before Delhi, but were wounded previous to the assault. Colonel Welchman commanded his regiment from the commencement of operations, and led his men with cool and steady gallantry on several occasions, particularly in the action of Budlee Serai on the 8th; again, on the 20th and on the 23rd of June, when he was severely wounded, when leading on his regiment in the attack on the Zubzee Munde.

His name was unintentionally, and through an oversight, omitted in my former despatch.

2. I beg also to forward a copy of a report from Captain Muter, Her Majesty's 60th Royal Rifles, who succeeded to the command of the 4th column of attack, bringing to notice the services of a detachment of Mooltanee Horse under the command of Lieutenant Lind on the morning of the 14th of September.

3. Major F. Gaitskell, commanding the Artillery Brigade with the Field Force, has also requested that the name of Lieutenant G. A. Renny, commanding the 5th Troop, 1st Brigade, Horse Artillery, may be inserted immediately after that of Captain Blunt in the 8th paragraph of his despatch No. 20, of the 19th of September, the services of this officer entitling him to this recognition, which was accidentally omitted.

I have, &c.

A. WILSON, Major-General,
Commandant of Artillery and late Commanding Delhi Field Force.

No. 3.

Captain Muter to the Assistant Adjutant-General, Delhi Field Force.

SIR, Palace, Delhi, December 11, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to enclose a report from Lieutenant Lind, detailing the operations of a force of 300 sabres of the Mooltanee Horse under his command, in conjunction with Major Reid's column of attack on Kishengunge, on the 14th of September last.

I trust it is not too late to bring to the notice of Major-General Wilson, then commanding the Field Force, and his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the services of this officer and his party.

The position in which the column of attack was placed was very critical, and had I been aware that this cavalry was on our right flank, I should have felt much greater confidence. Lieutenant Lind's movements appear to me to have been very judicious, and I should not have failed to hav brought this to the notice of the General in command, had I been earlier acquainted with the circumstances.

I have, &c.

D. D. MUTER, Captain,
Her Majesty's 1st Battalion 60th Royal Rifles.

No. 4.

Lieutenant Lind to Captain Muter.

Camp Gohana, Rohtuk District,

SIR,

December 8, 1857.

HAVING omitted at the time to send in a report after the fight at Kishengunge on the 14th of September last, I would request the favour of your forwarding this letter to the Adjutant-General of the Army, in order that, if possible, the Mooltanee Cavalry may appear in the Gazette as engaged. At 3 A.M. of the 14th of September, Brigadier-General Nicholson directed me to proceed to Hindoo Rao's with 300 sabres of the Mooltanee Cavalry, and to place myself under Major Reid's orders. Major Reid ordered me to go to the Zubzee Mundee and await further orders there. In the Zubzee Mundee I found 2 horse artillery guns and a regiment of Cashmeerees. These latter were soon engaged, and left my front open, when I proceeded along the road towards the Kishengunge. I found no ground for cavalry to act on, and lost a few men and horses killed and wounded. An alarm was now raised, that the enemy had got into our rear, so I returned up the Zubzee Mundee, and drove out some Sepoys who had got into the street and were preparing to take possession of the houses. I was then returning to my former position, when the Guide Cavalry (who had mistaken my men from their white dresses to be the enemy) were sent to charge me. By the advice of the officer commanding the Guides, and seeing that the 2 horse artillery guns before mentioned had limbered up and were returning up the Zubzee Munde, I withdrew my cavalry into the plain, between the Mound and the Zubzee Munde piequet, where I got ground to act on and could prevent the enemy's cavalry from coming down on our rear, should they have attempted it. Whilst here, Colonel Dennis, Her Majesty's 52nd Light Infantry, sent me an order to retire on the Fukeer's Tukea, and to remain as a support to 4 horse artillery guns at that post, which I obeyed, and was employed on that duty till the guns were withdrawn on the 20th of September.

2. I annex a return of my loss in killed and wounded.

Major-General A. Wilson, Commandant of Artillery and late commanding Delhi Field Force, to the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army, Head-Quarters, Camp.

*Head-Quarters of Artillery,
Meerut, January 5, 1858.*

SIR,

(No. 8.)

I HAVE the honour to forward, for submission to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, copy of a letter No. 27, dated the 3rd of October last, from Major F. Gaitskell, commanding the Artillery Brigade with the Delhi Field Force, transmitting a despatch of the 1st idem from Major J. Briad, bringing to notice the services performed by the Foot Artillery under his command, during the operations against the city of Delhi.

2. These letters reached me too late, I regret to say, to accompany my despatches detailing the assault and capture of that place, and have subsequently been delayed owing to my having been absent on medical certificate. They bear, however, such honourable testimony to the admirable services of Major J. Brind, and those under his command, that I trust his Excellency will be pleased to forward them to the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council, with the expression of my hope that they may be published in continuation of my previous despatches.

I have, &c.,

A. WILSON, Major-General,
Commandant of Artillery and late Commanding.
Delhi Field Force.

No. 6.

Major Gaitskell, to the Assistant Adjutant-General.

Sir, Delhi, October 3, 1857.

I HAVE great pleasure in forwarding, for submission to the Major-General Commanding the regiment, the accompanying excellent report received by me from Major J. Brind, commanding the Foot Artillery of this force, bringing to notice the services of that branch, from the time he took command (26th June, 1857) until the more active operations of the siege commenced, embracing a period of 2½ months, during which the Foot Artillery were in constant employment and undergoing the severest daily exposure.

2. The services of the officers and men under his command are so well and strongly brought to notice by Major Brind, that I can only record my entire concurrence in his report. No officers or soldiers could have conducted themselves in a more zealous or gallant manner than did those of the Foot Artillery, or in a manner more likely to add fresh lustre to the regiment.

3. But in thus doing only justice to such gallant soldiers, I should consider I was neglecting a most important and a most agreeable duty, were I to abstain from bringing prominently to the notice of the Major-General Commanding the regiment the valuable and distinguished services of Major Brind himself whilst in command of the Foot Artillery. From first to last, his energy and activity have been unceasing, ever foremost where danger was greatest, encouraging both officers and men by his noble example, and whilst leading on those under him to every success in the field, he, at the same time, never ceased to care for their wants and necessities in camp.

The manner in which Major Brind exercised, without one hour's intermission, his command of No. 1 Siege Battery, during the last eight days of the siege, has already been brought to the notice of the Major-General commanding the force, and I trust this last distinguished period of his command (previous to the assault) will only tend the more surely to gain for Major Brind those honours which he so richly merits.

I have, &c.,

F. GAITSKELL, Major,
Commanding Artillery Brigade.

No. 7.

Major Brind, to Lieutenant Frith, Horse Artillery, Major of Brigade, Artillery Brigade.

SIR,

Delhi, October 1, 1857.

ON the close of active operations connected with the siege of Delhi, I feel it a duty I owe to officers and men belonging to, or doing duty with, the Foot Artillery, which I have commanded since the 26th June, to bring their conduct to the notice of Major-General A. Wilson, Commandant of Artillery and holding the chief command of this victorious army.

It would be surperfluos in me to attempt any detailed report of the unceasing labours, exposure to sun and wet, and dangers from the constant presence of an active and treacherous enemy, to which the Foot Artillery was unavoidably exposed during the three months I have had the privilege of commanding it. As the commanding officer is fully aware of the peculiar circumstances under which this branch of the army, especially, has been placed, gathered from various stations and sent down in small detachments (with little more than the clothes on their backs) by bullock train, the Foot Artillery were called upon by the exigences of the service to endure hardships beyond others. No soldiers could have gone through the trials and dangers their country's cause imposed upon them in a more cheerful spirit, or with braver hearts, than did the Bengal Artillery attached to the army of Delhi during this eventful period; and, without disparagement to the mounted portion of the regiment, of whose noble conduct, as passing under my observation during eight days and nights of constant danger and laborious exertion in No. 1 Breaching Battery, it has been my proud honour to report, I consider it an imperative duty to thus publicly express my admiration of officers and men who have made my post one of honour and comparative ease.

If I have performed my duty to the satisfaction of Major General Wilson, it is mainly owing to the favourable position in which I have been placed, and the health and strength with which I have been blessed.

Major Scott and Captain Bouchier's batteries, though forming a portion of my command, have not come so directly under my observation, owing to the detached nature of their duties; but I have much gratification in attesting to the satisfactory state of discipline and efficiency of the two batteries, which justified me in feeling and placing the fullest confidence in these two officers, and merely requesting that they would promptly carry out any orders received from the authorities, referring to me only when my support or assistance was required. Major Scott and his command, by gallant services in the field of battle, had established a reputation previous to my arrival at Delhi, which, though fully appreciating and rejoicing in it, it is not my province to allude to in this report. Since leaving Delhi with the moveable column, Captain Bouchier and the officers and men connected with him, have had an opportunity of proving themselves worthy members of the Bengal Artillery.

I take this opportunity of remarking that the sluggish and generally unsatisfactory way in which the Seikh Artillery, belonging more especially to the 2nd and 3rd Companies, performed their duties previous to the 7th of September, has been more than blotted out by the zeal and bravery evinced by this branch of our regiment during the siege. Some, and amongst them are commissioned and non-commissioned officers, are, from various defects, unfit for the service, and as Sir John Lawrence recommended the step, I would suggest that these men be returned to their homes via Lahore, and the distinguished promoted in their stead. This would leave us two effective companies.

In expressing the high satisfaction I experienced in observing the zealous performance of duty on the part of the Foot Artillery with the army of Delhi, I consider it incumbent on me to bring to the special notice of Major-General Wilson the officers and men of Her Majesty's 9th Lancers, who were employed in the batteries as artillerymen under my command and observation. Lieutenants Evans and Blair are deserving of honourable mention for the zealous and cheerful performance of their duties. The coolness and bravery of officers and men in situations of extreme danger, whilst engaged in a novel duty, called forth the admiration of all who witnessed, and especially of those who had the satisfaction of serving with them.

Lieutenant Boileau, of Her Majesty's 61st Foot, also distinguished himself most honourably, previously to his gallant services in No. 1 Breaching Battery, as did a most deserving and brave young officer, Lieutenant Ward, of the late 5th Regiment Native Infantry, during and previous to the assault.

The following are the artillery officers doing duty under my command, whose zeal, ability, and coolness in situations of great danger, called forth my especial approbation and thanks:—

Lieutenant A. H. Heath,
 „ J. Fulton,
 „ Sir W. Hamilton,
 „ E. L. Earle,
 „ R. T. Hare,
 „ R. de L. St. George,
 „ H. Chichester,
 „ D. S. Pemberton, and

Lieutenant Simon Budd, Riding-master, 1st Brigade Horse Artillery, whose long and faithful services are on record at Regimental Head-Quarters, and Lieutenant T. E. Dickins, who was killed in action whilst serving his gun in a most effective and gallant way.

It is now my melancholy task to notice most prominently one of our bravest and brightest ornaments, who has run his course, Captain Robert

Fagan, the able and gallant officer who fell mortally wounded on the 12th ultimo, after winning the honest admiration of all. Lieutenant Hildebrand, killed in the battery I had the honour to command, as shown in my report of the services of No. 1 Breaching Battery, was a zealous and gallant officer.

I have, &c.
JAMES BRIND, Major,
 Commanding Foot Artillery with Army of Delhi.

SIR, Meerut, January 5, 1858.

THROUGH an oversight which I much regret, the name of Surgeon J. C. Brown, in medical charge of the 3rd Brigade Horse Artillery, was omitted in my despatch dated the 22nd of September last, as one of those officers of the medical branch entitled to particular mention for the zeal and ability with which they discharged their important duties during the operations before Delhi.

2. In justice to this deserving officer, I trust his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief will be pleased to forward to the Right Honourable the Governor-General my request that his name may be inserted immediately after that of Superintendent-Surgeon C. McKinnon, M.D., in the despatch adverted to.

I have, &c.

FROM THE SUPPLEMENT

LONDON GAZETTE of MARCH 30, 1858.

India Board, March 29, 1858.

THE following papers have been this day received at the East India House:

No. 1.

General Orders by the Governor-General of India in Council.

Fort William, January 29, 1858.

No. 182 of 1858.

THE Right Honorable the Governor-General of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following dispatch from Major-General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., reporting the repulse of a large body of the enemy, who made an unsuccessful attack on his position on the 12th instant.

His Lordship in Council expresses his entire satisfaction with the manner in which Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., has conducted this affair, and with the behaviour of the troops engaged on the occasion.

No. 2.

The Assistant Adjutant-General of the Army to the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

Head-Quarters, Camp, Futtehghur,

SIR, January 19, 1858. (No. 30 A.)

I HAVE the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-chief, to inclose, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council, copy of a dispatch* from Major-General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., reporting the repulse of a large body of the enemy, who made an unsuccessful attack on his position on the 12th instant.

2. Sir James Outram's dispositions appear to have been made with such forethought as enabled him to inflict considerable loss on the rebels without unnecessarily exposing his own troops.

I have, &c.

D. M. STEWART, Captain,
Assistant Adjutant-General of the Army.

No. 3.

Major-General Sir J. Outram, commanding in Oude, to General W. R. Mansfield, Chief of the Staff of the Army in the East Indies.

Camp, Alumbagh,

SIR, January 12, 1858.

I HAVE the honor to inform his Excellency the Commander-in-chief that the rebels of Lucknow attacked my position this morning, and were repulsed with considerable loss.

In consequence of reports that Mansoob Ali was collecting men and receiving reinforcements from Lucknow, to intercept my communications, I sent a stronger escort than usual with my convoy, now on its way from Cawnpore, consisting of 450 Infantry, 4 guns, and 80 Cavalry.

The rebels were encouraged by this reduction of my force to meditate an attack, of which I received information for several days, and yesterday evening more definite accounts led me to expect them at sunrise this morning. I therefore made such dispositions of my force and outposts as were necessary, and the troops breakfasted at daybreak, and were all in readiness.

About sunrise this morning large masses of the enemy were seen on my left front, and they gradually spread round the whole front and flanks of the position, extending from opposite to our left rear outpost to near Jellalabad, on our right, a distance of at least six miles, and amounting, at the lowest estimation, to 30,000 men.

As soon as their movements were decidedly in advance, the brigades—the right mustering 713, and the left 733 Europeans, and 100 men of the Regiment of Ferozepore—were formed in front of their lines.

The enemy first advanced upon my left front and flank, covered by a large body of skirmishers, on which I detached two regiments of the left Brigade to support the outposts, and extended in skirmishing order on their flanks, whilst the 3rd Regiment was held in reserve. At the same time Major Olpherts, with four horse-battery guns, supported by a detachment of the Military Train, was directed to check the enemy on my left rear, where their Cavalry showed in the greatest strength. The Volunteer and Native Cavalry were drawn up to protect the rear of the camp, which at this time appeared to be threatened.

The Right Brigade remained on its ground.

As soon as the enemy were fairly within range, they were exposed to a severe fire of artillery from Alumbagh, and from the advanced batteries of my outposts on the left front and centre, and fled with the utmost precipitation, without having come within musket-range, except at the left centre outpost, commanded by Captain Down, 1st Madras Fusiliers, where a considerable number entered a grove of trees usually occupied by our outlying picquets, from which they were driven in a few minutes by the skirmishers of the outpost.

On the left rear Major Olpherts moved out his guns at a gallop, and advancing well to his front completely drove off and dispersed a very large body of Infantry and Cavalry which was endeavouring to penetrate to our rear, turning them back towards the city, and doing much execution by the fire of his guns on their masses at 500 yards.

At this time I received a report that Alumbagh and my right advanced outpost of Jellalabad were threatened; and on proceeding to the right I found that the enemy had brought three Horse Artillery guns, supported by an immense mass of Infantry, against the picquet which connects my right with Jellalabad, and which had been strengthened to 100 men with two guns. I moved the Regiment of Ferozepore and the 5th Fusiliers, with two guns of Moir's bullock battery, from the right brigade to the front, taking the enemy in flank and driving them back. They were then exposed to the fire of Maude's guns from Alumbagh, which played upon them with great effect.

About this time the enemy again advanced on the left front and flank, their Cavalry on this occasion being more to the front than before. A party of the latter galloped up to the rifle-pits in front of the left advanced outpost; but Alexander's and Clarke's guns opened on them, and drove them back in confusion.

About the same time the enemy on the right, again advancing from the heavy cover of groves and villages into which they had retreated, reopened their guns on the Jellalabad picquet; but were finally silenced and driven off by the fire of Moir's two guns, which had been sent to the picquet to reinforce it, and replace the two guns originally there, which had been withdrawn to Jellalabad.

Simultaneously with the attack above described, the enemy advanced upon Alumbagh, and established themselves in the nearest cover, notwithstanding that they were seen to suffer severely from the artillery and rifle fire. About noon they also advanced into the open ground, and were immediately dispersed and driven back by the fire of Maude's guns and the riflemen from Alum-bagh.

By 4 o'clock P.M., the whole of the enemy had disappeared, and retired to the city, or to their original positions in the gardens and villages in our front.

Nothing could exceed the eagerness of the troops to come in contact with the rebels, nor their disappointment at their precipitate flight to the cover of their works the moment the guns opened and our line of skirmishers advanced.

The Artillery made excellent practice on the masses of the enemy, in reply to the fire from their batteries, which was maintained on our outposts and Alumbagh with little intermission.

The casualties amount to one officer slightly, three privates slightly, and two severely, wounded.

I take this opportunity of sending a Return of casualties during the last fortnight, including today's.

The steadiness of the troops, and the promptitude with which my orders were carried out by my officers, gives me every assurance that the enemy's attack, if it had been as formidable as their forces were numerous, would have been as signally defeated.

I have, &c.

J. OUTRAM, Major-General,
Commanding in Oude.

General Orders by the Governor-General of India in Council.Fort William, January 29, 1858.

No. 183A of 1858.

THE Right Honorable the Governor-General of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following dispatches, detailing the operations of the Malwa and Hyderabad Contingent Field Forces in the vicinity of Mundesore, from the 21st to the 24th of November, 1857.

The Governor-General in Council tenders his warm acknowledgments to Brigadier C. S. Stuart, commanding Malwa Field Force, to Major W. A. Orr, commanding Field Force Hyderabad Contingent, and to the several officers named by them, as well as to the officers, non-commissioned officers, and men engaged, for the excellent service rendered by them.

 No. 7.

Major Orr, commanding Field Force, Hyderabad Contingent, to Captain McDonald, Deputy-Assistant Quartermaster-General, Malwa Field Force.

Camp near Mundesore,

Sir, November 25, 1857.

I HAVE the honor to forward, for submission to the Brigadier commanding Malwa Field Force, a report of the part taken by the Field Force. Hyderabad Contingent, under my command, during the operations near Mundesore, commencing from the 21st instant.
1858. 5 A

2. On the forenoon of that date, after making arrangements for the safety of my camp, I directed a village on the extreme left to be occupied and held by a party of Cavalry and Infantry, as its possession appeared of importance. About 2 o'clock P.M., it was reported that the village was threatened. On reaching the spot, I found a strong body of the enemy, horse and footmen, moving out into the open country, and advancing with much boldness. I directed reinforcements and guns to be brought up at once, but before these could arrive, the enemy had succeeded in forcing back the picquet and occupying the village. On being joined by the guns and Infantry, with the 1st and 4th Regiments of Cavalry, Hyderabad Contingent, the Artillery, assisted by two guns of the Bombay (Captain Woolcombe's) Battery, under command of Lieutenant Strutt, opened a very well-directed and effective fire, which cleared the village and forced back the insurgents. It was again occupied by our troops, the enemy retiring slowly, and in considerable force, towards Mundesore. My orders being explicit on the subject of not forcing a general engagement, I contented myself with retaining possession of the village.

3. On the morning of the 22nd, the force, by a flank movement, crossed the river, and encamped on the west side of the town of Mundesore. Whilst making a reconnaissance with Captain McDonald, Deputy - Assistant Quartermaster - General, two bodies of the enemy were observed moving away. These consisted principally of horsemen. One got away too rapidly for pursuit, but the other was followed by the troops as per margin,* and after a hard gallop of some five or six miles, overtaken and severely punished, a great many being cut down by Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons and Contingent Cavalry. The pursuit was stayed by our finding a large body of the enemy drawn up in our front, in a strong position in a village, against which Cavalry could not act.

4. On the enemy being observed in strength to the left of the village of Goraria, whilst the column was en route on the morning of the 23rd, I received the directions of the Brigadier Commanding to deploy with my force, to support the general attack and to conform my movements to those of the column. These directions were implicitly carried out; the Cavalry was held ready wherever it might be necessary to act; and, to prevent any attempt on the left flank, a detachment of two companies of the 3rd Infantry Hyderabad Contingent, under command of Captain Sinclair, with two guns of the 1st Company Artillery, was ordered to reinforce the rear-guard; the remainder of the Infantry and two guns of the 4th Company Artillery, under Captain J. de C. Sinclair, assisted by two guns of Captain Woolcombe's battery, under command of Lieutenant Keating, Bombay Artillery, advanced in line with the column, and aided in the general operations. The fire of the guns was most effective and good, throwing shot and shell with much precision into the enemy's ranks. On the capture of the guns, and the advance of the Cavalry on the right, I brought forward the Cavalry on the left flank also, which was completely cleared of flying parties of the insurgents. Having received orders further to reinforce the rear-guard by two more guns, I considered I should be best carrying out the views of the Brigadier, and concurring to the success of the day's operations, if I moved down the whole Cavalry to the rear, which had been reported to be hard pressed. This was rapidly effected. I found the enemy had advanced to a position about 800 yards distant from the rear-guard, that they were in force, and that it was necessary they should be dislodged as soon as possible, their number and boldness increasing. I accordingly directed the line to move forward, and after a short advance, the guns opened and drove back the enemy, they answering our fire from matchlocks. After a second advance, I ordered the Cavalry as per margin,* to charge and clear the front. They rapidly advanced upon a large body of retreating footmen; but, unfortunately, the nature of the ground being broken and full of large gravel pits, from which a close and sharp matchlock fire was opened, prevented the attack being as effective as otherwise it would have been. A good many insurgents, however, were cut up, and those in the pits were afterwards shot down on the Infantry coming up.

5. I deeply regret to have to report that, in this charge, fell Lieutenant Redmayne, Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons: whilst gallantly leading on his men he was mortally wounded. His gallantry and daring courage were conspicuous to all, and I trust I may be permitted to say that, in him, Her Majesty's service has lost an officer of high promise.

6. In the operations against the village of Goraria, on the 24th instant, this force also took part, and a detachment of Infantry, under Captain Sinclair, 3rd Regiment, joined the stormers, and shared in the assault upon the village.

7. I beg to bring to the favorable notice of the Brigadier commanding the Malwa Field Force the conduct of the entire force under my command. My best thanks are due to Lieutenant Hastings Fraser, 4th Cavalry, my staff officer, for his zealous exertions in the performance of the numerous duties which devolved upon him, as well as for his prompt and ready aid at all times; to Captain Abbott, commanding 1st Cavalry; Captain Murray, commanding 4th Cavalry; Captain Sinclair, commanding left wing 3rd Infantry; Captain J. de C. Sinclair, commanding Artillery; and Lieutenant Johnson, Adjutant, 1st Cavalry. To Surgeon Orr, 4th Cavalry, and Senior Surgeon Field Force Hyderabad Contingent, my best acknowledgments are due for the assistance he afforded me in the field during the entire operations, for his care and attention to the wounded, and the arrangements made by him for their comfort.

8. I beg to forward a Nominal Return* of the killed and wounded during the four days' operations.

General Orders by the President of the Council of India in Council.

Fort William. February 9, 1858.

No. 226 of 1858.

The Honourable the President of the Council of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report of a successful attack made by Brigadier the Honourable A. Hope, on a large body of rebels at Shumshabad, on the morning of the 27th of January, 1858.

2. To Brigadier Hope, as well as to the officers and men, his Honor in Council desires to offer his warm acknowledgments for the good services rendered on this occasion.

No. 11.

Brigadier A. Hope, Lieutenant-Colonel, 93rd Highlanders, commanding 3rd Brigade of Infantry, to the Chief of the Staff.

Camp near Futtehghur, January 29, 1858.

SIR,

I have the honor to report that, in accordance with the Commander-in-Chief's orders, communicated by you, I marched from this camp (leaving the tents standing) on the 26th instant, at 11 P.M.

with the troops noted in the margin,* and halting for three hours short of the village of Kooshinabad, proceeded at daylight on the 27th towards Shumshabad.

A thick fog compelled us to move cautiously, and it was 9 o'clock before the column closed up under cover of the village of Shumshabad.

The rebels, in considerable force, had taken post about three-quarters of a mile beyond that place. They occupied a commanding knoll on the edge of the plateau overlooking the plain, which stretches towards the river some six miles distant. On the knoll was a brick building, the shrine of a Mussulman saint, and the place was surrounded by the remains of an old entrenchment, upon which they had raised a sand-bag battery. Their front was defended by a ravine (impassable for Cavalry or guns) which runs at right angles across the road to Mhow, along which we moved, and to the right of which their position was.

As the head of our column emerged from the village the fog cleared off, and, some Cavalry outposts of the enemy having been driven in, we moved over some broken ground towards their camp, now distinctly visible. They immediately opened upon us a well-directed fire of round shot, by which Lieutenant McDowell, of Hodson's Horse, a most active officer, was mortally wounded.

Captain Remington then led his troop of Horse Artillery at a gallop across the bridge where the road crosses the ravine, and, supported by Captain Hodson's Irregular Horse, wheeled to the right and opened fire on the flank of the enemy's camp.

The rebel sowars made a daring attempt to out-flank and cut off these guns, but were very boldly met by Captain Hodson, afterwards supported by the 9th Lancers under Captain Steele; and in the charge which ensued, were driven over the steep bank into the plain below.

Meanwhile, Captain Blust brought his guns into action in an excellent position on the right bank of the ravine, and the line of Infantry was formed on the right, consisting of the 4th Punjaub Rifles, under Captain Wyld; the 42nd Royal Highlanders, under Lieutenant-Colonel Cameron, being on the extreme right; the 53rd Regiment, under Major English, being in second line.

The enemy were unable to withstand the admirable fire of our guns, and I ordered the Infantry, who had been screened in a hollow of the ground, to advance; and soon after, seeing the camp nearly abandoned, the 4th Punjaub Rifles were directed to secure it, which they did in a very spirited manner, shooting down many of the retreating enemy.

The 42nd at the same time changed front to their right, and lining the crest of the high bank, fired down on some of the rebel Cavalry, who were moving on the plain towards our right flank.

The Cavalry and Horse Artillery advancing from our left flank, pursued the enemy across the plain, killing numbers of them.

A wing of the 53rd was left to secure the position gained, the rest of the force moving some distance over the plain, till it was evident no further stand could be made by the rebels.

The Infantry and guns then returned, and our bivouac was formed near the rebel camp; the Cavalry, with two guns (the whole under Captain Johnson, 9th Lancers), following up the track of the enemy towards the ghaut for nearly ten miles, and returning at about 4 P.M.

In the enemy's camp were taken four brass guns, with a considerable quantity of ammunition, colours, &c.

I believe the enemy's force to have consisted of two regiments from Bareilly, the Pathans of Mhow, Shumshabad, Kaimunge, &c., and a good many of the armed rabble collected by the hope of plunder. I should estimate their loss at 300 men, including two or three of their chiefs.

I inclose a list of our casualties, and his Excellency will see, with regret, that both Captain Steele and Captain Hodson have received severe sword-cuts while heading the pursuit.

The loss in the 4th Punjaub Rifles was almost entirely caused by the explosion of one of the enemy's tumbrils.

I beg to express my very sincere thanks to all the officers in command of corps and to the troops under their orders, and in particular to Captain Remington and to Captain Johnson, respectively the senior officers of Artillery and Cavalry, for the able assistance they rendered me.

Captain Hodson's local knowledge and information was most valuable.

Captain Cox, 75th Regiment, my Brigade Major, and Lieutenant Butter, 93rd Highlanders, my orderly officer, were most active and useful to me.

The force returned to camp yesterday with the guns captured, of which I inclose a return, as also the reports of Captains Remington and Johnson

SIR, Camp, Futtehghur, January 29, 1858.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Brigadier Hope, that, when the Artillery was ordered to the front on the morning of the 27th instant, I proceeded with the 1st troop 1st Brigade Horse Artillery, under the guidance of Captain Hodson, with the view of taking the enemy's position in flank. The ground was very much broken, and between us and the enemy was a deep ravine.

Directly we advanced, the enemy opened on us a fire of round shot. Captain Hodson having pointed out to me a bridge over the ravine, we galloped across, wheeled to the right, and advanced till within about 600 yards of the enemy's position. We opened fire here with great effect, our shot and shell evidently telling on the mass of men in the entrenchment, besides exploding an ammunition tumbril, and firing the enemy's camp. During these operations, Captain Blunt advanced with his battery rapidly to the front, and opened fire across the ravine at about the same distance from the enemy's position as the ground we occupied. Captain Blunt's position was most judiciously selected, his fire raking the face of the entrenchment opposed to us, and our fire performing the same good office for him. The enemy's fire, considering the small number of guns he had (four), was for a short time vigorous and well sustained; but the concentrated fire of our ten guns was too much for him, and in half an hour he abandoned his guns and entrenchment and fled in confusion. We galloped up to the brink of the cliff on which the enemy's position was (leaving the entrenchment to our right), and plied the fugitives in the plain below with round shot and grape. Captain Blunt advanced on the right of the entrenchment, and his fire raked the base of the cliff most effectively. We afterwards descended into the plain, but the enemy's flight was too rapid to admit our overtaking them in a stern chase over very heavy ground, after a long march over sandy roads. I detached two guns, under Lieutenant Lindsay, to follow up the retreat with the Cavalry, and with the main body returned to the captured entrenchment, near which our camp was formed. Accompanying is a list of captured ordnance. The casualties in the Artillery, I am happy to say, are only two horses, one killed, the other wounded, both of the 1st troop 1st Brigade Horse Artillery.

I beg to forward, for the Brigadier's inspection, a plan of the enemy's position, by Lieutenant Traill, an officer of my troop.

No. 16.

Captain C. P. Johnson, 9th Lancers, Commanding Cavalry of the Column to Brigadier the Honorable Adrian Hope, &c.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to submit to you the post taken by the Cavalry under my command, consisting of 196 men of the 9th Lancers under Captain Steele, and 230 men of Hodson's Horse, in the operations at Shumshabad.

The enemy's position having been ascertained, Captain Remington's troop of Horse Artillery was ordered by you to cross the bridge over the nullah, and attack their right flank. Captain Hodson's Regiment was sent in support; this point, however, was not gained without loss. Lieutenant McDowell, of Hodson's Horse, was struck down by a round shot and mortally wounded, and one man and horse of the 9th Lancers killed.

In Lieutenant McDowell, the service has lost a gallant and valuable officer.

On reaching the right flank of the enemy, their cavalry was observed in considerable force to our front and left. Captain Hodson immediately advanced his regiment, and, attacking them with his accustomed gallantry, completely routed them, many of their dead being left on the field. I regret to state that both Captain Hodson and Lieutenant Gough, of his regiment, were wounded.

The precision of the artillery fire having partially dislodged the rebels from their entrenched position, the 9th Lancers were ordered to advance to the support of Hodson's Horse, who were already engaged with parties of their broken infantry, one squadron being left in reserve, as a detached portion of the enemy's cavalry still threatened the guns.

The attack to the front now became general, and was entirely successful, though not unattended with loss. Captain Hodson, who had persevered in spite of his wound, was again wounded, and this time severely, and compelled to resign his command to Lieutenant Wise, who ably led the regiment for the remainder of the day.

Captain Steele, commanding the detachment of the 9th Lancers, whilst gallantly charging at the head of his men, was severely wounded; Lieutenant Willis, of the same corps, slightly.

The pursuit was continued for some distance, and upwards of 300 of the enemy were killed. According to your instructions, I subsequently advanced with the cavalry and two guns of Captain Remington's troop of Horse Artillery for some miles on the road towards Sewajpore Ghaut, but met with no opposition. The enemy appear to have been scattered in all directions.

I beg respectfully to call your attention to the disproportionate number of officers who were wounded, as a proof of the noble manner in which they led their men; to the number of the enemy's slain, as a proof that the men were not wanting in the support of their officers.

In fact, the conduct of the men during the long day's work was admirable.

They had been ten successive hours in the saddle before coming into action, and nineteen before the pursuit was abandoned; but were always ready.

I beg to inclose a list of casualties.

General Orders by the President of the Council of India in Council.

Fort William, February 12, 1858.

No. 238 of 1858.

In continuation of G. G. O. No. 1383, of the 5th of November last, the Honourable the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following letter from Major-General Sir A. Wilson, Bart., K. C. B., late in Command of the Delhi Field Force, forwarding Reports from Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Deacon, Her Majesty's 61st Foot, relative to the capture of the magazine in the city of Delhi, and from Major J. Brind, of Artillery, regarding the occupation of the Jumma Musjid.

2. His Honour in Council desires to record his approbation of the excellent services rendered by the officers above named on the occasions now brought to notice.

SIR,

No. 48:

I HAVE the honor to forward, for submission to his Excellency the Commander-in-chief, copy of a letter of the 9th instant, from Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Deacon, of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, transmitting a statement of the operations against the magazine in the city of Delhi, which was gallantly and successfully stormed by a column under his command on the 16th of September last, the circumstances connected with which reflecting great credit on all engaged, were, I regret to find, omitted in my despatch of that date.

2. I also beg to submit a letter of the 24th of September, from Major J. Brind of the Artillery, detailing the operations of a detachment under his command against the Jumma Musjid, which led to the capture and occupation of that important post on the 20th idem; and I beg to bring this officer to Sir Colin Campbell's very favourable consideration, for his valuable services on this, as on every other occasion on which his energy and gallantry have been called into requisition.

3. I have to beg you will do me the favour of soliciting his Excellency to forward both these communications to Government, with my request that they may be published, in continuation of my despatches connected with the fall of the city of Delhi.

I have, &c.

A. WILSON, Major-General,
Commandant of Artillery.

Field Force, Delhi.*

SIR, Ferozepore, January 9, 1858.

HAVING attentively perused the several despatches which have been recently published, in reference to the late operations, before and subsequent to the assault on the city of Delhi, and observing that no notice has been made of the capture of the Magazine, beyond the fact of its having fallen on the 16th of September last, up to which period it was the only arsenal in possession of the mutineers of the Bengal Native Army: however late it may now be, I feel it to be due to that portion of the troops which formed the storming party then under my command, as per margin,* to forward the annexed statement, with a view to your doing me the honor to forward the same to Major-General Sir Archdale Wilson, K.C.B., for transmission to, and for the information of, his Excellency the Commander-in-chief and the Government.

2. I may, I trust, be permitted to bring to the Major-General's and your own recollection, that although I was not the senior officer at the time, that Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar, of the Belooch Battalion, on the previous evening (the 15th of September), requested permission to be allowed to waive his right of command in my favor, until after the capture of the Magazine had been effected; and I trust I may therefore be permitted to lay claim to the honour of carrying out the Major-General's instructions, and for which I received, in presence of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, the Major-General's congratulations on the success of my proceedings on the morning of the 16th September, about half-an-hour after the fall of the Magazine to our arms.

I have, &c.

Commanding Storming Party.

No. 20.

*Statement of Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Deacon
Commanding Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, and late in Command of the Force that assaulted and captured the Delhi Magazine on the 16th September, 1857.*

IN compliance with instructions to that effect, direct and personally from Major-General Wilson, commanding the Delhi Field Force, an attacking party, as per margin,* under my command, paraded, on the 16th of September, 1857, for the purpose of assaulting the Magazine within the walls of the city of Delhi.

2. The force assembled in the College Gardens half-an-hour before day dawn, and was immediately formed into a column of attack, headed by Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, supported by the 4th Punjaub Infantry, under the command of Captain Wilde, with the Belooch Battalion under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar, in reserve; and at daybreak, having previously taken ground to the left flank, until the column was brought to face the breach which had been made the previous day, the attack commenced. Not a word was spoken, nor a trigger pulled, until the stormers and the support had reached the summit of the breach and the Magazine yard, when a cheer and a charge were given and made, on which the enemy, taken most completely by surprise, fled precipitately, throwing down their portfires at their guns. Several of them were bayoneted close to the breach, the others were closely pursued by Her Majesty's 61st and the 4th Punjaub Infantry. A party under Lieutenant-Colonel Rainey, Her Majesty's 61st Regiment (under the guidance of

* 250 Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, reduced to 170, no more being available; 200 4th Punjaub Infantry; 300 Belooch Battalion.

Captain H. W. Norman, Assistant Adjutant-General), having passed through the Magazine, turned to their left, and spiked a gun, which was in position on the eastern wall of the city, and which was pointed at the College Garden Battery. On being reached, the enemy fought very desperately. In addition to those who were killed within the Magazine grounds, many were shot down beyond the walls and within the buildings which stand between them and the Palace.

3. On reaching the summit of the breach, two heavy iron guns, apparently 32-pounders, were found pointed at it loaded, one of which was temporarily spiked by Assistant-Surgeon T. H. Reade and Color-Sergeant Mitchell, both of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment. Two 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch (apparently) mortars were likewise found in position in the Magazine Grounds facing the College Gardens. These were presently wheeled about, and a fire from them opened on the Palace and Selimghur.

4. So unexpected was the assault, that the casualties at the moment were most trifling, only 1 private of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment killed, together with 3 privates and 1 Sikh of Captain Wilde's Corps, wounded.

5. Having successfully conducted the assault, I then sent Lieutenant-Colonel Rainey, Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, back to the Magazine, requesting that he would convey my wishes that the Belooch Battalion should retain possession of it and man the walls, until the return of Her Majesty's 61st and the 4th Punjaub Infantry, which was accordingly done; and on the force being again concentrated, Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar, as the senior officer present, assumed the command; the 4th Punjaub Infantry, in compliance with previous orders, having proceeded to the College.

6. I must beg leave to state, that on the present, as well as on every occasion, from the period the left wing of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Rainey, joined its head-quarters, I have ever received that officer's ablest assistance and co-operation; that the 4th Punjaub Infantry nobly supported Her Majesty's 61st at the assault; while to Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar and to Captain Wilde I am much indebted, for the able assistance they rendered me in carrying out Major-General Wilson's orders.

7. I have only to add, that some 170 odd guns of kinds, together with stores of all descriptions, were found in the magazine; that during the course of the fore and afternoon of the 16th of September, attacks were made by the enemy, which were repulsed on every occasion, and at every point, by the troops then within the walls, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar, and some loss was sustained, casualty lists of which were sent in at the time; but throughout, nothing could have surpassed the ardour and gallantry of both the officers and men who were engaged in the assault, and whom I had the honor and good fortune to lead.

I have, &c.,

C. C. DEACON, Lieutenant-Colonel of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, late commanding Assaulting Force.

Major James Brind, commanding Foot Artillery, late commanding at Jumma Musjid, to Major Ewart, Deputy-Assistant Adjutant-General.

Dereah Gunj, Delhi,

September 24, 1857.

SIR,

UNDERSTANDING that reports of services performed by detached commands or special duties are to be made direct to you, for the information of Major-General Wilson, commanding the Delhi Field Force, I have the honour to submit the following :

On the morning of the 20th instant, about day-break, I proceeded to the Burn Bastion, to ascertain that the guns were provided with sufficient ammunition, details, &c. After firing upon the flying enemy along the front of the Ajmere Gate, and towards the woods in the rear of Kishungunj, it was reported that a rapid advance upon the Jumma Musjid would place it—and, from its commanding positing, the rest of the city—in our possession. Brigadier Jones was on the spot, but, as he required Captain Boyd, commanding the 2d Fusiliers, to be ready to accompany him to the Ajmere Gate, I offered my services, having to accompany the artillery under my command with the advance columns, and requested that the detachment, as per margin,* might be placed at my disposal. Lieutenant Genneste, of the Engineers, with a party of the Sappers, volunteered to accompany me. By the aid of pressed guides, and two Irregular Cavalry (Punjaub) troopers, we occupied, one after another, the prominent posts leading to the Jumma Musjid, such as the Kotwalee, Sonalee, and Futtehpooree Musjids, &c.; without difficulty or accident, having merely to force the gates and slay a few rebellious or suspicious characters. On taking possession of the Jumma Musjid, and making the necessary disposition of my Artillery and Infantry, I was compelled to have the Durwan (who treacherously led a Serjeant of the 8th Queen's, Havildar of Coke's Punjaub corps, and two regimental Bheesties, under a heavy fire of musketry from the fort walls) of the Musjid, executed in the street to the front. The effect of these measures, together with the orderly and rapid movements of my detachment, had a most favorable result, and contributed towards the almost bloodless success of the military operations of the day, and the successful and complete occupation of the city, &c., of Delhi.

The steady, soldier-like, and determined bearing of the detachment of Her Majesty's 8th Regiment, under the command of that zealous and judicious officer, Captain Bannatyne, made my task light. During the night of the mutiny at Jullundur, when all were taken by surprise, and the rush upon our guns of the panic-struck residents threw the troop into a state of inaction, I experienced the most cheerful and judicious aid from Captain Bannatyne, who, on this occasion, so ably supported me. To Lieutenant Genneste, of the Engineers, and the officers commanding the detachments of Artillery, Lieutenant Wilson, H. A., and Lieutenant Harrington, of Captain Bouchier's battery, I am much indebted for the valuable assistance they rendered me in the advance; as also to Lieutenant Sconce, of the same battery, who brought up a reinforcement. My detachment forced an entrance into the Jumma Musjid about an hour and a half prior to the assault upon the palace. I at once reported my position for the orders of the Major-General, and made over command of the post to Lieutenant-Colonel Greathed the following morning.

I have, &c.,

 Commanding Foot Artillery,

No. 239 of 1858.

In continuation of G. G. O. No. 182, of the 29th of January, 1858, the Honorable the President of the Council of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following dispatch from Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., commanding in Oude, reporting the result of an attack made on his position by the enemy on the 16th of January, 1858.

No. 23.

Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., commanding in Oude, to General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff of the Army in the East Indies.

Dated Camp, Alumbagh,

Sir, January 17, 1858. (No. 63.)

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-chief, that the enemy made an attack on my position yesterday, similar to that reported in letter of the 12th instant, except that, though they did not show in such general strength, their attack was more bold than before. In the morning they made a sudden attack on the Jellalabad picquet, and were received by a heavy fire, which drove them back immediately, leaving on the ground their leader, a Hindoo devotee representing Hunnoman, who was advancing bravely at their head; and several killed and wounded, whom they were unable to carry off. As they were seen removing many bodies, their loss must have been severe. Two 9-pounders, under Captain Moir, were sent down to support the picquet, and completed the expulsion of the enemy from the cover in its front.

On the left front and left, the enemy advanced skirmishers, and threatened during the greater part of the day, suffering severely whenever they ventured within range. After dark they assembled in great strength in front of my left advanced village outpost, commanded by Major Gordon, 75th Regiment, and attacked it with a large body of Infantry, who were allowed to approach within eighty yards of the post, when they were received with discharges of grape from three guns, and a heavy fire from the Rifles of the post, which inflicted very severe loss, and drove them off immediately. Some shells from an 8-inch mortar expedited their retreat. The Enfield rifles, and Captain Maude's guns, in Alumbagh, had several opportunities of inflicting severe loss on the enemy, which were promptly taken advantage of. A large body of Cavalry showed on my left rear, and were safely left to the vigilance of Captain Olpherts, who watched and kept them in check with his 4 horse-battery guns, supported by a detachment of the Military Train, under Captain Clarke.

The casualties of my force during the day amounted to—1 Bombardier, killed.

7 European Infantry, wounded.

1 Gunner, wounded by a fall from his gun.

The judgment and coolness with which Major Gordon defended his post, deserve much praise; he was ably supported by Lieutenant Clarke, commanding the battery.

Much credit is also due to Lieutenant Wynne, of Her Majesty's 90th, who commanded the Jellalabad picquet.

Also to Lieutenant-Colonel Smith, commanding the post, and Captain Maude, commanding the Artillery at Alumbagh.

To Captain Rattray, commanding the Infantry, Lieutenant Gully, commanding the Battery of No. 1 advanced outpost on the left, and to the officers and men of their posts for their vigilance and alertness in checking and punishing the enemy at every opportunity.

General Orders by the President of the Council of India in Council.

Fort William, February 15, 1858.

No. 264 of 1858.

THE Honorable the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following dispatch from Major-General Sir J. Outram, G C.B., commanding, No. 62, dated the 16th of January, 1858, transmitting Reports relative to the occupation and defence of the post of Alumbagh, under Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel McIntyre, 78th Highlanders, and of the operations of the Artillery of his force, commanded by Major V. Eyre, Bengal Artillery.

2. His Honor in Council tenders his warm acknowledgments to the several officers named in these reports, as well as to the officers and men engaged, for the good services rendered by them.

No. 25.

Major-General Sir J. Outram, G.C.B., commanding in Oude, to Major H. W. Norman, Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

Camp, Alumbagh,

SIR, January 16, 1858. (No. 62.)

IN consequence of my having received no Report from the officer commanding at Alumbagh, the services of the garrison and of particular officers have not been brought to the notice of his Excellency the Commander-in-chief:

I therefore beg leave to submit, for the information of his Excellency, a Report recently received from Major McIntyre, Her Majesty's 78th Regiment, of the occupation and defence of Alumbagh, from the 25th of September, when he was placed in command of that post by the late Major-General Sir H. Havelock, K.C.B., until the arrival of his Excellency the Commander-in-chief's force.

During the earlier portion of Major McIntyre's occupation of Alumbagh, whilst cut off from communication with Cawnpore, uncertain of the fate of the rest of the force from the moment when he lost sight of it in the suburbs of Lucknow, and surrounded by a numerous enemy, his command was one of grave and anxious responsibility; and the firm and able manner in which he used his small resources to repulse the attacks of the enemy, to strengthen his defences, and overcome the difficulties of his situation, and the cheerful conduct of the troops under laborious duties, merit my cordial acknowledgments, and will, I feel sure, meet with his Excellency's approbation.

I beg to second most strongly the recommendation which Major McIntyre makes in favor of his second in command, Major Sibley, who commanded at Alumbagh, during three weeks, whilst Major McIntyre was on the sick list; also of the several officers of the Staff, or commanding detachments, favorably mentioned by Major McIntyre.

I also beg permission to submit Brigadier Eyre's Report of the Artillery operations of the Oude field force, from the 21st of September to the 24th of November, which I have recently received. I beg now to recommend the several officers mentioned by Brigadier Eyre, whose names have not already been submitted for the favorable notice of Government, for their service under their distinguished commander, particularly Lieutenant A. Fraser, Brigade Major of Artillery, whose name, I regret to find, was omitted, but whose gallantry and very zealous services deserved favorable notice.

Captain Evans, of the Bombay Native Infantry, doing duty with the Artillery, was of much service in the Artillery park, at the evacuation of the Residency of Lucknow.

Lieutenant T. H. Harward, of the Artillery, performed good service as Commissary of Ordnance at Cawnpore, and during the march to Alumbagh.

Lieutenant J. Anderson, of the Engineers, commanding Engineers of the Lucknow garrison, though confined to his couch by illness, never ceased to exert himself to supply the Engineer Department with materials, and Lieutenant J. M. Innes gave very valuable aid in the mining operations until he was also disabled by ill-health and fatigue.

The services of Captain Maycock, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General, were highly appreciated by the late Sir H. Havelock, and his personal attendance on myself during the march to Alumbagh in the actions of the 21st and 23rd September, deserved my thanks and commendation.

I have, &c.

J. OUTRAM, Major-General,
Commanding in Oude.

Major and Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel McIntyre, 78th Highlanders, to Colonel R. Napier, Chief of the Staff with the Force under Major-General Sir J. Outram.

Camp, near Alumbagh,

SIR, January 3, 1858.

HAVING been directed to report upon the circumstances attending the occupation and defence of the Alumbagh, I have the honor to state, for the information of the Major-General commanding, that on the advance of the force on Lucknow, on the 25th of September last, under the late Major-General Sir Henry Havelock, K.C.B., I was appointed by that officer to the command of the place, with detachments of regiments, consisting of about 280 Europeans, some Sikhs, and four guns. In it were placed the sick of the force, amounting to 128 men, of whom 64 were wounded, the baggage, commissariat, treasure chest, reserve ordnance park, and a large quantity of small-arm ammunition.

The native followers, Government and otherwise, could not have amounted to fewer than between 4,000 and 5,000 persons, with an enormous number of cattle of various descriptions. The supply of food for the native followers did not exceed the consumption of a few days, and we had little or nothing for the cattle but what could be procured by foraging parties. Fortunately, some crops of rice and other grain, nearly ripe, were on the ground sufficiently near to enable us to gather them under the protection of our guns. As these became consumed, the sufferings of the native followers from want became, I regret to say, very great. Anything that could be thought of was done to alleviate them. Driven by starvation to seek for food too far in advance of our foraging parties, numbers were cut up by the enemy, who surrounded us. The efforts made to relieve their wants from Cawnpore, were for a considerable time unsuccessful, as even quill communications by cossids failed to reach their destination; however, on the 7th October, a convoy of provisions, escorted by a party of 250 men and two guns, and commanded by Major Bingham, Her Majesty's 64th Regiment, reached us from Cawnpore, and on the 25th of the same month, a large convoy, intended for Lucknow, escorted by 500 men and four guns, under the command of Major Barnston, Her Majesty's 90th Regiment, reached the Alumbagh. Those enabled me to relieve, to a certain extent, the wants of the native followers. 150 men of Major Bingham's party were ordered to remain to reinforce the garrison, and 100 to return to Cawnpore by a forced night march, to escort return cattle.

Major Barnston's detachment was ordered, after having rested for a day or two, to return to Cawnpore. As the enemy had, however, appeared in very great numbers, and had become more daring than usual, I took upon myself the responsibility of detaining them, which turned out fortunately, for in a day or two I received an order to do so, permanently. This gave me a force of 900 Europeans and ten guns, which enabled me to increase my foraging parties, and then range.

To take steps for the immediate defence of my post was my first care, and I made use of every available means to accomplish it. Subsequently more permanent works were ably constructed by Lieutenant Judge, of the Engineers, assisted by Mr. Tait, Civil Engineer, attached to that Department. These were partially completed, only; however, bastions at the angles, and a banquette besides, were so, and the mango topes cut down in all directions round the post.

The enemy constructed batteries, at different periods, at five different points around us, and their fire was at times exceedingly annoying, and destructive to the native followers and cattle, from their necessarily crowded state; but I am happy to say that during the period of our holding the position—forty-nine days—one European soldier only was killed, and two wounded.

Jellalabad occupied in force by the enemy with Cavalry, Infantry, and four guns—formed a sixth and dangerous neighbour; but on two occasions only did they bring out their guns and open fire, and they were then soon silenced.

A 2-gun battery at the yellow house about the enemy's ears, and silenced by our Artillery fire, under the able direction of Captain Moir, of the Bengal Artillery, was repaired during the night; but on a repetition of our fire, was again silenced, and eventually they withdrew their guns from it.

The duty was at first very severe on both officers and men; but was performed most cheerfully by both. Much praise is due to the Artillery and men attached, on whom it was even more severe than on the others.

From about the 3rd to the 22nd of October, in consequence of my illness, the command of the post devolved on Major Sibley, of Her Majesty's 64th Regiment, in charge of the treasure chest, the next senior officer, from whom I, on all occasions, received every assistance.

I trust the Major-General will not think it presumptuous on my part to bring to his notice the names of those officers (in addition to those already mentioned) who were most conspicuous in the performance of their duties, and deserve much credit. They are—Captain Maycock, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General; Lieutenant Gordon, Bengal Artillery, who commanded the detachments Artillery until the arrival of Captain Moir; Lieutenant Sandwith, Her Majesty's 84th Regiment, acting Field Engineer (Lieutenant Sandwith was subsequently killed in Lucknow); Lieutenant Haldane, Her Majesty's 64th Regiment, Acting Field Engineer; Lieutenant Morland, Acting Staff Officer (1st Bengal Fusiliers).

The unwearied attention of Surgeon Innes, of Her Majesty's 84th Regiment, and Surgeon Dominchette, of Her Majesty's 75th Regiment, to the sick and wounded, and their exertions on entering the Alumbagh with sixty four wounded men, deserve the greatest praise.

May I be permitted to add that I, on every occasion, received the greatest assistance from Captain Moir of the Artillery, who was ever at his post.

I have, &c.

J. MCINTYRE, Major, 78th Highlanders, and Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel.

No. 27.

Major V. Eyre, commanding Artillery Brigade, to Colonel R Napier, Chief of the Staff with the Force under Major-General Sir J. Outram.

Camp, Alumbagh, near Lucknow,

SIR,

January 8, 1858.

THE publication of Major-General Sir James Outram's dispatches having brought to light the accidental omission of any detailed Report from the Artillery Brigade under my orders, I gladly avail myself of his kind permission to fill up the blank, which I do the more readily since it affords me a fitting opportunity of placing on record publicly, my own professional testimony of the signal services rendered by those whom it was my good fortune to command during the recent operations at Lucknow.

2. On the lamented death of Brigadier Cooper on the 26th of September, I succeeded to the command of the brigade, and during my subsequent severe illness, my place was temporarily filled by Captain Olpherts.

3. Owing partly to these changes, and partly to the constant occupation which the daily exigencies of the service demanded from officers and men in the Artillery, written reports were not expected, and hence it may have heretofore escaped mention that, for two special acts of gallantry on the 25th of September, both Captain Maude, Royal Artillery, and Captain Olpherts, Bengal Artillery, commanding field batteries, were rewarded by the late Major-General Sir H. Havelock, K.C.B., with the much coveted distinction of the Victoria Cross.

4. I hope I shall be pardoned for this passing allusion to a fact so gratifying to the pride of the combined Artillery arms of England and India, which, in this campaign, have for the first time encountered the enemies of their common country side by side in friendly emulation.

5. Never, I firmly believe, were field batteries exposed to a severer trial than that which attended the penetration of Lucknow on that memorable day. On Captain Maude, who was in advance, devolved the difficult task of silencing the enemy's guns, which defended the bridge leading to the city. This he accomplished under a murderous cross-fire of grape and musketry, with a loss of one-third of his men; and it was for his nerve and coolness on this occasion (but for which the army could not have advanced), that Major-General Sir James Outram, who was an eye-witness of his conduct, recommended him for the high distinction above recorded.

6. Captain Olpherts was almost simultaneously earning similar laurels by the conspicuous gallantry with which he assisted Her Majesty's 90th Light Infantry, led by the lamented Colonel Campbell, in the capture of two guns on our right, under a heavy fire of grape, carrying them off in triumph, attached to his spare limbers, through a most galling cross-fire of musketry from the loopholes of neighbouring houses and walled gardens.

7. To narrate our whole proceedings on that day would involve too lengthy details: suffice it, therefore, to say that, after crossing the bridge, we met no serious obstacle until coming under the fire of grape and musketry from the King's Palace and the adjacent buildings on our left, and of round shot and shell from the guns across the river on our right.

8. As our force pushed on towards where the beleaguered garrison of Lucknow were anxiously expecting deliverance, each battery in turn unlimbered on the road, to silence, if possible, the enemy's guns, and thus protect the advance of the main column. While thus engaged, the gunners stood firm and undaunted like so many targets for the enemy's concealed sharpshooters and grape-shot, which latter ploughed up the ground on all sides, committing fearful havoc, as our list of casualties sufficiently testifies.

9. It was late at night ere the entire main body got out of fire; but two heavy guns, under Lieutenant J. M. Fraser, together with some thirty ammunition and store-carts, having remained at the Motee Munzil, with a party of Her Majesty's 90th, under Colonel Campbell, to protect the rear-guard and wounded, were unable to accomplish a junction with the main body until the morning of the 27th. The position of the 24-pounder gun was one of great peril, from which it was with difficulty extricated, chiefly through the able and energetic measures of Captain Olpherts, who had been sent back to render assistance, as very fully described and acknowledged by Colonel Napier in that officer's Report, already published.

10. It was here that those brave and lamented officers, Brigadier Cooper, Bombay Artillery, and Captain Crump, Madras Artillery, his Brigade-Major, fell victims to their noble zeal. Here also it was that Private Duffy, of the 1st Madras Fusiliers, a volunteer with the Artillery, earned the Victoria Cross, by his cool intrepidity and daring skill, in assisting to extricate one of the guns from its desperate position. Colonel Napier also speaks in high terms of Lieutenant Fraser's exertions on this occasion.

11. On succeeding to the command of the Brigade, I appointed Lieutenant Fraser my Brigade-Major, and found him most efficient; in fact, I cannot speak too warmly of his soldierly zeal and devotion, which, thenceforward down to the present time, I have had constant opportunities of witnessing, and I regard him as a young officer of the highest promise.

12. Being, myself, prostrated by fever for several weeks after our relief of the Lucknow garrison, the temporary command of the Artillery was most effectively exercised by Captain Olpherts, whose well-tried abilities always prove equal to every emergency. During the interval of seven weeks that elapsed until the happy arrival of his Excellency the Commander-in-chief's force, the Artillery was chiefly occupied in defensive warfare against foes whose numerical strength and advantages of position enabled them to surround and worry us at every point.

13. Owing to the paucity of our numbers from casualties, and the great extent of our position, this involved a very great amount of labour for the Artillery, who were on continuous duty at their guns without any relief, besides working hard in the construction of fresh batteries whenever required. Under all their fatigues, privations, and dangers, the best spirit prevailed, from first to last, among the men, who considered no sacrifices too great for the accomplishment of the noble end in view, viz., the deliverance of their countrywomen and wounded comrades from the worst of fates.

14. It is satisfactory, too, to be able to state that the native establishments attached to field batteries, consisting of Gun Lascars, Horse and Bullock-drivers, Syces and Grass-cutters, behaved most loyally; though suffering as severely as any of the troops in killed and wounded, yet none deserted! Sirdar Driver Gungoo and Naik Darsun, of the Syce Drivers (killed by a round shot), both of No. 12 Light Field Battery, were particularly noted for their loyal devotion.

15. On the 16th November, the near approach of the Commander-in-chief's force was the signal for renewed offensive operations on our side. These have been already alluded to, in the late Sir H. Havelock's despatch of that date. Our object was to drive the enemy from certain strong positions which he occupied between us and the advancing columns; and in this we entirely succeeded, thereby greatly facilitating the junction of the two forces, and saving the valuable lives of our soldiers.

16. The batteries, which had been for some time previously constructed for this purpose, were concealed behind a lofty wall, forming the boundary of our position in that quarter. On them were mounted four 18-pounder iron guns, one 8-inch iron howitzer, four 9-pounder field guns, and two 24-pounder field howitzers, under the skilful direction of Captain Olpherts, Lieutenants Fraser and Smithett (the latter twice wounded, and distinguished on several occasions), and Staff-Serjeant Melville, of the 1st Company, 5th Battalion. In position behind were six 8-inch mortars, under Captain Maude, Royal Artillery, most ably assisted by Lieutenants Maitland (Royal Artillery) and Simpson and Ward, of the Bengal Native Infantry, the two latter being volunteers, well-instructed in Artillery science.

17. At the appointed time, large openings were effected, by the united force of mines and breaches, in the screen wall in our front, and the batteries opened an excessively hot fire for three hours on the buildings beyond, which were occupied in considerable force by the enemy. Sufficient impression having been thus made, and mines having been exploded by the engineers in several contiguous quarters, storming parties rushed out at 3 P.M., and quickly carried all before them, with trifling loss.

18. During the night, the Artillery pushed forward their heavy guns to the advanced positions thus gained, when some batteries were rapidly constructed from which to open on the King's palace, now within easy breaching distance. (On the 17th, our 8-inch howitzer shelled the Tara Kotee and Mess-house with great effect, setting fire to the former, and materially assisting the attack of the advancing force on the opposite side, although, perhaps unknown to them, as it must have been difficult for them to distinguish our distant fire from that of the enemy.

19. On the 18th, a junction having been effected between the two forces on the previous night, a joint bombardment took place of the King's Palace, in the outer wall of which several large breaches were rapidly effected, and great havoc made in the principal buildings behind it. This was continued at intervals, on the two following days, with great loss of life to the enemy crowding within, as was subsequently ascertained, and there can be little doubt that, had it suited our plan of operations, we might have at once walked into the place, and occupied the palace, with comparatively little loss. But the great object we had in view having been triumphantly accomplished in the safe rescue of the sick, wounded, and women from their recent perils, any longer delay at Lucknow was considered inexpedient until they should be safely conducted beyond the reach of their merciless foes; and on the night of the 22nd we effected our final evacuation of the entrenchment.

20. Measures had been previously adopted for the removal or destruction of all our spare ordnance, ammunition, and military stores. This entailed no ordinary amount of labour and physical endurance on the part of those to whose lot it fell to convey so many ponderous carriages, by manual force, through the narrow and intricate mazes of the Chuttur Munzil and Furhut Bux Palaces—a duty in which the Artillery were cheerfully aided by their Infantry comrades, who on all occasions have volunteered their services, both for ordinary labour, and also for the higher obligation of manning the guns, when circumstances required.

21. Our hearty acknowledgments are also due to our scientific brethren of the Engineers, for their cordial and effective co-operation, to which we are no doubt indebted greatly, for whatever success has attended our efforts.

22. Lieutenant Thomas, Madras Artillery, Commissary of Ordnance. I always found indefatigable in his duties, which were latterly very severe, as on him devolved the laborious preparations for removing our magazine, and destroying such guns and military stores as we were unable to carry away. With a very small establishment he effected all this as satisfactorily as could be expected. Lieutenant J. Alexander, Artillery, of the Lucknow garrison, also worked zealously with the guns in position, and deserves creditable mention.

23. Before concluding this Report, I wish to record the excellent services rendered to the Artillery by Captain Evans, of the Bombay Infantry who commanded with great credit several guns in position in the entrenchment, and whose zeal and devotion were conspicuous. Also those of Lieutenant Ouseley, of the Bengal Native Infantry, who likewise attached himself to the guns, and rendered himself extremely useful.

24. Surgeon Irvine and Assistant-Surgeon J. J. Clerke are also particularly deserving of mention, for praiseworthy zeal in the discharge of their professional duties.

25. Lieutenant Delafosse, Artillery, one of the few survivors of the Cawnpore massacre, was attached as a volunteer to Captain Olpherts' battery, and behaved with great gallantry on the 25th September, as well as in the previous engagements at Mungulwar and Alumbagh. I regret to add that the privations and trials he thus for a second time endured in a beleaguered garrison, at length broke down his enfeebled frame, and obliged him to proceed with the sick to Cawnpore.

26. Among the non-commissioned officers whose conduct most commended itself to notice were, Serjeant-Major Bird and Staff Serjeant Roddy, of the 2nd Company, 3rd Battalion, and Staff Serjeant Melville, of the 1st Company, 5th Battalion. The latter had twice distinguished himself before, in Arrah. I beg most earnestly to recommend them to the consideration of superior authority.

27. Serjeant-Major Lamont, of the Royal Artillery, fell gloriously at his gun on the 25th of September, deeply lamented by the whole Artillery Brigade. He was a first-rate and most gallant soldier, and must have attained honor and distinction had he survived.

28. Lieutenant D. Gordon, who had assisted me most zealously in working the heavy guns in the actions of Mungulwar and Alumbagh, was left behind at the latter place in command of a portion of the heavy battery, as also Lieutenant G. M. Clerk, with two 9-pounder field guns of Captain Olpherts' Battery, and I understand they were able to render material assistance in the defence of that important position.

I have, &c.

VINCENT EYRE, Major,
Commanding Artillery Brigade, Oude Force.

P.S.—The last sentence had scarcely been penned when I was startled by the announcement that poor Lieutenant D. Gordon has been just killed in the Alumbagh, by a round shot. I deeply regret the loss of this most amiable and excellent young officer.

General Orders by the President of the Council of India in Council.

Fort William, February 18, 1857.

No. 291 of 1858.

THE Honorable the President of the Council of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report, descriptive of the operations of the left column of the force under command of Brigadier-General Franks, C.B., in an action with the insurgents at Nusrutpore, in the Allahabad district, on the 23rd January, 1858.

His Honor in Council tenders his thanks to Brigadier-General Franks, C.B.; to Colonel Ingram, Her Majesty's 97th Regiment, commanding the left column of the field force, and to the officers named by them; to Lieutenant-Colonel Indra Singh, commanding the Nepalese troops; and also to the whole force, officers, non-commissioned officers, and men, engaged on this occasion.

No. 29.

The Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army to the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

Head-Quarters, Camp Arrowol,

SIR, February 2, 1858. (No. 51A)

I HAVE the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-chief, to forward, for submission to the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council, a Report, dated the 25th ultimo, from Brigadier-General T. H. Franks, C.B., commanding the Jounpore Field Force, of a successful action fought with the insurgents on the 23rd idem, by the troops under his personal command.

2. His Excellency desires to express his approbation of the manner in which the operation detailed was directed by the Brigadier-General, and of the conduct of the force, including the Goorkha troops, engaged.

I have, &c.

H. W. NORMAN, Major,
Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

Brigadier-General Franks, commanding Jounpore Field Force, to the Chief of the Staff, Army Headquarters, Futtoghur.

Camp, near Secundra,

SIR, January 25, 1858. (No. 66.)

AS you have already been informed, by my telegraphic message of this date, the three columns of this field force, previously posted respectively at Mahowl, Eelkuchlee, and Badshapore, made a concerted movement twelve miles to their left; the right and centre columns on the 19th instant, and the left column on the 21st.

2. This brought the latter, under Colonel Ingram, 97th Regiment, and of the strength noted marginally,* to Secundra.

Here, on the afternoon of that day. I learnt that the Nazim Fuzil Azeem, with 8,000 men and 14 guns, was still at Soraon, seven miles distant from my camp in a westerly direction, while 200 matchlockmen were at Nusrutpore, the residence of Beni Bahadoor Singh, one of the most influential Talookdars of this district, who has been most active in raising the population of this neighbourhood against our Government.

3. The Nazim who had been appointed Governor of the district by the rebel government of Lucknow, has held possession of it for the last seven months, and has had his outposts at Capamow, within four miles of Allahabad.

4. The position of Nusrutpore, situated two and a-half miles north-west of Secundra, is one of the strongest and most difficult of approach I have ever seen. A dense jungle, through which runs a chain of hillocks, extends a mile and a-half north-east and south-west. At its north-western extremity is the stronghold of Beni Bahadoor Singh, a two-storied country house of solid masonry, surrounding which an extensive bastioned entrenchment had been thrown up, and a deep ditch cut. The entrances were all barricaded, and covered by abattis.

With 6 field guns.

5. During the night of the 21st, and early morning of the 22nd, the Nasim, dreading to await our approaching reinforcement of cavalry in the more open neighbourhood of Soraon, moved by his left and occupied this position; and so confident was he of its impregnability, that he announced the completion of this movement, by a salute of seven guns, as a challenge to our force.

6. But he was not destined long to enjoy his fancied security. I was compelled to defer the combat during the whole of the 22nd (though my baggage, having been previously thrown into an entrenched enclosure, with a suitable guard, under Captain Matheson, 13th Irregular Cavalry, my force was in readiness for an immediate advance), for I was momentarily expecting the arrival of the promised reinforcement of two squadrons of the 2nd Dragoon Guards, and four Horse Artillery guns, from Allahabad.

7. These troops*—detained by some delay at that place—having reached me on the night of the 22nd, I moved out on the following morning, making a wide circuit towards Soraon, as if to turn the right flank of the enemy's position, but actually to push a reconnaissance towards that place, and ascertain whether there was any truth in a report that the Nazim had left a part of his force there, to fall on our left flank and rear.

* 2nd Dragoon Guards, 191 men; detachment of the F. Troop Royal Horse Artillery, 89: total 280.

8. My Cavalry patrols soon ascertained that Soraoon was evacuated, and being thus convinced that the enemy was concentrated at Nusrutpore, I changed direction, and approached that position.

9. The Infantry moved in quarter distance columns at deploying distance; Her Majesty's 97th Regiment in the centre, the Shere Regiment of Goorkhas on the left, the Burruj Bahadoor battalion on the right, covered by the Horse Artillery guns under Colonel D'Aguilar, C.B., disposed two on each flank, and by two guns of No. 2 Madras Light Field Battery, under Major Cotter, and three 9-pounders, commanded by Captain Thring, Royal Artillery, in the centre; the whole supported by 100 selected marksmen of the 97th, under Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel Burton. The two squadrons of the Bays protected our flanks, moving in rear of them out of reach of fire.

10. The close nature of the country everywhere, covered with high crops and thick tops of trees, rendered it necessary to move with caution.

11. The advanced posts of the enemy, fearing to be intercepted, abandoned at our approach the indigo factory of Capoorie, half a mile in front of the main position, in which they had originally placed two guns, and which, if obstinately defended, would have much opposed our advance. This was seized by our skirmishers with a rush.

12. As we passed the factory, the line was deployed, the guns advanced at a gallop, and taking post within 600 yards of the enemy, opened on the fortified house and its vicinity a concentrated fire, which soon caused him to abandon the whole front, and withdraw his Artillery further into the jungle, where his fire gradually slackened, and it became apparent that he was about to relinquish the position.

13. On this I directed one squadron of the Bays, with two Horse Artillery guns, under Colonel D'Aguilar, to sweep round and threaten the enemy's right, while the other squadron, commanded by Major Smith, 2nd Dragoon Guards, with the two remaining light guns under Major Yates, R.A., made a flank movement to the right, and watched his left.

14. The 9-pounder battery continued its fire, under cover of which the Infantry broke into open column of companies right in front, and encircled the enemy's left rear, in which direction, as far as could be distinguished through the dense brush jungle which covered his front, his fire was gradually retrograding.

15. During this flank movement, the squadron of the Bays, under Major Smith, seeing a gun in their front, behind a breast-work on the enemy's extreme left, and the intervening ground appearing favourable, attempted to charge it, but arriving suddenly in full career on a deep and impassable ravine which had hitherto been hidden from their view, with a steadiness which reflects the greatest credit on them, pulled up and retired to their former position, in support of the guns.

16. Meanwhile the left squadron and guns, under Colonel D'Aguilar, skirting the right of the jungle, entered and captured the enemy's camp, from which he retired precipitately, abandoning a gun in his flight.

17. The Infantry, supported by the 9-pounder battery, moving steadily round the enemy's left rear, came eventually on his line of retreat; but, so rapid was his flight, that he was enabled to withdraw nearly all his guns, and the skirmishers alone were able to close with the rear of the fugitives, of whom they shot and bayoneted great numbers.

18. By this time the Cavalry and Horse Artillery guns from both flanks having united, were ready to continue the pursuit, but so much had the difficult nature of the ground—everywhere intersected by ravines, and the density of the jungles—impeded their movements, that darkness closed in before this junction was effected.

19. But the great result had been gained of the complete dislodgement of the enemy from this strong position, with the loss of nearly 500 men in killed and wounded, while two guns, much ammunition, and the whole of his camp and camp equipage, fell into our hands. Our loss only amounted to 6 men wounded, 3 horses killed, and 4 wounded.

20. I have to record my obligations to Colonel Ingram, 97th Regiment, who commanded the left column of the field force engaged in this action, and carried out any suggestions which I made to him, in a manner which left nothing to be desired; to the officer attached to him, Lieutenant S. Cary, 37th Regiment Native Infantry, Staff Officer of the Column; and Lieutenant R. T. F. Hamilton, 97th Regiment, acting as his orderly officer.

21. Also to Lieutenant-Colonel Indra Singh, commanding the Nepalese troops, and Majors Chumpa Singh and Bheer Bickram, commanding respectively the Burruj Bahadoor and Shere Goorkha battalions. The steadiness under fire, cheerful alacrity, and great intelligence of our allies, excited my warmest admiration, and I have had much pleasure in communicating to his Excellency Maharajah Jung Bahadoor the high opinion I entertain of those regiments. The officers attached to these troops, Captain Miles, 23rd Regiment Native Infantry, in military charge; Lieutenant Gully, 31st Native Infantry, acting with the left Battalion of Goorkhas ; and Lieutenant Garden ; have earned my best thanks. To the precision and rapidity of the fire of the guns, both of Royal Horse, Madras, and Royal Foot Artillery, and that of the piece served by Goorkha gunners, is to be attributed the rapid ejection of the enemy from his strongly entrenched and nearly unapproachable position ; and I beg to offer my acknowledgments to Lieutenant-Colonel D'Aguilar, C. B., R. H. A., commanding the whole ; to Major Cotter, Madras Artillery, whose guns were manœuvred and served in a manner that calls for my special notice ; and to Captain Thring, Royal Artillery, in charge of three 9-pounders. Major Smith, commanding the two Squadrons 2nd Dragoon Guards, and Lieutenant-Colonel Legh, commanding 97th Regiment, acquitted themselves to my entire satisfaction.

The perfect steadiness under fire of the Bays was most remarkable in such young soldiers, and the destructive fire of the rifle skirmishers of the 97th Regiment reflected the greatest credit on the attention which has been paid to their instruction.

22. Mr. Mayne, Joint Magistrate of Gopcegunge, Messrs. Jenkinson and Elliott, Civil Service, and Mr. Carnegy, Head of the Intelligence Department, afforded me the most important information (of which the result proved the perfect accuracy) regarding the enemy's position. They assisted in carrying my orders, and in every respect rendered me great assistance.

The two latter accompanied the right squadron of Bays in their charge.

23. The officers of personal Staff, Captain Have-lock, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General (who, guided by Messrs. Mayne, Jenkinson, and Elliott, reconnoitered the enemy's position) ; Lieutenant J. Wall, 87th Fusiliers, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General ; Lieutenant Henderson, 10th Foot, Aide-de-camp ; and Lieutenant Innes, Field

Engineer, gave me every aid in their respective positions.

24. Yesterday I moved to Soraon, which was found completely deserted by the enemy, who have retired across the Oude frontier, entirely evacuating the Allahabad district, this part of which they have so long infested with impunity.

25. The enemy's camp at Nusrutpore was burnt, with the exception of the Nazim's Durbar tent, which has been sent into Allahabad, and Beni Bahadoor Singh's stronghold has been destroyed.

26. The Civil authority has been re-established at Soraon, and I have requested that it may be occupied by a detachment of Sikhs from Allahabad.

27. To-morrow the left column will move to Badshapore, and by the 30th instant I hope to have three columns of this Field Force (strength as stated below)* united at Budlapore, awaiting his Excellency's further instructions, and in every respect prepared for further operations.

Returns of casualties and captured ordnance are forwarded herewith.

Fort William, February 19, 1858.

No. 310 of 1858.

THE Honorable the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following report of an attack made by a party of the 1st Sikh Irregular Cavalry upon a party of insurgents, near the village of Secunderpore, in Oude.

No. 34.

Lieutenant Mackenzie to the Major of Brigade, Cawnpore.

Sir, Camp, Cawnpore, January 26, 1858.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Brigadier commanding at Cawnpore, that, in accordance with my instructions, I started yesterday evening for the village of Secunderpore, with 100 men. On arrival at that place, I found that the rebels had retired to a garden about three miles off, where they were encamped to the number of about 300. As I received information there, that the party from Oonow was on its way back to that place, I at once pushed on, taking with me 100 matchlockmen. We took the rebels by surprise, and succeeded in cutting up about forty; the rest making their escape in the high cultivation.

I have, &c.
